SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING BASEBALL TEAM OF LAFAYETTE COLLEGE, COACH CHARLES GELBERT, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS WILLIAM H. ANDERSON, AND ANNOUNCER TED PIERCE, RADIO STATION WEST, FOR THEIR EFFORTS IN CONJUNCTION WITH WINNING THE DISTRICT II CHAMPIONSHIP, NATIONAL COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 25, 1953.

Whereas, all outstandingly successful endeavors, including those in athletics, are worthy of commendation, and

Whereas, the baseball team of Lafayette College in Easton, Northampton County, Pennsylvania, has recently completed a fruitful baseball season, having won the District II championship, National Collegiate Athletic Association, by defeating the Pennsylvania State College and the University of Pittsburgh, and thus qualified to participate in the Collegiate World Series in Omaha, Nebraska, June 11 to 16, 1953, and

Whereas, during the Collegiate World Series, Lafayette College, with an enrollment of 1,350, engaged in competition with other schools having much higher enrollments —such as the University of Texas, Stanford University, Boston College, University of Michigan, Duke University and Colorado State—and

Whereas, Lafayette College's baseball team, through a splendid exhibition of skill and athletic prowess, reached the semi-final playoff in this college classic, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby extends to the members of the Lafayette College baseball team its sincere congratulations upon an outstanding performance and a splendid display of sportsmanship and commends them for the credit reflected not only upon the College they represented but upon the State of Pennsylvania as a whole, and be it further

Resolved, that Lafayette's coach, Charles Gelbert, former second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, be commended for his fine coaching abilities and for the true spirit of sportsmanship he instilled into his team, and be it further

Resolved, that commendation also be extended to William H. Anderson, Director of Athletics at Lafayette College for his outstanding direction and wholehearted support, and be it further

Resolved, that Announcer Ted Pierce and Radio Station WEST, Easton, be commended for bringing play-by-play descriptions of the Collegiate World Series games to the people of Eastern Pennsylvania; a contribution that helped immeasurably to enhance love for the National Game and support for the Lafayette College team, and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution, properly signed and inscribed, be sent to Coach Gelbert, Director of Athletics Anderson and Announcer Pierce by the Secretary of the Senate as a token of the esteem in which they and their efforts in behalf of sportsmanship are held by this august body.

Mr. McCUSKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 25, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, July 6, 1953, at 3:00 o'clock p. m. E. S. T., unless sooner reconvened by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 29, 1953 at 3:30 p. m. E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING JOHN A. STEPHENS AND DAVID J. McDONALD FOR THEIR SUCCESSFUL LABOR-MANAGEMENT NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. HOLLAND, WALKER, BARR, FLEMING, KOPRIVER, JR. and McGINNIS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 25, 1953.

Whereas, in a world torn with strife and disputes, peaceful labor negotiations and amicable decisions are not given the same recognition as are the failure of negotiations which result in bitter strife, and

Whereas, just recently, actual demonstration of good leadership on the part of both labor and management was manifested in the reopening of the present labor contract, existing between the United States Steel Corporation and the United Steelworkers of America, to adjust existing wage inequities, and

Whereas, the two outstanding leaders responsible for the successful negotiations are John A. Stephens, Vice President of the United States Steel Corporation, and the newly elected President of the United Steelworkers of America, David J. McDonald, and

Whereas, both of these gentlemen showed restraint of differences and commendable statesmanship for the mutual security and good of not only the workers but of those persons who have made possible the financial being of this great corporation, so

Therefore Be It Resolved that the Members of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania consisting of duly elected representatives of the people of Pennsylvania do recognize the integrity, sincerity, and ability of David J. McDonald, President of the United Steelworkers of America, and John A. Stephens, Vice President of the United States Steel Corporation, and commend these gentlemen for the part they played in furnishing leadership to their respective components of Labor and Management and the example they set in showing that labor negotiatings can be successfully culminated in an atmosphere of free collective bargaining, with justice and equity to all, and

Be It Further Resolved, that the Membership of the Senate of Pennsylvania congratulate Mr. McDonald and Mr. Stephens and extend their wishes that the successful negotiations just completed will be the forerunner of future pleasant relations in which the rights of labor and rights of management shall be fully recognized in such a way that American Labor and American Management can be pointed to by the people of the world as an example of the workings of a free nation whose ultimate purpose is to secure an economic way of life for all her people—a way of life worth living, and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this Resolution be sent to David J. McDonald and John A. Stephens by the Secretary of the Senate.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DOUGHERTY. RESOLUTION No. 68.

In the House of Representatives, June 24, 1953.

Whereas, The plans of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways provide that the approaches to the proposed new bridge across the Delaware River in South Philadelphia would be elevated approximately twenty feet above the present street level, with no provision for underpass for the continuation of many of the north and south streets, thereby creating dead end streets; and

Whereas, If the approaches to the new bridge are constructed as presently proposed an unsightly "Chinese Wall" would arise in South Philadelphia, which would definitely stop the improvement and expansion of the entire area and immediately reduce real estate values; and

Whereas, The proposed plans indicate that serious traffic hazards would be created on all north and south streets, particularly on Sixth and Seventh streets, thereby endangering the lives and property of our people; and

Whereas, On June 26, 1952, the Council of the City of Philadelphia unanimously adopted a resolution approving plans prepared by the Philadelphia City Planning Commission recommending location of suitable approaches and their interchanges with the existing street pattern of Philadelphia, which plans were submitted to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways and a favorable report upon them has been received, which plans would facilitate the movement of traffic to and from the new bridge with a minimum of hazards and without impairing the future development and improvement of the area or reduce the value of real estate; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby disapproves the plans proposed by the Department of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the approaches to the bridge to be built across the Delaware River in South Philadelphia; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways is hereby urged to prepare new plans for the approaches to the new Delaware River Bridge that would eliminate dangerous traffic hazards, provide for continuation of the north and south streets and would preserve and improve real estate values adjacent to the approaches; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Governor of the State of New Jersey, the Secretary of the Department of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to the Delaware River Port Authority.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

House Bill No. 1349, Printer's No. 336 and

House Bill No. 1359, Printer's No. 342

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1368 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" by changing provisions relating to voting by persons in actual military service when present in their districts of residence in which ballots are used

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1307 of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" as added by the act approved the sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 3) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1307 Military Electors Voting in Districts of Residence (a) Whenever any qualified elector in actual military service is present in his voting district of residence on any primary municipal or general election day and has not already voted in such election he may apply to his district election board for an official ballot in districts in which voting machines are used or a regular ballot in districts in which ballots are used and vote it in such election

(b) Each such application shall be in the form and shall contain the information required by this act together with a statement by the applicant that he has not already voted in the election All such applications shall be transmitted to the county board of election immediately upon the closing of the polls

(c) Upon receiving [an official] a ballot and envelopes therefor he shall in secret in the polling place vote the ballot and prepare it for executon of the affidavit and jurat as prescribed by this act The affidavit shall be executed before the judge or either inspector of election and the jurat subscribed by the person before whom the affidavit is taken The military elector shall then securely seal the second envelope and hand it to the judge of election The judge of election shall place all such envelopes in a container marked "Official Military Ballots" which shall be sealed immediately upon the closing of the polls and transmitted to the county board of election

(d) Each district election board shall prepare a separate list of the names of all such voters which shall be attached to the lists of voters required by the act to which this is an amendment

(e) Each county board of election shall prepare and deliver to each district election board in which voting machines are used on such election days an adequate supply of official ballots envelopes and other supplies as required by this act

(f) Each county board of election before the day fixed by this act for the canvassing of official ballots shall post attach to the "Military File" an alphabetically arranged list setting forth the name residence the local voting district and ward of every military elector voting under the provisions of this section The list shall not contain the elector's military address or military organization Copies of such list may be furnished as in the case of copies of the military file

(g) In districts in which ballots are used the district election board shall prepare and submit to the county board of election a separate report accounting for the number of regular ballots issued to such voters and used in lieu of official military ballots

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 489, Printer's No. 290 and

Senate Bill No. 543, Printer's No. 302

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have just, by reason of the telephone, confirmed a suspicion that I had. That suspicion was that the Democratic State Chairman was not only alive and well, but was actually in the city and was in the process of discussing various matters with the Republican State Chairman.

The statement I make derives its pertinence from the fact that I hold in my hand a newspaper, presumably of wide circulation, which has a headline running to this effect: "Democrats forsake GOP on State tax." Coming at this time that is a vicious misrepresentation of a crucial and critical situation which the General Assembly faces. It is a headline designed, I fear, to further complicate an already too complicated situation. It is a headline over a story slanting in the direction of the intimation that the Democratic minority was proceeding in bad faith in the representations it had made.

If there ever was a time in the legislative history of Pennsylvania when the editors of our Press should show some understanding of the difficulties we face and evince some evidence of a disposition to serve the interests of this Commonwealth instead of further complicating a too complicated situation, that time is now.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I feel I should report to the membership of the House that a suggestion has come over from the Senate that they will not reconvene until, I believe, one o'clock today Daylight Saving Time; that they would prefer not coming back to Harrisburg again until the 6th of July, by reason of the conferences which are taking place in regard to taxes.

Because of the magnitude of that situation we have not as yet come to a decision, and I would like to suggest to the membership that they can now leave for their several homes. I am going to shortly ask for a two-hour recess, so that we will be in session here when the Senate reconvenes.

I will say to the membership that a decision will be made as to whether it might be wise for us also to come back on the 6th of July, depending upon whether or not we can get down to something concrete. The membership will be notified by letter or wire as to the decision made, whether we will come back next Monday-Tuesday, or Wednesday of next week.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, at this time I would like to ask that the Chair declare a recess for two hours.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Minority Leader. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise simply to concur in the suggestion made by the Majority Leader.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement in reference to the statement made by the Majority Leader.

I can see no sense in staying away until July 6. We have work to do, and in my mind and in my opinion—and it is my feeling in the opinion of many of the Members on this side of the House, and I think also on the other side of the House—we can get a lot of work done here next week by meeting Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. I cannot see any reason why this tax program cannot be consummated next week, and we get out of there. I am sure the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania want us to get out of here.

Whatever tax program we can pass, let us pass it and get out. If we cannot get a sales tax through, O. K. we cannot get it through. If we cannot get this other tax package through, O. K. we cannot get it through, but at least we have done what we can do and as much as we can do without any more procrastination.

I for one am getting sick and tired of this eternal procrastination on the part of the Leadership.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I believe my remarks were to the effect that the message had come over from the Senate that they wanted not to come back until the 6th of July. If we decide not to come back on Monday, I believe the resolution that would be put in would be that the Speaker will have the right, or shall call the House back at the first opportunity next week that something concrete is available to present to the membership. Right now the decision has not been made whether to come back on Monday or the 6th of July. I think there is a lot of merit in what the gentleman has said in regard to coming back here.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, unfortunately we are a two-chamber Legislature. I have always been in favor of liquidating the Senate but that body seems to be firmly entrenched in the affections of the Majority.

The suggestion that there be a period of contemplation, prayer, or what have you, comes from the Senate. The Senate says it is not coming back until July 6. It is a fact that we must recognize. There are a lot of things we can do when the Senate is here, a lot of things we cannot do when the Senate is not here, and we do not have the power to compel the constant attendance of the Senate.

I have a suggestion to make to the militant gentleman from Blair. When he has composed the tax situation in the Republican Caucus, following his victory in the Republican Caucus in crystallizing opinion, I invite him in all good faith to come over to the Democratic Caucus and crystallize opinion there, because I'll be damned if it is not more than I have been able to do up to the present time.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, some time ago I made a statement here that possibly the fault with the program in the House was too much control from on high. I do not mean Hi Andrews. I still am of that opinion.

I could possibly get into a very lengthy argument here as to the remarks made by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, as to my composing the tax program in the Republican caucus. I still say that if the mandate had not come from so-called brass of the Democratic party, that if their Members would have been left free to vote as their constituency and their conscience, thought and opinion would have let them vote, the tax program would have been resolved and we would have a broad-based sales tax today. That is my answer to the consummation of the tax program on both sides of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman intimates that the path of peace, the only path of peace, is to agree with his every suggestion, and I respectfully submit that if everybody did agree with every suggestion made by the gentlemen from Blair our problems would be solved, after a fashion

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for two hours. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, because of the fact that there is a scheduled conference of the leaders to be held at 2:00 o'clock DST, I suggest that the recess be extended for another two hours.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for two hours. The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 15, 1953.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability;

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our own smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous pricecutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment;

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedent high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent;

Whereas Pressure that cames from imports of residual fuel oil, having risen from an average of fifty million barrels in the 1946-1948 period to more than one hundred twenty-five million in 1952, or the equivalent of thirty-one million tons of coal; from imports of pottery, watches and parts, glassware, lace, carpets and other textiles, hats and millinery, chemicals, scientific apparatus, cutlery, dairy products, wall paper, luggage and leather goods, and many other articles, will render the upholding of the economy at its high levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom this contained; and

Whereas, A maximum of such trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen, and the stability of our economy of unfair import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United State Tariff Commission, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SARRAF asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have just been informed that Senator John M. Walker has issued a statement to the "Press" in Pittsburgh, saying that the Democratic House delegation from Allegheny County had run out on an alleged agreement which was supposed to have been reached at a meeting at the Capitol last Thursday.

The gentleman who issued this statement is a past master at running out, as he did so clearly in the 1951 session on the "income tax." After appealing to the Republican House members from Allegheny County to vote for the "income tax" in the House, he ran out on his own Governor's program in the Senate and caused the session to be extended until the time of the Christmas holidays.

In the meeting held last Thursday there was some discussion concerning the increase of the head tax in the City of Pittsburgh for school purposes, and the statement was made very clearly, as was borne out by the stories in the Pittsburgh papers the past two days, that my colleagues Mr. Jones, Mr. Richter, Mr. Vaughn and myself were to co-sponsor the legislation to equalize the state subsidy per teaching unit with that of Philadelphia and any thought of an increase in the per capita tax was to be taken before both the Republican and Democratic caucuses in Allegheny County. Further, the small committee of members of both House and Senate from Allegheny County that met in Senator Walker's office for the purpose of discussing the school situation in the City of Pittsburgh had no authority to bind members of either party from Allegheny County, as was so stated by Senator Barr and Representative Ewing and myself.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 633, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales of tobacco products other than cigarettes; requiring persons engaged in the sale of tobacco products at wholesale and retail to secure permits; prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and persons engaged in the sale of tobacco products at retail or wholesale; and providing penalties.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from McKean, Mr. JOHNSON, vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. SCOTT, vote on the third reading of this bill?

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. BOLTON offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

Mr. WORLEY offered a resolution which was filed with the clerk.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mrs. MUNLEY, Messrs. NEEDHAM, WARGO and REIDENBACH offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 25, 1953.

Harry P. O'Neill, one of the best loved men in Pennsylvania politics, died suddenly at Mercy Hospital at 1:30 A. M., Wednesday, June 24th.

He was born in Dunmore, Pennsylvania on February 10, 1889, went to work at an early age in a breaker: worked evenings as an apprentice barber and later purchased his employer's business which he conducted for many years thereafter. His interest then spread to insurance and he became a general insurance broker.

Harry O'Neill was a member of various fraternal and civic organizations, including the Woodmen of the World, the International Order of Elks, Knights of Columbus, and the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Lackawanna of which last organization, he was President for some time.

He was a member of this House of Representatives for ten consecutive terms, namely from 1928 to 1948 and was the Dean of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania when he was elected as Congressman, from the tenth legislative district. He served two terms in the Congress of the United States.

Margaret, his wife, and seven children, Harry Jr., Joseph D., William G., Paul D., Margaret A., Lois C. and Marian T. survive him.

His life was motivated by kindliness and interest in everyone. He knew nothing of self-interest and everything of generousness. He was a model legislator, a loyal friend and a man of such deep affections that everyone who knew him, had a friend, the kind of a friend who would listen quietly and then in a pleasing smiling way, give the right answer. His life gave truth to the saying that everyone who knew him was the better for having known him.

The House of Representatives hereby expresses its profound sympathy to the surviving members of the family of Harry P. O'Neill and requests and directs the Clerk of this House to transmit a copy of this resolution to the widow of Harry P. O'Neill and his family at Dunmore, Pennsylvania.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON HOUSE BILL 1216

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1216, Printer's No. 326, entitled:

"An Act to further amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled 'Administrative Code of 1929,' by abolishing the Fort Washington Park Commission and transferring its powers and duties to the Department of Forests and Waters" was defeated on final passage, June 11, 1953, be reconsidered.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is a controversial measure and I think the gentleman should have delayed his motion to reconsider until all of the Members who were interested in the measure were here in the House. I think it would be a perfectly proper motion tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the Minority Leader that this is the last day a motion to reconsider can be made under the Rule.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I was about to inform the Minority Leader of that fact.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, under unanimous consent, can we extend the time one day. Is there not some parliamentary — — —

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the House can extend the time by unanimous consent.

Without objection, the time for moving to reconsider the vote on House Bill 1216 will be extended for one day. The Chair hears no objection.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair announces with profound regret at this time the death of the brother of our Chief Clerk, Mr. Habbyshaw. That is the reason for the absence of the Chief Clerk today.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, June 30, 1953.

The House met at 12:00 o'clock noon EST.
The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God, the Holy Ghost, we Thine unworthy servants most humbly beseech Thee to be our light and strength in our present work. Come to us and teach us what to do, that by Thy help we may please Thee in all things.. Let not our ignorance draw us astray, nor respect of persons corrupt our hearts, O blessed Spirit whom, with the Father and Son together, we worship and glorify as one God, world without end. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, June 29, 1953?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the approval of the Journal for Monday, June 29, 1953 be postponed until the Journal is in print.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BOLTON. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 69.

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1953.

It has been said "A Little education is a dangerous thing." However, the author may have meant it to be interpreted, it is increasingly apparent, that the present rising costs of public education are creating a situation in our State whereby we shall be able to provide only "a little education" for our children.

The "dangerous" element will manifest itself in the decline of our State's contribution to the various fields of human endeavor, ultimately bringing about the loss of our standards of living and morality, together with the loss of our free society.

The cost of public school education in Pennsylvania has risen from $140,449,000 for the 1945-47 biennium to $315,149,990 for the 1951-53 biennium. The Governor has requested $396,755,305 for the 1953-55 biennium to which must be added at least $1,999,000 for so-called Departmental expenses, making the proposed staggering cost of public school education for the next two years $397,954,305.

In spite of these astronomical figures, our children are being led away from the basic courses of education, such as science, mathematics, English grammer, history and geography toward such "useful fields of education" as domestic science, driver training, diversified arts courses, ranging from making ceramic ash trays to basket weaving. Experimental modern teaching methods are replacing the older, proven methods of education.

Local school districts find that the present salary budgets for 1953, exceed the total school expenditures of 1947. In addition, local taxation has reached the twin barriers of diminishing returns and legal prohibition, and all this at a time when most school districts desperately need additional buildings; now therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Joint State Government Commission shall investigate public education and the staggering costs of public education and report its findings and recommendations to the next session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, June 29, 1953.

Charles Ephiram Gettier, a Republican Committeeman of Littlestown and a file clerk of the State Workmen's Insurance office, Harrisburg, died suddenly at this home in Littlestown on June 14.

He was a son of the late Dr. C. P. and Elizabeth Louise Myers Gettier. He served in France in World War I and was a brother of the late Dr. H. E. Gettier, who was a practicing physician in Littlestown for many years.

Mr. Gettier was a member of Redeemer's Reformed Church and was affiliated with Hanover Post No. 2506 V.F.W. and Masonic orders.

The House of Representatives hereby expresses its sympathy to the two surviving members of his immediate family, Miss Mabel Gettier, West King Street, Littlestown and Mrs. Edgar A. Miller, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, and the clerk of the House is hereby requested to send copies of this resolution to them.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Indiana to come to the rostrum so that he may act as Speaker pro tempore for part of today's session.

Mr. HEWITT IN THE CHAIR.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, this week important conferences were held by both parties with respect to a tax program to try and raise the revenue to balance the Governor's budget.

The program was submitted to the Republican caucus yesterday and I believe was discussed in the Democratic caucus, that is, the Republican program, was discussed also in the other caucus.

I do not believe that on this side of the House we are ready to move a tax program this week. Therefore it would seem advisable while conferences are being held further on this very important matter, that this General Assembly could well recess today to come back next Monday to go to work.

Therefore, so that ample time will be given to the Members to get down to the hotels to check out so that they will not be charged for an extra day, I would respectfully request the Chair to declare a twenty minute recess.

Also I believe a caucus of the Philadelphia Members is being held, and it will be another twenty minutes more before that particular caucus will be finished.

I might say that we have on the calendar the General Appropriation bill which of necessity cannot move until we have raised the revenue to provide for the appropriations which will be necessary to run the Commonwealth for the next two years. That bill is No. 1520 on today's calendar.

If we go home today let us come back here Monday; everybody be back here Monday—we will have a Call of the House next Monday. We will be ready to do business. We will not have a consent calendar then. We want to have Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week as good working days, when everybody will be present on both side of the House.

Therefore, I now ask the Chair to please declare a twenty minute recess.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to agree in part with the Majority Leader and to assure the Majority Leader, first, that the Democratic Caucus has not discussed a tax program because we have had no tax program to discuss. We will not have a tax program to discuss until the Majority leadership has reached more definite convictions than it has been able to arrive at up to the present time.

I agree that no good purpose can be served by continuing the House in session the rest of this week. I think a period of contemplation and consultation will probably serve to clarify the thinking on the majority side, at least we can so trust. Then our worries will begin as, if and when we have a majority position to consider.

I agree with the Majority Leader, first, that we adjourn today to reconvene next Monday, and second, that we take a recess so that the Members can clear with their hotels and so that we can bring the Philadelphia delegation into the Hall of the House and proceed with the regular order of business.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the Members that at the end of the 20-minute recess we will have quite a long third reading calendar today and we would like to have the members come back promptly so that we can proceed with the business of the day. There are many important bills on the calendar which we intend to call up, and I believe there are some resolutions to be presented, so we implore all of you to come back immediately following the recess.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for twenty minutes. The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

Mr. HEWITT IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER (CHARLES C. SMITH) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Hewitt, for presiding.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 789, entitled:

An Act to add section 54.1 to the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," providing that bonds of county officers and employes shall protect against loss of money by robbery and burglary and requiring the county to pay the cost of such bonds.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, line 5, by striking out "providing that bonds of" and inserting in lieu thereof: "requiring certain."

Amend Title, page 1, line 6, by striking out "shall protect" and inserting in lieu thereof: "to be insured."

Amend Title, page 1, line 7, by inserting after "by" "larceny."

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 54.1), page 2, lines 7 to 13 both inclusive by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof:

"Section 54.1. Insurance to Protect Against Robbery, Burglary and Larceny. Each county officer or employe who as part of his official duties handles money or has money in his possession at any time shall, in addition to any bond required by law, be covered by or furnish to the county adequate insurance indemnifying against the loss of such money through robbery, burglary and larceny. The cost of such insurance shall be paid by the county.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 834, Printer's No. 345

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 894, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 316 of the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364), entitled "An act relating to business corporations; defining and providing for the organization, merger, consolidation, reorganization, winding up and dissolution of such corporations; conferring certain rights, powers, duties and immunities upon them and their officers and shareholders; prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers, providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act; prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted, or may continue, to do business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain State departments, boards, commissions, or officers to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations," by authorizing a corporation by action of its board of directors to grant pensions, allowances and stock options to its officers and other employees under certain circumstances and validating pensions, allowances and stock options heretofore granted.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 316), page 4, line 4, by inserting after "TIME"

And provided further, That any such allowance unless part of an employe benefit plan or employment contract in effect at the time of retirement or death of the officer, director or employe shall not exceed in total the amount of the compensation paid to him or her during the twelve months preceding retirement or death.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 900, as follows:

An Act to add section 3.1 to the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 694) entitled "An act imposing a tax on gross receipts as an excise on the use of the public highways by certain owners or operators of motor vehicles transporting passengers and property for hire" by providing for certificates to be issued upon payment of tax to be attached to windshields and providing penalties

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 694) entitled "An act imposing a tax on gross receipts as an excise on the use of the public highways by certain owners or operators of motor vehicles transporting passengers and property for hire" is hereby amended by adding after section 3 thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 3.1 (a) Each company which shall pay the tax imposed and passed by this act shall be issued certificates in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Revenue which shall be attached by the company as directed by the Secretary to the windshields of vehicles owned or operated by the company and for which the tax has been paid

(b) Any company which shall fail to attach the certificate prescribed by this act shall upon summary conviction thereof before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than ten dollars ($10)

(c) Any company which shall attach a certificate to any vehicle except as provided by this section shall upon summary conviction thereof before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than fifty dollars ($50)

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—3

Goodling, Murray, P. G., Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 96 entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" by providing for farm fish pond licenses regulating the use of such ponds and the terms of such licenses and prescribing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have someone explain the purpose of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McCullough permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCULLOUGH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. McCullough to explain the bill and its purpose.

Mr. McCULLOUGH. Mr. Speaker, this bill is just the same as the one we passed last session, 208, I think to O, and primarily it is a farm pond bill.

Primarily it is for fire protection, but it also allows me to put fish in it if I so desire, and I and my family and those working on my farm are the only ones that can fish there, another person must have a license.

Mr. FILO. Under the present law another person has to have a license to fish anywhere. Would this bill allow any individual to fish in your pond?

Mr. McCULLOUGH. No, just the same as if I had a blackberry patch, I could go out and pick blackberries, or any kind of fruit, and I can fish in my own pond without a license.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, in order to shorten the day's work here, I would request that this bill be passed over temporarily.

The SPEAKER. Without objection the chair withdraws its decision as to Senate Bill 96, Printer's No. 334, being agreed to on third reading. The chair hears none.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 96, Printer's No. 334

was passed over at the request of Mr. FILO.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 199 entitled:

An Act to amend clause (b) of Section 1 of the act, approved the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven, (P. L. 1183), entitled "An act relating to strikes by public employes; prohibiting such strikes; providing that such employes by striking terminate their employment; providing for reinstatement under certain conditions; providing for a grievance procedure; and providing for hearings before civil service and tenure authorities, and in certain cases before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Boards," by making certain changes in the grievance procedure provided for in the act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1 (1) page 5, lines 5 and 6 by striking out the words; "the state agency or" and inserting in lieu thereof, the word "any"

Amend Section 1 (1), page 5 line 7 by inserting after the word "Complaints," the following:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 326, Printer's No. 94

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 359, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 971) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the eighth class" by increasing the annual salaries of county commissioners in certain counties of the eighth class

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 971) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the eighth class" as amended by the act approved the eleventh day of October one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1706) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 The annual salaries of the following county officers of counties of the eighth class shall be as follows

(a) The sheriff in counties having a population of less than twelve thousand (12,000) two thousand two hundred dollars ($2,200) and in counties having a population of twelve thousand (12,000) and more but less than twenty thousand (20,000) two thousand eight hundred dollars ($2,800)

(b) The county commissioners in counties having a population of less than twelve thousand (12,000) one thousand five hundred dollars ($1500) each and in counties having a population of twelve thousand (12,000) and more two thousand dollars ($2000) each

(c) The district attorney in counties having a population of less than twelve thousand (12,000) one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) and in counties having a population of twelve thousand (12,000) and more but less than twenty thousand (20,000) one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800)

(d) The county auditors shall each receive ten dollars ($10) for each day necessarily employed in the discharge of their duties

(e) The jury commissioners shall each receive seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50) for each day necessarily employed in the discharge of their duties The said compensation shall be paid from the county treasury in the same manner as the salary or compensation of other county officers and employes

Section 2 The provisions of this amending act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall be applicable to all pertinent county officers who shall be elected or appointed after the effective date of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 471, Printer's No. 160,

was passed over at the request of Mr. EWING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 489, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 1330 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by further regulating compulsory attendance of pupils

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1330 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" as amended in part by the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1195) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1330 Exceptions to Compulsory Attendance The provisions of this act requiring regular attendance shall not apply to any child who

(1) Has attained the age of sixteen (16) years and who is regularly engaged in any useful and lawful employment or service during the time the public schools are in session and who holds an employment certificate issued according to law

(2) Has been examined by an approved mental clinic or by a person certified as a public school psychologist or psychological examiner and has been found to be unable to profit from further public school attendance and who has been reported to the board of school directors and excused in accordance with regulations prescribed by the State Council of Education

(3) Has attained the age of fifteen (15) years and is engaged in farm work or domestic service in a private home on a permit issued by the school board or the designated school official of the school district of the child's residence in accordance with regulations which the Superintendent of Public Instruction is hereby authorized to prescribe

(4) Has attained the age of fourteen (14) years and is engaged in farm work on a farm on which has parents live or in domestic service on a farm [in a private home] in the home of his parents on a permit issued [as provided in clause (3) of this section] by the school board or the designated official of the school district of the child's residence and who has satisfactorily completed either in public or private schools the equivalent of the highest grade of the elementary school organization prevailing in the public schools of the district in which he resides if the issuance of such a permit has first been recommended by the county or district superintendent of schools having supervision of the schools of the district where such child resides or by the principal of the private school where such child is enrolled and [the reason therefor] has been approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction

(5) Except in districts of the fourth class and those of the third class located wholly within the boundary lines of a township or within the boundary lines of a borough which has a population of less than five hundred (500) inhabitants to the square mile resides two miles or more by the nearest public highway from any public school in session and no proper free transportation is furnished to such child to and from school

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, is there anybody in the Hall of the House who can adequately explain what this bill does?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill deals with the attendance of students in the public schools, and makes two changes in the present provisions of the law.

At the present time, under the law as it stands now, children of the age of 14 years may be released from school to work on a farm—and that means the farm of anyone, or in domestic service,—and that means in anybody's home,—provided it has the approval of the principal of the school, the County Superintendent or the District Superintendent, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The change that is made in the law would be as follows:

It would say that a child of 14 may only be released to work on his own farm, or in the case of a girl, in domestic service in her own home on a farm, and the approval of the following persons would be needed, the principal of the school, the Superintendent of the County or of the District, and instead of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the school board of the district.

Now you all know that this bill has been called the Amish bill.

The Amish are a group of people who long ago left the old country, mostly Germany, because they wished to escape from certain provisions imposed on them by the government of that country which were opposed to their religious beliefs, and to this day, these people, very sincere, God-fearing people, have maintained many of their ancient customs for religious reasons.

They endure a great deal of ridicule for the sake of their religious beliefs. The garments they wear are different. They, in many cases, do not believe in combatant service in the armed forces, and our federal government has seen fit to excuse them from combatant service. They do not take oaths, but affirm rather, and our government has seen fit to make provisions in that respect, so that their religious beliefs would not be violated.

Under the present law, they have not been able to carry out one of their religious beliefs, namely, that their boys and girls should cease their secular instruction at about the age of 14. Their religion is a very unworldly one. They do not believe in things of the world, and that accounts for many of their customs. They do not believe, therefore, in worldly education. This does not mean that their education ceases. Any of you who visit Lancaster County, or any of the counties in which the plain people, not only the Amish sect, but other plain sects live, will find that those people are as fine farmers as you will find in this great Commonwealth. The education of their children does not cease, but their education is not along the lines which they consider worldly, and for that reason they have come asking for this relief.

I believe that it is part of the principle of our government not to force things upon people unnecessarily which violate their religious beliefs, and it seems to me that we would be well-advised to make this decision for these sincere, God-fearing people, who are some of the finest citizens of our Commonwealth.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman not believe that we might be establishing a bad precedent if we pass this bill? Does he not believe that other sects, also worthy people, in the future will be coming along asking for the same thing?

Mr. SEYLER. Will the gentleman state what things they might be asking for. I know of no other sects that want any of this sort of concession. If you should be specific I might be able to answer, but I do not understand what you mean.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot be specific because I do not know of any other religious sects at the present time that might desire its children to stop their public education at the age of 14.

But it is quite conceivable that in the future, perhaps the Seventh Day Adventists, or some other organization of that nature with their own particular religious belief, will ask this same privilege. How will we refuse them?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman this way. Certainly in one of the greatest crises that our government faces in time of war, if our federal government has seen fit in a critical time of that sort to say to these people, "We are willing to excuse you from the most important service that most of us can render to our government, namely, serving as combatants in our army," if our government feels that even in that time of great crisis they do not need to force these people to violate their religious beliefs, it seems to me that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can very well in a case of this religious group make this concession that they are asking for in the matter of education.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, does this only apply to this group of people that Mr. Seyler speaks of?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, it is impossible, as the gentleman probably will realize as he thinks it over, to pass class legislation. So obviously there cannot be a law which only applies to the Amish.

However, I would say this to the gentleman. That this bill tightens up the present law insofar as attendance is concerned. For this reason under the present law a child may be excused at 14, and children every year are being excused at the age of 14 to work on a farm, on anybody's farm. Children are being excused to enter into domestic service at the age of 14, being excused from school to work in anybody's home.

This bill specifically states that children may only be excused to work on their own farm or in their own homes.

Therefore from the standpoint of attendance that does not make the law more lax, it tightens the law.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, if this tightens the law as Mr. Seyler says, yet produces an outlet for our poorer people wherein they may take advantage of this law with a claim of needing or utilizing their child at 14, does he feel maybe that the more needy type in congested areas throughout the state may use this as a means of withdrawing the child and ceasing his education early in life, thinking in their own mind that they are doing the best for the child?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman by saying that under the laws that exist at present, that can be done. Not only can that be done, but the child can be put into domestic service in someone else's home for wages, or the child can be put to work on someone else's farm for wages, which will not be possible under the law amended by this bill. That is why I say this bill tightens the law in the respect that the gentleman refers to rather than making it more lax.

Mr. SARRAF. If these provisions are already in the law and this law does not do any more, does not broaden the law, what is the need for this law? I would like the gentleman to be more precise.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, at present the essential difference, in addition to tightening the law so that it will be actually less lax in regard to attendance, the bill changes the law in this respect, at the present time in order to be excused from school on the application of a parent, it must have the approval of the principal, the superintendent of the schools, either of the county or of the district, depending upon whether they have a district superinendent, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Now that is where the rub comes.

The Amish, I did not care to discuss this particularly, and I am not making a criticism of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, but the local authorities have come to Harrisburg with these cases and have not received the approval of the Superinendent of Public Instruction.

Now the change made in the bill is this. From now on they will have to have the principal and the Superintendent of schools the same as they had before, but instead of the Department of Public Instruction's approval, it will require the approval of the school board, the board of school directors of the district in which the application is made.

Those people in the Amish areas will, of course, be acquainted with the Amish religion and with the case of the Amish and I presume the Amish feel in asking for this bill that they will be more successful in pleading their case at that point than they will by bringing it up here to Harrisburg.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from York has made out a good case for any agricultural group anywhere in the state of Pennsylvania, Amish or not, that may desire to take their children out of school at the age of 14, because the school board selects the principal, and the school board is the final factor in the situation. If a rural school board and its principal get together—and the principal will be inclined to follow the school board—any rural group could say to our compulsory education system, that it is all wet, we do not believe in education. We are going to take our children out of school at 14, put them on the farm.

Now either our compulsory system of education in this Commonwealth is sound, either the Commonwealth has a constitutional obligation to equalize educational opportunities, or it does not have.

We conclude that the Commonwealth's business is to aim to equalize educational opportunities and they do not ask me whether I am an atheist or an Amish, or what I am. My business as a citizen is to recognize the constitutional requirement and cooperate to the end that educational opportunities shall be equalized.

This is a bad bill.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would reply to the gentleman that I am in favor of compulsory education. I do not believe that the age should be lowered. However, I would also point out to him that there are provisions in the law at the present time for releasing children for due and good reasons from our system of compulsory education. And any system which is so compulsory that it does not recognize individual cases is too compulsory; it is arbitrary.

At the present time in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania boys and girls are being excused from schools for good and due reasons. These people, I believe, have a good reason.

I would further point out to the gentleman that concessions are made on the basis of religion in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and in our country generally, and I think this is only right. Now, the Amish do not have parochial schools. They would have a right to, but they do not believe in secular education after the age of 14. I think a similar concession such as is made in the case of other religious groups can very well be made for this group. After all, these people have suffered persecution for a long time. They fled from other countries to escape the arbitrary uniformity of government which would force them to conform to things in which they did not believe. So, I would simply plead to give these people the same kind of consideration that we are granting in other cases.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be a lot of confusion relative to this piece of legislation. As a matter of fact, it is only a correctve amendment to clarify a situation which has existed, particularly in Lancaster County. If you recall two years ago, we had practically the same bill up here which passed the House and Senate and was vetoed by the Governor because of the fact that there was some clarification that the Department of Public Instruction did not concur in.

It is my understanding that the Department of Public Instruction has concurred in these amendments. I might say that there is a redress to the Department of Public Instruction on this bill. Under the present law, Section 1330, any child 14 years of age who has completed the elementary schools in the district in which he lives may be granted a work permit on a farm or domestic work, if the permit is authorized by the local school board and approved by the Department of Public Instruction under their regulations.

This bill amends that, as Mr. Seyler has said, that the individual boy or girl who has reached the age of 14 and has completed the elementary school, can be give a permit to work only on the farm or in the home of his or her parents. And it is subject to the authorization of not only the school board, but the local school official in that particular county, and then be approved by the Department of Public Instruction. That was put in there because of the fact that there may be some cases in which people feel that the Amish have complete control of the school board, and they could run things as they want to; but this permit can be issued and then it is approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

It is my understanding that the Department has approved this piece of legislation as amended, and I would ask that the House support it, because I think it is a correctional piece of legislation, which will solve a problem that has been long-enduring and concerning much action against the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Mifflin has answered the question that was in my mind. I was of the opinion that rather than put the stress on the question of age, the stress should be put on the basic education that a child has.

I can see no basic difference between a law that would permit them to take them out at 12 or at 14. Essentially there is no difference. I take this position, I feel that ignorance is a curse to any people, and that the Amish as a group are no exception. What we are doing basically in effect here today is declaring that it is the public policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that a child can be taken out of school at the age of 14. And stripped of all other questions, religious and otherwise, that is what it amounts to. I regard it as a backward step.

I can sympathize with the beliefs of the Amish people. By the same token, I can see where another group when once this is the law that is applicable to all people, regardless of their religious belief—I can see situations where it will be taken advantage of.

Just imagine for a moment a person who has stepchildren, who might be incorrigible, who do not get along too well in school. Just for the purpose of taking them out at 14 years of age, we have a law on our books—they can take them out and keep them working at home. That is exploiting that child, whereas, if we keep the law as it is, we at least have the safeguard of making them get an education and preparing them for a place in life for which otherwise they would not be prepared.

I think in principle this is a bad piece of legislation. I do not think we ought to amend the law to suit the Amish, the Seventh Day Adventists, or any other group. I think we ought to make laws here that will be applicable to all. And as I see it, in principle it is a backward step.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to correct the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, Mr. Jones, that the word is pronounced "Amish" (a as in arm) not "Ammish."

Second, that in my legislative career I have listened off and on to various statements, arguments and remarks of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Minority Floor Leader, in his long legislative career he has at last convinced me that he is right on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 597, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-eight day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 596) entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" by extending the benefits to certain authorities created by such cities

Section 1 Section 10 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 596) entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as amended by the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 614) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 10 The benefits conferred by this act shall apply to all persons employed in any capacity by or holding positions in the cities included in its provisions which shall include all persons employed in any capacity by or holding position in an authority created by said cities except where such authority has in effect its own pension or retirement plan maintained without reference to the provisions of this act in which case such authority's pension or retirement plan shall be exclusive and such authority's employes shall not be entitled to any rights under this act and the words "city" or "cities" as used in sections three four five six seven eight ten eleven twelve and fourteen of this act shall be construed to mean "authority" or "authorities" so created where appropriate Provided That this act shall not apply to employes of such departments bureaus or offices as are now protected by pension authorized by the laws of this State and in force at the time of the passage of this act

For the purposes of this act the solicitor and all employes of the office of the solicitor for delinquent real estate tax and water rate liens provided for by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 629) shall be regarded as persons employed by or holding positions in the cities included in the provisions of this act to the extent that they may if they so desire avail themselves of the benefits of the act to which this is an amendment by paying to the board of pensions monthly the amount provided for by said act

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 14 thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 15 Every authority the employes of which are members of the pension fund as hereinabove provided for shall pay annually to the board of pensions an amount sufficient to reimburse the board of pensions for the amount of benefits paid employes of such authority as provided for by the act of which this amendment is a part after receiving credit for all contributions made to the pension fund by employes of such authority during such annual period Provided however That where an employe of any authority formerly worked for the city creating the authority the annual pension requirement or other benefits shall be prorated on the basis that the number of years such employe worked for the authority bears to total years of service in city and authority employment and the authority shall reimburse the board of pensions for that proportionate part of the pension or other benefits paid which the authority service bears to the total and the balance of annual pension requirements or other benefits shall be paid by such cities

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Section 8 The provisions of this act shall become effective

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say by way of explanation this is one of the Chesterman series of bills. This bill would transfer the Historical and Museum Commission to the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, as a legislative member of the Historical and Museum Commission, I rise to oppose this bill.

The passage of Senate Bill No. 327 would amend the administrative code and place the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission as a departmental administrative commission in the Department of Public Instruction instead of an independent commission which it has been since 1945.

No savings would be made by this transfer. There is no duplication of activities in the Commission and the department which such consolidation could eliminate. Historians, archivists and museum specialits have no common field of endeavor with educators so that placing them together would not eliminate a single position. Section 503 of the administrative code states:

> In all matters involving expenditure of money, all such departmental administrative boards and commissions shall be subject and responsible to the departments with which they are respectively connected. Such departments shall in all cases have the right to make such examinations of the books, records and accounts of their respective departmental administrative boards and commissions, as may be necessary to enable them to pass upon the necessity and propriety of any expenditure or proposed expenditure.

Section 214 of the administrative code provides that the department heads shall appoint and fix the compensation of such clerks, stenographers and other assistants as may be required for the proper conduct of the work of any departmental administrative board or commission established in their departments. The only employe that could be appointed by the commission would be its executive director, the other employes' performing its work would be actually employes of the Department of Public Instruction. Furthermore, Section 508 of the administrative code prohibits an administrative board or commission from constructing or contracting for the erection or construction of any new building or alternations or additions to an existing building involving an expenditure of more than $4000. It should, therefore, be clear that in fiscal and procurement functions, consolidation would only mean additional work for the department in checking commission requests and budgets, while the work of preparing and presenting them in the commission office would not be lessened.

It might even increase the cost of operation. According to one of the State Covernment Survey Committee's basic principles for government organization, "completely unrelated activities must not be forced into an organizational unit . . . . since such an artifice creates "layering," is expensive, and depreciates the functions involved." The commission's activities are completely unrelated to those of the Department of Public Instruction while they may be educational in a broad sense, they are not instructional. The commission's work has no direct relationship with schools, teachers, etc., except on occasion to distribute historical pamphlets to them just as the Game Commission might make available pamphlets on birds and wild life. Historical markers and shrines, the care of the museum and public records, historical research and publications are certainly not synonymous with the regular activities of the Department of Public Instruction.

It would not lead to more efficient administration. As an independent commission, the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is composed of some of the outstanding business and professional leaders of Pennsylvania. Among them are leading lawyers, newspaper publishers, the director of the historical society of Pennsylvania, a leading philanthropist, the head of the history department of the University of Pittsburgh, two members of the House of Representatives one of whom is an outstanding historian, two members of the Senate and the Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex officio. To contend that subordinating a commission of this calibre would bring about more efficient administration is inconceivable.

Conclusions. An analysis of this bill and of the provisions in the administrative code for departmental administrative commissions makes it evident that after its enactment, commission operations, resolutions and actions in matters involving appropriation requests, expenditure of funds and personnel would substantially have the force of recommendations to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Since these matters are involved in virtually everything the Commission does, there would be very little freedom of action left to it except as the Department of Public Instruction might concede to it. Therefore, no justification exists for lowering the prestige and position of the State's official historical agency by making it a departmental commission. During the eight years that the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission operated as an independent commission, it has had a fine record of achievement far surpassing that which was accomplished while these activities were under the Department of Public Instruction prior to 1945.

I, therefore, suggest that the membership of this House vote "no" on this bill.

Section 16 The provisions of this act shall become effective on

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, this bill would abolish the present Health Department and it would set up in place thereof a combination of the present Departments of Welfare, Public Assistance and Health.

I am opposed to the measure principally for the three following reasons:

First, this is supposed to be an economy measure. Part of that economy is predicated upon the various local communities in which the state mental hospitals are located, the local communities taking over those hospitals.

I believe there is grave question as to whether any of the local communities will at any time be able to take over those state hospitals, and I believe, as I said, a portion of the savings—and I believe quite a large portion of the savings—is predicated upon such a possibility.

It is altogether possible that the overhead of such a combination if it were set up would cost the state more than it does to administer the three Departments now. Certainly before such a radical change is made in our state government, a more complete and profound study, I think, should be made of the question.

Second the primary function, I believe, of a state government is health. It is basic, I believe, to any other function of government basic even to education, is the health of the citizenry of the state. For that reason I think any state should aim at an independent, strong, virile Health Department, not coupled with any other division of government.

Third, two states, Maine and Missouri, have a Health Department combined with other divisions of government, and according to present standards set up by various health authorities, those two states stand at the bottom of the list of all of the states of the United States.

Those are the basic principles upon which I am opposing this bill. There are other things in the bill that, if it should pass, are not good. There are no provisions set up for the chief executive of the combined departments. He ought to be certainly a man of outstanding ability. There is nothing there as to what he should be, what his education should be, what his training should be. There is no civil service set up for the scientists and doctors of the division of health.

I think it is a poorly drawn bill as well as fundamentally poor in its principles.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the Chesterman Committee attempted to do a good deed here, I am certain, but what they have enveloped and the loss to the state would be so tremendous, and the working of the department in a monetary sense would cost much more. Not only that, but the individual who would have the power over all these three set-ups in one would have to be somebody out of a book, because the qualifications would be tremendous. His budget and pay roll would be tremendous along with the reduced health program throughout the state as well as welfare.

The Chesterman Committee themselves and spokesmen for them or this bill admit that this will not do what they intended it to do. Of all their reports, this I feel, along with Senate Bill 329, is one of the poorest recommendations submitted to us and to our government.

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. JOHNSON.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of Senate Bill No. 329, entitled:

An Act abolishing the Department of Health and transferring its powers and duties to the Department of Health and Welfare.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, since this bill depends upon the passage of Senate Bill 341, I move that it be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. JOHNSON.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of Senate Bill No. 336, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by making changes in the appointment and tenure of the Superintendent of Public Instruction

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby proposed in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof

That section eight of article four is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 He shall nominate and by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorizedby the Constitution or by law to appoint he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen in offices to which he may appoint during the recess of the Senate by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen during the recess of the Senate in the office of Auditor General State Treasurer Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction in a judicial office or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate the Governor shall nominate to the Senate before their final adjournment a proper person to fill said vacancy but in any such case of vacancy in an elective office a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office according to the provisions of this Constitution unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors and in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be entered on the journal

The General Assembly may impose restrictions on nominations for Superintendent of Public Instruction and may provide for his removal by the Governor for cause The term of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall expire on the first day of July of the year in which the term of the Governor begins

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, do we have under consideration at this time Senate Bill 336, Printer's No. 353?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. MORAN. May I ask to have somebody give me an outline of what the intention of this bill is?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, it changes the method of appointing the Superintendent of Public Instruction in that he would be appointed by the Governor to serve for a term from July 1 after he had been confirmed by the Senate.

I think there is nothing constructive to be gained by the enactment of this bill, because as the gentleman can see what would happen is we might possibly be in Session until June, and the man would be appointed July 1, and he would not be confirmed for a period of possibly 18 months.

Mr. SCHMIDT. May I interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Does this bill not set up a procedure whereby there is submitted to the Governor a list of possible appointees to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction from which the Governor shall make his selection?

Mr. HELM. I believe that is right.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Is not the purpose of the submission of such a list an endeavor to make, as far as possible, the appointment a non-political appointment?

Mr. HELM. It possibly could be interpreted that way, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Would not this bill be a bill that would meet with the favor of the general public because of the fact that the administration of education may be taken out of political administration?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the Superintendent of Public Instruction can be removed today for cause. I can see how it might be a non-political appointment. The Superintendent of Public Instruction could possibly be a very inefficient superintendent. He could be in office for 18 months, and you could do nothing about it until the Legislature had a chance to confirm or not confirm him.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, it is my feeling that this bill is in the interest of education. I feel it is an endeavor and was an endeavor upon the part of the Chesterman Committee to arrive at some formula whereby the Governor may be able to appoint or should appoint someone competent to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction and yet take away in some way the political tinge that is attached to such an appointment.

I recommend this bill highly to the House and ask its favorable reception.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. JOHNSON.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of Senate Bill No. 408, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 4 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Board of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by requiring the Department of Public Assistance to prosecute suits against certain relatives of indigent persons receiving assistance

Section 1 Section 4 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Boards Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" as last amended in whole by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 1091) is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read as follows

Section 4 General Powers and Duties of Department of Public Assistance The Department of Public Assistance shall have the power and its duty shall be

(m) To bring suit against the relatives responsible by law for the support or contribution to the support of any indigent person receiving assistance under the provisions of this act in accordance with the provisions of "The Support Law" or any other applicable laws of the Commonwealth

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the record on the so-called Chesterman bills today has not been very favorable. But Senate Bill 408 is one that I think should pass. I had not intended to speak on it, thinking that it did not need any particular support, but I have received a telegram from a very esteemed gentleman in my community which indicates that there apparently is a lot of misunderstanding about this bill.

The telegram which I received asked for my opposition to it and to use my influence among my friends in opposing the bill, which is just exactly opposite to that which I am doing, and which I think I should do.

This bill simply amends the public assistance law by providing that the Department of Public Assistance shall have the power, and its duty shall be among other things, to bring suit against the relatives responsible by law for the support or contribution to the support of any indigent person receiving assistance under the provisions of the support law or the assistance law.

Under the present practice the Department of Public Assistance, in granting and giving assistance, say to a mother and children and so forth, would always inquire where the father is or the husband is. When the Department learns that the father has absconded and simply refuses and fails to support, the Department will require the mother to prosecute the father and bring him into court, and have the court make an order against the father if he is able to pay.

The same thing is true where children are able to support indigent parents and are not doing so.

All this bill does is state that the Department of Public Assistance may institute these actions. As the Chesterman Committee report points out, there are many cases where for one reason or another the mother or the father with children are reluctant to bring a prosecution against the other for the support to which they are entitled.

Why anybody should not want to vote for a bill of this kind is beyond me. The state of Pennsylvania steps in and helps people who are unable to help themselves financially, but it does not do so nor should it do so if there is a father or a child or a mother and a child who are financially able to help each other. Certainly not only the law requires children and parents to support each other, but all of our moral and religious background dictates that that is what we should do.

We know that in many cases it is not done. The Department of Public Assistance has on many occasions been accused of being lax in not going after the people who should be supporting their own relatives.

I think a lot of the misunderstanding about this bill arises from the fact that some people believe that brothers are legally responsible to support brothers and cousins and so forth, but that is not so. At one time the legal liability for the support of a relative extended to grandparents and to grandchildren. It has been about eight years since that law was changed and the only people who are now legally liable for each other's support are parents and children.

I say that there is no reason why this bill should not receive our support in order that the proper people will support those who need support, and it will not be done at taxpayers' expense except where it is necessary.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the support law is already written. Anybody applying for relief today must show proof that they have no relatives who can help them in any manner. That is already on the books.

For your knowledge as I understand this, if that law is augmented by this wherein if in a certain length of time they do not go after their relatives who supposedly can assist them in some manner, I do not know the technicality in the legal procedure, but the state can enter that suit and try to collect money for the state.

I think the law as it is, is ample enough for citizens of our great state without embarrassing them that much further, and then maybe entailing the state itself to enter into more procedures.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as everyone acquainted with the operation of our public assistance law knows there are frequent instances where parents were able to support thirteen children, and then when the parents grew old the thirteen children were unwilling to support the parents. Under the present regulations unless the children bring action against the parents there is no relief.

I know of repeated cases in Cambria County where there are four children, everyone of the children making $600 a month. None of them have large families, but those four children cannot dig up enough money to support their old mother. In such a situation I say that the Department should have the power to intervene and go into court and require parents and children to acknowledge their mutual obligations.

There are too many mothers and fathers that are on relief when they have children amply able to care for their parents in their old age.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, just one more word in relation to the comments of Mr. Sarraf.

This bill does not set up a new method by which we can collect money for the state. The orders that are made in court are not made to the Department of Public Assistance or for its benefit. Those orders are made against fathers, mothers, children for the support of each other by the court, and to the extent that those orders help to support that person, they relieve the taxpayer of the burden which is not rightfully the taxpayers' at all. It belongs to the family. But as you know there are many cases where somebody will try to avoid its responsibility. He does not like his wife, or she does not like the children, or the children do not like the parents. They will do everything they possibly can to avoid the responsibility which the law has placed on them.

I say we are making a mistake when we do not pass this bill. It is not going to upset the Commonwealth if it does not pass; it is not that important because the system that is now being followed is fairly satisfactory, but if there is one Chesterman recommendation which will result in some savings, it is this, and it is morally and legally right to do it.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry, I realize the hour, but since these points were brought up, I do not know what they do in Cambria County or what they do in other counties, but let me give you a picture of what they do in Allegheny County.

When a person applies for assistance of any form one of the requests among numerous others, like their rent receipts, their insurance policies, various other items that are necessary and one of the most important is this, they want the name of the father if it is a child getting assistance; they want the name of the husband and children of these individuals applying, and then a form is sent to those individuals wherein they state the amount of money they make, plus whether they contribute in any manner to this individual applying for assistance. Now if they are unable to get to these people,—I have seen this actually happen in my district and I think it happens throughout Allegheny County, probably throughout the state,—the assistance in that home or in that place is held up until these support elements are protected in our Commonwealth and in our setup.

Where they learn later that an individual in the family—there may be an erroneous statement made and these must be Notarized—the visitor goes into that home and says "The next check will not be forthcoming; you must sue your father, mother or child." That is in the present day law, and invariably that check is cut until they show proof that they are going in to sue whoever can support this individual we are paying for, or which the government is giving us money for.

In the case of an old age recipient, as in the case of the blind, or dependent children, these people are all well taken care of under the Act as it exists. Now I am speaking for Allegheny County. If there are discrepancies or if this loss of money to our state is occuring in other counties, I can not speak for them. What I am outlining to you, is the setup of the Allegheny Board and it is the setup by your State Welfare Department and Relief Department. The exact terminology I do not know, but it is set up in that manner.

If you have these people that we are assisting going after the support from their relatives and honestly attempting to do it, I do not see how this bill's passage is going to augment our treasury to any great extent, except maybe it may bring out a chiseler or somebody that is embarrassing. If you know the relief visitors and you know the relief workers it is amazing, and I have experienced this, what little technicality will offset the check of a poor individual in this state of ours that we originally intended the relief for. I think they are given every opportunity to show that they are good citizens. I believe in most of these cases they sought the courts to get money because they are informed or they are instructed before they get their relief—all this procedure that I have told you about goes through and these visitors invariably go back to these people periodically, and especially where they get even a little hint or a suggestion as they walk down the street; they ask about Mrs. Jones and somebody does not like her, and she says so and so is living up there, and that is her stepfather or something, or that is a relative up there and they should sue them. The check automatically stops and those poor people are told "Go on in and sue."

Now what this does as I see it,—and if there is anybody that wants to correct me—is not only to have that on top of these people that you are assisting, but now you are going to get your Department to enter into a suit. I do not know whether it is going to involve a great loss of money and time to try to collect let us say—if anybody here has figures of how much they have been losing, if the Chestermen people can show us—I do not think it is worth your vote.

Here is a group of people getting assistance. You have got all the law you need in the steup, and to demand on top of it that if you do not in a certain time sue your father or mother or son which is what we have already asked you to do, and produce under Notary Public's affidavit, we are going to come in and force those people in some manner,—I do not know the exact terminology, but I do know that we have enough law on the books, and your Department knows it, where the individual receiving relief in any form can go to court and are made to go to court by our visitors.

This is intimate with me, because I am in an area where about 20 thousand people are on assistance. I know the embarrassment they go through because you have a very efficient and a good working system, there is no doubt about it. I have seen minor things being the cause of a poor family's check being delayed. I see that nothing more is going to be done by this but embarrassment, maybe make more work for them, and maybe more times in the court house and so forth, so I would vote against this one irrespective of all these would-be savings that are being portrayed here.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the eminent practitioner from Allegheny paints a beautiful picture. He manages to come out of the same hole he went into.

He is exactly right. The relief organization tells the parent "Your children should support you." The parent says "But they will not." The relief organization says "You sue them," but it does not have any power to start the court action itself, and the poor old mother when it comes to a matter of going into court and suing her children, she just does not do it. She suffers in silence. She does not want to go into court herself and announce to the world that she has children that will not contribute to her support, even though they are able to do so.

All this bill does is enable the Department to start original action, and then the court decides whether or not the children are in a position to support their poor old mother.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I said that in Allegheny County the procedure that I outlined is true. Now if in Cambria County an old age recipient applies and the individuals in his county who have the right to grant this relief, are giving them the money and then telling them to sue, that is a different horse entirely.

I outlined the plan. I do not know what they do in Cambria, but if in Cambria they give these people relief, or in any other county, without doing as I told you they do in Allegheny County, then we need this law; there is no doubt probably. But as I see it in every county, and I think what this law is intended for is not for the original applicant at all, because in the original application those forms are sent to the relatives and they are asked to be notarized whether they can help their mother or father or child.

That is in the support law of the state. That has been in the support law throughout the state for a long time. If this bill does anything, it is for one who is receiving assistance and they find out later that he had children or had a parent who can pay and they go and sue those people. Invariably in my county, they do not just come in and sue them and then keep on paying them. In my county they tell them to go and sue them and say "We are going to give you a week or two and if you do not sue then, you from then on do not get your check."

That is how it is right now, in case you people do not know how the setup is in the plan. So there is enough on these people without going to court with a case, and making a sad looking picture of paying anything or not paying or getting in to a hole or out of it. I am just stating the facts, there is no hole here. This is on the books; it is in the system.

If you want to put more work on the state, on your Welfare Department, if you want to put more work on the courts where they are enforcing the law, all you have to do, if you do not believe them, is to do as you do today, cut out their check. That is what is being done. That is general practice all over this state.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I feel this bill ought to have some statement from this side of the House. It is a good bill, which anyone knows who has been engaged in the practice of law, or has to do with support cases ever since the law was adopted under the Earle administration. I feel it was a mistake to ever adopt it and take it out of local home rule, because if there is one bill that has cost the taxpayers millions of dollars in money over a period of years—wasted money—it is this particular public assistance bill putting it in the hands of the state and taking it out of the hands of the local people back home.

However, again I probably will be one up on my colleague from Cambria, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, in that I am again forced to agree with him and also with the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

I say to you, from my personal experience as a practicing attorney and having quite a bit to do with support cases, that it will save the Commonwealth a great many thousands of dollars over a period of years.

As to throwing an extra burden on the employes of the Public Assistance Department, I do not think anyone in the state is going to cry any tears that they might be forced to work a little harder and really earn their money that the taxpayers in the state are paying. Therefore, I urge my Republican colleagues to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL 1216

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1216, Printer's No. 326, entitled:

"An Act to further amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled 'Administrative Code of 1929', by abolishing the Fort Washington Park Commission and transferring its powers and duties to the Department of Forests and Waters."

was defeated on final passage, June 11, 1953, be reconsidered.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that when this was defeated on June 11th, only 66 Members of the House voted in favor of the bill, while 98 Members of the House voted against the bill.

I also want to call your attention to the fact that since 1929—this act proposes to amend the act of 1929—the Washington Park Commission has been separate and has been a departmental commission in the Department of Forests and Waters. It is now proposed to send it back to the Department. As it now stands the Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters is an ex-officio member of this commission.

I want to call your attention to a statement contained in the Bulletin Almanac of 1953 concerning the size of Fairmount Park which contains close to 4 million acres. May I read you just two or three lines about Fort Washington Park, which is an extension of Fairmount Park northward along Wissahickon Creek owned by the state and administered by Fort Washington Park Commission that has 360 acres.

I, therefore, urge you to oppose this motion so that this Commission can continue to administer the 360 acres in connection with the administration of the largest city owned park in the world.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been recalled largely as a matter of principle with us. I think it has been largely misunderstood.

There was a statement made by the Minority Leader that this bill had been introduced largely as a political measure. At its inception, perhaps we were motivated by some political tendencies, but at the same time the bill which I had originally drawn to take care of this matter reposes in my desk. This particular bill, through a series of coincidences, is a Departmental bill. It has nothing to do with the wishes of Mongtomery County particularly, and instead of setting up a Commission to be composed of people from Philadelphia, the Commission is abolished and is put directly under the state.

As the gentleman said, Fort Washington Park consists of only 360 acres. I might add that the Fort Washington Park consists of lot of parcels of real estate which are not even continguous to one another. They stretch out along the bank of the creek and these parcels are many miles from any section of Fairmount Park.

I talked to the Secretary of Forests and Waters about this matter before this bill of his was introduced, and he is very much in favor of it. We were told today that the Fairmount Park Commission of Philadelphia itself—to which this thing is simply a useless appendage making it perfectly worthless to everybody—has no objection to the bill.

If possible, I would like this bill recalled on Mr. Bolton's and Mr. Kratz's motion and we can then, perhaps, debate it on final passage, if necessary. Or we can go forward now and debate it further here, but I think the motion is a good one and the bill should be brought back as a matter of principle.

I would like to say before I conclude, that the Secretary of Forests and Waters told me he thought he could make something out of this park. I think all of you who are interested in state parks will realize that the vast majority of state parks are way up in the central and northern parts of the state where they do the urban population of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh not very much good. He thought that he could take this park, which is specifically segregated from Fairmount Park, which in itself is sort of a useless proposition—he thought he could take it and make something out of it for the urban population of Philadelphia, Montgomery, Delaware and Bucks County. I think it is a worthy purpose and that the motion should be carried. The bill should be brought back and favorably considered.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, is it permissible with the consent of the House at this time to return to page 2 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 1140, Printer's No. 354?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, it is permissible if the House will give its unanimous consent to do so.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to return to page 2 of today's calendar to make a brief statement and for the purpose of interrogating the sponsors of House Bill No. 1140, Printer's No. 354.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to address the House at this time or to make a brief statement the Chair is of the opinion that that might be the better procedure.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I merely desire to first interrogate any one of the sponsors of the bill, the Majority Floor Leader, the Minority Floor Leader—I don't care who—and after that, to make a brief statement concerning the bill, and I ask unanimous consent of the House for that purpose.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would ask unanimous consent of the House to interrogate any one of the sponsors of the bill, whichever one does not make any difference.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it the principal sponsor of the bill, Representative Weidner, is in conference at the present time on this particular bill, together with the Representatives from Northumberland, Mr. Bower, and I believe any interrogation on this bill should be reserved until those particular gentlemen return to the Hall of the House.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry, but I cannot agree with the Majority Floor Leader. I have already talked with the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Weidner, the Chairman of that particular Committee. I talked with Mr. Bower, the gentleman from Northumberland, about this particular matter, so I will waive the interrogation and ask unanimous consent of the House to make a brief statement concerning the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, this particular bill has been on the calendar for some four or five weeks. Under the Constitution of Pennsylvania the House of Representatives is mandated, by the word "shall," to reapportion the representative districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania every 10 years, that is, after every federal census. Certainly I do not think anyone can take any particular credit that it has not been done heretofore and that we as Members of this House have not fulfilled our constitutional mandate.

I feel—this is my personal opinion however—that this bill has been on the calendar long enough. For whatever purpose it has been held on the calendar and by whom it has been held on the calendar I do not know, I have told the Chairman of the Committee, who is one of the sponsors of this bill and I have told Mr. Bower, the gentleman from Northumberland, that if this bill was not called up at the next Session of this Legislature, which possibly will be next week, that I shall exercise my right as a Member of this House and call the bill up. I am notifying all of the sponsors of this bill, and both the majority and minority leadership and whoever may be concerned in it, that I shall do just that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria. Mr. Andrews. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to interrogate the gentleman from Blair who has departed from the camp. I thought we had him safely corralled.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. ANDREWS. Does the gentleman from Blair desire to call up the bill today?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman will recall my statement. I said I would exercise my right as a Member of this House and call the bill up at the next Session of this House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, why not call it up at this Session?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, there are all kinds of reasons why I might not desire to call it up at this particular Session.

Principally, one of them is to give every consideration and every motive, good or bad, to my fellow colleagues of the House who are in the process of consideration of working out whatever may be inequities of the bill or not inequities of the bill, I do not know, but purely and simply not to surprise anybody or to go over anybody's head, but just to give everyone due and proper notice and ample time that the bill will be called up at a certain specific time.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman, and I apperciate his discretion in not calling the bill today. It would be as easy to defeat it on second reading, you know, as it would be on third, and if the gentleman is eager to go to battle on the matter, we would welcome a vote today. Why delay? If the gentleman is in a bellicose mood, if he wants a vote on this bill, let us vote on it on second reading.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, might I ask if the gentleman is interrogating me, or is he just making a statement for the benefit of the Press?

Mr. ANDREWS. No, I was just ventilating the gentleman's vanities.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

The MEMBERS OF THE RULES COMMITTEE, (The SPEAKER, Messrs. YEAKEL, BOWER, KENT, JOHNSON and HELM) offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 30, 1953.

How many years ago no one knows; and he himself is not telling. But today is his birthday.

With a steady hand on the helm he has guided this House through many a tempestuous parliamentary tangle, back to the prevailing calm that permeates the friendly relationship of Members towards each other.

Unlike the prophet whose honor is unknown in his everyday environment, he is honored most by the Members of this House who are his constant associates, and who he has long served ably and extremely well.

But his renown is not limited to this House. He is recognized as the Nation's outstanding parliamentarian throughout all of the United States; therfore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend to "Eddie" Moore its heartiest congratulations on having reached another milestone, with the vigor of youth, the wisdom of age, and the geniality engendered by understanding of and sympathy for others—the attributes of a great man; and be it further

Resolved, That a cerified copy of this resolution be presented by the Chief Clerk to Hon. S. Edward Moore, our beloved Parliamentarian.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Parliamentarian.

The PARLIAMENTARIAN (S. Edward Moore). Mr. Speaker, this surely has been a red letter day for me. I do not know how they discovered my birth date, but some how or other they did. I had a birthday cake and all the the fixings.

It has been said that after one has lived three score years, he has passed the period of adolescence and has reached the age of discretion. I hope it will work out that way in my case.

Most of those three score years have been spent here in this House with you. It has not seemed long because they have indeed been happy years.

I thank you from the bottom of my heart for being so thoughtful in remembering my birthday date.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the Parliamentarian and would say that it has taken years for us to find out how old the gentleman is. But perserverance has at last won out.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. ZIEGLER, OGILVIE, HOCKER and MOODY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 30, 1953.

Edward B. Habbyshaw, Jr., brother of Honorable William E. Habbyshaw, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, died suddenly on June 29, 1953.

He was born fifty-five years ago in Hummelstown, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Habbyshaw, Sr. Upon graduation from Hummelstown High School he began work as an employe of the Reading Railroad.

Edward Habbyshaw was a man whose selfless character required him to extend a helping hand to all who needed aid and comfort. Upon retirement from the Reading Railroad, several years ago, he was named Director of the Dauphin County Institution District, a task he thoroughly enjoyed because of the satisfaction received from helping his fellow man.

His benevolent activities were not limited to a few isolated instances, but rather he was a member of numerous civic and religious organizations.

To each of these groups he dedicated a portion of his life in the earnest hope that through his efforts the entire Community and mankind itself would receive some benefit.

All who knew him, admired him for what he was, a man with a deep sense of responsibility to his fellow men, a man who was eager to help the helpless, one who placed love of his Nation above partisan politics and a man whose activities in life shall stand forever a monument to his name and to the pricipals for which he stood; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives adopt this resolution as a tribute to Edward B. Habbyshaw, Jr., and to the high ideals exemplified in his life; and be it further Resolved, That the chief clerk of the House of Representatives send a copy of this resolution to the family of Edward B. Habbyshaw, Jr.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Members, Mr. Edward Habbyshaw's funeral will be held Thursday, July 2, at 2:00 p.m. at the Bowser Funeral Home in Hummelstown.

The viewing will be on Wednesday evening at the Bowser Funeral Home, Hummelstown, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WORLEY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1203, Printer's No. 390 on page 7 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1203, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 1 of the act, approved the fifth day of August, one thousand nine hundred thirty-two (P. L. 45), entitled "An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy, assess and collect, or to provide for the levying, assessment and collection of, certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes, authorizing the establishment of bureaus, and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes; and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced," by limiting the rate of tax permitted on transfers of title of real property.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. RUBIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rubin vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. RUBIN. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title, by inserting after "property" "and eliminating expired language."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 12, by inserting a bracket before "or" and after "second".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 16, by inserting a bracket before "or" and after "second".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 10, by inserting a bracket before "or" and after "second".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 10, by striking out the bracket before "here-"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 15, by inserting a bracket before "and".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 15, by inserting after "classes]" "class".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to announce to the membership that on Monday this House will reconvene at 1:00 EST or 2:00 DST. We anticipate having a Call of the House next Monday, as I have previously stated.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAGUIRE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, July 1, 1953 at 12:01 a. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5:12 p. m. EST) the House adjourned.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. KUBACKI. RESOLUTION No. 70.

In the House of Representatives, June 30, 1953.

Whereas, The maintenance of a free economy depends upon the maintenance of a price structure within the means of the buying public; and

Whereas, A general rise in prices in a commodity used by a large portion of the buying public can adversely affect the general standard of living; and

Whereas, The unreasonable and unexplainable rise in prices of gasoline at this time when large amounts of gasoline are used by the public for vacation trips and for other recreational trips as well as for transportation to and from work, can seriously limit much needed use of automobiles by persons of limited financial resources; and

Whereas, Gasoline price rises at this time may be the result of conspiracies by large producers in order to profit from the needs of a defenseless public; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of the Auditor General is hereby directed to investigate the reasons for the recent rise in the price of gasoline and to report to this House of Representatives the results of such investigation.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. DAVIS and GRAMLICH.
RESOLUTION No. 71.

In the House of Representatives, June 30, 1953.

The bridge spanning the Allegheny River in Tionesta Township, Forrest County is without an official name. It is known locally as the Hunter's Station Bridge because of the proximity of a similarly named railroad station.

At this historical point, a ferry was operated from the close of the eighteenth century until the Civil War by Eli Holman, and upon his death by his son Alexander Holman.

Alexander Holman, represented Venango County, in the General Assembly in 1840 and traveled the entire distance to and from the Capitol on foot.

During the War of 1812 the Ferry was a link in the waterford trail from Center County, over which were transported supplies and building material for the construction of Commodore Perry's victorious Lake Erie Fleet; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Highways officially designate the bridge located on State Highway Route 62, spanning the Allegheny River three miles south of Tionesta, Tionesta Township, Forrest County, as the "Holman Ferry Bridge" and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways erect suitable historical markers along the approaches to the bridge.

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, June 30, 1953.

Pennsylvania and York in particular has lost one of its most useful and best loved citizens. Nevin D. Fahs is dead.

Nevin Fahs was born 56 years ago in York, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Fahs.

He was one of the best known sportsmen in southeastern Pennsylvania. His long association with athletics and especially with the valuable lessons to be learned from competition in sports, made him the logical man to revive local interest in amateur boxing. Under his guidance some of central Pennsylvania's finest matches and brightest stars were produced.

However bright his own achievements were in basketball and baseball circles, his greatest joy was found in guiding young men along the path of life, by instilling in them the principles of fair play and keen competition inherent in all sports.

Nevin Fahs was not content to circumscribe his ability by remaining wholly within the realm of athletics. He entered local politics and was a candidate for recorder of deeds in York County. In politics as in sports his goal was not to receive benefits, but to make available his own wealth of knowledge and talent to his community.

His death leaves a void in the sport, community and church activities of Central Pennsylvania. His life was devoted to improving the life into which he had so energetically catapulted himself. He was truly a man among men, one who will not be forgotten by the passage of time; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives adopt this resolution as a memorial to Nevin D. Fahs and to the splendid qualities of mankind personified in him; and be it further Resolved, That the Clerk of the House of Representatievs send a copy of this resolution to the family of Nevin D. Fahs.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained permission to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it behooves us to discover ways of organizing and directing government in ways that are both efficient and democratic. I realize that the task is difficult, but I refuse to believe that Pennsylvania genius is unequal to it.

We have had enough, indeed too much, mediocracy and incompetence in Washington and Harrisburg. This state has a large number of people trained in law, political science, and public administration; it has a body of citizens who are willing to support efficient and democratic government. What it needs is a willingness on the part of its leaders to mobilize the resources of this Commonwealth and put them to work by appointing able persons who are specially trained for government service instead of persons whose only qualifications are that they are a friend of a politician.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WORLEY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, July 6, 1953 at 1:00 p. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 12:09 a. m. EST) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1953. 140th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JULY 6, 1953. No. 59.

SENATE

MONDAY, July 6, 1953.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH, offered the following prayer:

Our Father, we thank Thee for the privilege of meeting together again, and as we came through the showers of rain it reminded us that Thy showers of blessing are falling upon us constantly in this wonderful land of ours and in this wonderful State.

We pray that in our predicaments which we are facing here, some showers of wisdom of Thine may also fall upon us and guide us to solutions that shall be acceptable to all.

Guide us each day when service is called, whether it is from Thee or from our fellow man, that we may give the best that Thou hast given to us. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained leave of absence for himself from August 5 on, during the hay fever season.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 410, PRINTER'S No. 129,
RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 6, 1953.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 410, Printer's No. 129, entitled "An Act to amend subsection (e) of Section three of the act approved the nineteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 28) entitled 'An act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense local and district councils of civil defense Mobile Support Units prescribing the powers duties and immunities thereof and of their personnel authorizing mutual aid compacts and providing penalties' by establishing the State Council of Civil Defense a departmental administrative board within the Department of Military Affairs."

This bill makes the State Council of Civil Defense a departmental administrative board within the Department of Military Affairs.

The State Council of Civil Defense is a temporary organization which may be created and dissolved by the Governor by proclamation. It consists of the Governor, the Adjutant General, the Auditor General, the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Legislative Representatives of both majority and minority parties of the General Assembly, as well as five citizens appointed by the Governor. It seems incongruous therefore to place this organization within the Department of Military Affairs under the Adjutant General. It is also to be noted that it is a civilian body, yet it is placed under the budgetary control of the Department of Military Affairs. This is contrary to long established and traditional policy in American government. Article I, Section 22 of our Constitution reads in part "the military shall in all cases and at all times be in strict subordination to the civil power."

The bill is not in accordance with the recommendations of the State Government Survey Committee Report. On page ST-6 that Committee said:

> "The Department of Military Affairs and the Civil Defense Council should be transferred to the proposed State Administration. The separate entities of these two agencies should be retained in their respective civilian and military functions with continued full cooperation between the two."

This bill would destroy the policy which the Survey Committee recommends should be continued.

The State Administration was to include the functions now located in five independent departments. See page Organ-7 of the Report. This legislation has not been enacted.

We know of no savings in money or personnel which would result if this bill became law.

The Department of Military Affairs is not sympathetic to the bill.

The Director of Civil Defense calls attention to the fact that a number of individuals have reported that there is a strong resentment to the bill because people believe that it would result in military control over civilian volunteers performing civilian duties.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

UNITED STATES SENATE
Washington, D. C.

June 26, 1953.

Honorable G. Harold Watkins, Secretary
Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Harold:

A meeting was held in my office this morning, June 26, for the purpose of reviewing the entire situation relative to the award by the Department of the Army of a contract for the manufacture of gas masks to The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company at Falls River, Massachusetts. This is the subject matter of the Resolution adopted by the Senate of Pennsylvania on June 8, 1953.

Present at this meeting were representatives of the Pennsylvania Congressional Delegation including Congressmen Leon H. Gavin, Paul B. Dague and John P. Saylor and a representative of Senator Edward Martin.

By written communication Honorable Lindsay C. Warren, Comptroller General of the United States, had been urged to make a complete investigation and review on the basis of law and equity of the Department of the Army's award of the contract. It had also been requested that the Department of the Army refrain from implementing the performance of the alleged contract pending the ultimate determination of the question involved.

In view of this past action, it was the sense of all present at the meeting that the decision of the Comptroller General be awaited prior to considering further action, if necessary.

Sincerely yours,

(s) James H. Duff

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

June 25, 1953.

Hon. G. Harold Watkins
Secretary of the Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Watkins:

As a result of receiving the resolution passed in the Senate of Pennsylvania on June 8, 1953, concerning the awarding of a gas mask contract to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Falls River, Masachusetts, in spite of the fact that the Pennsylvania Rubber Company was low bidder, I am enclosing herewith a copy of a communication I have this day received from T. A. Young, Special Assistant to the Secretary of the Army. I would appreciate hearing from you as to your reaction to the contents of this letter.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

(s) Earl Chudoff
Earl Chudoff, M.C.

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY OFFICER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE ARMY
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

June 24, 1953.

Honorable Earl Chudoff
House of Representatives

Dear Mr. Chudoff:

Permit me to refer to your letter, addressed to General Horkan, inclosing a Resolution adopted by the Senate of Pennsylvania concerning the procurement of gas masks by the Department of the Army.

In order that you may have full and complete information concerning this procurement, I should like to outline for you a chronology of events leading up to the award of this contract to the Firestone Company of Fall River, Massachusetts.

On February 27, 1953, proposals were sent to both the Firestone Company of Fall River, Massachusetts, and the Pennsylvania Rubber Company of Jeannette, Pennsylvania.

On April 3, 1953, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company and the Firestone Company submitted tentative proposals.

On April 22, 1953, a formal conference was held with the Firestone Company.

On April 23, 1953, a formal conference was held with the Pennsylvania Rubber Company.

On May 6, 1953, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company submitted a formal proposal.

On May 8, 1953, the Firestone Company submitted a formal proposal.

The Firestone Company submitted a higher proposal; however, it was within 20% of the low bid submitted by the Pennsylvania Rubber Company. Therefore, and in line with the Office of Defense Mobilization policies, consideration was given to the labor surplus group that each of those localities were in. Fall River, Massachusetts, was in Group III Labor Surplus Area. In view of this fact and again in line with Defense Mobilization policies, negotiations were continued with the Firestone Company in an effort to determine whether that company could meet the low bid.

On May 26, 1953, the Firestone Company verbally advised the contracting officer in Boston, Massachusetts, that they would meet the low bid. Accordingly, on that same date, May 26, the contracting officer verbally informed the Firestone Company that their bid had been accepted. This was confirmed by teletype the same date.

On May 29, 1953, the Office of Defense Mobilization advised the Office, Secretary of Defense, verbally and confirmed in writing on the same date that Fall River, Massachusetts, had been recertified as a Group III Labor Surplus Area, effective May 28, 1953.

The Department of the Army, after receiving correspondence relative to this contract and being unaware of the formal commitment made by the contracting officer, looked into the feasibility of reconsidering the award of the contract. In looking into this matter it was determined that a firm commitment had been made to the Firestone Company by the contracting officer on May 26, 1953, as indicated above. This commitment was made prior to the notification from the Office of Defense Mobilization that Fall River, Massachusetts, was recertified from Group IV Labor Surplus Area to Group III Labor Surplus Area.

In view of the foregoing, it is the opinion of the Department of the Army that as of the date the firm commitment was made on May 26, 1953, by the contracting officer, Fall River, Massachusetts, was in Category IV Labor Surplus Area. Therefore, the Department has no recourse but to allow the award to the Firestone Company.

Your interest in this matter is appreciated and I regret that it is not possible to furnish you a more favorable reply. However, I trust that the foregoing report will enable you to more readily understand the Department's position in this regard.

Sincerely yours,

T. A. Young,
Special Assistant

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Wagner and myself, I am presenting a bill which is the regular biennial appropriation for the Department of Mines to carry out the purposes of the Mine Sealing Act.

Mr. President, what I do want to say is that at the present time we hope this bill can be acted on rather speedily because the Department's funds, of course, have been expended for the past biennium. This is important particularly to the people of Scranton and Lackawanna County because of a mine fire which has broken out up there in the past month or so, which has presented a very serious danger to property and to human life.

In passing, Mr. President, I do want to compliment both the Governor, the Honorable John S. Fine, and the Secretary of Mines, William Clements, for the prompt action the Department of Mines has taken with the equipment and funds available, once the seriousness of the situation was fully presented to them.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. McMENAMIN and WAGNER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 727, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Mines for the sealing and dewatering of and extinguishment of fires in abandoned coal mines.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 736, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P L. 1183), entitled "An act relating to strikes by public employes; prohibiting such strikes; providing that such employes by striking terminate their employment; providing for reinstatement under certain conditions; providing for a grievance procedure; and providing for hearings before civil service and tenure authorities, and in certain cases before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board."

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 737, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (c) of section three of the act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1168), entitled "An act to protect the right of employes to organize and bargain collectively; creating the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board Officers of the State government, and courts; providing for the right of employes to organize and bargain collectively; declaring certain labor practices by employers to be unfair; further providing that representatives of a majority of the employes be the exclusive representatives of all the employes; authorizing the board to conduct hearings and elections, and certify as to representatives of employes for purposes of collective bargaining; empowering the board to prevent any person from engaging in any unfair labor practice, and providing a procedure for such cases, including the issuance of a complaint, the conducting of a hearing, and the making of an order; empowering the board to petition a court of common pleas for the enforcement of its order, and providing a procedure for such cases; providing for the review of an order of the board by a court of common pleas on petition of any person aggrieved by such order, and establishing a procedure for for such cases; providing for an appeal from the common pleas court to the Supreme Court; providing the board with investigatory powers, including the power to issue subpoenas and the compelling of obedience to them through application to the proper court, providing for service of papers and process of the board; prescribing certain penalties," by further defining employer.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. DENT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 738, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," by changing a certain route in Westmoreland County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 739, entitled:

An Act to further amend the Title, Section 204 and subsection (a) of Section 301, and to repeal Sections 302, 303, and 304 of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled, as amended "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder; and prescribing penalties," by making the schedules of compensation compulsory upon all employers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 740, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (i) of Section 2320 of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by further providing for financial assistance to persons with defective vision.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 741, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 55 of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1237), entitled "An act affecting marital relations; prescribing grounds and regulating proceedings for divorce and the annulment of bigamous marriages; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," by making court decrees involving divorce, separation and annulment interlocutory until affirmed by appellate courts or the expiration of the appeal period where no appeal was taken.

Which was commtted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have prepared, with the help of Senator Holland, Senator Watkins and Senator Wood, after some discussion, two sets of bills. This morning, when I arrived in Harrisburg, I received the following telegram from a man who is a total stranger to me:

"State Capitol
"Harrisburg, Pennsylvania"

The telegram is postdated today and it comes from Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania.

"Honorable John H. Dent
"Request your support in the introduction of a bill to permit pari mutuel betting in the State of Pennsylvania. I am sure that a State referendum would approve of this. Why should we let this revenue go to other States?
"Spencer Kraybill
"Mechanicsburg, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania"

Mr. President, a good many years ago, when I was serving my first term, I introduced a bill, co-sponsored by Representative Baldi, and I believe the same bill was co-sponsored in the Senate by Senator Bernard McGinnis and Senator Max Aron, of Philadelphia. This was back in 1935. The bill passed the House, came over to the Senate and passed the Senate on third reading.

Mr. President, after it passed the Senate on third reading, a Member of the Senate called attention to the fact that there was a misspelled word somewhere in the bill and, therefore, the bill laid over for correction and final passage. On third reading they had twenty-six votes, including one of the co-sponsors, Max Aron, I believe, from Philadelphia. Overnight, Max disappeared and we only had twenty-five votes, so the bill died.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, at that time I remember distinctly on the floor of the Senate making these remarks. I said then that Pennsylvania, within the next decade, if it did not pass this legislation, would find itself an island surrounded by racing States. Those of us who realizes the problems of the Commonwealth become more and more tangled every year, the question of revenue becomes more acute every year and those of us who are willing to face the actual facts realize that Pennsylvania is losing millions of dollars in revenue because of the illegitimacy of the horse race betting in this Commonwealth, which improves the conditions of only a select group of citizens at the expense of the rest of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, recently, while in Philadelphia, I stopped at the North Philadelphia Station and there, for all to see and to take, were certain circulars put out by the Pennsylvania Railroad. I took one of them out of curiosity, and read the schedule that they provide very conveniently for all of those who want to go out of the State and spend their money at the race tracks. They run special trains to the neighboring States to haul our Pennsylvania dollars. If you go to Waterford, in West Virginia, or any of the tracks in West Virginia and Ohio, you will find that the greater number of automobiles are licensed with Pennsylvania license plates. This State has long been the home of the greatest harness racing stock the world has ever seen. This State is famed throughout the history of racing as being the birthplace of some of the most famous of all running horses; notably, of course, is Man-o'-War. This State of ours is a great State. However, you never hear anything about the "Pennsylvania Handicap" or the "Philadelphia Derby" or the "Harrisburg Steeplechase."

Mr. President, we, in Pennsylvania, must realize this. The people who live in our neighboring States are no greater sinners than we are as a group. As many of them and more, I guess, will go to heaven than there will of us. I see no harm and I am not a betting man—my few bets which I have made in my entire life could be totaled up on the two hands of any man's body. I do not know enough about betting, but I do know something about bettors. One thing that I found out about bettors is that they will go where they can place a bet.

Mr. President, we are in dire need in this State. In 1947, I offered a referendum bill to this Commonwealth to see whether or not we could pay the soldiers' bonus. It was rejected. What is wrong with letting the people of Pennsylvania decide whether or not they are big enough to stay away from the tracks if they want to and strong enough to go if they want to? Prohibition proved to be a miserable failure in this Country because it was not the will of the majority. I have talked to citizens from every walk of life and I have yet to find a concerted drive against legalizing pari mutuel betting in Pennsylvania, except the drive which is sponsored by those who operate in the neighboring States and are afraid of the revenue that they would lose if pari mutuel betting in Pennsylvania is legalized.

Mr. President, at the time I speak of, back in 1935, the only State neighboring this State that had legalized pari mutuel betting was the State of Maryland. Today, you can go to Delaware—incidentally, I read a report where somebody in Delaware wrote someone connected with racing, wrote to Pennsylvania, on an inquiry and said they would not advise Pennsylvania to pass the pari mutuel betting. Two days later, I read in the paper where they were building another track. I will venture to say that if they had to depend on Delaware patronage, they would close the track they now have. If you go down to Atlantic City, you will find that the major part of the boxes owned down there are in the names of Pennsylvanians. If you go to Delaware Park, you will find the same thing and the same thing at Garden State. Without Pittsburgh patronage, the Wheeling track would not stay open long enough to pay the jockeys, let alone feed the horses.

Mr. President, I want to say to the Members of this Senate that in private conversation with the Membership of this House and Senate, I have enough votes to pass this bill over a veto. However, whether or not this Membership will have the courage to stand up and be counted remains another question to be asked when the right time comes.

Now, Mr. President, there are some sincere people in Pennsylvania who oppose a race track bill like they oppose anything that smacks of the liberal use of a man's talent. They are opposed to it fundamentally and I respect that group, but I do not respect certain members of that group who allow themselves to be used as the tools of those who have not the welfare of Pennsylvania at heart.

Mr. President, it is called "the sport of kings." Way back in the early days, they tell me, before they had so many prescribing laws on the statute books, the State of Pennsylvania was one of the leading States in the Union for "the sport of kings." I want to say that this kind of legislation will raise between twenty-five and thirty-five millions of dollars a year from sources which will feel no pain.

Mr. President, we talk about putting taxes upon automobile dealers, Coca Cola dealers, television sets, Corporate net incomes, gross receipts of utilities and we let the skimpy, little, seedy-eyed gambler run free all over the State, taking and placing bets to his heart's desire without paying any tribute to the Commonwealth which makes it possible for him to earn his living here. We can take the shadiness out of this business, and any person within the hearing of my voice who does not believe that they are placing millions of dollars of horse race bets every year in Pennsylvania just does not want to know the truth of the matter. Let us be at least courageous enough to face an issue right where it belongs.

Mr. President, I know that for many years it has been a joke to put a horse race bill in. It goes into committee, and it dies a graceful death because some chairman would not bring the bill up for consideration. You are not going to stand idly by and tax the individuals in the Commonwealth, the businesses in this Commonwealth, and continue to shut your eyes against this source of revenue. Prohibition did not stop drinking. It did not even curtail it. I am of the humble opinion that it increased the use of hard liquors. I grew up during the prohibition age, and I am not too proud of the scenes that I participated in myself as a young man and those that I witnessed as a young man. It became the vogue in those days to buy yourself a pint of rot gut liquor, and go to a dance and create some kind of a fuss and see how loud you could talk and how many fights you could get into to prove that you were above the law and in defiance of the law. So it is with horse race betting. There are certain groups of people, certain groups of gamblers, that oppose this legislation in Pennsylvania and they hide sometimes behind a sanctimonious cloth.

Mr. President, I, for one, believe that Pennsylvania ought to have pari mutuel betting tracks in this Commonwealth. I believe that Pennsylvania ought to receive the revenue that is now being collected by all our neighboring States, who do not seem to be too particularly interested as to where Pennsylvanians go after they die so long as they will bet in their States.

So, Mr. President and Members of this Senate, in as serious a vein as I have ever spoken to this Senate in my life, I want to present to the Chair the following bills, co-sponsored by Senator Holland, Senator Wood and Senator Watkins.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. DENT, WATKINS, WOOD and HOLLAND (By request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 742, entitled:

An Act to regulate, license and tax harness racing and pari-mutuel betting at harness racing meets, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 743, entitled:

An Act providing for the regulation and licensing of horse racing and horse race meetings, other than harness racing or harness racing meets, and all participants therein; legalizing, and regulating the pari-mutuel or certificate method of wagering on the results thereof; creating the Pennsylvania Racing Board and prescribing its powers and duties; imposing a tax upon wagers, payable by those herein as licensees; and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. BARR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 744, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsections A and B of Section 1 of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145), entitled as amended "An act empowering cities of the second class, cities of the second class A, cities of the third class, boroughs, towns, townships of the first class, townships of the second class, school districts of the second class, school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy, assess and collect or to provide for the levying, assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitations for general revenue purposes; authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes; and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced; providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court," by allowing a tax on the receipts of sales of goods, wares and merchandise sold by any person vending or disposing of articles of his own growth, production or manufacture in certain cases; and permitting the taxation of a privilege, transaction, subject, occupation or personal property by political subdivision although subject to a State license fee.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. HOLLAND read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 745, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-third day of May, one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven (P. L. 164) entitled "An act to secure to laborers within this Commonwealth the benefit of the exemption laws of this Commonwealth, and to prevent assignment of claims for the purpose of securing their collection against laborers outside of this Commonwealth," by forbidding creditors to sue resident debtors of this Commonwealth in the courts of another state where the creditor, debtor, and intended garnishee are within the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania courts and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Messrs. HOLLAND and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 746, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145), entitled, as amended "An act empowering cities of the second class, cities of the second class A, cities of the third class, boroughs, towns, townships of the first class, townships of the second class, school districts of the second class, school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy, assess, and collect or to provide for the levying, assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitations for general revenue purposes; authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes; and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced; providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court."

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 747, entitled:

An Act relating to the regulation, control and stabilization of rents and possession of housing spaces and living accommodations by municipalities and townships.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 748, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 201 of the act, approved the twenty-second day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled "An act relating to taxation; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county purposes, and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuation; amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto; and repealing existing laws," my making the real estate of public service companies subject to taxation and providing certain exceptions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 749, entitled:

An Act authorizing judges in counties of the third class to fix the number and compensation of employes appointed by them.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 750, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 566), entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for occupational disease contracted by an employe arising out of and in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder; imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry, the Workmen's Compensation Board, Workmen's Compensation Referees, and deans of medical schools; creating a medical board to determine controverted medical issue; establishing an Occupational Disease Fund in custody of the State Workmen's Insurance Board; imposing upon the Commonwealth a part of the compensation payable for certain occupational diseases; making an appropriation; and prescribing penalties," by extending the provisions thereof to additional cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. KEPHART read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 751, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of The Pennsylvania State College for the support and maintenance of basic research in ceramics and non-metallic minerals.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed House Bill No. 906, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the second day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (P. L. 176), entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," extending certain provisions to mines where only one person is employed or engaged in work and changing the provisions for enforcement, procedure and penalties and providing for an additional form of appeal.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PROPERT, from the Committeee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, reported as committed House Bill No. 317, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article eight section eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by further providing for absentee voting by qualified war veterans.

He also, from the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, reported as committed House Bill No. 1353, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article two section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 1505, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of September, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1565), entitled "An act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-first day of January, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 3), entitled 'An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly; fixing the number, qualifications, compensation, mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives; providing for their election or appointment, term of office, or of service, removal, and manner of filling vacancies; and making appropriations to the Senate, House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau,' by providing for compensation on a daily basis for certain employes of the General Assembly when a regular biennial session of the General Assembly remains in session beyond the fifteenth day of June; making appropriations," by providing for compensation on a daily basis for certain employes of the General Assembly when the Legislature is in regular session beyond the fifteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and each regular session thereafter.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KESSLER, from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, reported as committed House Bill No. 1440, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 318) entitled "An act to regulate the sale and possession of penicillium (penicillin) and its derivatives, preparations and compounds in the interest of public health," by providing certain exceptions to said act.

He also, from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, reported as committed House Bill No. 1463, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to sell and convey 52.3 acres, more or less of land, situate in the City of Erie, Erie County, Pennsylvania.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. KESSLER, from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Barr and McCusker, on June 15, 1953, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT TO STUDY THE SUBJECT OF A STATE PUBLIC HEALTH PLUMBING LAW

In the Senate, June 15, 1953.

Whereas, Because of the rapid development of suburban and rural areas throughout the State serious difficulties have been encountered because of the lack of provisions for adequate sanitary facilities; and

Whereas, Present public health plumbing measures now in effect throughout the State are effective with few exceptions only in the larger communities and these few exceptions relate to some boroughs and townships which have a great variety and confusion of provisions more or less adequate for the needs of public health and safety in the communities involved; and

Whereas, To extend adequately throughout the entire Commonwealth proper provisions of the public health plumbing laws now in effect, there was prepared a Proposed State Public Health Plumbing Law, incorporated in the provisions of Senate Bill 533, which was introduced into the 1953 Session of the General Assembly and which was referred to the Senate Local Government Committee; and

Whereas, After consideration, the Senate Local Government Committee recommended that the proposal because of its broad application and its relation to the public health and safety recommended that the entire subject be studied by the Joint State Government Commission with recommendation for consideration and adoption by the next regular Session of the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study, investigate and inquire into the entire subject of a State public health plumbing law to be in effect in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Joint State Government Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the next Regular Session of the General Assembly, together with such drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on April 20, just eleven weeks ago, I proposed on the floor of this Senate that leaders of both parties get together and try to make an earnest, sincere, nonpolitical effort to solve Pennsylvania's financial troubles.

Reviewing the record, as printed in the Legislative

Journal, the only result was that my friend, Senator Dent, declined to sit down with the Republican leaders at that time on the basis that he had been mouse trapped on a previous occasion, and my friend, Senator Holland, accused me of making a political speech.

Mr. President, we Members of both the House and Senate constitute the State's Board of Directors. On our shoulders rests the responsibility under the Constitution, and by legal directives, to determine the services the Commonwealth shall render, provide the funds by tax levy and guide the State Government into what avenues we believe the State should enter for the protection of its citizens collectively, because they cannot individually do so.

Here we are, Mr. President, after more than six months of bickering and procrastinating, starting the second half of the year and faced with the prospect of a complete breakdown in the entire machinery of government. We have all voted for a great educational and welfare system, and now a constitutional majority refuses to vote for the taxes necessary to pay for them. Governor Fine pointed out in his statement last week that this "evasion" was costing the State about ten million dollars per month and one month of this new biennium is now history.

Mr. President, as I said last April, I opposed many of the fantastic spending schemes of the previous administration, but I did vote for the progressive educational program, which is the big item in our current financial problem.

Mr. President, here let me digress briefly. By actual tally in the daily paper I read last week that five of them referred to "Governor Fine's Budget" of one billion, 400 million dollars, while only two referred to the "Commonwealth's Budget" of that amount. For the information of my good friends, the newspapermen, who are present, and all newsmen, the latter is correct; it is the Commonwealth's Budget. It was built to its present proportions by Members of this General Assembly in years now behind us, with the guidance and direction of chief executives then in office. All of us now occupying a seat in this General Assembly, by virtue of aspiring to office through our candidacies to this Board of the Commonwealth's Directors, pledged our efforts to solve these financial problems occasioned by the services we decided the State should render.

More than one-half of the total General Fund Budget proposed by the Budget Office, of approximately one billion dollars, is for public education.

Mr. President, included in this education bill is the sum of approximately 397 million in public school subsidies; cash collected by the State and returned to the school districts to help meet their costs such as teachers' salaries, pupil transportation, "rentals" on building projects and so forth. In passing, let me remind you that this decade will show an increase of approximately 25% in the number of young citizens to be educated.

Mr. President, these subsidies are a striking example of the extent to which the State aids local governments. The State is now paying 42% of the total current costs of the public schools. If this money is not forthcoming from existing and new State revenues, and must be met by local imposts, chiefly, no doubt, on real estate, any present Legislators who are ambitious to succeed themselves would best look now for danger signals ahead.

Mr. President, nearly 30% of the budget is for public health, assistance and welfare. In this category are such items as fifteen million dollars for the crippled children's hospital, and the sanatoria of the State, one hundred and eleven million dollars, plus aid to dependent children, old age assistance, pensions for the blind and general assistance to the unfortunates. Some seventeen million dollars cash aid to your local, home district hospitals. Party lines do not cross in any of these or other welfare services any more than they do in school costs and education, and every Member of this General Assembly, regardless of political affiliation, knows that without my saying so.

Can you, as a chosen member of the State's Board of Directors, afford to take these obligations lightly by refusing to vote for needed revenue measures to maintain them?

Mr. President, Ben Franklin said some years ago, "The price of liberty is eternal vigilance." It is most important that all of us are eternally vigilant of economies, prudent spending and every possible honest saving in our government, but certainly anyone who has made even a cursory study of Pennsylvania's present fiscal problems knows they cannot be solved by retrenchment, economies, savings or what have you.

Mr. President, the Governor's statement to the Assembly in Joint Session, on May 27, 1953, reducing the Commonwealth's needs by thirty-nine and a half million dollars, is a most commendable move. Again, I remind you, however, that more than 88.3% of the money we need in the General Fund Budget is for public education, health, public assistance, welfare and debt service of existing obligations.

Mr. President, will someone please tell me why all members of both parties cannot forget about politics just for a week and get down to the business of providing the money to pay for the services which are now approved obligations to the people of Pennsylvania?

Mr. President, some time ago, in debate on this floor, the fact was pointed out that you could search the Legislative Journal with a fine-toothed comb and not be able to find a single "No" vote on any appropriation measure.

Mr. President, I find from reading the Legislative Journal that our Democratic friends say they will not vote for a sales tax because their party platform opposes such a tax. I would like to ask them how they reconcile their willingness to provide votes for a multitude of "special" sales taxes. What is a tax on cigarettes if it is not a sales tax? What is a tax on cigars and tobacco if it is not a sales tax? What is a tax on the transfer of automobiles and trucks if it not a sales tax? Do our Democratic friends think that the people of Pennsylvania are morons?

Now, the people are not being fooled by all this nonsense. Most everyone knows and has now become reconciled to the fact that we must have a broad based tax if we are going to continue to operate our present levels of State Government services. Most everyone knows, or should know, that 33 of the 48 States impose general sales taxes.

Mr. President, I respectfully refer you to the Tax Study Committee Report which was presented to us last March in which is stated:

"Thirty States impose general personal net income taxes.

"Twenty-one States out of the 48 levy both a general personal income tax and a general sales tax."

Mr. President, our courts have ruled that under our Constitution we may not impose a graduated income tax, and our Attorney General has given as his opinion that we may not impose a tax based on federal income tax returns. That leaves us with three alternatives; a flat income tax, which passed the House two years ago and was defeated in the Senate; a sales tax, which failed by a few votes in the House this year; and a mercantile tax. If we are not going to have a complete breakdown of responsible State Government, new revenue measures should be passed immediately. All of us know that we will have a broad based tax within the next few years, and it looks now that the people generally are thinking ahead of some Legislators.

Mr. President, I mentioned earlier in my remarks that economy in the administration of our State Government could not alone solve our financial dilemma by any manner or means. However, I think every Member of the Legislature ought to realize that strict economies have been effected by Governor Fine, and, further, that he has caused a comprehensive study to be made of our over-all government operation.

Merely as an indication of what has been done, and what is being done, I call your attention to the fact that in 1950 the number of persons on the State payroll was 60,141. As of May 30, 1953, the number of persons on the State payroll was 56,090. More than 4,000 people have been dropped from the State payroll, or perhaps it might be accurate to say that hundreds have quit to take better jobs in private industry and have not been replaced.

Mr. President, I am sure that all of us have read Governor Fine's statement of last week, that unless our tax problem is solved in the very near future, State employes will lose the increase which they have been expecting and to which they are rightfully entitled by any standard of comparison. Just payment to faithful State employes is certainly one of the obligations facing the State's Board of Directors. Employers, both private and public, large and small, have found that top service can not be gotten by poorly paid employes.

Mr. President, I have been attempting to find out what has been happening to State employes in neighboring States. I am sure every Member of the Legislature and every one of our State employes will be interested to know that on July 1, 1953, the State of Maryland gave a cost of living increase to all classified State employes and teachers in State Colleges in the amount of about $240 a year. In my discussion last April, I urged a flat $250 a year raise for every employe receiving less than $5,000 a year, and this could have been done if Democrats and Republicans alike had gotten together and set up a reasonable tax program for Pennsylvania.

Who is to blame because State employes have not received the raises due them? Not Governor Fine, not the State Treasurer, not the Auditor General. Not the Republican party. Not the Democratic party. We individual Members of the Senate and the House are to blame, so far as the State employes are concerned.

Mr. President, if the Democrats are going to try to blame the Republican party for political advantage, they have a job of selling to do. The Democrats are equally responsible, our citizens know it, and the Minority Party Members might as well start to accept that responsibility.

Mr. President, I can tell you that Pennsylvania has treated its employes shabbily compared with other comparable States. I think it should be a matter of concern to every member of this body and, as well, a matter of some embarrassment. Maryland, to the South of us, has increased the pay of their State employes 237% in ten years, from 1942 to 1952. In New Jersey, the average rate of pay for State employes is $3,550 per year, and this State boasts of very low cost and efficient government. According to the Budget Office, the average rate in Pennsylvania is $2,476.

How proud are you Members of the Legislature of this great State that 300 employes of the Department of Welfare went unpaid for two months, April and May, because we could not operate our government on a sane, business-like basis? As I said previously, this is not John Fine's problem. He inherited a mess which the previous Administration and previous Legislatures created. I doubt whether anyone in this room would have borne as uncomplainingly, as tolerantly, as understandingly, the cross which was given to Governor Fine to carry. I am sick and tired of hearing over and over again from Members of this Legislive body, and from the House, that everything is Fine's fault.

What do his critics want or expect? Can he work wonders or create revenues? When he came before the General Assembly in 1951, he told us how much money was needed and recommended a tax program. It passed the House and was defeated here.

Mr. President, this year he told us how much we needed, and because of our rejection of his previous tax program, he asked the Legislature to carry out its constitutional obligation and make up its own mind. When we failed, he came before us and again suggested a tax program. That, too, has now been rejected. What comes next?

Mr. President, may I repeat my suggestion of last April, that leaders of our two parties sit down and settle this State business on a practical, common sense basis of responsibility? This is a day of challenge which requires decision and positive action. Pennsylvania cannot afford to falter in its duties, its obligations, nor its commitments. Pennsylvania is a small part of the world, but a Keystone in the United States. The eyes of the world face our Nation and await its leadership.

Mr. President, as we passed another Independence Day, U. S. troops carried the flag in forty-nine countries. It waves over eighty-nine big air bases overseas. Ten years ago, at the height of World War II, our flag waved over American Forces in thirty-nine foreign countries, ten fewer than at present.

Twenty years ago, on the Fourth of July, 1933, the American Flag was flying over military forces in only three countries outside continental U. S. As of now, the sun never sets on the Stars and Stripes. More than a million Americans, many of them Pennsylvanians, are serving under our colors overseas, besides those fighting in Korea.

Mr. President, an alarming statement appears in an editorial of the July 3 issue of the U. S. News and World Report, made by its Editor, David Lawrence, and reads in part: "The United Nations as an organization designed to enforce peace in the world has come to a humiliating end."

Alarming statement, is it not, but it should shock us into a sense of the duties of our own positions and responsibilities to ten and a half million of Pennsylvania citizens. Shall we meet the challenge of our day or be faithless to the ideals of education, health and welfare services, which individual citizens cannot obtain individually, and have been virtually promised by previous Legislative action? From this decision we have no escape; it rests squarely and equally on the shoulders of every Member of this General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I want to first compliment the gentleman from Cumberland County for the nice manner in which he delivered the address he has just given. Although I think he knows that I cannot agree with him in whole, I find it tough to agree with him in part.

First of all, Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I heard the gentleman make the statement not too long ago on the floor of the Senate where he suggested that the leadership of both parties should get together and work out some sort of a program. He repeated in his statement what I said at that time, and I said then that I would not care to sit down in a bipartisan group because I had been stung by the snake before and the rope was getting very close.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, since that has happened, since he suggested that, there have been some meetings held. The Republican State Chairman has, through the public press, invited the leadership of the Democratic Party to discuss the tax situation. Also, through the public press, the invitation was accepted by the Democratic State Chairman.

Mr. President, they met and then expanded this meeting into a larger one which was held in the Governor's Office. Then, another meeting was held the following week in the Governor's Office. Let us see, Mr. Wade, whether you are interested in cooperation. Let us see whether you are interested in harmony. Let us see whether you want this Board of Directors to sit down and work out a solution or whether you, who accuse us of political bickering, are not the ones who asked for the political bickering. Let us see exactly what happened and have your own words read back to you.

Mr. President, again we sat down with the opposition party, which is in the majority in this Commonwealth, and again we tried to keep faith with the people of Pennsylvania. However, what do you do with them? Let me tell you what you do with them, and I quote from your own statement:

"I find from reading the Legislative Journal that our Democratic friends say they will not vote for a sales tax because their party platform opposes such a tax. I would like to ask them how they reconcile their willingness to provide votes for a multitude of special sales taxes. What is a tax on cigarettes if it is not a sales tax? What is a tax on cigars and tobacco if it is not a sales tax? What is a tax on the transfer of automobiles and trucks if it is not a sales tax? Do our Democratic friends think that the people of Pennsylvania are morons? Now, the people are not being fooled by all this nonsense."

Where did you get the right to say that the Democrats were for a tax on cigarettes, or a tax on automobiles, or a tax on tobacco, just because we sat down in the hope of cooperation, in the hope of negotiation, in the hope of getting the State out of its doldrums and out of the mess it is in? You read into this speech here this afternoon the fact that the Democratic Party has sponsored for the people of Pennsylvania a special set of sales taxes.

Now do you see, Mr. President, why cooperation is impossible? Now do you see why it is impossible to sit down around a common board in the field of politics? Somewhere along the line, someone has to stand out as a paragon of justice and equality and stand up and say, "I am not for political interference; I am for creating a decent government in which there will be no politics," and, at the same time, sticks the knife of public opinion into the backs of the Democrats who have tried to cooperate, who have sat down around the board with the Governor, who have sat down around the board with the Republican State Chairman, without going to the papers, without trying to place the blame upon anybody for the kind of taxes that were being promoted.

Yes, Mr. President, we are against the sales tax. Our platform was against it. Yes, we are against an income tax. Our platform was against it. Your platform was, too, in a sense, because you promised the people of Pennsylvania that there would be no new taxes. However, that is your business and your conscience. Do not put into our mouths words that we have not uttered.

Mr. President, we have never said we were for special sales taxes and we are not going to take the blame for being those sponsoring them. If the Pennsylvania State economy demands legislation, I have no fear of voting for any tax bill because, Mr. Wade, I pay taxes, whether the tax is on automobiles, tobacco, cigarettes, chewing tobacco or anything else. I use these products. I am willing to pay my share to see that the children, whom you cry so loud about, get the things that they deserve.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate. I have tried at all times to be as fair and as decent and as honorable as a man can be in this crazy game known as political intrigue. However, I find it difficult to stand here and listen to my party being chastised and maligned because I have had the courage to sit down, with the knowledge of my membership, to try to work out some program for the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, he knows that he has doomed this program to failure. He has doomed it to defeat because you have, by your own remarks, read into the record by you, yourself, condemned the Democratic Party for being the sponsor of the automobile tax. Why? I will tell you why, so that the automobile dealers will vote Republican. Well, God bless you, sir, they almost always do. So, we will not lose too much. No matter whether you vote for the tax or not, they probable will again. It takes a lot of learning for some people to learn.

Now, Mr. President, I also want to read a few more little tidbits out of this wonderful address which we heard awhile ago. He said here that we will have three alternatives, "A flat income tax, which passed the House two years ago and was defeated in the Senate"—Mr. President, I wonder if that statement could not be read in conjunction with the second or third paragraph of the speech we just heard, and I quote:

"We Members of both the House and Senate constitute the State's Board of Directors. On our shoulders rests the responsibility under the Constitution, and by legal directives, to determine the services the Commonwealth shall render, provide the funds," and so forth.

"Here we are after more than six months of bickering and procrastinating, starting the second half of the year and faced with the prospect of a complete breakdown in the entire machinery of government."

Mr. President, all through this entire talk he talked about the educational portion of the State's budget. Mr. President, that is very simple. If the State insists on calling the tune for local government, then the State must insist on paying the fiddler. They pay forty-two per cent of the local school burden, but they call 100 per cent of the tunes. They tell each school district the type of school they must have, how many children must be in the room, what the curriculum must contain, how many inches of blackboard ought to be placed in the room, the amount of lighting, the amount of shadowing and the amount of floor space for each child, the amount of heat, the amount of recreational area, the number of teachers per pupil or the number of pupils per teacher and all of these things, the minimum salary they must pay, the maximum increment they can give, the minimum increment they can give.

Now, Mr. President, if the State, of which we are part as the Board of Directors, insists on calling the tunes, insists on telling the local districts how much they must spend and when they cannot spend that much money because they have reached somewhere near the saturation point of local taxation, there is not anything we can do except pay the amounts to be paid. However, do not blame the Democrats; do not blame the Democrats for sponsoring the legislation that put into the future this spending of six hundred odd millions of dollars for education purposes, and then did not have the courage to pass the necessary legislation to pay for it.

Mr. President, if you will go back through your record books you will find that upon this floor, in this very same spot, I put the necessary program before this Senate to pay for the entire tax program for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's educational program under Governor James Duff. I also, if you will remember, put into the record of this Senate of Pennsylvania a program for the payment of the bonus, which was rejected by the Republican Party vote and not the Democratic Party vote, because it was sponsored by the Democratic Party. Those of us who are fathers of families know that you cannot order clothes unles you pay for them; so you cannot order programs unles you pay for them. We have always been willing to do it.

Mr. President, I would like to go back to the three alternatives left to us; an income tax, which I understand from this statement was turned down two years ago. I might ask the gentleman from Cumberland County, Senator Wade, which month of the twelve months of the year did he decide to be for the income tax? I was around here all twelve months, and it got pretty late in the fall before I heard his name counted among those willing to stand up. Was the budget not in just as bad a shape then, was the money not needed then for teachers, was the money not needed then for the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? Is there any more difference then than there is now, except that at that time you also, by innuendo, placed the blame upon the Democrats?

Mr. President, I made a statement on this floor, and I am willing to make it again, and I believe that I will be supported by the seventeen Members of this party. Give us the full responsibility in Pennsylvania and let us call the tunes. We will pass the necessary revenue. We will have the courage to do it and we will place the burden where it can best be carried; a place, incidentally, which is taboo in the language of the Republican Caucus.

I do not admit, Mr. President, that there are only three sources of revenue. I do not admit, Mr. President, that the only taxes we can place are a flat income tax, or a State sales tax or a mercantile tax. I do not admit to that, Mr. President. I believe that the forms and sources of taxation are just as apparent to the gentleman from Cumberland as they are to me, and there are forms and sources of taxation yet untapped in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which can be tapped. Incidentally, I might call to your attention, Senator Wade, and I know that you will like to hear this, that Maryland, "to the south of us," and I am quoting from you, "has increased the pay of their State employes 237% in ten years from 1942 to 1952." I will guarantee you that it did not take more than thirty per cent of the revenue they got from racing to do that increasing. Also, in New Jersey, you say that the average rate of pay for State employees is $3,550 per year as compared with Pennsylvania's $2,476 per year.

Mr. President, I am not a bit afraid to wager at this time, on a good pari-mutuel machine, that if we put horse racing in Pennsylvania that we can outstrip New Jersey and Maryland and Delaware, who are paying their employees out of the profits they make in racing from the people of Pennsylvania, because we have not the courage to face the issue.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I like this remark, too. He said that this is not John Fine's problem. Mr. President, when John Fine—and no man has heard me criticize John Fine upon this floor, because I have maintained all along that the problem was one of inheritance. However, Mr. President, when John Fine became a candidate for Governor in this Commonwealth, he accepted the Republican Party Platform. When he accepted the Republican Party Platform, regardless of my personal opinion of Governor Fine, he is responsible at this moment, just as George Earle was responsible at that moment, and very few Republican ever let us forget that.

Also, Mr. President, I do not think that it takes too much talking on my part to persuade the Members of this Senate to this point of reasoning. I do not think it is going to help harmony or help clear up the mess if, in trying to clear up one mess, you start another one. I want to say to the gentleman from Cumberland that I have always had a high personal regard for him. However, I believe that the time has come when he, too, must reanalyze his own position.

Mr. President, early, as a boy, I learned one thing, because we lived about a block and a half from the country town pump. We did not have running water. We used to carry water from the pump to the house. We had two large pails that we carried. Sometimes the weight would become heavy and I would try to struggle to the nenghbors' fence to put the one pail on one shoulder and the other pail on the other shoulder, and you just cannot do it. You cannot carry water on both shoulders, because you will get all wet in doing it. You will not have much of a load when you get to the house, and all you will have to do is run back to get another load.

So, Mr. President, in kindly advice to the gentleman from Cumberland, I want to say this. We have tried to cooperate, and for every time that we tried to cooperate the critics in my group were right. They find themselves justified in criticism of my efforts toward cooperation, because every time we show a willingness to try to help you to work out the situation, we become accused of the weakness, politically, of promoting taxes.

Mr. President, I have always said, and I want to say now, that we have offered to cooperate many times. We have been flatly told that it was the responsibility of the Majority. I remember, Mr. President, back in 1951, and if anybody is interested they can find it in the record book, that when I suggested at that time that the income tax was headed for a rough day, and that perhaps we ought to have a meeting of the minds on both sides to work out a program, I was told by the then Republican Leader, Senator Walker, that it was a Republican responsibility and they would work it out.

Well, Mr. President, it was not worked out; it was muddled out. I am afraid that is what is going to happen this year. I have told the leaders on both sides that the Democratic Party cannot, without violating its pledge to the people, support a sales tax.

Now, Mr. President, they have offered to give, where the Republican Party leadership has failed or cannot get sufficient votes to give the necessary revenue to meet the obligations with which we are faced on the Duff mortgage and the interest on that mortgage, we have offered many times to give you the necessary votes. However, nowhere in this statement does the gentleman from Cumberland insinuate anything except, "I would like to ask them," the Members of the Democratic Party, "how they can reconcile their willingness to provide votes for a multitude of special sales taxes."

Well, Mr. President, has any responsible leader of the Democratic Party specifically said that we would provide votes for any set of taxes, any set of revenue measures? We have never said that. So, I want to say that cooperation is one thing, but I do not like to sit across the bargaining board when the man who is cooperating with me wants to cooperate with a baseball bat.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to take the time just to further dissect the speech of the gentleman from Cumberland County. I believe that if you check the Legislative Journal, you will find that there has not been a Democrat on this side, to my knowledge, who has criticized the Governor of this Commonwealth. We realize that he is the titular head, or supposed to be, of the Republican Party and we respect him as our Governor, too.

I say to you, Mr. President, if you want to call the shots as the public sees them, the Republican Party in Pennsylvania is playing politics for next year's election. What they are doing is that they are maneuvering for position. It seems to me that we must have a multitude of candidates on the other side, because they feel that there is a chance to win again.

I say to you further, Mr. President, that we on the Democratic side have demonstrated our responsibility time and time again by voting for taxes. The way the gentleman from Cumberland talks, it would appear that we are in the majority here in the Senate. It has been proven time and time again that the eighteen Democrats cannot out vote the thirty-two Republicans.

Mr. President, I imagine that when the machine bills come up here today, it will be clearly demonstrated that the Democrats are still in the minority here in the Senate of Pennsylvania. I say if the Republican Party wants to make a record for itself, they will sit down and heal their wounds and get together and put out a tax program. We have no tax program before us here in the Senate. I travel 240 miles one-way to come down here to sit for a day or two, and then travel back again month after month. It is ridiculous; the people themselves are disgusted with the way things are going here.

Mr. President, I say, too, to Senator Wade, if he would get on the job and not make speeches like that, maybe then he would have some cooperation. We sat in our caucus today and discussed this and I think that most of the Members on the Democratic side were one hundred per cent for cooperation, but when we hear your speeches whereby we are tagged with an automobile sales tax, it is ridiculous. We have not sponsored any taxes. The Republican Party has put these taxes out and when they come before the Senate, then is the time to talk about whether or not the Democrats are for this type of legislation.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, in answer to the distinguished gentleman from Cumberland, I would like to say just one or two words. It seems to me that one other alternative exists which he has not mentioned, and that is economy. Economy in State Government seems to be a forgotten word.

Mr. President, the question which the people in my county are asking most these days is simply this: "Doesn't the State Legislature have some other function than to go down to Harrisburg and meet every two years and raise taxes? Why are new moneys constantly needed?" This confusion is aggravated by the fact that the last two or three Governors, when their terms expired, went around the State proclaiming loudly that they were leaving large surplusses and that no new taxes would be needed.

Just as one suggestion, Mr. President, I think that we here in the Senate, and all of us in the Legislature, are concerned about the constantly growing payrolls over the past decade in Pennsylvania. It seems to me, as the gentleman has said, we now have approximately 60,000 people working for the State of Pennsylvania. That is the equivalent of four infantry divisions which the taxpayers of Pennsylvania are supporting. We are not satisfied, on this side of the aisle, that all of those employees are necessary. We believe that the payrolls have been padded for political purposes.

Mr. President, as one specific example, because I do not like to make general statements without giving specific examples, I can refer you to the Clarks Summit State Mental Hospital in my county. That was taken over by the State two or three years ago. Before that, it was run by Lackawanna County's Institution District. When it was under county jurisdiction, they had both aged people and mentally ill. At that time, the payroll at that institution was $15,000 per month. Since the State has taken it over, they have turned the responsibility for aged people over to the county and they are handling now only the mentally ill.

Mr. President, that payroll has not doubled and it has not tripled. Today that payroll has quadrupled since the State of Pennsylvania took over the operation of that one institution from the County Institution District.

Mr. President, this winter I had the pleasure of hearing a United States Senator from New Hampshire speak in Philadelphia, and he made charges about the conditions in Washington of inflated payrolls and bureaucracy. However, nothing that he talked about that night compared with the record made in that one particular institution, where in the short space of two or three years the payroll has been quadrupled under new management and without any increase in services; in fact, with the elimination of the aged people who were there.

Mr. President, if that is true on a State-wide basis, then that is where Pennsylvania's tax money is going, and that is why we have to have more and more and more taxes to provide more and more jobs for political purposes. It seems to me that we could well examine every request in the budget, and have every department head come over here to the Appropriations Committee, or to a committee of the whole, and justify their increased needs for money, explain to us just why more money is needed. That is the point which we Democratic Members have been concerned about.

Mr. President, I notice that we have made one bit of progress since January in that the first budget which was introduced called for $157,000,000 in new money and that is down now somewhere between $97,000,000 and $127,000,000, so that the Democratic Party, by their program of intelligent opposition to the present budget, has so far saved the people of Pennsylvania at least $30,000,000 during the next biennium.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Wade, is it not a fact that all tax bills must originate in the House of Representatives?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, that is correct, as I understand it, under our Constitution.

Mr. YOSKO. Is it not a fact, Senator Wade, that we have been in Session since January 6?

Mr. WADE. That is my recollection, too, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Wade, what tax bills are there on the Calendar in the House as of right now?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am not sufficiently informed on the House Calendar for July 6 to answer that question.

Mr. YOSKO. Is the gentleman familiar with what was on the Calendar last week in the House?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President, but without a Calendar before me I am unable to enumerate the different tax bills on the Calendar last week.

Mr. YOSKO. What tax bills were on the Calendar last week?

Mr. WADE. I have already said, Mr. President, that I cannot answer that without a Calendar before me.

Mr. YOSKO. What tax bills have been reported from committee in the House, were on the Calendar in the House and were voted on since January 6? I am now referring to taxes to make up the difference between taxes which were on the books last year and taxes which were proposed to make up the difference of $118,000,000.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, that question is of such a statistical nature that I am unable to answer it without proper study beforehand. I think those figures are available to the gentleman just the same as they are to all of us.

Mr. YOSKO. They are available to me all right, but I just wanted to know whether you are acquainted with the tax program about which you are talking.

Is it not a fact that the Republican Majority did propose a sales tax and had it out on the House Calendar?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President, I so understand.

Mr. YOSKO. Is it not a fact that the Republican Party in the House has a majority, more than 105 votes to pass a bill?

Mr. WADE. That is correct, according to the printed information, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Is it not a fact that when the bill came up for a vote, a sufficient number of those votes were not cast for the sales tax?

Mr. WADE. That is my understanding, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Is it not a fact that over the last week end, there were conferences held in the Governor's Office with Democratic and Republican Party leaders and Legislative Leaders?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I cannot certify to that. I do not know of any such conferences, except what I read in the papers.

Mr. YOSKO. You are just being cagey now. You read it in the newspapers as I did, did you not?

Mr. WADE. I did not understand his question, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Well, Mr. President, I can see where the gentleman from Cumberland wants to play it cozy, and play it dumb and all that sort of thing.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WADE. I rise to a point of order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cumberland will state his point of order.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, am I still being interrogated, and if so I understand that all interrogations pass through the Chair and that you are not privileged, on the floor of the Senate, to pass questions directly from one to the other.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct. The point of order is well taken.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. My interrogation is ended, Mr. President.

I just want to say to the gentleman from Cumberland that if there is any bickering going on here, to which he referred, it is bickering within the Republican Party. The Democratic Party has nothing to do with it.

Mr. President, everybody knows that, as Senator Lane said, there is a play on here for position for next year's election. Everybody knows that there is a Fine faction in the Legislature, everybody knows that there is a Duff faction in the Legislature and everybody knows that there is a Grundy faction in the Legislature. If the three factions would get together and agree on a program, instead of pulling apart, you could get a tax program together pass it, and we could go home. What you should do, Senator Wade, is make that speech which you just delivered in the Senate, if they would permit you to, over in the House Caucus, in particular when it is discussing taxes.

Mr. President, as I understand it, there was a conference in the Governor's office on two separate days. That conference was attended by Democratic Party Leaders, Republican Party Leaders, Democratic Legislative Leaders and Republican Legislative Leaders. What transpired there, I do not know. I do know that Governor Fine announced a tax program, which, of course, he failed to do when the Legislature convened. He submitted that tax program to the Republican leadership in the House, and from newspaper accounts they had a caucus and they turned down that program. The result is that we still have the same tax dilemma.

Mr. President, the Minority Leader of the House served notice on the Republican Majority in the House that if they could produce ninety votes for a tax program, he, and those who are affiliated with him in the House on the Democratic side, would give the tax program consideration. As of this date, at least, you have not been able to produce even the ninety votes, let alone 105.

Mr. President, it seems to me, as I said last week or the week before last, what is lacking in the Republican Party, or in this Republican controlled Legislature, is leadership, a program and courage. I think if you got together with all of your factions, and selected a leader, and got together a program and had the guts to vote for it, you could end this Session of the Legislature in a reasonable time.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, on January 6, the Governor, addressing the Joint Session, had the following to say about the legislative apportionment, and I quote:

"The General Assembly should no longer seek to evade its responsibility in carrying out a Constitutional mandate requiring the reapportionment of State Senatorial and Representative Districts after a decennial census. The last reapportionment was made in 1921. This Session of the General Assembly should recognize its duty and redistrict the Legislative Districts in the State to remove the glaring irregularities that have arisen because of constant population shifts.

"It is clearly the duty of the General Assembly, not only under the mandate of the Constitution but also in keeping with out American principles of representative government, that these inequalities in representation be removed. I urge that this step be taken without delay in accordance with good governmental practices and in support of platform pledges."

Mr. President, it has become apparent recently that the Governor has finally decided that the General Assembly has been sufficiently punished for its bad behavior in the 1951 Session, and that he will play more than merely the part of a public relations man issuing high-sounding statements purely for the benefit of the press.

Mr. President, since the Governor has condescended to giving some semblance of leadership to developing an acceptable tax program on a bipartisan basis, I want to suggest that he do something constructive to give the taxpayers equality of representation in their State Government. Much has been said of taxation without representation in American history. The time has come in Pennsylvania to consider the hazards of taxation with unequal, fractional representation in the government of our Commonwealth.

Of course, there are also some hazards in apportionment. There are two approaches, one the partisan approach, the other the objective approach. Legislation of both types has been introduced in this Session.

Mr. President, several weeks ago, I introduced, by request of the League of Women Voters of Pennsylvania, Senate Bill No. 685. This is an objective, nonpartisan approach to apportionment. This is the only approach that is in keeping with our best American tradition of representative government. This is the kind of a bill that should be enacted into law. Great pains were taken in the preparation of this bill to see that it would be a Constitutional bill.

Extremes breed extremes. A bad, partisan bill now could result in another bad partisan bill in 1955. I am opposed to that type of apportionment.

Mr. President, in order that all of the Members of the General Assembly, as well as the citizens of the Commonwealth, may have an opportunity to evaluate the bills introduced to reapportion the Senatorial Districts in Pennsylvania, I am asking the gentleman from Armstong, Senator Pechan, at the earliest moment to call a meeting of the Committee on Reapportionment to plan to hold a public hearing next week to evaluate the bills referred to his committee.

The people of Pennsylvania have been led to believe that we would heed the mandate of the Constitution. The League of Women Voters spent many months drafting an outstanding bill. Common decency demands that we give every fair consideration to the product of their efforts.

Mr. President, I hope that the chairman of the committee will see that it is his duty to see that his committee functions. I hope that the Governor will give the leadership necessary to carry out his announced program in this field.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I just want to refer to Senator McMenamin's talk for an instant. You can blame our present financial fix on a great many things, but I do not believe that you can blame it on high priced State employees or a great number of them.

Mr. President, when he pointed out that particular hospital and said that we had quadrupled the payroll, I imagine we did add to the payroll, but that would be necessary in order to take care of mentally defective people. You certainly would need a greater number of doctors and attendants to take care of mentally insane people than you would if there were just a lot of indigent people in this particular hospital. You need psychiatrists, you need attendants, nurses and whatnot.

These attendants and psychiatrists come at pretty high prices. We are having a lot of trouble right now in trying to staff our mental hospitals, because we cannot begin to pay the salaries to those psychiatrists which they could get if they went out in private practice.

Mr. President, I do not think that fifty some thousand, I think Senator Wade said fifty-four thousand or fifty-six thousand, employees in the State of Pennsylvania is a great number when you consider that they are serving around 11,000,000 people in the State of Pennsylvania. I think the Federal payroll was a great deal more under the Democratic Administration than certainly the payroll is under the Republican Administration in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I was told the other day by one of the employees in our local liquor store that they had a sign out in the window, advising those who wished to have civil service positions that civil service examinations would be open to them, and they did not get one applicant in that store. I think in the Meadville store they only got two applicants, and in the Oil City store they had one or two. Certainly State employment today is not attractive to the average individual.

Mr. President, there is nothing wrong with our present financial state in the State of Pennsylvania. There is nothing different with that than there is in your local church or in your local home. I think Mayor Lawrence, of Pittsburgh, put his finger on the trouble when he was discussing his troubles out in Pittsburgh, in that he blamed it pretty much on inflation.

You and I know, Mr. President, when we go to our vestry meetings in the church they talk about needing more money for the minister, we need more money for this and we need more money for that. The same is true when you get back home. Your wife will tell you that she needs more money to pay the grocery bill, she needs more money for clothing and all those things. That is our present financial fix in the State of Pennsylvania. It is inflation. The dollar today will not buy as much as it used to, so we have to provide more dollars to provide the services that the people desire to have.

Mr. President, most of this money which we are trying to raise in this budget is going for education. I think over fifty per cent of our budget is going for educational subsidies. Another large percentage, around twenty-five per cent and upward, goes to public health and welfare and assistance, so you are up around eighty per cent before you ever think about any employees or any other services. That is taking a lion's share of this budget.

Mr. President, we in this Senate and in the House, most of us voted to give those services to the people and voted for those subsidies. I think it has been said and well said, and I believe both Democrats and Republicans can now agree, that we do owe it to the people to see that those services are paid for, and that we try to establish the proper type of a tax program so that it will meet with the most popular accord and try to make it as painless as possible, if that is possible, and try then to meet the budget for the services for which we ourselves have voted.

Mr. McNENAMIN. Mr. President, Senator Mahany misunderstood me. At the time that the county had the institution, they had both indigent and aged, as well as mentally disabled. Since that time, of course, the State has nothing but mentally disabled, and although the number of patients is approximately the same, they now are all mentally ill. There is no question that inflation may have entered into the rise in the cost, but it is also true that not all other government agencies have had such an extremely large increase in their costs.

Mr. President, in this county, which has been, as you know, run by Democratic Commissioners for nearly twenty years, we are now paying a general county tax rate of only one mill higher than it was in 1935 when they took office. It is that type of close-fisted, penny pinching Democratic county government which I am familiar with and that is what we would like to see instituted here in the State. I am sure it can be done because it has been done in some departments. In particular, I believe in giving credit where credit is due, the Department of Public Assistance, under Mrs. Evans, has substantially reduced costs. I understand that some of those costs, in addition to perhaps a drop in relief rolls, have been due to increased efficiency in that department.

Mr. President, I think that is the area into which we must look to avoid higher and higher and constantly increasing taxes. In order to do this, I think we should re-examine all the services which the State furnishes, and try to eliminate those which are luxuries and to eliminate unnecessary jobs and eliminate duplication of effort.

However, Mr. President, my primary purpose in rising a second time was to comment that in our intense concentration for the past six months on the fiscal problems of the State, there are some other problems which have not received the attention they deserve. One of those is Senator Barr's bill, which is concerned with rent control.

Mr. President, I think we all know that at the end of this month, the Federal controls expire and that overnight we are going to be without rent control in Pennsylvania unless Senator Barr's bill, or one similar to it, is passed. I know that there are inequities on both sides, and there are tenants who have been unfair to their landlords and vice versa, but as a general overall proposition there is going to be a lot of weeping and gnashing of teeth on the first of next month if rent controls are allowed to expire without any adjustment period, on an overnight basis. Therefore, I urge at this time that immediate consideration be given at the next committee meeting to Senator Barr's bill on rent control.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we have had a lot of oratory here today and it is getting late. I, therefore, move that this Senate do now recess until 9:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HOLLAND. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to oppose this motion as I have known in the past that where we knock off for dinner and then come back later, we are always rather tired and it is usually the custom that it is hard to get down to business after you come back from dinner. If it is possible, Mr. President, I would like to see that we stay here until we at least get on the Calendar.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise in support of this motion because it was a Republican Caucus which held us up originally.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I think that it is very unfair for the Majority Leader to oppose this motion to recess in order to permit us to eat our meals regularly. I want to draw his attention to the fact that at every Session of the Legislature we lose a Senator through a heart attack. Up to date, we have not lost a Senator, and I think that one of the reasons is that we have been eating on time. I would not like to be that Senator, and I do not want Senator Mahany to be the Senator we lose. I think it is only fair to our systems that we be permitted to eat on time, because if we continue with the Session I want him to note particularly that all of the restaurants, the hotel restaurants, will be closed. I do not know of any lobbyist who ever takes the Democrats out to Hershey for any special dinners.

Mr. President, I would like very much if the Majority would agree with this motion, because I think it means the health of the fifty Members of the Senate. I do not think that they should be compelled to sit here with the gnawing of hunger pains and listen to a lot of abuse from both sides of the house, shall we say. Therefore, Mr. President, I beg the Majority Members, and especially the older Members of the Majority Party, to think of their health and go down and get something to eat and come back with the proper food and nourishment, which will make them very able to think and to vote right when they do come back.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I was about to remark that, from my observation, if any of these people drop off it is usually from overeating rather than undereating. It might pay us to be a little bit hungry for awhile to see how the other half feels.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not mind getting used to eating irregularly; we are back under Republican times..

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, since we cannot recess, maybe we can continue with the previous discussion.

Mr. President, I just want to reply briefly to the remarks of Senator Mahany on the debate which took place before the motion to recess was made. He made some reference to the difficulty we have in employing psychiatrists because of the lack of funds. I just want to say to him that if the psychiatrists which we now employ, and who are on the State payroll, would spend more time in the institutions to which they are assigned instead of spending most of their time in their offices, perhaps our institutions would not be overcrowded by 10,000.

One of these days, Mr. President, when time permits, I will give a report to the Members of the Senate, and the names, too, of those psychiatrists who are on the State payroll and who spend more time in their offices than they do in the State institutions to which they are assigned. I am making this statement now to give those psychiatrists, whom I call drones, because they do not give their attention to the job for which they were hired, a chance to either resign or close their offices and go into these institutions and treat the patients there, for which they are receiving a salary.

Mr. President, on the functions of the State Government, I asked Senator Mahany a short time ago when they were going to introduce the bill to set up an Accountant General. I do not like to harp about this Accountant General as often as I do, but having some knowledge of the functions of State Government I want to say to the Members of the Senate, and to you, Mr. President, that the root of all the evil is the lack of a proper accounting system in this Commonwealth.

Here we are, Mr. President, going on the seventh month of this Session and we have not as yet had a chance to act on that Accountant General Bill. We have a budget before us which totals one billion four hundred million dollars, and it is said that we need somewhere between one hundred eighteen and one hundred twenty-seven million dollars in new taxes. Frankly, under the procedure that is in force in this Commonwealth, I have very little confidence in the budget which has been presented to us because of the lack of an accounting system and an efficient budget bureau.

Mr. President, the Budget Bureau in this Commonwealth is a joke. There is only one way to correct that joke, and that is by the establishment of a State Comptroller or an Accountant General. This biennium ended on May 31, 1953, and I say this in all sincerity. I defy any person in this Commonwealth, the Budget Bureau, the Governor's Office or anybody connected with the State Government, to give us a statement of the true, not the anticipated, but the true financial condition of this Commonwealh.

Mr. President, does anybody know what the accounts receivable are? Does anybody know what the accounts payable might be? Does anybody know what the delinquent taxes payable are; who the delinquent taxpayers are by years and amounts? I do not believe that anybody could give us such a statement, and if they cannot give us such a statement, how can they give us a true picture of the financial condition of the Commonwealth? If we do not have a true picture of the financial condition of the Commonwealth, how do we know how much money is needed to finance the budget? What are the surpluses of the various departments? Has anybody told us? What are the accounts payable against those departments? Nobody has told us, because there is not one department in the State Government that is competent to tell us that.

Mr. President, at the last Session I had the privilege of visiting the State of New Jersey with Senator Diehm and Senator Wade, and they were amazed at the system which they have in the State of New Jersey. They came back here in high hopes of establishing a similar system here. However, the bill fell by the wayside and it seems to me, from all the stalling and delaying on the Accountant General Bill at this Session, that we probably will not correct that very serious condition which now exists.

Mr. President, it seems to me that we should get our house in order before we go into taxes, and there is lots of time to do it. It is just a matter of getting together and doing it, and I hope that will take place within a very short time.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LETZLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, in my Pennsylvania District, the prosperity of the people and of the industries in which they work has depended on the supply of, and the demand for, the minerals of the area. If the coal and clay mines are operating at capacity and their products are easily sold to the industries which consume them, the district is in an economically sound condition. If, as is presently true, the demand for coal and clay is at a relatively low level, the economy of the district is thrown out of balance and serious hardship and suffering result.

Mr. President, this situation would be bad enough if all we in central Pennsylvania had to face was a temporary lowering of the demand for our raw materials. The problem, however, is far more serious. For all practical purposes, the best grades of coal and, to a lesser degree, of clay in the counties I represent are largely used up. The materials that are now being exploited in large measure cost so much to mine or are of a quality which commands so limited a market in the industries of the Commonwealth that the mines must drastically limit production. Thus, despite the tremendous tonnages of coal and clay which are estimated to remain in my district, a large percentage of each cannot today be profitably removed from the ground.

Nor is this condition confined to central Pennsylvania, Mr. President. Other coal mining regions, the oil producing area of the northwestern part of the Commonwealth, and the anthracite country in the northeast are affected. All these districts, and others, are suffering from a depletion of high grade reserves and must solve the problem of profitably exploiting lower grade or more difficultly extracted materials if they are again to achieve an economically sound and balanced mineral industry.

For example, Mr. President, if methods were found which would largely remove the impurities, sulfur and ash, from the coal and proper techniques of blending different coals were developed, the production of coke would do much to improve the mineral position of central Pennsylvania. Another possible source of mineral wealth is the aluminum which forms an unusually large percentage of much of the clay in my district. If this aluminum can be profitably extracted from such clay, again primary wealth would be created which would add immeasurably to the economic well-being of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, this is, of course, to cite but two examples of what might be done to add to, and expand, the mineral wealth of the State. We must, however, not attack so important a problem piecemeal, nor should the work be confined to the problems of anly a portion of the Commonwealth. A broad program for finding and utilizing the entire mineral wealth of Pennsylvania should be undertaken. As the first step in so tremendous a project, a survey should be made of the mineral position of the State, and on the basis of that survey, plans should be proposed to locate the mineral wealth, actual and potential, of the Commonwealth and to develop the necessary techniques and equipment to turn that mineral wealth into the raw materials needed by Pennsylvania's industries.

Mr. President, the attainment of a sound mineral program for the Commonwealth would directly benefit not only the 700,000 persons employed in the extractive and processing mineral industries but also the entire population of the State, each of whom gains as the rate of mineral industries' production and processing rises.

Mr. President, had a survey such as I have just suggested been made fifty or even twenty-five years ago, and had sound and constructive work been done on a large scale on the problems which the survey would have posed to the agencies best designed to solve them, we would not today be facing the revenue and tax problems that are now before us, nor would Pennsylvania have lost first place among the mineral producing states of the Nation.

Mr. President, the present prosperity of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania depends on a continued high rate of operation of its industrial establishments. Such a rate of operation, in turn, depends on the mineral production of the State. Without the mineral resources, with which the Commonwealth has been so abundantly blessed, American industry would never have concentrated in the State, and without a continued supply of these resources industry will not remain here. It follows, therefore, that the Commonwealth must do everything in its power to insure that the raw materials which industry requires are made available to it in the necessary amounts.

Mr. President, at some time in the distant future, the coal deposits of the State, which provide over three-quarters of its mineral production, will be exhausted, but they can be made to last for hundreds of years—at least until some other form of energy has been adapted to industrial uses—and must be made to do so if the Commonwealth is to maintain its present industrial dominance. However, if this goal is to be achieved, every pound of coal, within accessible distance of the earth's surface must be brought to the surface or must be so treated that its energy can be utilized even if it cannot be physically recovered from the ground.

Mr. President, such a program of complete recovery necessitates the location of all the coal the State contains, the development of new methods and types of equipment for its mining, the discovery of new processes for converting it into liquid or gaseous fuel, and the finding of means by which much of the huge tonnage of coal to be physically brought to the surface can be upgraded to meet requirements for coke production.

Mr. President, it should be apparent that the fundamental prosperity of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania depends on the extraction of mineral wealth from the rocks of the State at a rate appropriate to maintain and increase the industrial activity of the Commonwealth. This can only be done if, one, the mineral resources of the State are known in their entirety, and, two, if the methods and equipment for their full utilization are available. These things cannot be satisfactorily accomplished unless sound planning precedes the attack on the problems to be met. This requires that a State-wide survey be made.

It is for this purpose, Mr. President, that I am offering this resolution.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO APPOINT A COMMITTEE TO MAKE A COMPLETE AND LONG RANGE STUDY OF METALLIC AND NON-METALLIC MINERAL DEPOSITS

Mr. LETZLER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining:

In the Senate, July 6, 1953.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was first among the states in the production of minerals during the years 1911 through 1945; and

Whereas, Production of minerals in Pennsylvania in relation to other states has been declining in recent years; and

Whereas, Many of our mineral deposits are of low grade, their location is such that the cost of their extraction from the earth is prohibitive or their location is unknown; and

Whereas, 700,000 persons employed in the extracting and processing of minerals as well as the entire population of this Commonwealth is dependent upon an economically sound program of utilizing to the maximum degree the vast mineral resources of this State; and

Whereas, This can be accomplished by continuous research in developing processes and equipment for extracting low grade but very valuable mineral deposits at a minimum of expense; therefore be it

Resolved, That a continuing committee be appointed in the Joint State Government Commission to make a long range study of and do extensive research in—

(1) Determining methods for locating and actually locating and estimating the size of metallic and non-metallic mineral deposits.

(2) The utilization of low grade coal, manganese and iron ore and other minerals.

(3) Processes from transforming minerals from a solid to a liquid or gaseous state before or after they have been extracted.

(4) Methods for economical transportation of minerals.

(5) Technological methods for extracting and processing the mineral wealth of this State on a sound economic basis; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is authorized to appoint on said committee and to employ eminent engineers, geologists, chemists and other specialists who are leaders in their fields that they may deem necessary to carry on the necessary research as herein set forth; and be it further

Resolved, That a report of the results of the study and research, together with recommendations, be made by the commission to the Governor annually, and to the General Assembly at each regular legislative session.

FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 290, on final passage, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the licensing and practice of practical nursing and imposing penalties.

be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, will the gentleman inform the Senate of his reasons for referring this bill back to committee?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think the bill should go back to committee for further study and possible amendment.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, that certainly was a very weak answer, but it is better than none sometimes.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, am I permitted to debate this bill or not?

The PRESIDENT. The motion, I regret to advise the Senator from Cambria, is not debatable.

Mr. HALUSKA. The motion is not debatable, I understand that.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask for a slow roll call. I would like to have everyone in the Commonwealth know just who their friends are; who voted "yes" and who voted "no." It should be understood that those voting "yes" are definitely against this type of legislation, and those voting "no" are for it.

Mr. President, this is an important bill, dealing with the very lives of the people of this Commonwealth. Although the motion is not debatable, I wanted to bring that out, but I do want a slow roll call.

Mr. BANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, just to keep the record straight, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Mr. HOLLAND. I ask for a verification of the roll, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative as follows:

Berger,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Wade,
Blass,	Kessler,	McGinnis,	Wagner,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	McPherson, Jr.	Walker,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Peelor,	Watkins,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Propert,	Watson,
Freed,	Mahany,	Snowden,	Wolfe,
Hare,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Wood,
Harney,	McCreesh,	Taylor,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative as follows:

Bane,	Haluska,	Miller,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Holland,	Pechan,	Toole,
Camiel,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Chapman,	Leader,	Silvert,	Yosko,
Dent,	McMenamin,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HALUSKA and Mr. BANE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31

Berger,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Wade,
Blass,	Kessler,	McGinnis,	Wagner,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	McPherson, Jr.	Walker,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Peelor,	Watkins,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 281, Printer's No. 336, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 480, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127) entitled "An act relating to Adoption" by defining certain terms imposing powers and duties on the Department of Welfare providing for appeals requiring reports concerning receiving children for adoption and investigation thereof changing contents of petition for adoption providing procedure for the voluntary relinquishment of and for the finding of abandonment of certain children eliminating certain consents to adoption and further providing for hearings and investigatory powers of the court

When abandonment has been established by decree of the court for purposes of adoption placement or when through voluntary relinquishment parental rights have been terminated by the court the consent of such parent or parents shall not be necessary nor shall notification of adoption hearing be required The rights of inheritance between child and natural parents shall not be abrogated until final adoption has been decreed after which decree the natural parents if they can be located shall be notified as the court shall direct that legal adoption has been completed Such notification shall be unnecessary if the petition states that the person to be adopted is not heir to property nor assets of any sort through his or her natural parent or parents Such notification shall not give names or other identifying information about the adopting parents

The consents required by subsection (d) of section two may be dispensed with by the court if after hearing it finds that it is for the best interest of the child to do so

Section 4 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 2.1 a new section to read as follows

Section 2.2 Consents Not Naming Adoptive Parents A consent to a specific proposed adoption which meets all the requirements of this act but which does not name or otherwise identify the adopting parent or parents shall be valid provided that such consent shall contain a statement by the person whose consent it is to the effect that such person voluntarily executed the consent without disclosure of the name or other identification of the adopting parent or parents

Section 5 Section 3 as last amended and Section 4 of said act as amended by the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1180) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 Hearings Upon presentation of any such petition to adopt as aforesaid a time for hearing thereon shall be fixed not less than ten days from said presentation which said hearing [may be before the said court or any law judge thereof at chambers] shall be private or in open court as the court shall determine and may be adjourned from time to time if the nature of the case should so require At said hearing the adopting parents or parent the person proposed to be adopted if in the opinion of the court such persons' presence is deemed necessary and all the persons whose consent is necessary hereunder and any person concerned individually or as a representative of an agency acting as an intermediary between the natural parent or parents and the adopting parents must appear in person and be examined under oath by such court or judge but the personal appearance of the natural parents or other persons whose consent is necessary hereunder may be dispended with in the discretion of the court or judge hearing the petition if such persons reside without the jurisdiction of the court or if for any other reason the said court or judge deem it unnecessary provided the duly executed consent of such persons in writing have been filed with the petition and the said court or judge may in his discretion require the personal appearance of the natural parents of the child at a different time and separate and apart from that of the other parties in interest

When abandonment is averred in the petition for adoption but has not previously been found as a fact in a court notification to the parent or parents of the time and place of the hearing shall be made by personal service or registered mail to the last known address If the parent or parents cannot be found evidence of search satisfactory to the court shall be given When parent or parents cannot be located the returned receipt of the registered letter to the last known address shall be considered conclusive evidence of search If parental rights have been terminated previously under the provisions of this act either by voluntary relinquishment or by the finding of abandonment consent of the parent or parents or notification of the hearing shall not be required The said court or judge shall also hear any other testimony as to the facts set forth in the petition or necessary to inform the court as to the desirability of the proposed adoption and [may] shall also make or cause to be made an investigation by some person or public agency or private agency (with its consent) specifically designated by said court or judge to verify the statements of the petition and such other facts as will give the court full knowledge as to the desirability of the proposed adoption

The court shall establish a procedure for the payment of investigation costs by the petitioners or by such other persons as the court may direct

Section 4 Decrees of Court Records In no case shall any decree of adoption of a minor be made or entered unless the person proposed to be adopted shall have resided with the petitioner for a period of six months prior thereto or in lieu of such residence unless such person is related by blood or marriage to the petitioner If satisfied that the statements made in the petition are true and that the welfare of the person proposed to be adopted will be promoted by such adoption and that all the requirements of this act have been complied with the court or judge shall make a decree so finding and directing that the person proposed to be adopted shall have all the rights of a child and heir of such adopting parent or parents and be subject to the duties of such child but otherwise shall make a decree refusing the adoption and dismissing the petition If desired by the parties the decree may also provide that the person adopted shall assume the name of the adopting parent or parents and any given first or middle names that may be chosen Such decree with all the testimony transcribed and all other papers pertaining to the case [and the testimony if written out] shall be kept in the files of said court as a permanent record thereof and shall be withheld from inspection except upon an order of court granted upon cause shown Upon the making of such decree the prothonotary or clerk of the [Orphans'] Court as the procedure established may require shall enter upon the docket an entry showing the court term and number and the date of the decree After a decree of adoption has been entered the court shall report to the Department of Welfare on a form supplied by the Department which the Department shall keep in confidential files Information identifying the natural or adopting parents shall not be required

Section 6 Any adoption heretofore granted or decreed by any court of record of this Commonwealth in which either the person or persons adopting or the person or persons adopted was a non-resident or were non-residents of this Commonwealth at the time such adoption was granted or decreed or any adoption which was granted prior to the expiration of the full ten days required by law to intervene between the filing of the petition for the adoption and the hearing of such petition by the court or which was granted or decreed without the formal entry on the decree of the findings of facts at length or without the court or judge specifically finding that the statements made in the petition were true or wherein the consent or consents required by law did not name or otherwise identify the adopting parent or parents is hereby declared valid and lawful as though made in full observance of all requirements of law provided that the petition and decree for such adoption were otherwise in accordance with law

Section 7 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occured:)

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

NAYS—2

Chapman,	McCreesh,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226, and House Bill No. 574, Printer's No. 221, on third reading, go over in their order, temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I object to those two bills going over in their order.

MOTION THAT BILLS GO OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226, and House Bill No. 574, Printer's No. 221, on third reading, go over in their order, temporarily.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, what is your objective in carrying House Bill No. 573 and No. 574 over temporarily in order?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I thought that there would probably be quite a bit of debate on these bills and in order that we can work with the printer, so that he can get the other printed matter out for us by tomorrow, I thought that we could act on the rest of the calendar and then come back to those.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, I tried to be cooperative, but if this motion goes through it will force me to take certain parliamentary action. I feel that these bills are up here now, and we should debate them. You would not let us recess. We want to get this over with, and there is no use in carrying them over in order and then waiting until late at night and trying to bring the bills up then. I suggest that we handle it now.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I notice there are only two more bills on third reading and if the Senator would withdraw his objection, I would have those go over and then come back to these two bills. I jut want to dispose of Senate Bill No. 590 and Senate Bill No. 591, which will not take but a minute.

Mr. LANE. You want those to go over, is that it?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, Mr. President, I will put them over and then we will come right back to these two.

Mr. LANE. All right, I will withdraw my objection, Mr. President.

MOTION THAT BILLS GO OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now withdraw the motion that these bills go over in their order temporarily.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The motion that these bills go over in order temporarily having been withdrawn and Senator Lane having withdrawn his objection to the original request that the bills so go over in their order, House Bill No. 573 and House Bill No. 574 will go over in their order, temporarily.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 590, Printer's No. 315, and

Senate Bill No. 591, Printer's No. 310.

HOUSE BILL No. 573 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I wish to call up from page 5 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226, which went over in its order, temporarily.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 573, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 201 of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" by further defining real estate to be valued and assessed for taxation

Section 1 Section 201 of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" as amended by the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 219) is hereby further amended to read as follows

(c) All other things and persons now taxable by the laws of this Commonwealth for county city and school purposes

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I suppose we are going to hear a lot of debate on these bills, because even before they were reported from committee and onto the calendar, there was some discussion on them.

I think the question boils down to whether you are going to put a large tax on industrial machines, which may very well force industry out of the city of Erie and the county of Erie or, even beyond that, out of the State of Pennsylvania, or whether you are going to allow industry to live. Perhaps it might add a few more dollars or a few more mills onto the man who has a home or some real estate in a city. However in the end, I feel that the home owner or the property owner is going to profit, because if you force industry, for instance, out of the city of Erie, then you are going to take the employees that are now employed in that industry outside of the ctiy of Erie and you are going to make Erie a ghost town, which might very well happen to many other third class cities in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I think the argument relative to this machinery tax exemption was very well summed up by Howard E. Kelley, who is the Secretary of the Erie Manufacturers Association, in the following statement which he issued:

"To provide work for the children now in our schools, Erie industry will have to furnish 8,000 additional jobs in the next ten years. Any program that will stunt the growth of our industry will make this impossible.

"The machinery tax, in actual fact, has furnished an unfavorable climate and has virtually eliminated industrial expansion in this city.

"Since the machinery tax has become law two large industries, Talon, Incorporated, and Read Standard Corporation, have left Erie. The American Sterilizer Company has announced it will move all its operations outside the city of Erie, and rather than expand in Erie. Erie Resistor Corporation is building a branch in Holly Springs, Mississippi.

"The machinery tax helped these companies decide to leave Erie because they could not produce goods here and compete favorably with their compeitors who do not have to pay any machinery tax.

"Last year Erie's manufacturing industry with its 43,154 employees created $321,234,000 of wealth for Erie. That was the 'value added by manufacturing' to goods made in Erie.

"These goods were then sold all over the world, and when they were paid for, Erie was $321,234,000 richer. This wasn't just money which changed hands in Erie—it came from outside Erie into Erie.

"Out of this money, about $165,000,000 went into payrolls of local workmen. When they spent this money for food clothing, housing and other needs they spent most of it in Erie, creating more local payrolls in stores, banks and other businesses.

"Manufacturers of the city of Erie favor the passage of Waterhouse bills not only for the future of Erie, but because the machinery tax discriminates against industry who already pay a property tax on both real estate and machinery, and are thus being taxed twice on the machines which in themselves provide for so many citizens of our community.

"The best security so many people have is a good job with a good company and if Erie industries cannot make a profit, the jobs and security of many thousand of Erie residents is in jeopardy.

"All of industry is proud and pleased to see a company grow, prosper and expand. It is most discouraging to see that expansion, which is made possible by good management and good labor, add jobs to other communities.

"Industry wants good government and good schools, and recognizes its responsibility in financing those community necessities, but it does not condone nor accept any unfair tax program to support these necessary community institutions.

"Each worker, shopkeeper, professional man and industrialist, in fact every person who loves Erie and wishes to see it grow and prosper, should recognize that when the cost of doing business here becomes too great to meet outside competition, survival means seeking other areas with the resultant decisions loss to Erie.

"For this reason alone a few dollars distributed among all of us to supply any loss of machinery tax revenue would be much better than unemployment."

Mr. President, I also want to read an editorial from the Erie Daily Times, of Wednesday, July 1, 1953, which is titled, "Why Destroy Erie's Big 'Meal Ticket'?"

"The gross inequities of the so-called 'machinery tax' in Erie is brought out forcibly and clearly in a message addressed to Hammermill Paper employees and which appeared in a page-advertisement in local newspapers yesterday.

"We share with the Hammermill in its expose of the evils of the assessment that it is a vicious levy upon industry which provides the 'meal ticket' for Erie.

"The machinery assessment makes manufacturers pay the city and school board a tax on the value of their machinery. Manufacturing corporations such as Hammermill already pay the State a 'capital stock tax' on this same value, so the local tax, inspired by politics rather than common sense and economy, is double taxation on the same machinery.

"The machinery tax is aimed at manufacturers.

"Only machinery owned by manufacturers is singled out for this tax. For instance, Hammermill's diesel locomotives which operate in the mill's yards and on nearby tracks are taxed because they are owned by a manufacturer—but the other locomotives operating in the yard are not taxed because their owners are not manufacturers.

"The railroad cars in which pulpwood is handled are taxed; but railroad cars in the same train but not owned by Hammermill are not taxed.

"Electric trucks operating in the mill are taxed but identical trucks used in stores, or a construction company or any other non-manufacturer, are not taxed.

"Manufacturers in Philadelphia and Scranton do not have to pay machinery tax. Such tax is prohibited by law.

"Of all cities, only the smaller ones—the so-called 'third class cities'—can levy this tax and of all of the cities in this class only Erie has seen fit to make its own assessment levying this tax.

" 'The power to tax is the power to destroy' is a time honored maxim.

"The tax can drive industry from Erie. Since the tax began in 1950, two large industries have withdrawn branch plants from Erie and two Erie-owned industries have decided to expand outside of Erie rather than here at home.

"Just those situations cited above, deprives the city of normal real estate taxes in addition to substantial payrolls that will go out of the city.

"There are several good-sized plants in Erie which are withholding plans for expansion because of the 'Erie only' tax which certainly doesn't encourage expansion.

"This penalty placed upon the manufacturers is inequitable and is discouraging for any increase in employment that would naturally follow the establishment of new industries here or the expansion of older ones.

"Chasing business out of Erie by oppressive taxation is a clear demonstration of the political chicanery of 'the power to tax is the power to destroy'."

Mr. President, the city of Erie got into this tax assessment problem because of the Hammermill Paper case. Before that, the city of Erie as well as the other third class cities and counties of the State of Pennsylvania were assessing manufacturers and manufactories, and they did not get into any trouble at all and they were assessing more than just the bare four walls.

Mr. President, the machinery which was affixed to the plant, such as Senator Lane brought out about the crane rails, which would be part of the building, nobody for a minute thinks that even though these bills are passed that this sort of equipment will still be taxable as part of the real estate. Then, some taxpayer in Erie took the city of Erie in under a mandamus proceeding which forced the city council, whether they wanted to or not, to levy taxes, to levy an assessment on even diesel locomotives and freight cars in the yard of this company. Every piece of machinery was particularly itemized and placed on the assessment rolls, which was certainly a long way from what the thinking would be of those who originally formed the Assessment Act.

Mr. President, a lot of newspaper publicity has taken place on both sides in connection with these particular bills. There were full page advertisements placed in the paper not only by the Hammermill Corporation, which sought to bring out the inequities of this tax, but also by the other side. The message was to Senator Dent and Senator Lane to "continue their fight against this legislation."

Mr. President, my mail brought me some of those full page advertisements which were sent to Senator Dent and Senator Lane, but they put in the words "do not continue." They wrote in and instead of saying to continue the fight, they said, "We wish you would not continue the fight against this legislation." My desk here is piled full of communications, telegrams, letters, newspaper clippings and every other type of communication from many persons not only in the city of Erie, but also outside the city of Erie which are in favor of this legislation. I have only received one or two communications which are opposed to it.

Mr. President, I think that most of the laboring men in Erie desire to retain their residence in the city of Erie, as well as those laboring men in other cities in the State of Pennsylvania. They have their homes in those cities, they are satisfied with their working conditions, they are satisfied to stay in the plant that, perhaps, they grew up in, started as a boy and have worked up through the ranks so that they now are in responsible positions in those manufactories, and they do not wish to have some unfair tax placed upon the machinery of those plants, which would force the plants outside the city, and make them follow along or else completely lose their jobs. They want to protect the investment which they have made in their homes, and in their schools and in their cities, and they want those manufacturing companies to stay in their city.

Mr. President, the Pittsburgh Press, I believe, last week brought out the fact, Senator Dent, that not very many cities and very few counties put on a separate assessment on this machinery. Then, I noticed that they were corrected and it was brought out that in Westmoreland County they did take into consideration the machinery which was in the manufacturing plants there. They said in this editorial that they thought it was unwise for any political subdivision to tax out of existence the manufactories in their political subdivision.

Mr. President, I want to close by stating that I hope my Democratic friends will use the Democratic processes in relation to these bills; that is, to debate them and argue them on their merits and take as much time as they want to in relation to them, but not try to resort to trying to defeat the majoriy will here by some kind of parliamentary maneuver and that sort of thing.

Mr. President, I think we should debate the bills at length and then whichever side prevails, the minority, whichever way it is, should recognize the right of the majority of this Senate to vote the legislation which they think is best for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and its citizens.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. LANE. Are we debating House Bill No. 573 and House Bill No. 574 together, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. No, we are debating House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226.

Mr. LANE. I thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President, but in order to clarify the record, I was speaking of both of the bills as a package. I did not separate them. I think the reasoning on one applies to the other, and vice versa.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I still would like to interrogate the Majority Leader. He answered one question, but I want to ask him another.

Senator Mahany, if Erie has such a terrific problem with the taxing of machinery, why did you find it necessary to try to pass House Bill No. 573, which pertains to second and third class counties? You will note that in House Bill No. 573 there is an amendment in there whereby, on line 13, page 3, it says:

"Provided however that the exclusion of machinery tools appliances and other equipment contained in any mill mine manufactory or industrial establishment shall not apply to the county of the second class."

Is that true?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am sorry. Now what was the question, Senator Lane? I was looking through the bill.

Mr. LANE. You were speaking in regard to the problems of Erie in particular, and I am rather curious. I want to know why you would try to pass House Bill No. 573. House Bill No. 573, it is my understanding, applies to the assessment law of second and third class counties. It does not have anything to do with Erie at all, because Erie is a fourth class county. However, you put an exclusion in there, that Allegheny County, which is a second class county, is not included within the provisions of this act. Can you explain that?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Mr. President, both of them are tied up in county assessments. I understand the assessment law provides that the city can tax those items which are assessable for county taxation. You will notice that in both House Bills Nos. 573 and 574 it refers to subjects of taxation for county purposes. I think both of them had to be introduced and passed in order to give the citizens the remedies which they desire.

Mr. LANE. The citizens of Erie, Mr. President?

Mr. MAHANY. The citizens of Erie and the citizens of other third class cities, Senator.

As I understand it, Mr. President, the reason that these other cities have not assessed machinery, as the city of Erie has, is because they have not been taken into court on mandamus proceedings. If, at some future time, your political subdivisions desire to take advantage of the Hammermill Paper case, they can take the city council into court and, under a mandamus proceeding, make them assess these items when, at the present time, they do not assess them for tax purposes.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, do you not agree that third class cities can only assess that property which is enumerated in the General Assessment Act, which applies to counties? In other words, a third class city cannot assess anything that the county cannot assess. Is that not true?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Mr. President, they can assess certain things which the county does not assess.

Mr. LANE. Can you tell me what, Mr. President?

Mr. MAHANY. For instance, Mr. President, under Act No. 481, they can make certain assessments which the county does not.

Mr. LANE. Well, they levy there. They do not assess for real estate purposes.

Mr. MAHANY. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. I am talking about the real estate law, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. That is right. The cities are pretty much bound to assess only those things which are enumerated under the County Assessment Law.

Mr. LANE. Would third class cities in a second class county be able to assess machinery under this act?

Mr. MAHANY. Third class cities in a second class county, I do not believe that they would, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Well, Senator Mahany, the point I am trying to make here is that I cannot see any necessity for House Bill No. 573 because it does not pertain to Erie, if you are speaking of the Erie problem.

Mr. MAHANY. What is the question, Mr. President?

Mr. LANE. I will rephrase it this way, Senator Mahany. I would like to know what you are going to accomplish by House Bill No. 573, in so far as the city of Erie or the county of Erie is concerned?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this bill, as I see it, would be necessary in order to exclude machinery from the operation of the third class city authority to levy an assessment on machinery.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank you, Senator Mahany.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, will state his point of order.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I find that a considerable number of the Republicans have left the floor and have gone to eat. I would ask that the Sergeant-at-Arms request the Republicans to sit in their seats here instead of leaving the floor during this debate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call the gentleman from Allegheny's attention to the fact that there is nothing in the Senate Rules which requires us to listen.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, a law never forced people into good management. This shows the management of the Republican Party, when their own Members will not sit in their seats even though they insist on considering these bills tonight.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair regrets that he is unable to rule that the point of order is well taken.

Through the years, there have been many discussions about when a vote counted and when a Member is in the Chamber and when he is out.

It would seem to the Chair that there is a bit of wisdom in the ultimate decision, after centuries of parliamentary procedure, not to imprison, literally, a Member of a legislative body so that he could not, for any reason, during the transaction of business temporarily leave the Chamber. That could, for many reasons that one could bring to mind, cause an embarrassing situation, to say the least

CALL FOR A QUORUM

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I notice the lack of a quorum and ask for a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator is entirely within his rights and if he raises the question of a quorum and requests a roll call, the request certainly is well within the purview of the Rules.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

The PRESIDENT. The request for a quorum having been called for by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland; the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko; the gentleman from York, Mr. Leader; and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Silvert, the Chair will ask the Senator from Washington to yield at this time and the Clerk will call the roll on the quorum.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND, Mr. YOSKO, Mr. LEADER and Mr. SILVERT and were as follows, viz:

Bane,	Hare,	McCreesh,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Harney,	McCusker,	Taylor,
Berger,	Holland,	McGinnis,	Toole,
Blass,	Kephart,	McMenamin,	Wade,
Camiel,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Wagner,

Chapman,	Kopriver, Jr.	Miller,	Walker,
Crowe,	Lane,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Dent,	Leader,	Peelor,	Watson,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Propert,	Weiner,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Ruth,	Wolfe,
Freed,	Mahany,	Silvert,	Wood,
Haluska,	Mallery,	Snowden,	Yosko,

PRESENT—48

The PRESIDENT. The roll having been called and 48 Senators having answered "Present," the Chair declares a quorum to be present.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, may proceed.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, House Bill No. 573 amends the Act of 1933, Pamphlet Laws 853, and also amends the Act of 1941, Pamphlet Laws 219. I have done quite a bit of research on this legislation and, in addition to that, the law department in my county has done much work on it.

Mr. President, the Act of 1933 is Act No. 155 which relates "to taxation; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county purposes, and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations; amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto; and repealing existing laws."

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I now move that House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226, be recommitted to the Committee on Finance for the purpose of a public hearing.

Mr. HOLLAND. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I oppose this motion and ask my colleagues to vote "no" on the same.

Mr. HOLLAND. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, not having heard my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no".

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will be so recorded.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Were you on the floor of the Senate when your name was called?

Mr. BLASS. I just came in the door when my name was called.

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative as follows:

Bane,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Toole,
Camiel,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Dent,	Leader,	Silvert,	Yosko,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will read the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative as follows:

Berger,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Taylor,
Blass,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	Miller,	Walker,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Peelor,	Watkins,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Propert,	Watson,
Freed,	Mahany,	Snowden,	Wolfe,
Hare,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Wood,
Harney,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and Mr. HALUSKA, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—16

Bane,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Toole,
Camiel,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Dent,	Leader,	Silvert,	Yosko,

NAYS—29

Berger,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Taylor,
Blass,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	Miller,	Walker,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Peelor,	Watkins,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Propert,	Watson,
Freed,	Mahany,	Snowden,	Wolfe,
Hare,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Wood,
Harney,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in continuation of my remarks in regard to House Bill No. 573, as I previously stated it was amended by Act No. 155, 1933, and the Act of July 1941, P. L. 219.

Mr. President, the 1933 Act is No. 155 and it pertains to taxation. It designates the subjects, property and the persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes and providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations, and amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws.

Mr. President, it covers the preliminary provisions in Section 1; Section 2 is the subjects of taxation and exemptions; Section 3 goes on to tell about tax assessors; Section 4 covers triennial and inter-triennial assessments; Section 5 covers revisions and appeals; and Section 6 is a general repealer.

The short title is this: "This Act shall be known, and may be cited, as The General County Assessment Law.' This Act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment."

Mr. President, the definitions under Section 102 are as follows: "The following words and phrases shall, for the purpose of this act, have the meanings respectively ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

" 'Assessors' and 'elected assessors' shall mean the assessors for county tax purposes elected in wards, boroughs, towns and townships in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes.

" 'Appointed assessors' shall mean the assessors appointed by the board of revision of taxes in counties of the first class, and the subordinate assessors appointed by the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in counties of the second and third classes."

Mr. President, this is the act which was cited in House Bill No. 573. This is not the Act of Assembly which pertains to Erie County. The gentleman seemed to be quite disturbed about the problems of Erie County, but he has not convinced me yet why House Bill No. 573 is before us, when it applies to third class counties, which is not the classification of Erie County. It applies to second class counties, which is Allegheny County. Therefore, his speech which he gave a little while ago, covering the problems of Erie, has nothing whatever to do with House Bill No. 573.

Mr. President, House Bill No. 573 is being passed here for the purpose, the express purpose, of prohibiting third class cities in third class counties from assessing machinery, either directly or indirectly. It is going to prohibit counties of the third class from assessing machinery.

Surely, Mr. President, there is no necessity for this particular piece of legislation if the problem is in Erie. This is nothing but third class county legislation.

Mr. President, when the gentleman cites the problems of those manufacturers in Erie, he forgets that we have quite a number of third class counties in Pennsylvania which are not indirectly related to Erie County or their problems in any way possible. At the same time, if the gentleman would have his way he would have this legislation passed, which would penalize the third class counties and any municipality within that third class county because of the problems of Erie. That is sort of a farfetched statement on his part, when he states that House Bill No. 573 is absolutely necessary in order to protect the manufacturers of the city of Erie.

Mr. President, I have before me a communication which I received from some very responsible officials in a third class county. I happen to have the privilege and pleasure of being personally acquainted with these gentlemen and I know that they are men of the highest integrity. They are directly concerned with the problem in Erie County and they are being penalized because, so Senator Mahany said, they have a problem up there in Erie and, therefore, they want to pass legislation to prevent counties of the third class from assessing machinery either directly or indirectly. This communication is from the Board of Commissioners in Westmoreland County, W. Everett Noel, Harry C. Gongaware and Robert A. Kilgore. It is dated July 2, 1953. It says:

"Dear Senator Lane:

"I have been directed by the County Commissioners of Westmoreland County to again write you bringing to your attention further facts as to the effects the passage of House Bills 573—574 would have on Westmoreland County.

"Recently we wrote to you setting forth that Westmoreland County's assesments would be affected to the extent of somewhat of twenty-five per cent to thirty per cent. This is serious from the county's standpoint, but it is more serious from a school standpoint as most of the areas affected have large high schools which act as a center for tuition students from other districts. This would be a tremendous loss.

"Without naming the areas or the plants, I would like to give you several typical examples.

"1. A certain manufacturing plant in one of the boroughs is assessed for $506,750. This includes real estate and machinery as a unit. $283,575 or 56 per cent of this assessment is based on machinery and equipment."

There, Mr. Preshident, is one plant whereby if this legislation becomes law, a municipality in the county of Westmoreland will lose fifty-six per cent of this assessment. "Another plant," in No. 2, "is in the same locality and is asesssed for taxes to the tune of $1,160,400. Forty-eight per cent of this amount, or $557,575, is the value of machinery and equipment.

"3. Another plant in another community is assessed for tax purposes at $1,806,150." Mind you, Mr. President, "sixty-two per cent of this assessment, or $1,128,375 covers the machinery and equipment." Just imagine, in this particular locality they will lose sixty-two per cent of that assessment, both the county and the political subdivisions.

Here is another one, Mr. President.

"4. Another plant in another community is assessed at $10,183,375. Sixty-five per cent of this, or $6,588,500, is the value placed on machinery and equipment." Just imagine what that is going to do to that political subdivision.

While I am on that subject, Mr. President, I want to say to the representatives from the second class counties, do not be too sure of yourselves when you vote for House Bill No. 573. What you had better do is give it some thought. You had better study the Third Class City Code, because you are going to be confronted with some repercussions.

The letter goes on to say, Mr. President, that "the general practice has been to assess the fixed equipment at a reasonable rate in all businesses in the County, regardless of the size."

I happen to know, Mr. President, that Westmoreland County has one of the lowest assessments on the valuation of property in Pennsylvania. As a matter of fact, Mr. President, we, of Washington County, have tried to meet Westmoreland County, but it seems to me that they are doing a wonderful job and our assessments are around thirty-one per cent.

Then he goes on to say, Mr. President, "It is to be noted that none of these assessments covers rolling stock, trucks and the like." I want you to pay particular attention to that, Senator Mahany. It says here, "It is to be noted that none of these assessments covers rolling stocks, trucks and the like. Without exception, machinery and equipment assessed for tax purposes is necessary, vital and indispensable to the conduct and operation of each plant. Items that are classified as hand tools, machine tools, portable equipment, rolling stock and off the road equipment are not listed," you understand, "are not listed for tax purposes."

Mr. President, why in the world should we pass legislation penalizing a county of the third class because Erie out there has a feud? This is what I say is ridiculous. It is insulting the intelligence of every member of this Senate when someone tries to sell us a bill of goods, and House Bill No. 573 has nothing to do with Erie, not a thing. I can tell you what is back of this. The Manufacturers' Association, and the idle rich and that group who has the right and vested privilege here are trying to pass this legislation to penalize the population of Pennsylvania. That is the story in a nutshell.

Mr. President, they say we should be honorable here and not use any unethical tactics. Do you not realize that here in Pennsylvania almost every school district is at stake? Do you not realize, as Senator Wade said here a little while ago, that sixty per cent of our budget went for educational purposes? Now, you are going to take it away from the local districts. It does not make sense.

Mr. President, I know the other side is empty here. They do not want to hear what I have to say, but I want the people of Pennsylvania to know just what the score is here. We are going to have to face it in the next Session of the Legislature, all because someone has a personal peeve in Erie. Some big Republican up there has a personal peeve, and they want to take it out on all of Pennsylvania to satisfy that peeve.

It goes on to say, Mr. President, "We appreciate your help and effort for the taxpayers of the State of Pennsylvania." I want to say to the Commissioners of Erie County that I do not think my help is going to be much good. I do not think I can do too much, because it appears that here in this Senate of Pennsylvania we are under what we call a "Republican juggernaut." I can understand it, too, because this is a Republican State. Yet, the Majority Party in Pennsylvania would penalize the people of Pennsylvania. They would penalize the officials who are of their political faith. For what purpose, for what purpose? It does not mean a thing.

Mr. President, Westmore and County has not lost any industry. The industry in Westmoreland County is not complaining. The industry in Washington County, my county of Washington, is not complaining. As a matter of fact, Senator Mahany, every coal company in western Pennsylvania is against this legislation because all it will benefit is those manufacturers who have a lot of equipment. The coal companies who own real estate, active and inactive coal, are going to carry the burden and you say that this is going to help industry. It is going to penalize industry, because the coal companies have vast coal holdings in my county, Greene County, and Fayette County. They are going to have to carry the additional load.

I say to you, Mr. President, this is a vicious, rotten steal of legislation. I know we cannot do anything about it because they have the unit rule. The Republican Party in Pennsylvania rules with an iron hand. All we can do is talk, and they laugh about our efforts.

Mr. President, I hope some day that I am in the Majority. I do not know whether I will be here that long, because I am thoroughly disgusted. If I am, I want you to know this right now, and this will be in the record. If ever I am a party to legislation like this and I am in the Majority, I want every Member of the Minority Party to stand on his feet and say, "Senator Lane, you are not sincere in your efforts when you take the position you are taking here today, because we are quoting you." I will stand up and apologize and be ashamed of my actions.

Mr. President, I say that in my opinion it is pitiful that we have to take up the time of the Senate, and I have to use such tactics, to bring to the people of Pennsylvania a message of truth. You know very well that Erie County has nothing to do with the third class counties and yet you are passing House Bill No. 573. I want to repeat that I have done much research on House Bill No. 573 and House Bill No. 574, and to those gentlemen from the second class counties that have third class cities, do not be so confident because there are a few jokers in there. Mr. President, it seems that Senator Silvert wants to make a statement, so I will yield to him and I will then go on with my debate on House Bill No. 574.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I heard the Majority Leader open the debate on House Bill No. 573 by reading a letter from Erie and an editorial from one of the papers.

I do not often get letters from Erie, Mr. President, but I did get a letter on this bill. It does not come from any business organization but it comes from the type of people that we are worrying about in this Assembly. It comes from the School District of the city of Erie. The letter is brief and I should like to read it for the record:

"Senator Silvert
"State Capitol
Harrisburg, Pa.

"Dear Sir:

"Subject: House Bills Nos. 573 and 574 introduced by Representative Waterhouse.

"The Board of School Directors of the City of Erie is seriously concerned with these bills since they will eliminate the assessment of machinery in the City of Erie, a source which provides the School District with $270,000.00 per annum, this at a time when our district is hard-pressed financially.

"At the regular meeting held on May 13, 1953, the Board went on record as opposing adoption of these bills since they are particularly injurious in our case.

"We, therefore, respectfully urge that you vote against passage of these bills when presented for your consideration.

"Very truly yours,
"/s/ A. P. Logan
"A. P. Logan
"Secretary and Business Manager"

Now, Mr. President, I come from Philadelphia and I understond that whether these blls pass or fail to pass will not affect the city of Philadelphia, but we spend so much time here worrying about our school districts, and worrying about money which has to be paid to school districts, that it seems to me that the crux of the opposition to this bill is in this very letter, and that is that many school districts which are hard pressed for money will be deprived of revenue which they badly need.

Mr. President, it seems to me that it is bad legislation to pass bills of this kind when we are worryng about how much school districts can raise by their own efforts in their own locality, and then by these acts deprive them of a real source of income. I think we should vote these bills down.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, Senator Lane quoted some of the laws on taxation, and it might come as a surprise to many of my colleagues on the left when I quote from Act No. 162, of the Session of 1885, Section 20 of which provides:

"That the taxes laid upon manufacturing corporations, by and under the revenue law of this Commonwealth, be and the same are hereby abolished as to such corporations, and the laws, under which such taxes are laid and collected, be and the same are hereby repealed, so far, and so far only, as they apply to and effect manufacturing corporations: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to corporations engaged in the manufacture of malt, spiritous or vinous liquors, or in the manufacture of gas: Provided, This act shall go into effect immediately, reserving and excepting unto the Commonwealth the right to collect any taxes accrued under the laws repealed by this act."

Mr. President, this act was signed on the 30th day of June, 1885, by Robert E Pattison, Governor of Pennsylvania, who was, I believe, the first Democratic Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Presdent, for the information of the distinguished gentleman from Hollidaysburg. I am quite familiar with the act which he quotes. However, there were several succeeding acts, Senator Mallery, which take care of the assessment of property and machinery, and, of course, a recent Supreme Court ruling declared that machinery is property.

Mr. President, as a brief continuation of my remarks on House Bill No. 573, I want to point out to the membership here, of the smaller counties from the fourth to the eighth class, that Allegheny County is exempt from the provisions of House Bill No. 573. In other words, it does not apply. In my humble opinion, and I feel that I am right, the only reason that they exempted Allegheny County is because they knew very well that if it was in the act, they would never pass it in the House, and in all probability they would never pass it here in the Senate, because you know and I know that the Senators from Allegheny are not going to stand by and let their county and their municipalities be deprived of approximately thirty or thirty-five per cent of their assessed valuation. You know very well, and I know, that the revenue must come from somewhere and it is going onto the small home owner.

Mr. President, that is the point I want to bring out here tonight. House Bill No. 573, my good friends, does not apply to the problems of Erie, but House Bill No. 574 does. Any argument whatsoever in regard to the problems of Erie is not connected with House Bill No. 573.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the hour is getting late and I do not want to take up too much of the time of the Senate, nor do I intend to repeat the arguments I gave last week against this particular bill. This bill, as you all know, vitally affects Westmoreland County, the district which I am happy to represent in the Senate of Pennsylvania

It seems to me, Mr. President, that the arguments are based upon a fallacious ground In the City of Erie, as I understand it, a taxpayer, an aggrieved citizen, took to court the city council, or the assessing body, and had them properly unler the law assess properties which have been outlined by the Supreme Court as a proper subject of taxation This little man, this little citizen, had every right under our constitutional form of government to expect the elected officials of that city to assess all and sundry, the same ts he, a home owner, wa sassessed for the privilege of living and enjoying the faclities of that city

Mr President, I have tried to bring to the Senate a picture of a county that has sucessfully met its problems. I told you that my home town would lose approximately $100,000 in revenue, almost one-third of its entire revenue if you passed this legislation. I talked to one of the Senators from a third class county and he said to me "Well, Senator," he said, "the reason we are not interested is because we do not tax machinery." I said to him, "That is not true, you do tax it. You tax it when you go in and make the assessment of a particular industry; you take into consideraton the machinery that is in that building. You may not, as they do in the county of Allegheny, tax each individual piece of machinery, and so state its amount and its value and so forth, and place an assessment against it categorically, but you do recognize the value of the machinery that is in that building."

Mr. President, if that is not true then, for instance, let us take the Armstrong Cork Company. Do you mean to tell me that the millions of dollars worth of machinery in the Armstrong Cork are not assessed, and yet the bathroom and the furnace on a man's little home, sitting out on a hillside, are assessed? Why would the man who owns that little home not have the right to go to court and ask that the machinery in that industry be assessed also?

Mr. President, machines are made for the benefit of man, and unless they replace men in employment and unless men have the kind of income which it takes to keep this community of ours in the proper schooling and proper health and welfare position, proper communications, transportation, street facilities and sewers facilities, then certainly the machinery that has displaced that manpower has reduced the earning power of the individual, has replaced the individual in the community who was paying taxes and must, of necessity, pay its share.

Mr. President, you talk about the community losing assessed valuation. I do not know what is happening up in Erie, but I do know this, that the townships surrounding many of our third class cities are suddenly being exploited for developments for housing. The third class cities are aware of it, because they are in here right now trying to guarantee their right to go out into the townships and take these communities as fast as they are developed, because they claim they are losing assessed valuations to the townships and they are losing it through the homes of the home owners who are moving out of the city areas. If you take the machinery off the taxable assessment in the city of Jeannette, I will assure you that they will have to raise their assessment on the real estate and when they do, Mr. President, more and more people are going to seek the relative tax security of the neighboring townships.

Mr. President, one of these days you are going to have to vote for a bill in this Senate of Pennsylvania to stop the raiding of the townships by the cities which are seeking the developed ares. You cannot have your cake and eat it too. You cannot chase the people out and keep your machinery there.

Mr. President, you talk about unfair taxation. How much can the individual stand? You tax the individual on his wages for school purposes; you tax the individual on his wages for city and county purposes, or rather city and community purposes; you tax him on his home; you assess him on his property and you do not give him paved streets, but every industry in my town has paved streets right up to its door and they are not assessed for those paved streets, Mr. President. Those paved streets have been paid for by the home owners in that community.

Mr. President, you cannot afford to say to me, "You are driving industry out." Where is it going to go? Where is industry going? Sure, one of the industries left my town and went to Texas. I will guarantee you that it was not because of the fact that they were overtaxed. I doubt if there is an industry in Westmoreland County, and I say this with the County Commissioners sitting right over there, taxed at a tax assessment, a large industry, with an assessment of greater than ten per cent of the actual cost of building that plant. Yet, every little home owner is taxed at a greater percentage of the cost of building his home. If you will go into the industry in this State and you will tax them at the same per square and per cubic foot of area occupied which you tax the little individual in his home, I will assure you that you will not have to tax their machinery.

They expect a low real estate assessment, Mr. President, because they have such large areas, such large square and cubic areas, of factory site, and they have a right to expect a special assessed valuation because of these large areas. Our commissioners recognize that they are essential to the health and welfare of the community. Our school boards recognize that they are essential to the health and welfare of our schools and they do not assess them beyond their ability to pay. However, I do think that you do not recognize the actual fact when you say to me that your county does not tax machinery.

Mr. President, I know what is in the minds of some of these men. They believe, Mr. President, that when this bill is passed that industry is friendly enough in some of the Republican counties, and that they will not apply to the County Commissioners for a reduced tax assessment. However, Mr. President, if my industry is assessed at five millions of dollars out home before the passage of this bill, and then the County Commissioners do not reduce that industry after the passage of this bill, I believe, Mr. President, that I may, at my own discretion, go into the court of equity and demand a lower assessment upon that property. If the County Commissioners refuse on the grounds that I was assessed too low before, then, Mr. President, cannot the County Commissioners stand trial for giving special favors to special people? Have they assessed on an equalized basis? Have they assessed everybody on an equitable basis? If they have assessed some industries high and some industries low on their real estate, this bill, I think, will be exploited by many persons, including your humble servant.

I believe, Mr. President, that there will be many cases in Westmoreland County of industries which will demand a tax reduction, and if they get this tax reduction, and I know that our commissioners will have to give them the tax reduction, then, Mr. President, what happens to the homes in Westmoreland County? Do they or do they not have to take a greater share of the burden? Will they have to carry the share that is now paid by the industrial machinery which has replaced many men?

Oh, yes, I know that the more machinery that comes in, the more jobs are provided in the end, but in the meantime, Mr. President, is this economy of ours built up to benefit the machine or is it built up to benefit the man?

Ever since the beginning of time, Mr. President, man has struggled to make himself a better place in which to live and so he has developed and invented machinery. In all the instances, he has tried to develop and invent this machinery to turn it to his own good, but when that machinery becomes a burden on the body politic then I say to you, Mr. President, that the economy in which we live now will no longer be able to exist.

Mr. President, we have an example of the kind of government that does not tax machinery at all. Did any of you men in this room know that I recently took time to read "Soviet Russia, One-Sixth of the World's Power"? In this book, which was written by some churchman over in England,—the Dean of Canterbury, I think it was Dean Inge—Mr. President, it specifically states in this book that Russia does not tax machinery in any form whatsoever. No item of production is taxed under any consideration in Russia. They do not tax it, but they certainly tax the people. They certainly lay the burden on the shoulders of the workers and the toilers in the fields and in the mines and in the shops. Why, Mr. President? Because in Russia the machine is supreme, the State is supreme. The health and welfare of the State comes before the health and welfare of its people. We fight that philosophy, every one of us. We stand up and give lip service to this great America of ours. We stand up and talk about free enterprise. Is it a free enterprise of men or is it a free enterprise of machinery? Which is it, Mr. President? I would like to know.

Mr. President, the Republican Party then finds itself in a dilemma in the State of Pennsylvania. They find themselves in a dilemma right here in Harrisburg because they have committed themselves to a program of spending that is not backed up by a program of revenue and taxing. Now what are they going to do? Not being satisfied with the mess that we have here, they are going to spread the mess. Instead of having chaos only in Harrisburg, they would like to have it all over the State. They would like to have every little community in a chaotic condition. They want these communities to feel the problem that we have in Harrisburg. Here we are struggling day after day and night after night, trying to raise money, and these little contented communities are going about their business.

That can not happen, Mr. President. The Republican party cannot allow that to happen. They will have to see to it that the communities back home also get into a dilemma, also get into a chaotic state. The budgets are made up for these communities and so, Mr. President, next year when it comes time to make the budget up for the schools in the city of Erie, when it comes time to make up the budget in the city of Erie for the streets and so forth, they will have to search around for another form of taxation. They will have to find somewhere to put their fingers to get money. Then the wise men in Harrisburg will sit back and laugh because they will say, "Now you know what we went through in Harrisburg; now you see it is impossible to get money when you need it. So, do not blame us for not being able to handle the tax situation in Harrisburg. You are in the same dilemma and we put you there." That is exactly what is in the minds of a great many of these people.

Mr. President, it does not, however, work exactly like that. The people will be fooled part of the time, and part of the people will be fooled all of the time, but all of the people will not be folled all the time. Sooner or later, a great majority of the people in this Commonwealth are going to awaken to the fact that you just cannot pass punitive legislation.

Mr. President, the fact that makes this Legislation punitive is this. You recognize, you say, the problem in the city of Erie; that Erie is losing its industry, that Erie is losing its industry to the surrounding communities and, yet, Mr. President, Allegheny County taxes machinery, but you exempt Allegheny County. Are they different? Are the people in Allegheny different than the people up in Erie? Are the taxpayers in Erie to be condemned because they have to have a tax on machinery and the people in Pittsburgh are not to be condemned because they have a tax on machinery?

Mr. President, the weakness of the arguments in favor of this bill stand out so strongly that a blind man with his cane could feel the silhouette. I cannot understand how any normal person could sit is this Senate and intelligently vote for this piece of legislation, when you say on the one hand that it is unfair for the city of Erie to tax machinery but it is fair for Pittsburgh and Allegheny County.

Mr. President, where, oh where, do you get that kind of logic and make sense out of it? If it is wrong, it is wrong for all of the subdivisions of government. I heard it said here a minute ago that Philadelphia does not tax machinery.

Mr. President that is not true. They tax all the machinery in a building which would go with that building if there were a sale of that building. They tax the machinery that is attached to that particular industry, just the same as they tax a bathroom in a man's home. That is as true as I am standing here.

Mr. President, if you think some industry will not take advantage of it and say, "We were assessed so much before and we are entitled to a reduction now." If they do not get a reduction, then the commissioners or the taxing body is dishonest. If they say that twenty-five per cent of all the taxes levied in Westmoreland County come from machinery, how can they in clear conscience, how can the commissioners in good conscience, do other than reduce the assessment twenty-five per cent in any plant that carries machinery? When they reduce it twenty-five per cent, where is this county going to get money to meet its obligations? There can only be one answer, and that is it will fall on the home owners.

I have pointed out, Mr. President, during all the tax discussions in this Session of the Legislature and during the last Session of the Legislature, that the only taxes which have ever been talked about are the taxes that directly can be traced to the people. They are willing to pass a sales tax or an amalgamation of sales taxes so long as they hit the people. I still cannot understand why the welfare of the people should always come secondary to the welfare of industry.

Mr. President, they have two classes of people in this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Republican Party recognizes two classes of peoples They recognize the people who work in the factories and belong to unions and they say, "These are properly the subject of taxation." Then they recognize the farmer and the man who tills the soil and they say, "These peoples are a favorite few and are not a proper subject of taxation." We have had discussions about legislation that affects the farmer, and unanimously we always exempt the farmer wherever we can. Never have I heard, in all the years I have been here, one proposal from the Republican Party to exempt the man who stands up and toils at the mills and in the mines and in the shops, the producers of the great wealth of this Country of ours, the man who makes it prosperous also for the farmer.

So, Mr. President, if we are to agree here tonight that they have enough votes, and regardless of the arguments we make, they are going to pass this legislation, then I, for one, will say this to you. I am going to personally go before the Governor of the Commonwealth and point out to him the inequity of this legislation, the unfairness of this legislation, the diabolical scheme which plans to disrupt a good, honest, endeavoring county and many counties and communities in this State. I will ask him, as the Governor of this Commonwealth, forsworn to a public duty, to treat all of the citizens alike. So long as he is Governor of this Commonwealth, he cannot sign this legislation and make fowl out of the people of Westmoreland County and fish out of the people of another county Either this taxation or this bill is good for all of the peoples or it is no good for any of the peoples. So, upon that ground I stand.

Mr. President, I will personally go to him, representing the 312,000 people of Westmoreland County, and lay before him the facts in this case, because he is not going to get the facts if he reads the record from the other side. There are no facts that can ever sustain an argument which says that a tax is fair upon one and unfair upon another. You cannot place upon the home owner in Westmoreland County a burden that you are unwilling to place upon the home owner in Allegheny County. You cannot exempt the machinery in Westmoreland County and hope to steal the machinery from Allegheny County.

Mr. President, if what the gentleman from Meadville says is true, then I would say to the people of Westmoreland County, "Let us drive into Pittsburgh in droves; let us go in and talk to the people who own the industry in Allegheny County and say to them, 'Move out of this tax-heavy county Your machinery is taxed here. Move right across the border into Westmoreland; we do not tax your machinery'." So, what happens? If what he says is true, then there will be a grand exodus of industry out of Allegheny County over into Westmoreland. Then we will benefit. We will get the jobs; we will get the home.

Mr. President, is that the proper way to pass legislation? Is it proper to pass legislation that would, by any stretch of the imagination, benefit one community at the cost of another, at the expense of another? Is it proper to say to the people of Westmoreland County, the industry, "Although you are a competitive industry with an industry in Allegheny County, we are relieving your tax problem, but we are not going to relieve the tax problem of the industry that is your competitor in Allegheny County"? I think you know, Mr. President, since you are my neighbor, that there is nothing that separates your peoples and mine except an imaginary surveyor's line. So, it is not so long or hard for any individual industry to move across the so-called surveyor's line, and move into my county, and save all of these thousands of dollars. Let me explain to this Senate what I happen to know to be the truth.

Mr. President, this bill may have started up in Erie. However, it has gone far beyond the borders of the city of Erie. Right now, the prime movers for this legislation are a group of persons who own and operate in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania many, many institutions. Most of these institutions—for instance, let us take the proposition of not taxing any machinery, any of the facilities in a plant. As I understand it, and maybe I am wrong, some communities tax gasoline pumps. Now, Mr. President, they consider them as property, under the Real Estate Property Act. If these machines, or these pieces of equipment, are no longer taxable, then all that will be taxed in all of the gasoline filling stations in the Commonwealth will be nothing but the four cement block walls. Now, by any stretch of the imagination, you cannot put too much valuation upon those four, black concrete walls.

So, Mr. President, we find ourselves in the position where the gasoline service stations will probable be the biggest single beneficiaries under this act in the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The more little stations that a company handles, the more benefits they will receive.

Mr. President, I will tell you how it works. For instance, a man has a nice piece of ground and a very nice, proper place for a gasoline station. They come out and say to him, "If you will build a gas station on that property, we will give you a lease." The lease will be based upon the cost of construction, which they control. The taxes that you pay on that particular building and the insurance that you have to pay, including the interest on the money that it took to build it, are on a basis of about twelve per cent of the cost.

Mr. President, all of these gasoline companies have nothing in that building except four walls. If the individual builds the four walls, or three walls, because the front is usually a door, when he builds this simple little concrete block wall—and that is ninety per cent of the gas stations in Pennsylvania—the entire valuation of that property cannot be, in our county, over four or five hundred dollars. When the gasoline company comes in and places about eight to fifteen thousand dollars worth of machinery in there, then that site becomes a valuable real estate property. Under the law, that real estate property is then assessed somewhere near its value to the community, its value to its owner, its value to its operators. Pass this bill and the gasoline companies, who recently put more than one and nine-tenths cents on every gallon of gas being sold in Pennsylvania, will be the largest beneficiary under this act.

Mr. President, you can talk about your big industries. They know and I know that they are not going to go into Allegheny County and take the tax off of the blast furnaces, off the rolling mills. They know that they could not possibly do that. You would have a revolution of the little peoples if you tried to just tax the four walls of the Jones-Laughlin Steel Company, or the four walls of the Bessimer Plant at Johnstown. Mr. President, you cannot do that, but the little individual gasoline station will benefit to the tune of perhaps $150 or $200 in taxation. Multiply that by the thousands of gas stations and you will find the real secret of the push behind this piece of legislation.

Mr. President, I am telling you that that is the the gospel truth. I know what is behind it, and every fair-minded person in this room knows what is behind it. I know you are sitting over there smug, saying, "They are not going to reduce the tax out here at the Harrisburg Steel." No, because you know they are not going to do that because the plant itself is undertaxed as it is. It is under assessed. So, perhaps for a period of a year you may have some adjustment. However, in the end the assessing body can go out and raise the assessment on that Harrisburg Steel up to exactly where it is. That is the scheme behind it.

Mr. President, if that is true, then the argument of the Floor Leader on the other side falls flat on its face, because big industry will not benefit. Their tax assessments will not go lower, and I assure you that they cannot go lower without assessing the home owner. No County Commissioner worth his salt is going to take the assessment off of industry and put it on the small home owner if he can help it.

Mr. President, who is going to benefit with all of this talk which we are going through, all of this trouble we are going through, all of the chaotic conditions that you are going to arouse and create in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? The one single beneficiary who will gain a great deal in Pennsylvania is the gasoline station operator, chain operators in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Basically, that is the reason for the passing of this act of the Legislature. There is no other reason. Erie happens to be the scapegoat; Erie happens to be the alibi.

Mr. President, I assure you if they take that tax off in Erie, they will have to put it on real estate, and I do not think they will have the courage to do it in the end. They will raise the assessment of the real estate property itself, even if they take if off machinery. There may be some adjustment, and in Westmoreland County the commissioners will admit that they cannot add twenty-five per cent to the peoples' assessments in Westmoreland County and get away with it.

Mr. President, I might say to them publicly, too, this is the first time that the Republicans have been in power in twenty years in Westmoreland County, and I will assure them that if they put it all on the home owner, it will be the last time that they will be in for twenty years. They know it and I know it. They are not fools, they are intelligent men working for the benefit of their county and I doubt, unless they are taken to court, that there will be any tax relief whatsoever for any of the industries you are worrying about. However, I will assure you that the gasoline stations will get the relief; there will be no tax on the pumps; there will be no tax on the grease racks; there will be no tax on any of the equipment that is used in that gas station if you pass this bill. The beneficiaries will be, and I will repeat again and

I will be here two years from now to prove it, the biggest beneficiaries, if you pass this act, will be the gasoline stations, chain store operators, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I have said as much as I care to say. I know that no matter how many arguments I give you to the contrary, you are subscribed to vote for this legislation and you will vote for it. However, do not come to me, and I can say for my group over here, do not come to us and ask us for any votes to put any more taxes on the poor people and the home owners of Pennsylvania to balance your budget in Pennsylvania, because if you are going to stick this twenty-five per cent on my people in Westmoreland County, I will not sit idly by and pass any more taxes, regardless of the label you give them, if they are assessed against the peoples themselves in Westmorland County.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I really thought that the Republican Party had paid off their debt to oil when they gave them the $29,000,000,000 worth of oil off the coast of our Country.

Mr. President, I did not think that the Republican Party of Pennsylvania was going to go as low as they are now going in paying back the political donors, contributors, to their party fund. That is the only way in which you can describe this bill. It is giving back to the contributors the amount of money which they gave you to use in your election campaign over the last few years.

Mr. President, I have heard Senator Wade, Senator Hare and the Majority Leader, with tears in their eyes, speak about the poor school teachers in Pennsylvania. I heard them say that the school system would collapse if we did not give them the required amount of money that was necessary. Now I find these same gentlemen lined up to take away from the local school districts their source of income which has helped those schools get on their feet.

Mr. President, I believe that, as an Allegheny County representative, it would be very deceitful on my part if I should vote to take the taxes from machinery in other counties and not vote to take the taxes from machinery in my own county. I cannot grasp the reasoning here why you are willing to vote to take the taxes from machinery in other counties and leave our county go unscatched.

Mr. President, I want to draw particularly to the attention of the Members of our Senate from Allegheny County that we have two third class cities who advised us in 1951, when this bill was first considered, that if this bill passed as it is now they would lose the income from the tax on machinery in both Clairton and McKeesport.

Mr. President, I notice the gentleman from Erie is not present and I think Senator Blass is entitled to hear what I intend to say about Erie. Mr. President, is Senator Blass in the Senate Chamber?

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Allegheny suggest that I dispatch the Sergeant-at-Arms?

CALL FOR A QUORUM

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I note the lack of a quorum and I ask for a roll call.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the request for a call for a quorum.

The PRESIDENT. The request for a quorum having been called for by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland; the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska; the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko; and the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, the Clerk will call the roll on the quorum.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as being "present."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Erie will be so recorded.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as being "present."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as being "present."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Monroe will be so recorded.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as being "present."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND, Mr. HALUSKA, Mr. YOSKO and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

PRESENT—41

Bane,	Hare,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Barr,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Toole,
Berger,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,
Blass,	Lane,	Miller,	Wagner,
Camiel,	Leader,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Crowe,	Letzler,	Peelor,	Walker,
Dent,	Madigan,	Propert,	Watson,
Diehm,	Mahany,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Silvert,	Wolfe,
Freed,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,	Yosko,
Haluska,

The PRESIDENT. The roll having been called and 41 Senators having answered "Present," the Chair declares a quorum to be present.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Senator Mahany, is the Talon Company one of those companies which are complaining about taxes?

Mr. MAHANY. They are not complaining, Senator; they have left the city, I understand.

Mr. HOLLAND. They left the city?

Mr. MAHANY. That is right.

Mr. HOLLAND. What other company was complaining about taxes?

Mr. MAHANY. I think it was the Resistor Corporation. I had them here; there was the Read-Standard and the Erie Resistor.

I might sum it up by saying that since this machinery tax went into effect, Senator, there has not been one new industry come into Erie, but several have left.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Crawford.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Senator Mahany, how long after the taxes were placed upon machinery did these people leave?

Mr. MAHANY. Very shortly thereafter. Perhaps Senator Blass would know more about that local situation than I do, as to the length of time. I know they have gone but just when they went, I cannot answer that. It was shortly after this machinery tax went into effect up there.

Mr. HOLLAND. How long has the tax been on?

Mr. MAHANY. A couple of years, I guess; since 1950.

Mr. HOLLAND. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Senator Blass, when did they begin taxing machinery in Erie?

Mr. BLASS. Since 1950, and ever since then the industries have been leaving Erie and a great many of them haxe expressed their intention so to do.

I want to tell the Senator from Allegheny that it has cost the city of Erie all of the expansion program of the General Electric Company, it lost the Erie Resistor to the State of Mississippi and I have in my hands a number of notations that unless some remedy is offered, they are going to seek their fields elsewhere.

Mr. HOLLAND. Senator, are you aware that if this tax is taken away from industry, it will have to go on the home owners of Erie?

Mr. BLASS. The result is so small, the amount is so small, so far as the amount of money which has to be raised by the two municipal subdivisions, that there is a very great chance of having that acquired elsewhere without any serious inconvenience and without discommoding anybody.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. If this amount is so small, why did the companies object?

Pardon me, Mr. President, I will put my question another way. Can you tell me how much more in percentage did the industry of Erie have to pay when the tax was placed under the 1950 Act?

Mr. BLASS. I think there is about two hundred and some thousand dollars figured by the school district, and apparently it would not be much more than that for the city of Erie itself.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, what was the assessed valuation of the real estate of the companies involved? This is very important in proportion to this tax.

Mr. BLASS. I cannot tell you that.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I think this matter should lie over until the gentleman from Erie gets that information.

Mr. BLASS. I will be very glad, Senator, to read to you—

Mr. HOLLAND. Will you agree to hold this over until we get that information?

Mr. BLASS. No, I have no control over holding this over. This is up here for action today, and I think that this is the time to decide it.

I would like to read the amount—

Mr. HOLLAND. I write those letters myself, you know. The letters which you get from these corporations are all the same. They are always growling about taxes, and you are growling about taxes on your brewery, too.

Mr. BLASS. I have no discussion along that line, Senator, but I do have a very important notation which appeared in the Erie Times in connection with a letter from the Hammermill Paper Company, and I would like to read that to you, which is self-explanatory on the situation as it exists.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, unless the gentleman from Erie has the information pertaining to the difference between the taxes before and after this bill was passed, his speech does not pertain to the point about which we are now arguing. We are arguing about the terrible increase in taxation on these corporations.

Do you have in your possession the difference between before and after taxes?

Mr. BLASS. Here is a Western Union telegram, which I think answers your question. It says that they have quoted the city assessor as saying that $71,000,000 was the Erie City assessment on industry and that includes $32,000,000 on machinery, leading to the conclusion that the city would base the latter amount as the tax base. On questioning, he has now admitted to me that much of the value included in machinery is attributable to structures which always have been and would still be taxable as real estate in the absence of a so-called machinery tax. For instance, he admits "large structures of local blast furnace and pulp digesters of paper mill are now classified as machinery though always formerly assessed as real estate. The obvious inference is that the opposition is padding its figures of magnitude of loss of tax base and that perhaps $10,000,000 of so-called machinery would still be taxable."

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, that will be all. I am glad that the gentleman brought that point out and I hope that Senator Dent was listening, because Senator Dent just made the statement stating that. According to your telegram, your telegram states that after this bill is passed, the city of Erie is still going to tax the blast furnaces and other equipment of the different corporations. Is that right?

Mr. BLASS. The tax would still remain on that portion of the machinery which, in law, is the cost of the real estate and is always known in the law to be a part thereof.

What we are complaining about in Erie, and what they should complain about all over the State, is that if they enforce the present act in other portions of the State, they would tax not only that portion of the machinery which is always part of the real estate and taxable assets, but all of the loose personal property would be classified as real estate and this would be unfair and very discriminating, particularly when it applies only to the manufacturer and does not apply to the person who operates a truck or to a railroad which operates certain cars and engines on the grounds of the manufacturing plant. It is a discrimination against the manufacturer, and so to show the gentleman from Allegheny—

Mr. HOLLAND. Just one minute, I wonder if the gentleman knows that the former Mayor of the city of Erie, Mr. Barber, came down to this Legislature a number of times to have the real estate of the utilities in Erie taxed. I have never heard it said that they were getting a free ride in the county of Erie and I have yet to find—I am further interrogating you.

Mr. BLASS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. HOLLAND. You can interrogate me when you get the floor. Thank you for taking up so much time. I appreciate it.

Mr. President, Mr. Barber came down here and appeared at a public hearing on a bill which I had introduced way back in 1937, 1939, 1941, 1943 and so forth, in which we tried to tax the real estate of utilities in Pennsylvania. At that time, Mr. Barber was very emphatic in having this legislation passed. I am very much surprised that the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass, had not continued the fight made by Mr. Barber, who is a part of the Administration in Harrisburg today.

Mr. President, let us get back to the story about the blast furnaces and so forth. I think Senator Dent pointed out very clearly that behind this are the oil interests. We all know that the oil interests of Pennsylvania have always been very good contributors to the Republican Party, especially one which has a very pleasant lobbyst in Harrisburg. I believe they have done a magnificent job in trading off votes for bills among those who have received political donations from them to get support for this bill.

Mr. President, the reason I am surprised at Senator Blass is that he does not insist that every county in the State of Pennsylvania should go along with his idea. Why does he exclude Allegheny County, and why does he not demand, if he is such a great believer in this excluding machinery, that these bills be amended.

I would like to ask another question of the gentleman from Erie and, since he is an attorney, I would like to have a "yes" or "no" answer.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass?

Mr. HOLLAND. Yes, Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I certainly will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. I do not ask for an explanation; I only ask for a "yes" or "no." Will you agree to extend you bill to all sixty-seven counties?

Mr. BLASS. The bill, as I get it, is extended from the fourth to the eighth class counties, under House Bill No. 574. The other bill covers cities, boroughs and so forth.

Mr. HOLLAND. Why will you not extend this to all the counties?

Mr. BLASS. It is at the present time.

Mr. HOLLAND. Is Allegheny County in this bill?

Mr. BLASS. No, because they have their own Second Class County Code.

Mr. HOLLAND. That is all I wish to know, Mr. President.

Mr. President, it seems to me that Erie is the only place that wants help with the exception, of course, that the oil company is given a good break. I agree with Senator Dent that the pumping stations in most of these places are at very valuable corners and the real estate they build, that is the buildings, will be of very cheap material and will not get a large assessment. When you take the pumps and the grease racks out, they will get by with a very small amount of money.

Mr. President, I do think that the Senate is demonstrating, by this bill, that the thinking of the Republican Party has never changed from the days of Hoover. I think that there may have been at some time a burst of progressiveness, but it was soon lost in the light of the reflection from the dollar bill. They are again back in the same old thinking, that industry should get everything and the people should get what is left over.

Mr. President, we all know that industry today requires very well educated people, because in machinery today the man's hands and mind must work together. That is one of the reasons why we have been ahead of the iron curtain countries. Even Russia recognizes the fact that education must come before great productivity. Here is industry, saying to the people of Pennsylvania, "We want the best in education you can give us, but don't you let us pay for it. We are not the party to pay for the cost of education, although we require this education to have greater productivity and to make larger profits."

Mr. President, I am sorry that the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany, did not get the financial report of these corporations, which left. As far as G. E. is concerned, I do not think the statement he made is true, because G. E. had no plans and they had reasons for not having plans for expansion in Erie County.

Mr. President, Senator Blass, in one of his arguments, stated that he knew—I think Senator Mahany said it—that the workers up there were all in favor of taking the tax from real estate. That is not true. If they would understand how an industrial union council functions, they would find out that no industrial union council could put their name to this bill unless they had a vote of the workers affected. Each labor union in Erie County has delegates, elected by the rank and file, to the Erie Industrial Union Council. They would have to have a meeting of both their executive board and the members of the council before they could have inserted in the Erie newspapers this advertisement.

Therefore, Mr. President, I can say to Senator Mahany, without fear of contradiction, that the workers in Erie are not in favor of freeing the machinery of these corporations from taxation. When one segment of society does not pay their share of taxation, the other segment must not only bear their rightful share but also bear the share of the other segment which is so excused.

Mr. President, I believe that inasmuch as we do not have this information on the differences in taxes between what was paid from the time the tax was placed and today, we cannot intelligently vote on this bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. HOLLAND. Therefore, Mr. President, I move that this bill be sent back to the committee from which it originated for a public hearing and for reports from the assessing bodies of Erie, Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to oppose the motion and ask by colleagues to vote "no" on it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and Mr. LANE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—12

Camiel,	Lane,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Leader,	Ruth,	Toole,
Holland,	McCreesh,	Silvert,	Yosko,

NAYS—29

Berger,	Harney,	Mallery,	Taylor,
Blass,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Wade,
Chapman,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Walker,
Crowe,	Kopriver, Jr.	Miller,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Letzler,	Peelor,	Watson,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Propert,	Wolfe,
Freed,	Mahany,	Stevenson,	Wood,
Hare,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am firm in my conviction that the Members of the Senate should have the reports from the assessing and taxing bodies of Erie so that they can vote intelligently on this bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I request that the Majority Leader request this information from the proper authorities in Erie County, and I now move that this bill be placed on the Postponed Calendar; that is, House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226.

The PRESIDENT. On the Third Reading Postponed Calendar?

Mr. HOLLAND. Yes, on the Third Reading Postponed Calendar.

Mr. LANE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I really realize now that there must be some powerful influence back of thi bill. I believe it has the dollar mark on it.

VOICE FROM FLOOR. Right.

Mr. HOLLAND. We all know that that is the god of the Republican Party.

VOICE FROM FLOOR. Right.

Mr. HOLLAND. I am very glad that my colleague an County Commissioner of Allegheny County, who also represents a third class city affected by this bill, has answered me by saying "right" every time I make a statement.

Mr. President, I still have the floor and I believe the gentleman from Allegheny County is out of order. The gentleman from Allegheny County I think has been very strict as a disciplinarian when he has been in the Chair, in keeping order, and I think that when he is not in the Chair, he should act accordingly—not do as I bid you, but do as he should do—in conformity with the Rules of the Senate. This is not a playful issue; this is an issue which affects the pocketbooks of the people of Pennsylvania. I do not think it should be made into a joke by wise answers and cracks by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

Mr. President, it is the same old story which we have heard here over the years. In my twenty years here in Harrisburg, I have seen the story re-enacted until we have the people of the State losing their confidence and faith in the people in government. The only people who are not represented here are the little men, who have a mortgage on a home and who have kids in public school. These are the people who are going to be hurt by this bill. This is going to disrupt your school system in all the counties where machinery is considered as part of the real estate. The school system is going to be hurt. Next to that, the little home owner is going to be hurt more, because he is going to have his taxes raised.

Mr. President, I am very much surprised to hear the gentleman from Erie practically state that he knew the taxes in Erie were going to be raised, but he said it was going to be of such an infinitesimal amount. Will it be an infinitesimal amount, in his eyes, to the man who owns real estate? Why is it an infinitesimal amount to the man who has millions in profit out of industries like the General Electric in Erie? It is surprising that he always becomes alarmed when we feel that the vested interests are going to be taxed. He has no alarm for the little home owners in the city of Erie or in the counties affected.

I say to you, Mr. President, this is one of the reasons why there arises in America movements from time to time which doubt government, which doubt the honesty of people in government, and which think that legislation goes to the highest bidder. That is why people are difficult to get to the polls any more, because they say, "Why vote? We are not represented either in Harrisburg or in Washington." It goes on and on.

Mr. President, I say legislation of this type is bad. It is breaking down our form of government; it is showing the people of Pennsylvania that they have no lobby here. The big oil company is well represented; the manufacturers are well represented. They have plenty of money to entertain; they have plenty of money to spend around election day. The little man who owns a home is not here. He is absent.

Therefore, Mr. President, I sincerely hope that the Republican Party will reconsider the whip that was put upon them in their Caucus, when they were whipped into line. A number of the Members on the other side told me personally that they were going to vote against this bill, but had to change their minds. Who had the whip? Who was talking to the leaders of the Republican Party? Somewhere and some way this has been done.

I say to you, Mr. President, if this bill is passed, it is only further proof that in Pennsylvania, under the Republican Party, legislation is offered to the highest bidder.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I am very much perturbed about the last remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

Mr. President, if there was ever a champion of the workmen in Erie, the Senator from Erie was one. I am concerned about these bills for the future of the workmen in the city of Erie. If the developments of the last two years are continued for any further length of time, I would rather, indeed, pay a small increased local tax rather than have the workmen of the city of Erie deprived of a place to work.

Mr. President, I feel very confident that that will happen if this machinery tax is not removed from industry in the city of Erie, in order to keep industry in that city and keep that city progressive both for industry and for labor. My vote did not come from the manufacturing industry in the city of Erie, and the gentleman from Allegheny knows that. It came from the workmen, and it is from the standpoint of the workmen that I am concerned because if they do not have any place to work, then there is no chance for their future.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, although the hour is late and I am tired, like I suppose everybody else in the Senate, I must rise to oppose this bill. I must rise to oppose it because, first, I believe it will adversely affec' the county in which I live, which is a fourth class county, and, second, because I believe it will adversely affect the State of Pennsylvania as a whole.

Mr. President, I called the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of my county about this bill. Everybody in this Senate Chamber is acquainted with him. He is a Republican and his name is Norman Peil. I asked him to make a list of all of the industries in Northampton County, and I might say now that Northampton County is blessed with industry and I am happy about it. I asked him to prepare a list of all of the industries in Northampton County and the amount of the assessments against those industries. Mr. Peil said he would prepare such a list for me, but unfortunately it was not delivered to me before I left Bethlehem for this session.

Mr. President, I also asked Mr. Peil what he thought of this bill, and Mr. Peil replied that he thought it was a terrible bill and should be defeated. I asked Mr. Peil further whether machinery in industry in Northamptor County was assessed and he said as such it is not assessed but it figures, he supposed, in an assessment. I then asked him whether, if the bill were passed, it was possible that numerous appeals could or would be taken from assessments that were made, and he said that that possibility existed because if an assessor, when making an assessment, would assess on the bais of an empty building, he certainly would not give the ame value to the building that he would give to it with machinery in it, so that indirectly the assessment against a building with machinery in it does figure in the assessment.

Mr. President, those who have industrial plants could, if this bill were passed, say that the assessment made against the building was too high because the machinery was considered. That being true, I have a right to say that this bill, if it is passed, would adversely affect the school districts, as well as the local municipalities in the county in which I live and the county which I represent.

This bill, Mr. President, as I understand it, was presented to the Legislature at the last Session and it was defeated in the House. However, those interested in the enactmnt of this bill, and I do not believe it was the local citizens of Erie, did not quit. They arranged to introduce this bill again at this Session.

Mr. President, I will now, for the record, give a little history of it. This bill was introduced in the House by Mr. Waterhouse on March 9, 1953, and was referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations. On April 28, it was reported from committee as amended. On May 4, it passed first reading. On May 5, it passed second reading. It passed third reading, with amendments, on May 11, and when it came up for final passage on May 13, it was defeated by a vote of 102 to 95. In other words, it was shy three of the needed votes.

Mr. President, those interested in the bill did not quit there. Senator No. 51 and Senator No. 52 got busy. One represents the railroads and the other represents the oil people, and they tell me that they were busy over in the House from May 13, when the bill was defeated, up until the time it was passed. The lobbyists resurrected the bill, because it was reconsidered on May 20, postponed for the present on May 20, the time extended five days which gave the lobbyists their time to work and to make their contacts—Senators No. 51 and 52—and then it passed finally on June 10 by 107 to 91.

In other words, Mr. President, in the first attempt it was licked by three votes and the second attempt was successful by two votes. That is the history of it. Since Senators No. 51 and 52, considering whom they represent, are so anxious to have this bill passed and have so great an interest in it, I am convinced that the issue is not Erie County, but the issue is the entire State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, sources of taxation are more or less exhausted, as I will point out a little bit later, so these lobbyists, fearful of the fact that perhaps a tax would be levied against them on a State-wide basis, wanted to make sure that it did not happen and, hence, this bill.

Mr. President, I do not blame Senator Blass to a certain extent for being for this bill because he represents Erie County, but those of us who are here must consider legislation not as it affects one municipality but the question is, "How does it affect the State as a whole?" What is best for the State; not what is best for a local municipality. At least, that is what I was told when I stood before this microphone at the 1949 Session when I fought a bill which destroyed a series of homes down in the city of Easton. I was told, "Sure, it will affect the people in your area, but we have to consider this as an over-all picture. We have to figure on the people as a whole over the State," and the bill was passed. If that was true then, it should be true now.

Mr. President, the fact that this is a local issue was made clear by Senator Mahany when, in his remarks, he outlined how a tax on machinery affects the city of Erie. He did not mention any other county, any other municipality in Pennslyvania. He confined it to Erie. If I know anything about politics, gentlemen, then I will say that if it is a local issue it should be decided locally and has no business here. How do you decide local issues locally? You decide them at the polls.

Mr. President, I understand the Democrats are in power in the city of Erie and that the Democrats levied this tax on machinery. If my memory serves me correctly, Senator Blass said that the tax was levied in 1950. We had an election in 1951, and we had another one in 1952 and we have an election there now. If the tax was unjust, if the tax was unpopular, if the tax was detrimental to a majority of the people in the city of Erie, then it should have been made an issue, an issue by candidates who would be against that tax, and submitted to the people at the polls and let the people decide. I understand, however, that even though the tax was levied three years ago, the Democrats are still in power and the Democrats levied the tax. I still say it is a local issue, and it should be decided locally and has no business here if it is strictly a local issue.

Mr. President, as I said before, since Senator No. 51 and Senator No. 52 are interested, I am convinced that it is not local. It is State-wide; that is what it is.

Mr. President, Senator Mahany said that its affect on industry may drive industry out of Pennsylvania. Members of this Senate and, Mr. President, every time a tax is proposed against industry it is the same old cry, "You will drive industr out of Pennslvania." However, when the time comes to take credit for the prosperit of Pennsylvania and the great industrial expansion, the Republican Party never hesitates to take credit for it.

Mr. President, I am going to read to you a portion of the speech delivered by Governor Fine on January 6, 1953, when this Legislature convened. This is what he said about industry in Pennsylvania and the prosperity it was enjoying. I quote from his speech:

"Our people's income and their employment have been gratifyingly high. A record number of new businesses and industries have come into the State. Industries already here have greatly expanded. In consequence, Pennsylvania has achieved economic progress far above the national average."

Does that look like we are driving industry out of Pennsylvania, Mr. President? Why, of course, it does not.

"In 1951 and again in 1952, Pennsylvania ranked first in the Nation in expenditures for construction, expansion, ad equipment of industrial plants."

Does that sound like we are driving industry out of Pennsylvania, Mr. President? Why, of course, it does not.

Then, Mr. President, the Governor goes on and he says:

"Nearly two and one-half billion dollars of new capital investment came into Pennsylvania in 1951. This amount went into 677 new or expanded industries and furnished close to 152,000 new jobs."

Does that look like industry is being driven out of Pennsylvania? Of course, it does not, Mr. President. It is just the opposite.

Then the Governor goes on and he says:

"Comparable figures for 1952 are not presently available, but for the first nine months of last year some 420 new industries added to Pennsylvania's industrial growth. Just how much money is involved and how many new jobs have been furnished from this source in 1952 is unavailable at this time."

Does that apear to you, Mr. President, as though industry is being driven from Pennsylvania? Of course, it does not.

"Pennsylvania is the only State in the Nation with a recent record of new manufacturing plant construction in every one of the 20 major classifications of American industry. It has been and still is the greatest single contributor among the States to national defense."

Does hat appear as though industry is being driven out of Pennsylvania, Mr. President? Why, of course, it does not..

"Our story of industrial growth is unmatched elsewhere in the Nation. It easily eclipses all previous Pennsylvania records." That was prior to the time this tax was levied in Erie.

Does that appear as though we are driving industry out of Pennsylvania, Mr. President? Of course, it does not.

Then, Mr. President, the Governor goes on to say:

"This most gratifying story in some measure is the result of administrative as well as legislative energy and cooperation in making Pennsylvania bigger and better.

"We have been as economically minded as time and the governmental structure we found under an outmoded Constitution permitted. We propose to be even more economically minded during he remainder of our tenure of office. There is much to be done and in so far as the executive branch of your government can accomplish it, it will be done."

Mr. President, I would like to know what was done during the six months we have been in Session to effect any economy. Members of this Senate, we talk and talk and talk about taxes, and I want to read from the Republican Platform on taxes, and it has to do with his problem. Under "Taxation" in the Republican Platform, which is listed in the Legislative Journal, Volume 32, No. 1, this is what the Republican Party said about taxes:

"Taxes, if needed to provide for the internal security of the Commonwealth and for the general welfare," and the general welfare takes in all of the State, "of all of the people of Pennsylvania, will be levied without placing undue burdens upon any group or class."

Mr. President, is this bill in conformity with that platform pledge? Why, of course, it is not.

Mr. President, as has been so ably stated here this afternoon by many of those who preceded me, if this tax is removed and abolished from industry which is enjoying the greatest prosperity that it has ever enoyed over a period of years, according to your own Governor, the tax will have to be placed, as was stated before, on the small home owner.

Here in this Legislature, Mr. President, we have what we call a Local Government Commission, and the members of that Local Government Commission are appointed to help solve the problems of local governments. Each of the gentlemen on that committee worked hard and conscientiously and, I believe, are conscientious legislators. How they could, in the face of what will happen if this bill is passed, vote for this bill is beyond me. We have a Joint State Government Commission, set up to study the problems of not only the State government but the local governments as well. How any member of the Joint State Government Commission would vote for this bill is beynd me. What effect will this bill have if it is passed, and let us take it right into the city of Erie?

Mr. President, I received just one letter for this bill,—none other from any person, group or organization in the city of Erie—and that was the Chamber of Commerce. I do not have to tell you who the Chamber of Commerce represents. The membership of the Chamber of Commerce is industry, and, naturally, industry would go to the Chamber of Commerce and say, "Write a letter and oppose this bill," and that is what they have to do and that is what they do.

Mr. President, let us take one of the other organizations which is State-wide and which depends on taxes for existence. Such an organization is the school directors, the school directors who are responsible for the education and welfare of the children of this Commnwealth, and what do they say? Do they say, "Pass this bill"? Of course, they do not, and I want to read, first, a letter from the School District of Erie. This is what it says, and I quote. It is dated July 2, and it is addressed to me. It says:

"Dear Sir:

"Subject: House Bills Nos. 573 and 574 introduced by Representative Waterhouse.

"The Board of School Directors of the City of Erie is seriously concerned with these bills since they will eliminate the assessment of machinery in the City of Erie, a source which provides the School District"—mind you, the school district which is responsible for the education of thousands of children—"with $270,000.00 per annum, this at a time when our district is hard pressed financially.

"At the regular meeting held on May 13, 1953, the Board went on record as opposing adoption of these bills since they are particularly injurious in our case.

"We, therefore, respectfully urge that you vote against passage of these bills when presented for your consideration.

"Very truly yours,

"/s/ A. P. Logan
"A. P. Logan
"Secretary and Business Manager."

Mr. President, that is what the educational force in the city of Erie thinks about this bill. Are we going to think about that group, or are we going to think about he group that Senators No. 51 and No. 52 represent, the special interests? If you do, I will tell you now that you are going to make a big mistake. I do not care what caucus action you took; you had better reconsider that caucus action, because these bills are adverse to the best interests of the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, let me read another letter which I received from the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association. Let us see what they have to say about these bills. Let us see what effect these bills will have upon the financial aspects of these local districts. This letter is dated June 20, 1953. It is a communication to the Members of the Senate. It is from the Pennsylvania School Directors Association, P. O. Van Ness, Executive Secretary, and the subject is House Bills No. 573 and No. 574, machinery assessment bills. The letter reads and I quote:

"This is to advise you that the Pennsylvania State School Directors' Association and their Legislative Committee believe that House Bills No. 573 and No. 574, which would exclude machinery of mills and manufacturers from assessment, except in Allegheny County, would reduce the assessment valuation in school districts to the point that many of them would be unable to operate and would become distressed school districts. These bills are on Senate 1st reading calendar."

Today, they are on the Third Reading Calendar, Mr. President.

"Hundreds of school districts are now taxed to the limit. Many of them have obligations of new buildings to meet as well as mandated increases in teachers' salaries together with many other increased costs. Their budgets have been set up depending on a tax assessment which includes machinery as a part of real estate. We are advised in one industrial city that an assessment of ten million dollars is made on a plant, six million dollars of which is machinery. If these bills become law, this would reduce their assessment of this one plant alone sixty per cent.

"It should be noted that many school systems must employ more teachers, build more new buildings and carry a much larger budget because the companies who own machinery equipment have brought workers of child-bearing age into the community. It does not appear, then, quite fair, that this tax exemption should be permitted.

"The State School Directors' Association requests your protection of the School Districts of Pennsylvania from the staggering blow which they will receive if House Bills No. 573 and No. 574 should become law.

"Sincerely yours,
"/s/ P. O. Van Ness
"P. O. Van Ness
"Executive Secretary."

This letter, in itself Mr. President and Members of this Senate, should defeat this bill. However, there is one thing which I have noticed since these bills have been pending, and that is the lack of activity on the part of the Pennsylvania Education Association which has its offices here in the city of Harrisburg. There are numerous bills that affect the financial condition of school districts, and the educational system generally, which concern these genlemen who have approached me from time to time to support or to oppose the bills affecting the educatinal system of Pennsylvania, but not one has accosted me on these bills. Could it be that Senators No. 51 and No. 52 got to that group, too?

Mr. President, I am going to go back to Erie County County for just a little bit. This bill was debated in the House and I am going to read, as a part of my remarks, the remarks which were made by Assemblyman Polaski of, I believe the city of Erie. Anyway, he represents Erie County. I quote from the Legislative Journal, Volume 33, No. 39.

Mr. Polaski stated:

"Mr. Speaker, the net effect of House Bills 573 and 574 is to outlaw the machinery tax in Erie, although from a cursory examination of the two bills one would gather that they apparently deal with Erie County.

"Bills 573 and 574 will deprive the City of Erie of $105 thousand in taxes for the remainder of the year and the school district of the City of Erie of $135 thousand for the last six months of this year.

"In 1954 and every year thereafter, if these bills are enacted into law, the City of Erie will lose $210 thousand and the school district of the City of Erie will lose $270 thousand. The bills go into effect July 1st of this year and will force the city and school district to resort to bank loans.

"Since under Act 481 the wage tax in Erie is limited to one percent, the elimination of the machinery tax will be about a fifteen percent increase in the real estate tax for the city and the school district.

"This will work an undue hardship on the small home owner who has already received a higher city tax and a higher school tax bill for 1953 as a result of a new triennial assessment. The same small home owner has been paying the new quarterly sewer rental bill and of course as a wage earner he has been paying a one percent city wage tax since 1949.

"I would not be here opposing these bills were it not for the fact that the small home owner has been hit so hard this year. Even Republican Councilman Kenneth Momeyer has stated publicly that the effect of the new assessmenti fn Erie should not have been to place the greatest burden on the small taxpayer in Erie.

"Much has been said about how unfair the machinery tax is, yet each of us would have to admit privately that stationary machinery is the only conceivable part of a plant capable of producing a profit. The stone, the mortar, the brick merely provide shelter for the machinery. Were this not true, this old law would not be on the statutes for these many years.

"Even my colleague has admitted in the local press that in many communities in our country and in the state the assessment of machinery is not itemized separately but is included as a part of the assessment on the building.

"We in Erie prefer to itemize the machinery tax rather than to hide it like a federal processing tax. The machinery tax in Erie is assessed only on stationary machinery bolted to or cemented in the floor. Office equipment jitneys or portable equipment are not included in the assessment.

"It has been said that the machinery tax will drive industry out of Pennsylvania. If that be the case I am surprised that the sponsor has included an amendment in one of these two bills which exempts Allegheny County from the provisions of these bills. Does the machinery tax levied in Erie fall with any heavier impact on the industry in Erie than on the industry in Allegheny County?

"Incidentally the same assessing firm from Ohio, which assessed the Erie machinery has been continuously assessing the machinery for the Commisioners of Allegheny County for the past several years.

"Those who look upon Bills 573 and 574 as an Erie problem will shortly be confronted with a new set of bills taking away from Allegheny County the privilege of assessing machinery.

"This session is not over yet. There has been no deadline set for introduction of bills In the final outcome the elimination of the machinery tax either in Erie or elsewhere should not be construed by us as a 100 percent saving to the manufacturer.

"Let us take a hypothetical case. Suppose you pay a machinery tax of $1,000 to the City of Erie. This is included as a deduction on your income tax return. If you do not have to pay the machinery tax to Erie and your profits are under $25 thousand you pay about $300 of this $1,000 net profit as income tax.

"If your profit is over $25,000 you pay approximately 52 percent of this $1,000 that you did not have to pay as machinery tax in the city of Erie to the Federal government.

"To a certain degree, therefore, the question of paying or not paying the machinery tax in Erie is a choice between investing the tax money in your local community to help pay for local city services and to help support education locally or paying a smaller amount to the federal government in the form of income tax on net profit or tax on excess profits.

"Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, we have been here four and a half months and we have failed to solve our own state fiscal problems. If we cannot solve our own fiscal problems, why should we by our votes help to corrupt the financial problems of our political subdivisions back home?

"I now wish to read some communications from several organizations which are vitally interested in the provisions of these two bills.

"The Erie Central Labor Union urges you to vote against House Bills 573 and 574. Erie Central Labor Union—Alton Ross, Corresponding Secretary.

" 'The City of Erie Improvement League, representing some four thousand members, urges that you do not support House Bills 573 and 574. The United States Supreme Court has upheld the machinery tax and we feel it should be left that way.

" 'The State Federation of Labor is on record against these two bills and respectfully urges you to vote against House Bills 573 and 574. Positive action would shift tax burden to those least able to pay. Present method of taxation is based on actual property value and is only method on which taxes should be levied. Pennsylvania CIO Council—Harry Block, Secretary.

" 'Seven hundred teachers of Erie ask you to help defeat House Bills 573 and 574, which would cost Erie $270,000 in loss of revenue aid and the school districts slightly lower. Dr. R. Nelson Hale, President, Erie Branch PSEA, 27 W. 33rd, Erie, Pa.'

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that in view of the fact, that we are already placing in Erie an undue burden on the small home owner by the new triennial assessment, by the city wage tax and by the new sewer rental levy, I hope reason will prevail in this House and that our two valuable subdivisions back home will not be forced to go to the banks for loans."

Mr. President, that is a sound argument against these bills. There is considerable opposition to them, as was indicated by Mr. Polaski in his speech before the Members of the House.

Mr. President, I want to read another speech made by Mr. McCann on the same bills. Mr. McCann said, and I quote:

"Mr. Speaker, coming from a sixth class county, a rural county, that has installations of the large washer type pertaining to coal mines, in our county and in many of the other counties in this Commonwealth the assessed valuations of those installations on the tax books are partly based upon the equipment that is in that installation.

"As I see this bill—and I have read it very very carefully—I am very fearful that this is not the type of legislation that will do my county or any other county in this state any good in settling their very serious assessment problems.

"At the present time we are engaged in a contract with the same concern that assessed Allegheny County. We are spending $100,000 to assess these very installations. When I speak of installations. I talk of United States Steel, Jones and Laughlin, Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel Corporation, Hillman Coal and Coke, Youngstown Sheet and Coke—concerns of that type, large concerns."

Mr. President, may I deviate from the quote from Mr. McCann? Just reading that passage alone is. perhaps, ar indication why Senators No. 51 and No. 52 engineered the passage of this bill in the House after it was first defeated. Getting back to Mr. McCann's speech, he continues:

"We endeavor to increase the assessed valuation of those buildings, contending full well that the machinery is the main part of the building around which the building is designed and built. We have a part of that assessment. We contend we do not have the right amount of it.

"Coming from an area that is part rural and is developing into a field that will be some day a great industrial center of our state, I ask that those of you who come from areas such as I do stand up, regardless of the party or the side of the House that you are on, and stick to the fact that you must include in the assessed valuation of an installation that is wholly designed and built for a specific purpose, that you must assess a building that cost $100,000 and have therein $1 million worth of permanent machinery to operate it at a total cost of a million and one quarter dollars for installation and building.

"For that reason, Mr. Speaker I urge all of the Members of this House to go on record and oppose this bill for the sake of the future as well as the present on our justified taxation program that we must meet at home.

"This bill does not pertain to Erie, it pertains to every county in Pennsylvania except Allegheny. Therefore it covers all of us except Allegheny County.

"I think you should take time to read carefully and to think what can happen in your own community, in your own township, what can happen to your school program that has an assessed valuation basis, the money that you get there, as well as your county. Yes, you can go to court. You can go to court if you desire, but you and I agree—as we all must eventually agree—that the assessed valuations of those installations must be brought into consideration with the machinery as well as the building.

"I would like to state, Mr. Speaker, that I believe all the Members of this House should give full support to my stand and oppose the bill."

Those speeches rere made, Mr. President, by Mr. McCann and Mr. Polaski on May 13, the date the bill was first defeated. As I said before, after its defeat, Senators Nos 51 and 52 got on the job. They had the bill resurrected and finally put it across by two votes.

Then, Mr. President, another debate took place on these bills when they came up for final passage on June 10, 1953, when they passed the House by a vote of 107 to 91. I want to read the speech that was made by Mr. Polaski on that date. I quote from Volume 33, No. 49, of the Legislative Journal.

Mr. Polaski is speaking:

"Mr. Speaker, bills similar to House Bill 573 and House Bill 574 were recommitted in the session of 1951. The 1953 bills differ from the 1951 bills in that they now exempt Allegheny County. For some reason or other Allegheny County can do no wrong to Pennsylvania industry while Erie appears to be the only guilty culprit. The bills have the meek appearance of a lamb while they possess the potential treachery of a Rocky Mountain lion.

"House bills 573 and 574 are very broad and all-inclusive in their application. They affect fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class counties as well as certain smaller political subdivisions in those counties.

"While at present these bills affect only the city of Erie and Allegheny County, all the counties and subdivisions mentioned in House Bill 574 would never be able to use this kind of levy if they should find themselves in a sudden financial predicament.

"Outlawing this kind of levy would be analogous to outlawing Bill 481 from now on for those political subdivisions who have up to the present moment refrained from invoking it.

"House Bill 573 is very inclusive as to the type of machinery which cannot be assessed. It says the following, beginning with line 7, page 3—and Mr. Speaker, I will read the section which includes the exceptions:

" 'Machinery, tools, appliances, and other equipment.'

"Mr. Speaker, the two words ,(other equipment) could rise to haunt many Members of this House if these bills should pass. As the Finance Director of the city of Erie for eight months in 1948, I have become rather well acquainted with the work of an assessor in a third class city. The work of an assessor in a third class city is not much different from that of a county assessor in the counties which are included in this bill. In other words, when we say in this bill that other equipment will be excluded from the possibility of assessment, we are prone to throw the assesment programs in all these counties into a bundle because no Member of this House can convince me that the county assessors in the counties af fected by this bill do not now at least include furnaces built into the walls of buildings or heavy equipment cemented into the floors as part of their building assessment.

"If these bills should be enacted into law, it will be possible for the county assessors in these counties to absolutely limit themselves only to the mortar and brick of the buildings. We know that is not fair because even today if you should have a mortgage on an industrial plant and the mortgage fails to make interest payments or periodic payments on his mortgage, you can foreclose on the plant, and any machinery which is attached to the floor can be foreclosed with the building.

"That is why I say these bills are so dangerous from that standpoint. On the surface they appear noly to affect Erie, but they could affect every one of he classes of counties which are mentioned in the bill.

"Economically speaking, there is nothing fundamentally wrong with taxing machinery in this state. This statute has been on the boks since 1833. In other words, our forefathers thought it was fair 120 years ago, long before machinery became a real factor in the development of giant nation-wide industries and tremendous concentration of wealth.

"It was suggested here that we could levy the same tax under Act 481. Our solicitor informs me that the series of decisions handed down by the State Supreme Court relative to the types of taxes which can be levied under Act 481 precludes the assessing of machinery under this (tax anything) law, and the net effect of the decisions has been, over the last few years since 1947, to gradually narrow down the number of types of taxes which can be levied under this Act. In fact, our Council in Erie levied an excise tax on production under Act 481, which was declared unconstitutional almost immediately. A tax on machinery cannot possibly be justified under any category except as real estate.

"If these two bills pass, they will create financial chaos for the city of Erie and the school administration of the city of Erie.

"The effective date of these bills is July 1 of this year only two or three weeks from now. The two subdivisions will lose a quarter of a million dollars for the remainder of the year, and a half million dollars each year thereafter.

"We have no immediate solution to this problem of loss of revenue except to raise the real estate tax millage for the city taxpayer and the school taxpayer. This would work a hardship on the small home-owner who is already paying a higher city and school tax this year in addition to a new sewer rental bill and a city wage tax.

"I hope the effect of the vote today will not be to unload this burden on the small home owner.

"Mr. Speaker, when we discussed this bill several weeks ago, I read telegrams from various organizations throughout the State which are opposed to this bill. I will not again read these telegrams, but I would briefly like to mention the organizations which have rallied to oppose this Bill.

"They are the State CIO, local CIO, State Federation of Labor, local Federation of Labor, the East Erie Improvement League, and the Local Division of the PSEA which numbers something like 700 teachers. Since then one or two other organizations have decided to oppose these bills, and now for the first time I would like to read the telegram to you which I received last week.

" 'Dear Mr. Polaski:

" 'The Pennsylvania School Directors Association at their meeting held in Harrisburg, Saturday, May 9, went on record as opposed to House Bills 573 and 574, and having to do with the exclusion of machinery, tools, appliances and other equipment contained in any mill or manufactory from assessment and taxation.

" 'P. O. VAN NESS
" 'Executive Secretary,
" 'Pennsylvania School Directors Association."

"I also have a letter from the Erie City Council, a letter from the School District of the city of Erie, and I would also like to have permission to read an editorial from one of Pittsburgh's most prominent dailies.

"This is the editorial:

" 'KILL THIS TAX PROPOSAL. A House Bill to exempt industrial machinery from assessment for taxes reflects the local fight in Erie County and is not deserving of serious consideration by the General Assembly. If it should become law, it would play havoc with the financial and political subdivisions throughout Pennsylvania.

" 'Allegheny County officials, for instance, estimate such a law would necessitate the increase of a mill and a half in the county tax rate. The load would be shifted from industry onto the backs of already heavily burdened home owners.

" 'This legislation has won the endorsement of the Civic Club of Allegheny County which, in its current bulletin, advances this specious argument:

" 'To include machinery and equipment as part of the value of real estate is not just and this practice discourages industry from locating in Allegheny County.'

" 'Now this will be news to a lot of people in this district, and particularly to the Chamber of Commerce, which likes to cite the gratifying industrial growth in recent years. The Statute under which real estate includes machinery in the computation of assessed valuation has been operating in Pennsylvania for well over a century. It would not appear to have hampered its development as one of the greatest industrial states in the nation.

" 'The present law does not put this state at a competitive disadvantage in attracting new industry. In practically all industrial states, machinery is taxed in one way or another.

" 'If, however machinery were exempted, the financial structures of many Pennsylvania communities would be completely demoralized.' "

Mr. President, that is the end of the quote from Mr. Polaski's speech.

Mr. President, since arguments have been advanced that this machinery could be taxed as personal property, I want to read again from Volume 33, No. 49, of the Legislative Journal, a talk made by Representative Seyler. He apparently did considerable research on the law affecting machinery and of its being a part of real estate. I will read his entire remarks, because I think they are important. I want to include them in this summary of the debate on this bill, because I am assuming that those who get a copy of the Legislative Journal from time to time can, if for no other reason, acquaint themselves with the arguments presented by Members of the General Assembly on vital issues before it.

I am quoting from Representative Seyler:

"Mr. Speaker, this bill has all the earmarks of being the outcome of an argument between the city of Erie and certain other portions of the County of Erie. I would not presume to get into such an argument were it not for the fact that I have a conviction that this bill is far more extensive in its effects than that. It may have been intended merely to effect the city and county of Erie. But as a matter of fact I believe it has a very far reaching effect. I believe that its effects upon the school districts, the local communities of this Commonwealtr are such that many of you, who may otherwise be inclined to support the position of the gentleman from Erie, who sponsored this bill, it might be well to think about carefully before you vote for it.

"I believe furthermore that this is a basic change in the tax structure of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. and as such is just as important a question as we are likely to consider in this session of the Legislature.

"Now after the debate on this question in the first instance, I had the opportunity to talk with a number of gentlemen on both sides of the House whose attention was aroused by some of the things I said and debated on that previous occasion.

"I found that there were four questions raised. I would like to answer those four questions at this time.

"The first question that was raised was this, is machinery used in a manufacturing plant real property or personal property? Then a corollary question to that, does it have to be fastened down to constitute real property or not?

"I want to answer you this question because a lot of people honestly had doubt in this House at the last session whether it was proper to call machinery, particularly machinery that was not fastened down, real property.

"I would like to say that this doctrine that it is real property is a very old one in Pennsylvania and is a fundamental part of our real estate tax system. The original decision goes back to 1841, when the Supreme Court considered the case of Voorhees vs. Freeman. The court at that time said this, and I wish you would listen because I think this clears up this question pretty well.

" 'Whether fast or loose therefore, all machinery of a manufactory which is necessary to constitute it, and without which it would not be a manufactory at all, must pass for a part of the freehold.'

"That is the baric decision. The law that my friend from Erie referred to earlier, of 1833, was the original enactment on which this was based.

"In 1844 it was amended and the thirty-second section of the Act of 1844 provides, and if you will follow this in your book you will notice that the language has not been changed much since 1844.

" 'All real estate, to wit, houses, lots of ground, ground rent, mills and manufacturers of all kinds, furnaces, forges, bloomeries, distilleries, sugar-houses, malt-houses, breweries, vineyards, fisheries, ferries, wharves, and all other real estate not exempt by law from taxation rhall be valued and assessed for all state and county purposes.' "

"Now it is on that added part in the law of 1844 that the decisions of the court are based which make machinery taxable as real estate.

"In the case of Patterron vs. Delaware County in 1872, which is only eighty-one years ago, the court held that under the act of 1844 machinery was properly taxed as real estate.

"In that same decision Justice Butler, who wrote the decision, had this comment and this I think is a sweeping one. 'The machinery in a mill', he said, 'is as much a part of it as are the walls.'

"In Titus vs. Poland Coal Company the question was settled whether the machinery has to be fastened down. Just listen to this quotation from the decision, of the Supreme Court:

" 'The Pennsylvania rule is that a chattel placed in an industrial establishment for permanent use and necessary for the operation of the plant becomes a fixture and as such a part of the real estate, although not physically attached thereto.'

"In other words, if the article, whether fastened or loose, is indispensable in carrying on the specific business, it becomes a part of the realty.

"Now, there are many later cases which could be cited, and I have them here and I am not going to bother you with them, but they are right here on my desk if anyone doubts the continuity of the court's decision that machinery fast or loose, that is part of a manufacturing plant, is properly assessable as real estate.

"Now the second question is, is machinery taxed or taxable as real estate in Allegheny and Erie only, or in the other counties of the Commonwealth. If you will examine the Act which this bill amends. you will find that it applies to all counties, cities, boroughs, towns townships and school districts. In doing a little research on the cases involved here that the court has settled, I found that it has settled cases saying that machinery is real estate in the following counties, Delaware County, Beaver County, Northumberland County, Luzerne County, Dauphin County, in addition to Allegheny and Erie. I did not read all of the speeches.

"In other words this question has been raised and decided by the courts for many of the counties of Pennsylvania, and not only the counties of Erie and Allegheny."

Mr. President, there is no question in my mind that the special interests are looking for another concession. I want to state for the record that I am not opposed to the railroads; I am not opposed to industry; I am not opposed to manufacturing plants. Without them, Pennsylvania would not be the great State that it is. However, I also believe, Mr. President, that industry, railroads and manufacturing plants ought to pay their fair share of local and State taxation.

Mr. President, as I said before, Pennsylvania industry, the railroads and manufacturers are not overtaxed in this State, as was indicated in the speech made by Governor Fine, who outlined the great progress industry has made in this State and the prosperity it has enjoyed and the profits which it has made. Industry, the railroads and manufacturing plants, frankly, ought to be ashamed to be seeking this new concession, this new advantage.

Mr. President, I call your attention to the fact that when Act No. 481, the so-called "tax anytihng act," was passed by this Legislature, the special interests had themselves exempted frfom that tax. Who are the taxes, under that act, levied upon? Not upon industry, not upon the railroads, not upon the manufacturer, but upon the rank and file of the people of this great State. Frankly, the men and women who earn their bread and butter by the sweat of their brow have just about reached the peak of what they can stand in taxation.

Mr. President, from the speeches that I have read, which were made in the House, and from the speeches which were made here on the floor of this Senate, I am convinced that anyone here who is not convinced that to pass these bills will work a financial hardship on local municipalities, just is not sincere in his job. He just is not sincere in the welfare of the local school districts and local municipalities.

Mr. President, I just want to read from this Act No. 481, the various types of taxes that are now assessed against the rank and file of the people of this Commonwealth, against those who earn their bread and butter by the sweat of their brow. I say to you, Mr. President, they just cannot stand any more. If we exempt machinery and the special interests from this tax, it will deprive those local municipalities and school districts that are hard up against it from a source of taxation.

Mr. President, I am looking at a report that is prepared by the Department of Internal Affairs and it indicates taxes levied under Act No. 481. This report is as of April 1, 1953, supplement 2 to the publication of April 1, 1952. The taxes that are now levied under Act No. 481 total—and I just want to show how they have been rising according to this compilation. In 1948, the first year for which there was a report, Act No. 481 revenues totaled $14,935,115. In 1949, the total had increased to $23,603,576. In 1950, it increased to $27,919,206. In 1951, it increased to $33,631,493. Since we do not have the statistics for 1952 and 1953, I am assuming that the taxes under Act No. 481, the "tax anything act," are increasing in proportion in accordance with the change in the economic situation of our Country.

Therefore, I say, Mr. President, that the rank and file of the people just cannot stand any more of the taxation which they will be burdened with in the event this bill is passed by this Senate.

Mr. President, here are some of the taxes that are now imposed under Act No. 481. I am sure that as I go along here, none of these taxes will have affected industry, the railroads or manufacturers. There is a deed transfer tax, a mercantile tax, an amusement tax, a scrap metal tax, a per capita tax, a mechanical device tax, a trailer tax, an income tax, a used car dealer tax, a tax on gasoline, kerosene and oil lamps, stone quarries and sales personal tax.

I could go on here and take another hour, Mr. President, to indicate the amount of money that is collected in each political subdivision from the "tax anything act" from which the railroads, the special interests, have exempted themselves. Now they come before us and ask for exemption from this tax.

Mr. President, I, frankly, cannot see how any Member of this Senate from Allegheny County can vote for this bill and take the position that, "We in Allegheny County will continue to levy this tax, but those of you in the rest of the State just cannot do it. We want it as a source of revenue, but you cannot have it." In my opinion, that is an erroneous philosphy to assume. In my opinion, it is a selfish attitude to assume. How anybody in this Senate, as I said before, who serves on the Local Government Committee, who is acquainted with the problems of local government, can vote for this bill, is beyond me. How anybody who is a member of the Joint State Government Commission can vote for this bill, for the same reasons, is indeed a mystery to me.

Mr. President, today, Senator Wade made a speech and in his speech he talked about the tax dilemma here in the Commonwealth. Senator Mahany added to his remarks, and pointed out how State funds are allocated for various purposes. He pointed out specifically the amount of tax funds which are allocated for public education. Of course, he did not touch on the amount of money that is raised locally for this same purpose because, under the system under which we operate, both the State and the local school districts finance the obligations of school districts. That being true, the local school districts should not be deprived of a source of taxation which is a very, very important source.

Mr. President, I, therefore, call upon the Members of this Senate who are—and I am sure all of you are—interested in the financial problems of local school districts and local communities, to oppose these bills.

Mr. President, in my opinion, this matter ought to be referred to either the Joint State Government Commission or the Local Government Commission for study, so that during the course of the recess between this Session of the Legislature and the next Session, those who are opposed to this tax can come in and be heard and those who are for it would be accorded the same privilege.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I call your attention to the fact that taxation is becoming an acute problem not only in Pennsylvania, but over the Nation as well. The United States Congress has recognized this fact. Just recently, I secured a copy of a bill that was introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Taft, calling for a sweeping study of intergovernmental problems, which includes taxation, and would cover the Federal, the State and the local governments. That is a sensible way to go at this problem.

Therefore, Mr. President, in my opinion, at least, I think this Legislature should tackle this problem, as well as the general taxation problem all over the State, as it affects the Commonwealth, the school districts and the local subdivisions, and then come up with recommendations and not just hastily, because someone is looking for a special concession, pass a vicious bill of this type and place in jeopardy every school district in this State that is responsible for the education of the millions of children in the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, since Northampton County is my neighboring county, Senator Yosko and I cross each other. Since he is definitely against this bill and I am for this bill, I feel I have to make a statement why I am for the bill.

In the first place, Mr. President, he said that those who are for the bill are controlled by Senators No. 51 and No. 52. Secondly, I believe he said that if you are sincere you must vote against this bill.

Mr. President, coming from a school of appraisers, I believe that assessments should be made in relationship to appraisals. There should be a fair value, or market value, and then a certain percentage of that particular value taken for said appraisal.

Mr. President, in our town and county, I am glad for one thing. We have in our city government, which controls our city and school taxes, a Democrat in that particular department who is a broker; one who has been schooled along the line of appraisals. In the county we have another broker who has been schooled along the line of appraisals. For that reason, I do not believe, in Lehigh County, that we have anybody in there who has taken advantage of any kind of equipment of a said building. They would know that as far as the construction of fa building is concerned, the making of it, the improvements thereon and the area, whether it is occupied or not, determine the valuation of that said property.

In this particular case, Mr. President, let me assure my neighboring Senator that Senators No. 51 and 52 definitely have not and do not control Senator No. 16. For that particular reason, I will also say that I will go back in my county and certainly go back in there and explain to them why I am voting for this particular bill. If this bill can be taken over in Erie County, Mr. President, it can be taken over in every other county except that one mentioned in the particular bill that cannot be taken over. For that reason, I do not want it to encroach into Lehigh County.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not believe that at any time in my remarks did I say that Senators Nos. 51 and 52 controlled any Member of this Senate. I did say that Senators Nos. 51 and 52 got busy when this bill was defeated in the first instance in the House, and were successful in garnering a sufficient number of votes to pass it after it was defeated, which brought it here to the Senate.

Mr. President, there is no question in my mind, and I do not believe there is any question in the mind of any Member of this Senate, that the gentlemen to whom I referred are very much interested in these bills. Even though the bills might pass, I am not saying that the gentlemen controlled my distinguished colleague from Lehigh County, my neighboring county, or any other Member of this Senate. However, I do say that they are exercising some control relative to these particular bills.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I have a few remarks I would like to make pertaining to this bill.

Mr. President, not long ago, some reference was made as to the voting of the Republican Members. I cannot account for the voting of the Republican Members outside of myself. However, I think that when the final vote is taken, there will be a split vote and it will not be on party lines.

Mr. President, I have had an opportunity the last hour or two to listen to the debate, pro and con, listen to the merits and demerits of this bill, which I have enjoyed because of the many pertinent facts which have been brought out. While I was sitting here listening to the various remarks, I could not help remembering about two years ago, in the House, two bills similar to this were presented and, as I recall, they were Nos. 774 and 775. If I recall correctly, they passed first and second reading and on third reading they could not muster enough support and the bills were recommitted. Allegheny County, at that time, was not exempt in that particular bill.

Mr. President, in the last couple of weeks I have realized that this would be discussed at length; there are many things to be thought here. So, what I did during the last couple of weeks was talk to the people at home who should know a little bit about tax problems and the effect on our county and local political subdivisions. It so happens that I represent a fourth and a fifth class county.

Mr. President, of all the people with whom I spoke, and there were many of prominent personality—I do not care to mention any names for fear of embrrassing them. Perhaps I would not, I do not know, but I do not care to mention any of their names. However, these individuals spoke about these bills and did not speak favorably. They spoke about the effect these bills would have in the tax structure of the counties and the local subdivisions. I spoke with perhaps two dozen or so prominent people, who should know something about taxation, and not one person told me to vote for these bills. On the other hand, I received one letter in favor of the bill. It happens to come from a certain Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. President, also, sitting here this evening, I could not help but think that some young fellow, who possibly served in World War II, or some young person who maybe in the last year or two was discharged from the Service, after serving in Korea, might have a little investment in property. It might be a young person who, with his family, is trying to start out in life, who owns a little property, or, perhaps on the other hand, people who are in their sixties and seventies, who might have worked hard to have a little home, or a little farm or a little something. I can think offhand of some cases at home, and I know every Member here can think along the same lines. I cannot help but think how this bill and the following bill would affect these young people, just getting started, who are trying to acquire or have just acquired a little piece of property, or some of the older folks, who have ten, fiteen or twenty years remaining and who hope to enjoy some of the pleasures in life. I cannot help but think how these bills will have an effect on them.

Mr. President, why these bills were presented and pushed as far as they have been, I do not know. However, I cannot see any merit to them. I think these bills are bad, I think these bills are unjust and I certainly hope they are defeated.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, going a long way back, I recall very vividly that the distinguished Majority Leader said that this legislation would simply require a few mills more of taxation on the home owners. I think he might very well have added "on the farmers of Pennsylvania."

Mr. President, down in my county, where we have had a tremendous influx of new industry and where our old industries are tending to expand outside of the city limits, we have had a tremendous build up in the second class townships surrounding the city, a third class city, the city of York. This means, of course, that homes will be built in the locations of these new industries and it means new streets and new highways. It means that our township supervisors will be required to build some new roads. I think we recognize that there is a nine mill limit that the supervisors may levy to build new roads. It means new schools. While we have to increase taxes for schools, I think all of us recognize that we have a thirty-five mill levy on school taxes. So, this increased taxation has a limit.

Mr. President, beyond that, I believe that we have the basic conflict between the two major political parties of this Country here in Pennsylvania. The one conflict is that the Members of the Majority Party here tend to believe that all of the emphasis should be placed on production, production, production and more production. They seem to have forgotten the economic history of this Country in the thirties, when the farms and the factories of America were producing, at their peaks of capacity, but the people did not have the purchasing power to buy their products. There was a lot of sentiment wasted over little pigs which were killed, I remember very well, back in the twenties. There was not much sentiment, however, from the viewpoint of the people on the farms who lost less money by destroying them than they would have by growing them out.

Mr. President, I think it has been the viewpoint of the Democratic Party, and certainly it has been my viewpoint, that it is high time we think about the purchasing power of the people; not only those of us down on the farm who prefer to buy and sell the corn and buy coal to burn in our stoves, but also you folks in the heavy industries who are supplying the steel for the automobile industry, which is going to have six million cars in America to sell this year against four and one-half million last year. It is high time some thought is given to purchasing power. When we take the taxes off the forces of production and put it on the shoulders of the consumers and the farmers of this Country, we are certainly endangering the purchasing power.

Mr. President, we have been encouraging now, for a good many years, expansion of our school facilities. My county, along with many others, has built tremendous new school buildings. Obviously, as I mentioned before, this is a necessity because of the fact that we are getting new industry, new residential areas, greater school population and new schools are required.

Mr. President, I read in the press a little while back that certain Members of the Senate, of the Majority Party, along with certain House Members, had met to devise ways and means of reducing the amount of moneys that the State would appropriate to the school districts and depend, to a larger degree, on local effort. Here, instead of increasing the opportunity for taxation for that very local effort that some of you folks over there wanted them to rely on, we are taking a part of it away from them.

Mr. President, some folks have said that if we take away this machinery tax they can invoke Act No. 481 and tax machinery under it. However, I am told that there is a one percent limitation on that machinery tax under Act No. 481, plus the fact that neither these second class townships that I have been telling you about, which would have to build some of the roads in these communities, nor your counties would be permitted to act under Act No. 481, because they are not included under it.

You know, Mr. President, I cannot help concluding that this legislation here in 1953, which would doubtlessly mean tremendous savings to the manufacturers of Pennsylvania, is somewhat comparable to the legislation I believe referred to as the Merit Rating Bill that was rushed through the General Assembly. I believe, late in the Session of 1949.

Mr. President, I hope that it is not the attitude of the Majority Party that here is a bill at the expense of the people of Pennsylvania, the rank and file, which will be capable of filling the Republican campaign coffers of 1954. I do not believe the people of Pennsylvania can be buffaloed by high-pressured salesmanship and advertising and throwing money away in this Commonwealth, if this is the best type of legislation we are capable of enacting up here.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am just going to take a few minutes of your time, so if you will just listen carefully I would like to get a few of these points across to you. I do not want to change many votes, just a few.

Mr. President, the problem that I heard discussed earlier here by one of the proponents of the bill was that we were driving industry out of the State. I think that we can accomplish that problem a lot easier by a bill of this type. I feel that the problem could be solved by introducing a set of bills which would reduce the C.N.I. and the C.S.F. taxes in Pennsylvania and in that way we will take care of everybody in the State, not just one of the problems localized in Erie. What is being proposed for Erie should be proposed for the entire State.

What actually is happening here, Mr. President, I feel, is a basic change in our tax structure. The money that we are going to take away from Erie or other school districts will have to come from somewhere else. That somewhere else is the State. At the moment, we seem to be in a little bit of a problem in trying to raise money which the Governor told us he needs so badly. After that, the problem of providing for the separate school districts which are going to lose revenue as a result of this measure arises, and where does that put us? It puts us in a deeper hole than we are now in.

Mr. President, I feel that one of the questions that everybody who is going to vote on this bill, or for this bill, should ask themselves is, what are they going to use in place of this tax or this fund raising measure once they remove this basic tax problem which they have up there, which they seem to have solved for a good number of years?

Mr. President, I do not wish to inject politics into this problem, but does it not seem that this tax has been on for a good number of years and just at the time when Erie seems to have had a change in administration, or, shall we say, the atmosphere is a little bit different than it has been in the past few years, we are trying to remove from them a certain means of obtaining a certain amount of revenue which they very badly need?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I assume all the debate now is on House Bill No. 573. I do not know how the Members of the Senate are going to vote, but from my wandering around the Senate Chamber tonight I think I have a rather good idea.

Mr. President, I am just wandering how my Republican colleagues from Allegheny County in the Senate are going to vote on this bill; if they are going to vote in good faith; if this bill included second class counties how they would vote; and if they are being fair to our colleagues, like Senator Dent, from the third class counties. I cannot name all of the members from third class counties on this side, but I presume that if this bill did not exclude second class counties they would be against it. If this bill is good for fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class counties, if it is going to affect the home owner there, then it should be good for people of second class counties, who are not in the bill, and for third class counties who are in the bill. I just monder how they would vote.

Mr. President, I wonder also why or how we got out of this bill over in the House. I am going to confess to the Members of the Senate that I know how we got out of this bill. There are eight Republican Members in the House from Alegheny County, and this bill would never have reached the Senate if second class counties were included in it. It say that I am going to watch, and watch two years from now, but I do not think that I need to watch two years from now, because I think that when you pass this bill it will be just one more nail put in the coffin of the Republican Party and we will be in command, and we will not need to think about what happened by excluding second class counties at the next Regular Session of this General Assembly.

Mr. President, I think that this bill is here in poor faith, poor judgment and is an assessment for the small home owner in every other county in the State, other than second class counties. I only wish that I was a lawyer. If I were, I would take this bill to the highest court of the land. I think that Senator Dent, in his speech tonight, set up for the law brothers of the State a great case, when they take their cases to court.

Now, you other gentlemen, when House Bill No. 574 comes up, I think you will see a series of bills probably in the next Session of the General Assembly creating more judgships in all of these counties, because I know that if I owned any type of a plant in a third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh or eighth class county, I would appeal my assessment and the only place you can appeal your assessment is to the court in this State. God save us if you pass these bills, because the courts of these counties will be overladen with tax appeals.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—28

Berger,	Hare,	Mahany,	Stevenson,

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 574

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, last line of title, by inserting after "taxation": "in certain counties"; Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 201), page 4, line 3, by striking out "Machinery" and inserting in lieu thereof: "In counties of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes machinery."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS BE ADOPTED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the amendments to House Bill No. 574 be adopted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr MAHANY. Mr. President, I oppose the amendments and ask my colleagues to vote "no."

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, these amendments will eliminate fourth class counties from the provisions of this act. It seems to me that if second class counties can be excluded, why can my county of Washington and all other fourth class counties in Pennsylvania not be excluded?

Mr. President, I say to you that if this bill is passed in its present form, it is going to cost our county a percentage of about twenty to twenty-two per cent on our assessed valuation. I cannot give you the figures on the political subdivisions, but I do say that in the industrial towns of Donora, Charleroi and Monongahela, it is going to be terrific. It is going to hurt our school districts and, of course, or our local municipalities.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask everyone to vote in support of these amendments.

An the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLANND and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Bane,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Wagner,
Barr,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Camiel,	Leader,	Silvert,	Yosko,
Dent,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,

NAYS—29

Berger,	Harney,	Mallery,	Taylor,
Blass,	Kephart,	McCusker,	Wade,
Chapman,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Watkins,

Diehm,	Letzler,	Propert,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	Madigan,	Snowden,	Wood,
Freed,	Mahany,	Stevenson,	Walker,
Hare,			Presiding Officer

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, by way of explanation I would like to say this. There is a feeling among some of the Members here that we are employing delaying tactics with some ulterior motive in mind. I want to clear that up. What we are doing, Mr. President, is preparing the record in order that interested parties who have notified us that they are very much interested, and who will take this matter to court, will have on the record the arguments which we are placing there in the hope that it will help in their fight to have these particular bills declared unconstitutional.

Mr. President, Mr. Lane has gone to a great deal of trouble and has studied at length the various legal aspects of it. Therefore, it may appear to be a roadblock and delaying tactics to some of you, but I want you to know that we are not trying to inflict any hardship upon the Members of the Senate. We all realize that the hour is late and most of us get up early. We would have appreciated the opportunity to have presented this matter tomorrow. However, it seems to be the judgment of the other side that they ought to be finished now that they are before us.

Mr. President, I will say that I will not at any time question the validity of the vote of any of the Members on the other side who feel that because of their physical condition they would like to leave and go down and sleep or rest at the hotel. We can have a consent roll call, if necessary, to relieve any of the Members from any undue strain. However, we do intend to make the record.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am not politically naive enough to think that anything which we have said here tonight is going to influence any votes and, from all appearances, my thoughts are correct. Anything further that we say is not going to influence any votes, because it seems that you gentlemen on the other side have your minds made up.

Mr. President, I do, however, want to say this. I think the Majority Leader mentioned that the Pittsburgh Press had an editorial in which they supported these two pieces of legislation. I believe that is correct. However, I want to call the attention of the Majority Leader to the fact that in the same edition, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph upheld our position on this legislation, and they also stated that it would just be a matter of time until legislation would be passed which would affect Allegheny County, and that will be a major catastrophe.

Now we, of the smaller counties, Mr. President, realize that there is only one recourse, and that is to the courts. For that reason, I have had the assistance of our law department back home and they, in turn, have advised me as to the proper procedure to take.

Gentlemen, while I am on the floor, I want to tell you a few things. I have been in public life for a long, long time. I was first elected to office when I was twenty years of age. I am now hitting close to forty nine. I have served in every local office except tax collector and assessor. I believe that my background is such that I know what I am talking about when it comes to legislation of this type. I am convinced that I am right, regardless of the arguments to the contrary. I am not speaking from a political point of view; I am speaking of the problems of the local districts in my county and in the county of Greene, because I know they are going to be hit hard. Therefore, I want to set forth here in a written statement what our department feels is wrong with this bill and our basis for a fight in the courts.

Mr. President, my interrogations of the Majority Leader and other Members of the Senate on June 24, covering the subject matter which is contained in House Bills Nos. 573 and 574 has brought no clear explanation as to just what is actually meant by the term "other equipment" which is a part of the amendments to the General County Assessment Law in this Act.

I believe that my interrogations have brought out the fact that this legislation is loosely written and if passed, Mr. President, will be the subject of numerous litigations and there is no doubt in my mind that this legislation should not be passed by this Senate as the subject matter contained herein violates the provisions of Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution of this Commonwealth, as this section specifically sets forth that the General Assembly does not have the power to pass legislation exempting property from taxation, except that which is enumerated in that particular section.

Mr. President, it was argued by the proponents of this legislation that its passage would be beneficial to the industries located in the city of Erie. If that be the legislative intent of this legislation, it is undoubtedly local or special legislation and Section 8 of Article III specifically sets forth that "no local or special bill shall be passed by the Legislature, unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall be published in the locality where the matter or the thing to be effected may be situated which notice shall be at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the General Assembly of such bill and in the manner to be provided by law; the evidence of such notice having been published, shall be exhibited in the General Assembly before this act is passed."

Now, Mr. President, all of us are aware of the fact that these House Bills Nos. 573 and 574 are not local or special legislation, and I feel that all of us are cognizant of the fact that the enactment into law of these two bills will have a far reaching effect upon the fiscal affairs of almost every political subdivision of Pennsylvania. None of us can predict the extent of a disaster which will result in the passage of these bills; however, it seems to me that the Constitution of Pennsylvania specifically spells out and directs us in our legislative program and procedure.

Mr. President, I also wish to call to your attention Article IX, Section 1, which sets forth that "all taxes shall be uniform, upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws; but the General Assembly may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity and real and personal property owned, occupied and used by any branch, post or camp of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines." Section 2 of Article IX states that "all laws exempting property from taxation, other than the property above enumerated, shall be void."

I, for one, Mr. President, believe that the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the laws of our Commonwealth mean exactly what they say—no more or no less—and I hope that our government functions in compliance with our laws and does not function for the interest and benefit of a few selfish individuals that demand special privileges for the vested interests.

Mr. President, I want this a part of the record because I feel that this is going to help us as we are going into court, and I know that.

Mr. President, while I am on the subject, one of the previous speakers made a statement that he was interested in labor and in the welfare of the working man, and I have before me just a few telegrams out of a great number that I have received, and most of them are from Erie and Erie County. Here is one from Mr. John Williamson, President, Local Union No. 1573, 331 West 21st Street, Erie, Pennsylvania, and it says:

"We appreciate everything you are doing to defeat the machinery tax bills and urge that you continue" in your efforts.

I have another telegram here signed by Mr. John Kaiser, President, Local Union No. 1680, 515½ French Street, Erie, Pennsylvania, who says:

"The machinery tax bills now before you will throw our city in the financial disaster if passed. Our school system will lose some $35,000.00 and the city will lose $105,000.00 for this year. These losses in taxes will then be placed on the small property owner who is least able to pay. Please do everything possible to defeat these bills."

Mr. President, I have another one here signed by Mr. Howard Morgan, President, Local Union No. 1794, 407 Marshall Drive, Erie, Pennsylvania, who says:

"We appreciate your efforts in the fight against the machinery tax bill. The working people and the small property owners of Erie will have to make up the difference" of taxes.

Another one, Mr. President, is signed by Mr. John Fitzgerald, President, Local Union No. 3186, 908 Cherry Street, Erie, Pennsylvania, who says:

"The membership of my local union certainly appreciate your stand on the machinery tax bills and urge that you continue to fight to defeat these bad bills under the new 1953 assessment program here in Erie. The small property owners have had his assessment increased on an average of 230% as against 180% which gave industry a substantial reduction in taxes for the year 1953. These bills would give industry a further reduction which they are not entitled to and in turn it would create an additional tax burden on the small home owner of this community."

I have another one, Mr. President, from Mr. Kenneth Sawdey, President, Local Union No. 1476, 434 Stafford Avenue, Erie, Pennsylvania, who says:

"Urge that you keep up your valiant fight to defeat the machinery tax bills 573 and 574. If these bills are passed it will place an additional tax burden on the people least able to pay and it will throw our city into economic disaster."

I have another one, Mr. President, signed by Mr. Andrew Pawlak, President, Local Union No. 4743, 530 East 12th Street, Erie, Pennsylvania, who says:

"We of Local Union 4743 urge you to keep up the fight against the unfair bills, Nos. 573 and 574. They would be very detrimental to the average working man and small property owner."

I have another one here from Mr. Henry Pigeon, President, Local Union No. 3084, 925 Liberty Street, Erie, Pennsylvania, Mr. President, who says:

"The people of Erie are very much concerned about the machinery tax bills now before the Senate. The cry has been that this tax is chasing industry out of Pennsylvania which is not true. The record of the mammoth expansion programs that industry is engaged in at present in the county of Allegheny proves that industry is not being forced out of Pennsylvania and this type of tax has been in effect in Allegheny County for years. Do everything you can to defeat this legislation."

Mr. President, I have another one here from Mr. Thaddeus Laniewicz, President, Local Union No. 1197, 3004 Pine Avenue, Erie, Pennsylvania, who says:

"Urge you to do all you can to defeat Bills 573 and 574. These are very unfair and would throw an extra burden on the average working man and small property owner."

I have quite a number more, Mr. President, but I will just be brief and go over just a couple of them here. Here is one from Mr. John J. Evans, President, Local Union No. 1383, 2678 Hazel Street, Erie, Pennsylvania, who says:

"Members of our local union urge you do everything in your power to defeat Bills No. 573 and 574."

Mr. President, these telegrams go on and on and on. It seems to me that that should be due proof to the Membership here in the Senate.

I want to also add, Mr. President, that I have had the privilege of working with some very able men on the other side on our Local Government Commission. I would say that they are great authorities on local government and I have noticed how they have voted down the line. They voted down the line here against their very convictions.

If that is going to be the case, Mr. President, as far as the Local Government Commission is concerned, I want to say here and now that I do not believe, if that is going to be the attitude, that my further service on this commission can serve any useful purpose.

I have been proud to work there, Mr. President. We have tried to work the local government problems out on a nonpolitical basis, and we have done a pretty good job. I think the membership of that commission knows very well that this is bad legislation. If it is going to go along partisan lines, I want you to know that, with extreme regret, I feel my further service there can serve no useful purpose and I wish to tender my resignation as a member to the Local Government Commission to either the Presiding Officer now or the President pro tempore of the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I want to say that I cannot vote for these bills because of the grave danger that they will result in an increase in local property taxation. Certainly, I think we all know that the property owner is bearing a great bulk of municipal taxation now and cannot stand any more.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, as I mentioned earlier this evening, in representing a fourth and fifth class county. I intend to vote against these bills since the sentiment of the people in that district is against it, and I intend to represent them the way they feel they should be represented. Since they feel a hardship will be imposed upon them, I am voting against these bills.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, before we go into the Second Reading Calendar, I desire to make a brief statement.

Mr. President, the vote on these two bills here tonight convinced me of one thing, that the Republican Party can solidify itself on issues or tax matters when the special interests are exempted from taxation, but they cannot indicate the same unanimity when it comes to imposing taxes gainst the special interests. As this Session progresses, we will talk about what happened here tonight more than once.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1003.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 3, 1953.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith without my approval, House Bill No. 1003, Printer's No. 187, entitled "An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled 'An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' by providing for the appointment of boards of health and health officers prescribing their powers and duties providing for the enforcement of the administration of health laws by such boards and officers providing for a president and secretary of such boards imposing duties on the Secretary of Health and providing for payments of expenses by townships."

This bill would permit a second class township to establish a board of health and appoint a health officer or officers to enforce and administer all health laws and regulations pertaining thereto of the State Department of Health and the Advisory Health Board in said township. It further authorizes said board to make and enforce such additional rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, for carrying into effect the powers and functions with which these townships are vested by law and this bill.

After a most thorough study of the problems of public health in Pennsylvania by experts in that field, it was recommended that the administration and enforcement of the public health laws could best be done at the county level. This was adopted as the policy of this administration and was accepted by the Legislature in their enactment of the Local Health Administration Law, the Act of August 24, 1951, P. L. 1304, which provided for the establishment of county departments of health.

To provide for the establishment of new local units not now in existence would hinder and discourage the development of these county units, and might lead the public and health authorities to conclude that I now favor administration of the health laws on other than a county basis.

Although the establishment of county health units has not progressed as rapidly as I had hoped, insufficient time has passed since the enactment of the law providing for them to give this program a fair trial.

Believing the development of county departments of health should not be discouraged in any way until additional time is given for their establishment, I feel this bill should be vetoed.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. WILLAREDT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

PENNSYLVANIA BAR ASSOCIATION

The SPEAKER laid before the House a Resolution from the Pennsylvania Bar Association urging the General Assembly to reactivate the Special Committee on Decedent's Estate Laws of the Joint State Government Commission, with instructions to study the operation of Decedent's Estate Acts.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1152 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. MOODY offered the following resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 342, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (c) of section nine hundred two and subsection (f) and the penalty clause of section nine hundred three of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forefeitures, fees and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by removing certain equipment requirements pertaining to motor buses and by further prescribing gross weights and axle weights of motor buses having six or more wheels.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BOMBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the second reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1140, entitled:

An Act to fix the number of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State; and to apportion the State into representative districts, as provided by the Constitution.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 1140, pursuant to my notice last week, I called up this bill and offer amendments.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the second reading postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from McKean just why this bill is being put on the second reading postponed calendar.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Weidner, and the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bower, had better answer that question.

As I understand it, the conferences with various people who have amendments they want to offer to the bill, are still in progress. I understand conferences were held this morning and we are very nearly to the point with the bill where the controversy and amendments will be pretty much agreed upon. When that point is reached the bill can be prepared, passed on second reading and passed on third reading without any difficulty.

I understand from talking with the Committee Chairman that they are not quite ready today. Therefore, I believe it would be best for all concerned for the bill to lie over another day until the conferences are finished.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, how many days this week will we be in session?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, that again is problematical. I believe last week when we adjourned for the week it was stated that we would try to make this a full week of work. And insofar as the leadership is concerned that is our present intention.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what the gentleman calls a full week of work. Whether it means staying here tomorrow, then going home or whether we are going to stay here Wednesday and Thursday and get some work done.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would say a full week's work would be staying here until Friday.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bower.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if in their conferences in regard to House Bill 1140 it is in good shape that it can be called up tomorrow, and whether it will be called up tomorrow?

Mr. BOWER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the conference is in such shape, that as a Member working with the Chairman, I am surprised to find that Members on my side of the House, have not presented their amendments to the bill to the Chairman of the committee. And if such a condition exists, to any great extent, I do not see how we can possibly call the bill at all this week.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, might I ask the gentleman if the amendments would be presented today which he refers to—naturally he refers to mine—whether or not the bill could come up tomorrow.

Mr. BOWER. Mr. Speaker, I feel in all fairness to Mr. Weidner that any Member on either side of the House who has amendments to this bill should present them to Mr. Weidner so that he can clear with the proper people—and by proper people I mean members of the Joint State Government Commission and others who have the technical knowledge as to whether the amendments are in shape to be accepted by the House as a whole.

Mr. AUKER. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I again reiterate that this is a very, very important bill—a very important measure. It is a measure that, as I said last week, is mandated by the Constitution of Pennsylvania. The word "shall" is used—not "may" or "will"; but "shall."

While I understand, of course, the same as every other Member understands, and the same as the people of the Commonwealth understand, that there is no penalty attached to that particular provision of the Constitution whereby the Members of the House of Representatives can be penalized for failure to pass it as they have failed to pass it for the last thirty years, it seems to me it is high time that this thing be brought to the front and settled. We have had it on the calendar now for about five weeks.

So far as my own amendments are concerned, I spoke to the Chairman of the Committee, told him about our situation in Altoona, pointed the thing out to him and it was refused to be changed. Of course, the only recourse I have then is to offer the amendments on the floor of the House.

However, in deference to the conference that is going on I will submit the amendments to the Chairman of the Conference Committee, so-called, that is going on, has been going on for a week, and let them kick it around for another day and if they do not incorporate it in the bill, then I shall again call the bill up tomorrow, and insist that the House stay here until we get a vote on this bill this week.

On the question recurring,

Will the Houseagree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 155, Printer's No. 404 and

House Bill No. 633, Printer's No. 438,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 789, as follows:

An Act to add section 54.1 to the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. Curwood,	Gutendorf,	Peifly,	Watkins,
Erb,	Kline,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 814, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend Section 24 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" by excluding foreign insurance companies from the State tax on gross premiums premium deposits and assessments received from insurance business transacted within this Commonwealth by domestic insurance companies associations and exchanges and by reducing the rate of tax as to mutual fire and casualty companies without capital stock

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 1, line 6 of the title by striking out from the end of the line the word "excluding."

Amend page 1, line 7 of the title by striking out from the beginning of the line the following: "foreign insurance companies from," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "extending the effective period of."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 894, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 316 of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364) entitled "An act relating to business corporations defining and providing for the organization merger consolidation reorganization winding up and dissolution of such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and shareholders prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas and certain State departments commissions and officers authorizing certain State departments boards commissions or officers to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations" by authorizing a corporation by action of its board of directors to grant pensions allowances and stock options to its officers and other employees under certain circumstances and validating pensions allowances and stock options heretofore granted.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the sponsor please explain the operation of this bill and what it does?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 894 is an amendment to the business corporation laws permitting corporations to pay allowances. By allowance I mean a payment in the nature of a gratuity paid by a corporation to a dependent of an employe after the employe has died.

For example, if the wife of the shipping room clerk, who has spent twenty-five years with the corporation and should die, this bill would permit a gratuity to be paid to her, provided it is reasonable in amount and paid for a limited time, and also subject to certain other limitations which take the payment out of the category of a straight gift.

I might say that corporations have been doing this sort of thing for over a hundred years probably. The reason for the bill is to clarify existing law on the subject.

I might also say that this bill has been introduced pursuant to a resolution of the Pennsylvania State Bar Association and came to me as a Departmental bill from the Department of State.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I also desire to ask the gentleman from Montgomery a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Will the gentleman explain whether this bill has any effect upon the corporate net income tax which the state will collect?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Ordinarily these allowances are permitted as tax deductions, I understand.

Mr. LOPRESTI. They are. Thank you.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. In fact I might explain some of the wording here in the bill for the record.

In the bill I myself inserted an amendment stating that these payments may be made provided they are reasonable in amount. Also provided that they were only paid for a limited time.

Now those words were taken from the income tax regulations and the law interpreting those regulations. The idea was to keep corporations from taking a tax deduction that might be sky high.

I want to say for the record, and perhaps so that the courts may better interpret it, that I do not mean that our business corporation laws should be interpreted by the courts solely the way the courts have interpreted tax laws. I think they might extend it here and there in a suitable case. But I thought that by using that language, which stems from the income tax regulations, our courts would have a point of reference by which they could construe those words.

Mr. GLICK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery County, Mr. Jones.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GLICK. Mr. Speaker, I do not quite understand from what source of the corporate financial structure these benefits would be paid.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. In answer to the gentleman I would say that one of the great changes this bill makes in the old law, is the clarifying amendment which strikes out the word in the original corporation law, providing that these payments shall be paid out of the earnings of the corporation.

Now the payments of necessity in the long run will have to be paid out of earnings. But it was just over the use of that word that one company in particular, I think it was the UGI Company, was taken to the Supreme Court.

The situation that you run into is that some corporations, let us say in their particular fiscal year, will not have any net earnings. But they may have had a good year before. They may have credited some of their earnings in the year before, let us say under the heading of accumulated surplus. The question that arises legally is, is that surplus then to be considered earnings in the current fiscal year?

That question has been raised in the UGI case and the Supreme Court ruled that past earnings could also be taken into consideration in the payment of pensions and allowances.

Similar difficulties could be imagined. The question has been raised in one other case, a Bell Telephone Company case involving a raise in the city of Pittsburgh. In that case the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania stated, that these payments could be made in the same fashion as any operating expense of the corporation.

I think corporations have to pay their operating expenses from any source. They may be paid from a bank loan, if they are subject to large seasonal fluctuations. That is the reason for striking that from the original law and leaving it, so to speak, up in the air as to what source these payments shall be made from.

Mr. GLICK. Mr. Speaker, is it not correct that the way the bill reads presently so it could be interpreted as to permit distribution, or payments out of legal capital or stated capital?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I certainly do not think so, Mr. Speaker. I think that is contrary to other sections of the corporation law. The stated capital and paid-in capital, are pretty much sacred cows, and I do not think you can do that.

Perhaps some of my legal friends in the House will come to my rescue on that, but that is certainly my curbstone legal opinion.

Mr. GLICK. One further question, Mr. Speaker.

Is it not correct that the Pennsylvania business corporation law says substantially that no stock or benefits or allowances or gifts shall be distributed except for money or property actually received or labor actually rendered to the corporation.

Don't you further think the survivors of these employes would be subject to the purview of the Pennsylvania business corporation law?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Of course this bill is an amendment to the business corporation laws.

Ordinarily it is quite true you cannot make any distribution of funds from a corporation except those expressly authorized by law. That is one reason for this bill.

This sort of thing I say has been done for perhaps a hundred years. It was not until a certain case came along in 1952, the Keystone Macaroni Manufacturing case, which I believe arose in the courts of Lebanon County and went to the Supreme Court, that this procedure was ever questioned.

It was considered that this sort of thing was authorized by law. I see nothing wrong with it. It has a humanitarian purpose. The payments, if they are reasonable in amount, must be related to the services that have been performed by the employe.

The difficulty now actually, Mr. Speaker, is that many lawyers fear that this practice which they have always thought was authorized will no longer be valid, unless it is expressly authorized by statute.

Mr. GLICK. Mr. Speaker, is it not correct that under the interpretation it is quite possible that these allowances might be paid out of stated capital?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I cannot cite the gentleman's references on that point, but I feel confident that they could not. I think ordinarily if that sort of thing would happen, the only situation I could imagine would be that probably the people who paid it would go to jail.

You cannot form a corporation, get a lot of money in and promptly start paying people benefits. I do not see how you could possibly do it unless you are paying it with fraud, and any action like that is certainly illegal, or at least if it is not against the criminal law it is enjoinable.

Mr. GLICK. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I would like to ask the gentleman to explain to me the amendments on Page 4 of the bill relating to stock options. I would like to know what changes are being made in the law and what the purpose may be.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, the stock option provisions were put in in the same frame of mind by the Bar Association that caused them to put in the part relating to allowances and also, slightly, to pensions.

Stock options have been a device, I suppose, that have existed for a good long time. They have become particularly popular in the last 12 or 15 years, but there has been no express authorization of them in the Corporation Code.

I understand that in the last five or six years various decisions have been rendered in various courts in the country which have beclouded the authority of the board of directors and the shareholders and the corporate officers in relation to stock option plans. So it was thought advisable by the Bar Association, who, in their resolution authorizing and suggesting this sort of bill, thought it would be well to put something in the corporation law spelling out the power to grant stock options.

The reason again is fear on the part of the legal profession. Most all the large corporations, perhaps not most but certainly some of the very largest corporations in Pennsylvania today, have stock option plans in effect and have had for some time.

Does that answer the gentleman's question, or does he want me to be more specific?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. What particular corporation, or what particular corporations, have had an experience that has suggested the provisions of this bill? To what corporations are we running to the rescue? What particular corporations? This bill to my mind seems to be one of those bills that is designed to meet a particular situation. What is that particular situation?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, the first part of the bill was suggested by the Keystone Macaroni Manufacturing Company case, which is dead and gone, and cannot happen again. The only motive for the bill is to clarify the situation arising from that case.

I might say, incidentally, that that case would have arrived at the same result regardless of this bill, but the prime purpose of the first part of the bill was to clear the air for the legal profession so they could give sound advice in respect to the granting of allowances, and also to a lesser extent, of pensions.

What I mean is, under the Keystone Macaroni case, in the first part of the bill, no lawyer who dealt with corporations could honestly say that any allowance was payable. That particular case happened to deal with an allowance—and a rather excessive one—made to the wife of a president of a corporation.

However, the principle applied to the president's wife is exactly the same which might apply to wife of a janitor. So if a janitor gave your firm 30 years of service and died in fairly poor circumstances and you wanted to give his widow a year's salary for humanitarian purposes and the corporation could afford it; after this Keystone Macaroni case, no lawyer can honestly say that the corporation had the power to do that. That is the sole purpose of the first part of the bill.

The second part of the bill primarily arises also out of two cases decided in the Supreme Court of Delaware, and they also involve fear on the part of the legal profession, and doubt as to the nature of stock options. One was the Hayden Chemical Corporation, and frankly I do not remember the name of the other one. Again those decisions are cut and dried, and neither one affects Pennsylvania.

The difficulty in those decisions was—and I do not want to get too technical; I might bring up too much about them—it is often said that a corporation management can be as silly as it likes and do the most ridiculous things, even to the extent of hurting the stockholders on occasion, but nevertheless they are the boss. That is the general rule.

The stockholders, like any democratic outfit, can remove the directors if they do not act rightly. In these two Delaware cases generally the idea was that stock option plans had been developed, and the Court of Delaware stepped in and said, "We do not think the directors used good judgment, and hence the plan is illegal."

The lawyers did not like that and they did not think it was sound corporation law. Hence, these provisions were written into this bill to spell out the powers of the legal profession in regard to corporations and in regard to suggesting and drawing up stock option plans.

Quite sincerely, Mr. Minority Leader, I do not think there is any particular corporation behind this. It is a varied combination of groups. They are all interested, the Bar Association and so on.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman correctly when he says that the purport of the second part of this bill is to give corporations a legal right to be as silly as they like?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I think it might be well to withhold a final vote on this bill today. I would like to talk with the Minority Leader. I am so convinced that it is a good bill that I do not want to see it fall.

I move that it be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,
House Bill No. 1203, Printer's No. 447,
House Bill No. 1343, Printer's No. 440 and
House Bill No. 1376, Printer's No. 431,
were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1401, entitled:

An Act authorizing corporations to grant stock, options, pensions and allowances under certain circumstances, and validating stock options, pensions and allowances heretofore granted.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill deals with the same subject matter as House Bill 894 and I therefore, that it be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 199, as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 952, Printer's No. 427, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1041, Printer's No. 346, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 168, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 861) entitled "An act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth establishing the 'Pennsylvania Board of Parole' conferring and defining its jurisdiction duties powers and functions including the supervision of persons placed upon probation in certain designated cases providing for the method of appointment of its members regulating the appointment removal and discharge of its officers clerks and employes dividing the Commonwealth into administrative districts for purposes of parole fixing the salaries of members of the board and of certain other officers and employes thereof making violations of certain provisions of this act misdemeanors providing penalties therefor and for other cognate purposes and making an appropriation" by further regulating the paroling of certain convicts and abolishing the requirement of sponsors as a condition to paroles

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the sponsors of this bill, or either of them, explain the changes it makes in the parole laws of Pennsylvania?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan, explain the bill?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, what the bill does, if a man is given three to six years in the penitentiary, at the end of three years, if he has a good institutional record, he is immediately paroled. He is still under the Parole Board. He has to report to the Parole Board just the same as if the Parole Board had released him. The only thing this bill does is that the man does not have to have a sponsor. That would be about the only change in the parole laws.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, will the sponsor be kind enough to let the bill go over temporarily?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I sure will.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will withdraw its decision that this bill was agreed to on third reading. The Chair hears none.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 168, Printer's No. 370

was passed over at the request of Mr. SARRAF.

There being no objection

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. STIMMEL.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of Senate Bill No. 304, enttled:

An Act to further amend Section 3 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 276) entitled as amended "An act requiring persons partnerships associations or corporations advertising for or soliciting business as adjusters of claims within this Commonweath for loss or damage arising out of policies of insurance surety or idemnity on property persons or insurable business interests within this Commonwealth to be licensed by the Insurance Commissioner requiring partnerships associations or corporations acting as solicitors for said adjusters to be licensed by the Insurance Commissioner regulating the issuance and revocation of such licenses prescribing certain conditions for the transaction of such business providing for the filing of bonds by public adjusters and public adjuster solicitors and for recovery thereon by parties in interests and providing penalties" by further regulating the licensing and conditions for transaction of such business.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 3), page 6, line 4, by inserting after "276)" Provided, That nothing in this section shall prevent a licensed public adjuster or public adjuster solicitor from paying any fee or fee commission to attorneys-at-law, accountants, other licensed public adjusters or public adjuster solicitors individually, as a partnership, association, or corporation for services rendered.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader what has become of our little rent control bill. I think the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader sponsored a stand-by rent control bill. I wonder what has become of it.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation, I might say that since Mr. Andrews and myself sponsored a rent control bill I have received another bill from the Attorney General's office which will be introduced, I trust. It varies somewhat from the bill Mr. Andrews and I put in and I was hoping that we would get the bill introduced this week with the same sponsorship, if the Minority Leader will be willing to go on the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would be very glad to go on the bill if it does not sink into the same pit that our first attempt sank into.

Second, when is it proposed to take House Bill No. 1 off the table?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that particular interrogation, I would say that we plan this week, possibly tomorrow, to have debate on that bill. We will make a motion either tomorrow or Wednesday to take the bill from the table, and I cannot say whether the motion will be to concur in the Senate amendments or whether to ask the Senate to recede from its amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when will we know whether the leadership has composed its mind and reached a decision? Tomorrow?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, yes, in fact I hoped to have had the decision today, but surely we will have that decision by tomorrow. The bill should be passed so that it can get on the ballot and be printed for vote this Fall.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will it be necessary for us to go through the formality of attempting to discharge the committee from FEPC legislation, or will FEPC legislation be reported to this floor for action in conformity with the pledges made by both our political parties in this state?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe this bill is in committee, and the Chairman of that particular Committee is here. I would not presume to speak for the Chairman of the Committee nor the Committee.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, could I be privileged to question the Chairman of the Committee that has the FEPC bill in its fell clutches?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman form Mercer permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOUNG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is it likely that in the comparatively near future the House will have the opportunity to act upon an FEPC bill?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, that depends entirely upon whether we have the money to pay for the bill or not. This is not a moral issue with me and if there is to be any criticism directed towards the administration or towards the leadership, I want the House to understand that I am the one person who is holding this bill up. The administration wants it. The leadership wants it. I do not want it until we have the money to pay for it. You give me the money; I will give you the bill.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says he is the sole agency that is keeping this bill off the floor of the House. I presume he speaks for his Committee, but we have to write that into what he said. What he said was that he individually is keeping the bill off the floor, and then he takes jurisdiction of the financial situation and divorces the bill from its proper setting.

The financial affairs are in the keeping of the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. Now the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee does not have any right to say to the Chairman of some other Committee, you cannot report that bill. The thing for this House to do is to try to keep the promises it made, trot out the bill, and then the responsibility for finding the money is the responsibility of the House and is not the responsibility of any Chairman of any Committee. His jurisdiction is with his decision regarding this bill. He probably has the votes to keep us from discharging the Committee, but if his attitude is that he is going to take jurisdiction of the financial situation until that is solved according to his liking and he is not going to let the bill out of Committee, we will have to try to discharge the Committee.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. YOUNG asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we have been endeavoring here since we met in January to resolve our fiscal problems, and as everyone in Pennsylvania knows, and half of the rest of the United States, we have not been able to resolve those problems.

We have already suggested to the administration that we cut some $20 million from the proposed budget. We have not cut wisely, but too well. We do not know if we are cutting rightly or not.

We have said to the people of Pennsylvania, "We cannot give you a half-million dollars for an alcoholic hospital; we cannot give the farmers the money for a blood-testing laboratory; we have not been able to give the state mployes their increase; we have taken a half-million away from Independence Mall in Philadelphia; we have taken a certain amount of money away from the University of Pittsburgh; we have suggested cuts in the Point Park appropriation."

The last figures I had were $111 million short of realizing our ambition of balancing the budget.

Experience in other states has indicated that Pennsylvania may expect about 700 cases to be processed before the FEPC Commission, based on our population in comparison with states which have FEPC legislation. Their experiences further indicates that it will cost about $1,000 a case which is $700,000 per biennium. Now the Governor's budget two years ago had an item of $350,000 for this commission. I do not assume that the cost of government has gone down any. The indications I have noticed have indicated that it has gone up. So we will assume that it will cost from $350,000 to $700,000 to create a new commission. I do not believe we can in clear conscience ask the people to assume that extra financial obligation when we can not even meet existing ones.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Mercer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOUNG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would it not follow in the usual practice that if a bill were reported from Committee to the floor carrying an appropriation that it would automatically be referred to the Appropriation Committee and would not emerge from the Appropriations Committee until such time as there were funds available to finance it?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, there is no appropriation in the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

If there is no appropriation in the bill and no appropriation in the general appropriation bill, the bill would become inoperative, and it would not cost the Commonwealth a single penny, but at least we would have passed the bill.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, although the bill does not carry an appropriation, it does create a Commission. The salary of the Chairman of the Commission is $9,000 a year, the other two members receive $8,500. That is $52,000 a biennium. The bill states,—I believe infers that the Department of Labor and Industry will administer the bill and the moneys will be furnished from the Department of Labor and Industry appropriation. However, I would point out that that appropriation is smaller than it was two years ago.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what are the estimates as to the funds to be derived from those tax measures that are a part of our permanent tax structure?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I can answer the query by stating that the funds to be derived from our present tax structure are stated in the budget with the additional sum of approximately $20 million which Governor Fine in his message to this General Assembly, about a month ago, stated they now find will be received in addition to what is stated in the budget. That is mainly, as we stated one day on the floor here, $2 million increase in franchise tax revenues, $2 million estimated in upping the inheritance tax, $2 million increase in institutional revenues, a $5,400,000 increase in the estimates from the corporate net income tax. So if you have your budget readily available in front of you, you can add to the estimated revenue which we will receive, if we do not add any new taxes, the sum of $20 million approximately.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is the cigarette tax the only emergency tax, so called, and has it been sent to the Senate?

Mr. JOHNSON. The cigarette tax on the calendar is not an emergency tax measure. It is merely a measure which increases the present permanent cigarette tax by one cent.

I believe the only emergency tax measure on our calendar at the present time which is included in the Governor's budget is the mutual insurance tax, which is House Bill 814 and which is on the calendar.

Mr. ANDREWS. If we send the cigarette tax to the Senate as is, without any boost, how much would the emergency taxes and the permanent taxes yield? Would it not be about $820 million, something like that?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the cigarette tax bill that is presently on our calendar is not an emergency tax measure. The cigarette tax of four cents a pack is presently the law and is a permanent tax. This bill that is on our calendar now merely raises the tax one cent a pack. So if this bill does not pass, we will have a four-cent tax on a pack of cigarettes without any action by either the House or the Senate as I understand it.

The only emergency tax that is before us, as I say, is the domestic mutual insurance tax bill. The other emergency taxes that are before the Senate right now are the one percent corporate net income tax which we put on last session as temporary. That we have sent to the Senate and the manufacturers' exemption is in the Senate. That is a temporary measure. I believe that is all.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if the House would fall dead tomorrow, the Senate nevertheless would have jurisdiction over taxes now in it's possession, which, together with regular taxes, would yield about $820 million, is that right?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe your question is, if nothing further were done with respect to taxes by either the House or the Senate, how much money would the state realize from permanent taxes? Is that your question?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right, from the permanent taxes and the special taxes that we have sent over.

Mr. JOHNSON. Well, I would say that if the House and Senate do nothing further with regard to taxes, and you will take the figure of $836 million and add $20 million to it, which Governor Fine says we will receive by reason of upping the estimates, that gives us $856 million. Deduct from that approximately $52 million, one percent corporate net income which we will lose, that would bring us down to $800 million. Deduct the domestic mutual insurance—

Mr. ANDREWS. We are taking it for granted that the action in the Senate is in approval of any action of the House. We have sent them these bills and they are over there in their custody. They can "up" the corporate net income tax if they want to, or they can pass it at the figure we send over.

Mr. JOHNSON. If we go on that premise, that the Senate will pass what taxes we have sent over to them, we will receive $856 million, less the mutual insurance, which I believe is $4 or $5 million. So there would be approximately $850 million which will come into this Commonwealth during the next two-year period if we do nothing further and the Senate passes what taxes we have already sent to them.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am strongly impressed with the view that $856 million is quite a hunk of money, and there is always a possibility that it may occur to the other branch of this General Assembly that some of the taxes which we have sent to them and some of the taxes which are a permanent part of our tax structure might perhaps be "upped" a bit.

I have been credibly informed that such ideas are brewing in the Senate. There are even some Democrats in the Senate who are talking about making some increases in our standard tax structure.

Even though the Senate cannot screw its courage to the sticking point and suggest to the House some of the things that the House has lacked the courage to suggest to the Senate, it is nevertheless possible on the basis of the funds available to make generous provision for all the needs of the Commonwealth, or at least for the first year of the biennium. That can be done and that should be done.

Departments should not be in any ignorance at this time as to the funds available for the first year of the biennium. We have been unfortunately unable to resolve our tax problems.

The Majority Leader is quoted in the paper I read as saying, "we are going to stick it out all summer if need be." Well, I am not going to stick it out all summer, and I don't believe the Members of this House are going to stick it out all summer. There are plausible arguments that can be made in favor of the view that because of a psychological situation that has arisen, because of political feuds that may be temporary, it would be the better part of wisdom to call from the table the sine die resolution, fix a definite date for sine die adjournment, make provision for the first year of the biennium—and make generous provisions for the first year—and then come back when things have settled into a saner situation and then complete our work.

We are told that if we do not balance the budget for the biennium, the Governor will call us back the next day. He may call us back, and three of us will come. He may call us back next January for a two-week session to vote for finances, and we will all come. Surely by that time, not only the financial situation will resolve itself, but we will meet under conditions that do not offer the temptation to so many Members to make so many private agreements that are made possible by reason of the critical situation that confronts the majority leadership.

If we come back in January, or following Labor Day, and the only thing we are to consider is tax legislation,—there cannot be any dealing with a truck bill, or a Kent bill, or any other bill, because there will be nothing to deal with. You cannot even deal then with a reapportionment bill. You can come back clean, operating in an atmosphere of restored sanity.

I am simply offering that idea to the membership of the House for their thoughtful and prayerful consideration.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. ANDREWS. I desire to interrogate the gentleman form Westmoreland.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. LOVETT, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland please define a "rural" Member? Who and what comprise the rural constituency?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I feel that I informed this House before that the rural members of the Democratic Bloc are those who do not come from Philadelphia or Pittsburgh—Allegheny or Philadelphia. That is who it includes.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1953. No. 60.

SENATE

TUESDAY, July 7, 1953.

The Senate met 12:00 o'clock m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PHILIP SENT, Pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church Everett, offered the following prayer:

God of nations and God of souls, these select citizens of our State sit again to promote the welfare of its people. Therefore, may we know that we must bow not in custom but in deference to the truth, that the will of government must first be the will of God.

We are sitting among a great host of living witnesses to our efforts, great and small, whose lives depend on our words and right thinking. That mother who sent this day her children out into the world with courage in a fearful world; or that father who this day tries to keep his family in balance on the seesaw of economic life; the people who are trained to help us do the things of life; the doctor, the nurse, going about their administrations; the teacher preparing to instruct our new citizens into this strange world; the judge and lawyer, who dispense justice, truth and mercy; courageous enterprisers; skilled artisans; and the farmer, who at this moment is in the opposite corner of his hundred lonely acres; the aged; the widow; the orphan; the mentally infirm; the law breaker; all depend on the wisdom of these first citizens of our State.

Therefore, let them be aware to direct their virtues not only by the strength of law, the delight of delegated authority, skill, cleverness, money, numbers, experience, custom, but, also, let them have the health-giving virtues of the spirit, temperance piety, forbearance, integrity, tolerance, virtue, faith, hope and love.

When the deliberations of our Ship of State seem to flounder, let there be courage to bring all truth to light of day and to the light of good sense, without hidden knowledge or without deference to privilege, knowing that as good seamen only one course can be pursued on one voyage. Let us work together in harmony and let us be reminded that the Ruler of Ages will tomorrow demand greater decisions needing greater wisdom and a higher patriotism.

Bless the helmsmen of these Sessions, the Governor, the Officers of the Senate and House, committemen. Let us all look to the great Christ as the true example of how men should live, of whom even a poor Governor said, "I can find no fault in him."

We pray for peace, the peace of the world. May we, as a great Nation and a privileged Nation, not be so calloused to those who are underprivileged that we may stand in the way of peace. May we look forward and bring about to pass that which is said in the Scriptures, "He shall make wars to cease unto the ends of the earth."

Therefore, we ask Thy blessing on the opening of this Assembly that we may see the blessed things given to us. Thou art our God who gives blessings, and above all nations and races and times, Thou hast blessed this Nation from ocean to ocean and from border to border. So, in a sense of gratitude for this blessedness, let us humbly work together in that sense of blessedness.

At the close of this day may it be said of us that our lives have blessed Thee, our Almighty God. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. WALKER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the infantile paralysis period is with us again in this year of 1953. Thus far, epidemics have broken out in Alabama and North Carolina. Where and when another epidemic will strike, nobody knows.

Mr. President, there is no necessity of my telling you of the crippling effects of infantile paralysis. Unfortunately, there is no cure for it at this time. Because of that, we have a March of Dimes Campaign every year. We put on drives for funds in all communities, not only in Pennsylvania but throughout the entire Nation, to raise funds for research purposes. As I understand it, a serum has been developed called gamma globulin. It is effective as a preventive, and I understand it is very, very scarce.

Mr. President, a youngster of one of my constituents was afflicted with this horrible disease about two weeks ago. The youngster was assisted home by two other youngsters, who subjected themselves to this terrible disease. Immediately there was a search made for gamma globulin in the area. There was none to be found.

Mr. President, I was somewhat amazed to learn that although this precious serum was not in the hands of legitimate representatives of the medical profession or the health department, yet those operating in the black market seemed to have a supply of it and offered it to the parent of the afflicted child at $40.00 an ounce. How this person got hold of this serum, I do not know. However, it does appear to be on the black market.

Therefore, Mr. President, I thought it would be timely and a good idea to introduce a bill calling for the proper punishment of those who have illegal possession of this very scarce and valuable serum, and present it to this Legislature with the hope that the bill would be acted upon.

Frankly, Mr. President, because the serum is effective and particularly scarce, those who gain possession of it and dispose of it on the black market basis, should be horsewhipped in the public square. That is not the provision provided in these bills, but that should be the punishment. The punishment in this bill is $5,000 fine and two years in jail.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 757, entitled:

An Act relating to the unlawful obtaining, possessing and disposing of Gamma Globulin.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, on June 24, 1953, I made a statement on the floor of this Senate in which I said that there was an organized lobby trying to pass House Bills Nos. 573 and 574. They were successful last night in getting them passed on final passage.

Mr. President, I am informed from reliable authority that last night Mr. Harry Davis, representing the oil companies of Pennsylvania, held a victory dinner at the Penn-Harris Hotel. As we have said before on this floor, this legislation is for the benefit of the vested interests of Pennsylvania, and the oil companies are the chief beneficiaries. I want the public to know that.

While I am on the floor, Mr. President, I want to express my sincere appreciation to the Republican Members of the Senate who had the intestinal fortitude to stand up and face their convictions and vote against this legislation. I say to you, Mr. President, they are real statesmen and should be congratulated.

Mr. President, while I am here, I am calling upon the Governor of this great Commonwealth to take notice of thes remarks of mine and I ask him, in all sincerity, to veto this obnoxious legislation which was passed by this Senate last night.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PROBLEM OF SANITATION IN SUBURBAN COMMUNITIES

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, July 7, 1953.

Whereas, The increased number of housing developments in suburban and rural areas has superimposed problems upon these areas with which they are often unprepared to cope; and

Whereas, The laws governing these suurban and rural areas and the attitudes of the population therein are frequently attuned to life in sparsely settled rural areas rather than the dense population now burdening them and creating problems associated with the gathering of dense masses of people in small areas; and

Whereas, The problems of sewerage, sanitation and collection of refuse which require municipal guidance, control and action in order to safeguard the well-being and health of the populace often cannot be met by newly organized communities or by old communities newly saturated with population overflowing the borders of nearby cities; and

Whereas, Individual attempts at sewerage disposal such as septic tanks have frequently proved inadequate and inefficient and consequently the case of disease and discomfort; and

Whereas, Lack of garbage collection has caused the piling up and collection of refuse near human habitations and along public highways, in such a manner as to create eyesores, spread disease and to emit other manifestations of filth and uncleanliness so as to raise grave doubts about our much vaunted high standards of living; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study the problems of sanitation in the various suburban communities of this Comonwealth with particular stress on sewerage and collection of garbage and other refuse and the effects upon the population of the communities concerned; and be it further

Resolved, That the commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly together with such proposed legislation as may be necessary to carry out the same.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. McCUSKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 7, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, July 13, 1953 at three o'clock p. m., E.S.T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, July 13, 1953 at 1:00 p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, a short time ago, Senator Lane said that a victory dinner was held last night, to which several Senators were invited and attended. This dinner, he said, was held by Mr. Davis, I believe.

Mr. President, as Senator Lane knows, and all the other Senators here know, we started in Session about five o'clock yesterday after noon and went right through until quite late. The only refreshment that I saw here was a sandwich or two that the fellows took time out to get. I had mine at my desk; I do not think that was much of a dinner. I do not believe there was anyone off the floor or outside the Capitol from the time we went into Session yesterday until we closed. I do not believe that Senator Lane would have any idea that any dinners were held at one-thirty this morning at any place.

MOTION TO EXPUNGE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I brand that statement as being unfounded and unwarranted and unjustified. I move that it be stricken from the record.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not entering into the subject matter of this discussion. I just want to remind the Members of this Senate that the statement made by Senator Lane was made under the remarks which are considered personal privilege.

Mr. President, in the history of this Senate, no remarks under "personal privilege can be expunged from the record. Whether they are right or wrong, that depends on the conscience of Senator Lane, himself. Any remarks that are made the question of personal privilege are a part of the record of this Senate. It is up to Senator Lane, himself, as to whether he believes that what he said was true or not, not the Members of this Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not for a minute deny to the gentleman from Washington the right to say anything that is on his mind under the question of personal privilege, but there are fifty Members of the Senate, including the gentleman from Washington, and I would not for a minute want the newspapers to gain the impression—I say this in defense of my good friend, Senator Barr—that he attended any victory dinner that may have been given by anybody at one-thirty this morning. I think that in fairness to Senator Barr, the record should be cleared as to whether or not Senator Barr was there.

Mr. President, the implication was that forty-nine of us attended the dinner, the victory dinner. I want to say to the gentleman from Washington, that I know of no dinner that was given, I was not invited, I did not attend and I feel kind of neglected and hurt that I was bypassed, if such an event took place. In defense of Senator Barr and myself, I think the record should be cleared.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, Senator Walker knows full well that his remarks, if any ought to be expunged from the record his should be. He knows that Senator Lane was very clear in his remarks. He did not say that there were forty-nine Members of the Senate there. He said something about a victory dinner being held.

Mr. President, I think Senator Walker knows full well that whether it was a dinner, shindig or a jamboree or, as one man said, "A rose by any name still smells the same" whatver the occasion was, he knows full well that the Democrats would not have been invited if there were such an occasion. I do not believe that the mere play of words, or the trickery of using Senator Barr's name, would ever convince anybody that Senator Barr attended the dinner. Whether Senator Walker did or not, that is up to him. I do not care, personally, who attended it or who did not attend or anything about the matter.

Mr. President, I just stand on the personal privilege that a man may make the remarks under "personal privilege" into the records of this Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in my remarks under "Petitions and Remonstrances," I made the statement that Harry Davis gave a victory dinner, or a party, after the Session last night in the Penn-Harris Hotel. I did not say that any Senators were there. I do not know. However, I do know that he held a dinner celebrating the fact that they passed this legislation.

Mr. President, if you want it under "Personal Privilege," I will put it there, if so required by the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Reporter please come for ward? The Chair would like to have the record read. There is a motion before the Chair, and the Chair desires to do what is fair under the circumstances.

(The Reporter complied.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair feels that after hearing the notes of the Reporter of the Senate, there was nothing that violated the Rules of the Senate in the statement made by the Senator from Washington.

The Chair would like to repeat again what he tried to indicate last night. We, of course, have to be very jealous of trying to impinge the right, under the proper order of business, of any Member of the Senate to express himself freely, provided he does not malign or assail the character, by direction or expression, of any Member of the Senate or in any way malign a fellow Member of the Senate.

The Chair feels constrained to rule that the motion made by the Majority Floor Leader, and seconded by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, is not of order.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, before we proceed with today's Calendar, I should like to present to the Chair a report which I think is of considerable importance.

Mr. President, some time ago we had the findings of the Joint State Government Commission in their directed study of Highway Use and Costs. I presume that the Members of the Senate have paid considerable attention to that report, because it is very pertinent in connection with legislation pertaining to trucks and truck weights, particularly.

Now I have the honor, on behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, Mr. President, to send to the Chair a Technical Supplement to Highway Use and Highway Costs. Copies of this report have been delivered to the office of the President pro tempore of the Senate, and will be placed on the Members' desks shortly.

REPORT FROM THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TECHNICAL SUPPLEMENT "DEALING WITH HIGHWAY USE AND HIGHWAY COSTS"

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WAGNER, on behalf of the Joint State Government Commission submitted the following report which was read by the Clerk as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

P. O. BOX 61

ROOM 450—CAPITOL BUILDING

HARRISBURG

July 7, 1953.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I have the honor to transmit herewith Technical Supplement to Report of the Joint State Government Commission, Session of 1953, dealing with Highway Use and Highway Costs, heretofore transmitted to the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Copies of this supplement for distribution to the members of the Senate have been delivered to the office of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) BAKER ROYER, Chairman.

The PRESIDENT. The communication will be spread upon the Journal, and the report will be printed on full in the Appendix.

An Act to amend the title and the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three P. L. 242) entitled "An act prohibiting the payment by counties of costs in criminal cases discharged after preliminary hearings before magistrates justices of the peace and aldermen unless names and addresses of prosecutors defendants and witnesses appear on the transcript thereof" by imposing costs on private prosecutors in certain cases and prohibiting payment by counties

Section 1 The title and Sections 1 and 2 of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 242) entitled "An act prohibiting the payment by counties of costs in criminal cases discharged after preliminary hearings before magistrates justices of the peace and aldermen unless names and addresses of prosecutors defendants and witnesses appear on the transcript thereof" are hereby amended to read as follows

An Act

Prohibiting the payment by counties of costs in criminal cases discharged after preliminary hearings before magistrates justices of the peace and aldermen [unless names and addresses of prosecutors defendants and witnesses appear on the transcript thereof] in certain cases and imposing costs on private prosecutors

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That no county shall hereafter be liable for the payment of any costs in any prosecution brought before any magistrate alderman or justice of the peace against any person on the charge of having committed any crime when such charge shall upon examination at a preliminary hearing appear to be unfounded and shall be dismissed or discharged by such magistrate alderman or justice of the peace [and the costs thereof] (1) in cases other than felonies unless the prosecutor is a police officer engaged as such in the employ of the Commonwealth or any of its poltical subdivisions and (2) in all cases where the costs are properly directed to be paid by the county unless there shall be endorsed upon the transcript of such proceedings the names and specific addresses of the prosecutor the defendant or defendants and of all the witnesses who were called and sworn and who testified at such hearing or examination In all dismissed prosecutions other than for felonies where the prosecutor is not a police officer engaged as such in the employ of the Commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions the costs shall be placed on the prosecutor or on the defendant if so permitted by law

Section 2 It is unlawful for the county commissioners or the controller of any county to order authorize or approve the payment of any costs in any such proceedings unless the transcript thereof shall contain the name and specific address of the prosecutor the defendant or defendants and all witnesses as required by the preceding section of this act or in any dismissed prosecution other than for a felony unless the prosecutor is a police officer engaged as such in the employ of the Commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, D-day comes for many people in many localities in our Commonwealth on July 31 which is the date of the expiration of the Federal Rent Control Act.

Mr. President, I introduced in the Senate, Senate Bill No. 200 on February 23. Shortly thereafter, the Committee on Local Government granted a public hearing on this bill. Approximately one week from that time, the Federal Government extended the Rent Control Act until July 31. It appears now that there will be no legislation coming forth in Washington, D. C. for stand-by rent control.

Senate Bill No. 200 simply provides, Mr. President, that any locality, by resolution of their commissioners of the township, or the council of the borough, or the council and the mayor in a third class city, or the council and the mayor in a second class A and first class cities can pass a rent control act.

Mr. President, this bill cannot get the proper support in the Committee on Local Government to be brought before the Senate for action, and, therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator McMenamin and myself, I offer the following discharge resolution on Senate Bill No. 200.

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LOCAL GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 200

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. BARR and McMENAMIN offered the following resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, July 7, 1953.

Resolved, That the Committee on Local Government is hereby discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 200, entitled "An act relating to the regulations, control and stabilization of rents and possession of housing spaces and living accommodations by municipalities and townships," which was referred to the Committee on Local Government on February 23, 1953 and has not been acted on by said Committee.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

MOTION TO ADOPT RESOLUTION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of this resolution.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Chairman of the Local Government Committee has brought to my attention the wording of this discharge resolution. I simply called the Legislative Reference Bureau and asked them to prepare for me a discharge resolution on Senate Bill No. 200. Said resolution concludes with these words:

"Which was referred to the Committee on Local Government on February 23, 1953 and has not been acted on by said Committee."

Mr. President, I thought that I had made myself clear when saying that we had a public hearing on this bill. The bill was acted upon by the Committee, and the disposal of the bill was simply this. The motion was to lay the bill on the table indefinitely. That, to me, is the same as no action by the committee. I hope that I have made myself clear, and I press for a roll call vote on the discharge resolution.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, since we have mentioned some things which happened in committee, let me say that the Senator from Allegheny agreed to put it on that particular order of business, just so long as he could be quoted as saying that he voted "no."

Mr. McMENAMIN. If I may, Mr. President, I would like to have just a minute to speak in support of this resolution, so that the Senate as a whole will have an opportunity to provide some form of rent control. As has been explained, the Federal rent controls expire at the end of this month. I think we can be safe in saying that as of the first of August, thousands of Pennsylvanians face an increase in their rent.

Mr. President, during the Federal rent control period, no doubt, there were some inequities in the application of rent control. Like most things in this life, there are two sides to every story, and perhaps there were some landlords who took advantage of their tenants, and some tenants who took advantage of their landlords. However, I think that we should try to legislate for the greatest good of the greatest number.

Mr. President, I think that, at least, as a compromise, if we cannot do anything better, this bill would allow each community on a local basis to set up some form of rent control. It seems to me that it is going to be a shock and an overnight maladjustment if all rent controls are lifted at the end of this month.

Mr. President, I think that the least we can do is to give each local community the option to vote for controls as it sees fit, and that is what this bill would do. I think that this would be in the interest of the greatest number of people in Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is always refreshing to see these discharge resolutions coming in, because you can sort of sight the end of the Session and adjournment sine die. It is something akin to the sailor who has sailed over the broad expanse of the sea without seeing life of any kind whatsoever in the sky, and then he sees the sea gull as he approaches the shore.

Mr. President, the Senator, I see, was quoted in the paper as saying that he was going to present this resolution, but that he knew it would be voted down because we never do vote in favor of discharge resolutions.

The Senator well knows, Mr. President, over the past history of this legislative body, that we have tried to keep the business of the Senate in regular order and in regular procedure. These committees do the work of looking over the bills, and it is within their province as to whether they report them out or not. We have never discharged a committee from the consideration of a bill, regardless of whether the Democrats were in control or the Republicans were in control.

Mr. President, I do not want to disappoint Senator Barr. I know he feels that this resolution of his is going to be defeated, and I am going to help carry out that prediction and ask my colleagues to vote "no."

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I wish to read a short letter on the letterhead of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's Home Association, of Lodge No. 174, B. of R. T. Building, 1017 Eighth Avenue, Altoona, Pennsylvania, which letter states as follows:

"BROTHERHOOD OF RAILROAD TRAINMEN'S HOME ASSOCIATION" OF LODGE No. 174

"Dear Senator Mallery:

"We, the undersigned, wish to state our position as to the proposed Legislative Bill on State Rent Control. We, as property controllers and owners, are opposed to a continuation or proposed legislative action to advance control! We have been hamstrung so to speak for long enough to the extent that our property has deteriorated and depreciated while our valuation has remained the same with the resulting tax load beyond the revenues. We have reached the point of no return without some glimmer of future relief to help carry the repairs and repairs alone without any considered remodeling to existing property.

"Therefore we take this opportunity to express our thoughts and desires that you as our representative will with all the power at your command suppress any legislation pending or proposed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Senator Mallery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Will you be kind enough to read that letterhead, the name of that company or association or brotherhood?

Mr. MALLERY. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's Home Association, of Lodge No. 174.

Mr. HOLLAND. Will Senator Mallery further permit himself to be interrogated, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Is that a Building and Loan Association, Senator?

Mr. MALLERY. No, it is not.

Mr. HOLLAND. What type of association is it, Senator?

Mr. MALLERY. The buildinig was constructed, Senator, and is operated and owned by members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am a little bit confused on who he is speaking for, because the representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is in the House right now, was in the Senate a moment ago, and appeared before the committee, asking for the continuation of rent controls. I do not want the gentleman from Blair to think that I am saying this to him, but to me i sounds like a phony organization.

Mr. MALLERY. Well, it definitely is not phony; I can assure the Senator of that.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen went on record, among all their unions throughout the State, for the continuation of rent controls. They not only appeared at the Harrisburg hearing, but they appeared at the National hearing, asking for the extension of rent controls.

Mr. President, one of the reasons why the bill, which has been introduced by Senator Barr, was introduced, was because of the fact that a survey was made on the part of a number of our people in Pittsburgh. We went to the trouble of calling on all of the members of the Real Estate Board of the city of Pittsburgh, and this was the question which we asked each one of them. "Have you any vacancies at $70 a month or under? Prospective tenant has two children of grade school age. Interested in any section of the city of Pittsburgh."

Mr. President, altogether there were fifty-eight members of the sixty-five members of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board contacted. For instance, we called A. J. Aberman first. He said he had nothing. The Allegheny Real Estate said they had four rooms on the third floor, no private bath, and this was the only piece of property which they had for rent but they did not recommend it. George A. Alsop, J. H. Aronson, Barone and Lind, Born, Breen—I think the gentlemen from Pittsburgh, Senator Walker, Senator Kopriver and Senator Fleming, all recognize these names—the Commonwealth Real Estate, all were contacted and practically every one of them said they had nothing for rent.

Mr. President, at the end of my talk I wish to present this record to be printed in full.

Mr. President, to say that there is an abundance of homes for rent is absoluely a falsehood. When there are no extra homes and homes cannot be rented, then naturally when the lid is lifted there will immediately be a big increase in rents in the city of Pittsburgh. I feel that this only gives the right to the elected officials of the boroughs the townships and the cities to set up rent controls, if the people who were elected by that community see the necessity of rent controls. This is home rule, which I have heard the Republicans talk so much about, at its best. We are giving the people nearest to the problem the opportunity to decide whether or not there shall be rent controls.

Mr. President, the passage of this bill merely sets up the machinery to give the local communities the right to establish rent controls if necessary.

Therefore, Mr. President, I sincerely hope that our good friend, the Majority Leader, does not take this as he stated; that is always a rule to give the members of this Senate the chance to hide behind the pickling of a bill in committee.

Mr. President, if you vote to discharge this committee and to consider this bill, you are in favor of giving protection in the communities where homes are not plentiful, where they are scarce. If you vote against it, you are voting again for the big real estate lobbies which exist both here in Harrisburg and in Washington. This is a vote by which you express whether or not you have the intestinal fortitude to stand up and be counted.

Mr. Praesident, I now ask that this "Exhibit of Rental Request" be inserted into the record.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the distinguished Majority Floor Leader said that under our system here in the Senate, bills are considered and disposed of in Senate Committee. I agree with that statement. However, Mr. President, when a bill which is before a committee is subjected to a public hearing, as this bill was subjected to, then the results of that public hearing ought to govern the decision of the committee members.

Mr. President, this bill, as I said before, was subjected to a public hearing. We had representatives of the real estate groups, as well as the labor groups, at this hearing to give testimony The testimony presented by the real estate groups—incidentally, I am in the real estate business—was in the form of a series of advertisements, proposing to indicate that a sufficient number of homes were available in the Pittsburgh area to take care of those who might be in need of housing. However, on rebuttal, those who represented the labor unions, at least to my satisfaction, refuted the testimony presented by the real estate groups to indicate that the housing that was available in the Pittsburgh area was not of the type, was not of the caliber, was not within the range, to take care of the ordinary class and type of people who work in the mills and the factories.

Mr. President, since they were the only groups that appeared at the hearing, I, again, maintained that the preponderance of the evidence was in favor of continuing rent controls on an option basis; that is, permit those municipalities that see fit, and who have a housing shortage, to continue rent control.

Mr. President, I happen to come from what has been determined a critical defense area, as well as a critical housing area. Although thousands of homes have been constructed in the area in which I live, being in the real estate business I can say to you honestly and sincerely that there is no housing available for rental purposes in the area in which I live to take care of the great demand.

Mr. President, I will agree that landlords have been, perhaps, dealt with unfairly to some extent, relative to charges for rentals and a fair return on their investments. However, this could be adjusted even with the continuation of rent control if a proper rent control committee were established in those areas where rent control was needed and should be continued.

I think it would be wise, therefore, Mr. President and Members of this Senate, if we would authorize rent control on a local option basis to prevent chaos in those areas where there is a housing shortage.

For the reasons stated, Mr. President, I must vote for this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. HOLLAND and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Bane,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Toole,
Barr,	Holland,	McGinnis,	Weiner,
Camiel,	Lane,	McMenamin,	Yosko,

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair is happy to inform the Members that one of our Members from Fulton County, Mr. Kerlin, was married last Friday. Today we have him and his bride in the House.

The Chair would ask the gentleman from Fulton, Mr. Kerlin, if he will be kind enough to introduce to the Members of the House his very gracious and beautiful bride.

Mr. KERLIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the Speaker and present to the Members of the House my wife who answers to the name of Elizabeth.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the gentleman.

REPORT OF JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

TECHNICAL SUPPLEMENT TO HIGHWAY USE AND HIGHWAY COSTS

Mr. ROYER presented a communication and report from the Joint State Government Commission.

The communication was read by the Clerk as follows:

July 7, 1953.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I have the honor to transmit herewith Technical Supplement to Report of the Joint State Government Commission, Session of 1953, dealing with Highway Use and Highway Costs, heretofore transmitted to the House of Representatives.

Copies of this supplement for distribution to the members of the House of Representatives have been delivered to the office of the Chief Clerk of the House.

Respectfully submitted,

BAKER ROYER

BR: lrw BAKER ROYER, Chairman.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, perhaps, but I cannot be sure, it may be possible to avert a major catastrophe. I hold in my hand a clipping which concludes as follows:

> The situation at Harrisburg is a disgrace to the Commonwealth. There is no leadership, no courage, no will to do what should be done and get it over with. Time was in this state when a legislature as inept as the one now in session would excite the burghers to engage in a hanging bee.
> All right, folks, come to Harrisburg and bring your ropes along!"

Now it happens that I see in our midst, at least upon the outskirts of our midst, the distinguished commentator who would incite the burghers to this unholy insurrection. He is none other than the distinguished John M. Cummings. And I plead with him, even though he may have his minions with their ropes down in the basement, to delay his bloody and unholy onslaught until at least I have finished this address.

Mr. Speaker, insofar as we have been delayed I shall endeavor to cut the Gordian knot and the period of frustration that has so long enslaved us.

Ever since the talk of cooperation between the major parties, the majority party and the minority party began, as Minority Leader I have always had fifteen votes with which to cooperate. The majority party is perhaps—and I say perhaps— entitled to fifteen rebels on a tax measure even though, as has been pointed out on the floor of this House, it frequently happens on matters of major party concern that the majority party is able to muster 105 votes on its own steam.

It has been my good fortune as Minority Leader that eighteen members of the minority caucus have from time to time, not in the midst of a caucus melee, but from time to time come to me and said, "Hi, if you need us, if there is something that you believe is of party interest, we will go down the line with you."

I figured that with eighteen pledges of that kind it was safe to say that we could cooperate with the majority to the extent of fifteen votes. And I want to say that I am profoundly moved that after forty years on this Hill off and on, as a reporter, as an editor, as a cub legislator, as Minority Floor Leader, that there are eighteen men—eighteen men—who say to me, "Hi, if you need us, you can depend on us." And those fifteen votes to cooperate on a tax program were not bunk; they were real men who would have stood up and taken the bumps.

I want to thank those eighteen. They know whom I am thanking. And I am now announcing to the Members of this House and to all who may care to listen—to all of those who pledged their support on the minority side in connection with tax legislation, that as far as I am concerned they are released unconditionally from their commitment.

One of the reasons they are released, though perhaps not the compelling reason, is that following each conference, with spokesmen presumably representing the majority party sentiment, various Republican leaders of stature, not the Speaker of this House, not the Majority Leader of this House, but persons more nearly associated with Senatorial togas, whispered it around that they did no want the taxes that were being proposed; that they did not favor the taxes that were being submitted to the Republican caucus; that those taxes were only trotted out because those were the only taxes that the Democrats would agree to give any measure of support.

Thus the representation was made that the majority party was going along with the minority; that the minority was calling the shots; that the minority was in effect assuming party responsibility for the formulation of a tax program.

That sort of thing is not playing the game on the level. In all our conferences with majority party leaders we have played the game on the square. The majority party leaders have always known exactly where we stood, and we are prepared to honor every commitment made. We never at any time were committed further than to endeavor to obtain the support of 15 Members of the minority for a tax program to which the majority party as a party was committed. I repeat we could have honored that commitment at any time.

But we wound up in this position. We were asked to support, and by proper inference, were bound to support to the extent of fifteen Members, measures for which the majority party in its own caucus could not muster forty-five votes. We were even asked to support taxes for which the majority party in its own caucus could not muster thirty votes.

Now this sort of situation is not a reasonable situation. Outside of the uncontrollable rebels in the ranks of the Republican party—and your voting record shows that you cannot possibly have more than fifteen irreconcilables, it was your business and your duty if you expect minority party suport to come up with ninety votes.

I want to repeat for the purpose of emphasis some of the things that I intended to say yesterday. The representation has been made that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania faces a financial crisis. It does not face a financial crisis. It has not at any time faced a financial crisis, but it has faced and is facing a continuing political crisis. I will have something to say about that a little later.

It is not true that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is financially destitute, that there is not any money in sight for the hospitals and the schools and the mental institutions; that there is not any money with which to pay deserving state employes a too long deferred increase in salaries.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania through its General Assembly is confronted with a $1,400 million budget and by simply maintaining our existing tax structure we will have gone nine-tenths of the way in financing that budget. We will have done nine-tenths of our job.

I have in the past proposed and I again propose that we proceed to finance adequately, generously the Commonwealth's needs during the first year of the current biennium. I propose that we make prudent but generous provision for our hospitals; prudent but generous provision for our schools, for our state institutions, for all our essential services; that we proceed to appropriate money for a salary increase for state employes. In short, I propose that for the first year of the current biennium we establish a standard of services.

I suggest that we establish a standard of service, that we clear the calendar of all deserving major legislation and then adjourn sine die to meet in January 1954. Having established a standard of service, as far as the hospitals are concerned, can you imagine that the Assembly reconvening would dare retreat during the second year of the biennium from the standard established in the first year? Having established a standard of service for all of our state institutions, for our schools, is it conceivable that the General Assembly would dare retreat from those standards? Certainly not!

It is quite possible to raise technical and piddling objections to that sort of a program, to say that it cannot be done for this reason or it cannot be done for some other reason. It can be done! It can be done as long as tax anticipation notes are a component part of the Commonwealth's present fiscal practice.

State services of a Commonwealth that has in excess of $850 million in sight have no reason, other than indecision and mismanagement why they should flounder and fail to serve.

Now a word as to continued sessions. If we have calendars that justify our attention and concern, members of the minority party should be present in their seats at every session, but this is no season of the year to waste a lot of time, twiddling thumbs and bickering in caucuses.

It is my considered opinion that all of the essential legislation that should be enacted at this session, can be enacted during the next two weeks, certainly in the next three weeks.

If important legislation is pending on Monday, July 13th, we should all be here. But unless important legislation is pending, there is no reason why all of us should be here simply for the purpose of witnessing the throes of the majority while it is endeavoring to make up its mind where it is going and when.

I say to the members of the minority in all seriousness, that as far as the Minority Leader is concerned, members of the minority party are, as far as I am concerned, at liberty to stay at home until they are sent for, with this exception of course that we will expect the caucus Chairman, the leader of the Philadelphia delegation, the leader of the Allegheny County delegation, the Chairman of the rural block, and the Chairman of the Democratic caucus's policy committee, plus the Minority leader, to be in attendance irrespective of whether the sessions are or are not do-nothing sessions.

Now a word as to the general all-over picture: We say that the General Assembly is not facing a financial crisis, that it is instead facing a political crisis. Various Republican leaders have apparently absconded and gone into hiding with the emblems of party power.

If given a period during which to think the thoughts that statesmen are supposed to think, it may come about by some strange coincidence that the Republican State Chairman, M. Harvey Taylor, the Republican National Committeeman, Mason Owlett, the Senior Senator from Pennsylvania, Edward Martin, the Junior Senator from Pennsylvania, Jim Duff, may by some strange coincidence meet at some rendezvous in the Poconos or elsewhere, and after they have determined to their own satisfaction who would be the standard-bearer in next year's Gubernatorial contest, they might emerge with a party program and a party.

They will have to have a party program next year. October, November, December or January would be a good time to start.

I have numerous paper clippings written by editorial scribblers. I used to be an editorial scribbler. When I was an editorial scribbler I could advise the Premier of Great Britain what he should do; I knew what the President did that was wrong; I knew absolutely where the Congress erred, and I could instruct this Legislature no end. There was not anything I did not know when I was an editorial scribbler. I used to write them by the ream.

Then I got to be a cub Legislator and learned a lot of things. I then went along in the ranks as a Legislator and I found out that before an editorial scribbler can become acquainted with the facts of life as far as General Assemblies are concerned, he had to be part of the program and know what he was up against.

I have a great regard for reporters, but since I have ceased to be one, I detest editors. I think they are an abomination. You send in the best story you ever wrote, and they take a meat ax and without intelligence the make-up man says, "It is seven takes too long." They paralyze your prize paragraphs. The only fellow that likes editors, as far as I know, is this fellow that wants to hang us, and he says, let him write anything he wants even hang the Legislators.

But these editorial scribblers, every time those mice squeek, we are supposed to jump on tables for fear. They are always placing responsibility for the present situation, and they always wind up by saying it is the wicked Democrats and that it is a conspiracy to bring this situation to frustration, because they do not have the genius, the leadership, to produce a program. They think they can convince the people that the Democrats are responsible for their inactivity and their incapacity. They won two ways. They have shielded themselves and they have placed the blame for their own shortcomings on the Democrats.

I am speaking seriously to you Republicans. If you have a State Chairman that does not visit the Governor once in six months, if you have a State Chairman that does not talk to your National Committeeman, if you have a National Committeeman that does not talk to your Junior Senator, if you have a Junior Senator that is at odds with your Senior Senator, if you are playing fast and loose for political power and expecting to put a program across in absentia and placing the responsibility on the Speaker, and upon the House Leader and absolutely divorced him from political power, you created a situation that is a shame and a disgrace to any party leadership.

Now I say, and I may say it to the peril of the Democratic party, I say that if the men I have named would get together in good faith, they would make it possible to solve the legislative problems we have here within an hour.

Maybe I am silly making any move that might help to solidify the Republican party, but gentlemen, a minority cannot deal with shadows; a minority cannot deal with a leadership that has no power except persuasion, oral persuasion, and they pull the rug out from under you any time they want to.

The Democratic party should have responsible leadership. If I had my way I would have the Democratic party reconvene the Democratic State Committee, and I would frame new instructions if needed for the Democratic Minority in the House.

I am working and will continue to work under the last instructions given me by the Democratic State Committee. God knows what instructions you have been endeavoring to work under on the other side of the House. You have developed a positive genius for disunion.

I have said what I have said in all seriousness. I have stated my personal position, and as Minority floor leader unless rebuked by the Democratic caucus, there, Members, is where we stand.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that I enjoyed the remarks of the Minority Leader just as much as the rest of the membership did.

I first want to say that as far as the Press Gallery here is concerned, I think the Press as a whole has given the people of Pennsylvania a pretty fair and clear picture and story of just what this problem is now and what has been facing this Session of the General Assembly.

I think they have pretty well driven home to the people the fact that if Pennsylvania is to continue as the great state it is, and continue the services they are giving the people, this money that we are seeking to raise by a new revenue program must be provided for. I think they have been very fair about it.

I do feel, however, that the newspapers in the last two or three weeks have become a little too much concerned about what is going on in Harrisburg. I think we have been unduly chastised for a job which I think is being fairly well done, even though we are here in the month of July. You want to remember that the original budget request was 157 million.

All committees in this House, and various individuals, and Members singly have been working on various items in the budget and have brought up suggestions where money could be saved in the budget.

As you know now we are at the point where we are forced to raise aproximately $120 million. Many savings have been made in the budget and some new things have come up that we find must be provided for. I do not think the people of Pennsylvania should complain that we have been here and saved approximately $37 million in this period since we have been in Harrisburg, and before we leave Harrisburg and close this Session we hope to make many more savings in the government, consistent with good government and providing good service to the people of Pennsylvania.

So, again I say, I think the Press has been fair, but I believe they should tell the people that things are not as bad in Harrisburg as they have led the people to believe.

Now, even if we do nothing, there will be over $800 million provided to run the state, so we are not facing financial chaos. What we need to do is to raise the additional money that is necessary to keep Pennsylvania in step with the other great states in this Union, and that is what we are trying to do. We are steadfastly trying to do it, not only on this side of the House, but on the other side of the House, so we are not, to repeat as the Minority Leader has said, in any great financial chaos nor is the state facing ruin. We will solve this problem in our good old fashioned American way before we leave Harrisburg.

I am sorry to have the Minority Leader pull the rug out from under us on those fifteen votes. It reminds me of the story of Tantalus. You know the word "tantalize" comes from Tantalus. I believe the story goes that Tantalus was forever reaching for some fruit, and as he would reach for it it would be pulled away from him, and he never did get it. I think eventually he perished, and that is where we get the word "tantalize."

The Minority Leader has been tantalizing us, shall I say, with these 15 votes. I suppose we will now perish because of losing them. I hope not.

You might say it is very poor leadership that we have been unable on this side of the House to put over a hodge podge, crazy quilt tax program, we could only raise 45 to 60 votes. I could give you the answer to that. The membership on this side of the House very, very sincerely feels that a broad base tax is the only vehicle that can pull Pennsylvania out of its financial plight. We have very poor hopes here for a broad-base tax. The Members on this side right at this moment I am sure feel that a broad-base tax is the only solution to our problem. They dislike thoroughly voting for numerous and sundry taxes which play heavily on the particular group which is being asked to pay it to balance this budget. These Members on this side of the House are sticking to that belief and I know from my conversations with them that they want a broad-base tax, and many of them are willing to stick here until that is the way in which we solve this problem. Until we do get a broad-base tax we will continue to have the financial trouble that Pennsylvania is beset with at the present time.

As to a recess I did say to a newsman over the weekend that I did not favor a recess. If it could be shown to me that a recess will accomplish something toward providing the revenue that the Commonwealth must have at the present time, if a recess will do that, I am for a recess, but we recessed in the 1951 session for two weeks, then for three weeks, and then for six weeks, I believe, and we found that during those recess periods nothing was done. Folks went on vacation. The machinery of the General Assembly came to a halt. Finally a few good men on this side of the House were appointed to sit down and stick for three weeks until they came up with an acceptable tax program, and that is what we will have to do this time. We must stick here and fight this thing out and solve this problem.

I thoroughly dislike going home and meeting my newspaperman every day, every week, between now and next January and having him say "What are you fellows going to do? Are you not going to solve this problem? Why do you not get down there? What are you doing home? We sent you down there to do a job."

I say, as the Majority Leader, I want to see the job done on this side of the House to try to put over a broad-base tax. I think we have gone a long way to write into the tax structure of Pennsylvania a tax, as I said here weeks ago, where the average person will be given the opportunity to put his shoulder to the wheel and for once help pay the load to run this state.

Personally, I still have that same conviction. I think a broad-base tax is the only way, the only solution to our difficulty.

I agree with the Minority Leader that the leaders of the Republican party of Pennsylvania should sit down together. They should perhaps have done it long ago, and come to the leadership here and say "We have come together. We have agreed that a broad-base tax is the thing. We think we can sell it to the people of Pennsylvania. We think the people of Pennsylvania will admire the Republican party for having the courage to put on a broad-base tax in the second biennium, just before they are getting ready to elect a Governor."

That is the kind of message that I would like to have, and I would like to have them come to me and say "Here are the five votes on a silver platter that you were trying to get all this time."

I think the Minority Leader's suggestion is a good one. Of course, I will say this, I do not think all is peaches and cream in the Democratic party. I do not think the leaders in Pittsburgh on the Democratic side are speaking to the Philadelphia leaders on the Democratic side. I have that surmise from what I have been reading in the newspapers.

But that is representative government, and as long as people fight, that is good, but do they always come up with the right answer?

Over and above all the talk, the re-hash, the conversation, the huddles in the hotel corridors and the lobbies, we come back to the situation that we must raise $120 million. We can cut a little bit more here and there, and I say, that we on the Republican side, the Republican leadership, must face the fact that we must get together as Republicans and do this job. It is not the duty of the Democratic party to give us the votes, although as I said before, the Democrats come from counties that have hospitals and schools, and it is just as much their duty to help raise the money as it is to vote for appropriation bills. But it is the Republican party's primary duty to give the votes for a revenue program and that is what I am pleading for here today, on this side of the House, that we fight together, side by side and do this job, and if the minority side wants to pool with us fifteen votes, that is all right with me, because we have 109 Republican votes here that should do the job without going over and asking Hi Andrews for the votes.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a brief statement in regard to a newspaper article in the morning Pittsburgh Post Gazette with respect to the rural group having a caucus.

Yesterday I made a statement in regard to the rural group's caucus, and according to the newspaper it was misconstrued to mean that there was a split, or a deal, or a rebellion in the Democratic ranks. We wish to inform the newspapers and the Members of the House that there has been no rebellion, no split or deal in the Democratic ranks in any manner. This statement is being made informing the Press of this fact.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to say as a result of long experience, that while the gentleman from Westmoreland might upon occasion lead a one-man insurrection, he never, no never, heads a rebellion.

Mr. WOOD IN THE CHAIR

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, after two such soul-stiring messages concerning the affairs of the Commonwealth, perhaps the membership might be a little impatient with another speech, but I wish to assure them that my remarks will be rather brief.

Quite frequently the Members of this House receive written communications from various civic groups in the City of Philadelphia, namely, the Citizens Charter Committee, the Committee of Seventy, the Greater Philadelphia Movement and usually their epistles advocate reserving certain provisions of the Home Rule City Charter.

Invariably they use a term called "Charter Wreckers." The Press deems it advisable to put that term in headlines, quoting the statements from the organizations I have named, and several others.

Last week one of our very outstanding newspapers on the front page broke a very interesting story concerning an opinion that was submitted to the Civil Service Commission of Philadelphia freezing county jobs, and the Philadelphia Inquirer quoted the facts adequately and fairly.

Two days later another outstanding newspaper in Philadelphia deemed it advisable to print an editorial. The Evening Bulletin on July 2nd wrote this editorial entitled "Broken Charter Promise". During the past several years these two newspapers in particular have supported and upheld the Home Rule City Charter.

I now wish to compliment them on presenting the facts in reference to broken charter promises which are not emanating from political leaders' of parties, but from the Democratic city administration in Philadelphia.

I wish to read into the Journal the editorial that appeared in the Evening Bulletin on July 2nd entitled Broken Charter Promise.

> The City charter could not have been clearer in its intention than non-civil service employees who might become city employees by virtue of the city-county consolidation amendment were to keep their jobs if, within a year after the effective date of the Charter, they pass qualifying tests.
> But after a number of newly elected county officers took over in January 1952, and before any qualifying tests were offered, some hundreds of county employees were made to walk the plank.
> Now the Civil Service Commission, backed by the City Solicitor, has held that the right to take the qualifying tests belongs not to the employees serving before January 7, 1952, when the Charter became effective, but to those serving since July 2, 1952.

The effect of this is to freeze in a large number of employees who have entered the service after the Charter went into effect, and to freeze out a large number who were serving on the effective date of the charter but never had a chance to take the qualifying tests promised by the Charter.

This has a nasty look, and if there is any way to test its legality it is to be hoped that some nonpartisan citizens' group will make the test. An incident of this sort strongly suggests that the merit system set up by the Charter is not what was called for in the prescription.

Yesterday one of our very great Philadelphia newspapers saw fit to write a very lengthy editorial accompanied by a cartoon outlining more in detail the violations of the Home Rule City Charter by this opinion of the City Solicitor who is part of the city administration.

This editorial appeared in the Philadelphia Daily News, Monday July 6, 1953, one of our papers that always prints the unadulterated truth with courage and conviction.

Today, Mr. Speaker, I am sending personal letters to the Citizens Charter Committee, the Committee of Seventy and the Greater Philadelphia Movement requesting that they accept the challenge offered in the editorial of the Philadelphia Bulletin to come forth and test the legality of this job freeze, which is the most flagrant and glaring violation of the Home Rule Charter. It is only one of the many instances the charter wreckers are not always identified with the regularly organized political parties, but they are within the administration which talks publicly one way and privately acts another.

I want to commend our newspapers for calling this horrible situation to the attention of the people of Philadelphia and I hope those civic groups and reform groups will comply with the request of the newspapers and have the courage to come forth and test this decision in our courts.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to throw any bouquets or balls of fire at the Press, or shed any crocodile tears as to what is going on back home, but after listening to the very able Leaders, I think you are entitled to listen to an amateur.

As I see the picture, and this is not my first session here, I believe that a man is judged on his accomplishments. The last session lasted a year; this session has gone on for six months and we have accomplished nothing.

With that in mind I would recommend that the Governor of the state of Pennsylvania either resign or be recalled and allow the Lieutenant Governor to move in and try to clear this picture as best he can. It has been proven that the Governor of this state no longer has anything to say regarding the Republican party of the state of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, I believe, in all sincerity that there would be that possibility that the Lieutenant Governor might be able to bring these factions together and enact some sort of a tax so that it is not necessary for the Members of this House to come down here week after week, leave their business back home and do nothing. I for one would come down here and stay until Christmas for the good of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but I certainly do not relish the idea of coming down here week after week and doing nothing.

That would be my recommendation.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR

The Speaker. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, for presiding.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. NEEDHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, On behalf of the people on the south side of Scranton, I want to express appreciation to Governor Fine and Secretary of Mines Clements for their prompt action in making available emergency funds to help fight a mine fire now raging in that area. This fire, in an abandoned mine, presents a serious threat to health and property. The state has now joined with the city of Scranton and the Moffat Coal Company in combatting it. Considerable progress has been made in halting the spread of the fire. The State Department of Mines has taken steps to ease the threat to human life. Because of the nature of the fire, heroic measures will continue to be necessary until it is put out.

The state acted immediately after the seriousness of the situation was brought to the attention of Governor Fine. The Governor's appreciation of his responsibilities and his concern for the welfare of the people in the area was dramatically demonstrated by his prompt order to expedite effective and large scale state aid.

I cannot help but contrast the Governor's reaction to that of his predecessor, James Duff, when a similar condition confronted the people of Carbondale during the 1947 Session of the Legislature. At that time, when Lackawanna County representatives requested state aid from Gov. Duff in combatting the Carbondale fire, the latter attempted to bargain for votes for his then stalled Tax Program. The welfare of the citizens in the Carbondale area was placed in the category of a political pawn.

It was refreshing indeed to see Governor Fine act in aid of the people of Scranton and vicinity without the slightest hesitation and with no desire to make political capital out of a grave public problem.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was very pleased to hear the epistle that the gentleman just read. It comes rather timely after the remarks of the previous speaker.

I might say at the close of last session the newspapers of Pennsylvania—it seems we are referring quite volubly to the Press today—said that the average person in Pennsylvania as a result of last Session had received a tremendous break. The newspapers reviewed the legislation that we passed last Session, they reviewed the humanitarian things that the Session accomplished, what we did for our schools, the boost we gave to our school teachers, and they were quite loud in their praise of what Governor Fine had done his first Session.

I am sure if you folks will read the opening message of the Governor to this General Assembly, what he had to say about the schools, about welfare, about those on public assistance and those requiring aid of various types from the state, you cannot help but come to the conclusion that the man possesses a heart that many people do not realize. He is for the minority groups in Pennsylvania in the stand he has taken on FEPC.

Personally I do not feel badly because Governor Fine has not come in here and lashed with a whip and told us we must vote for a certain tax program. He is the Executive of this Commonwealth and he believes in the independence of the various branches. He is really letting this Session of the Legislature show that we are the General Assembly of Pennsylvania and that we are not a rubber stamp General Assembly.

I think when Governor Fine goes out of office and the accomplishments of his administration are reviewed—the many fine roads that will have been built and what we have done for our schools, I think everyone will say that he has done a good job. I think he has been unduly criticized for sitting back and letting this General Assembly—this House of Representatives—where revenue raising is supposed to originate, do the job by ourselves. He has given us some hints in what to do, but he has not come in here and said, or he has not called any of us, and said you have to do this or else. I think that is a very commendable characteristic.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. SCHMIDT from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 116, entitled:

An Act to further amend section seven hundred eleven of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teacher Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by regulating the dismissal, suspension, demotion, reenlistment and retirement of enlisted members of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Mr. GLICK from the Committee on State Government, reported as amended, House Bill No. 656, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by providing for the establishment by the Department of Property and Supplies of standards for the design, construction, repair, alteration, equipping and furnishing of buildings owned or to be constructed by or for the Commonwealth and the materials used therein; repealing inconsistent legislation; directing the Department of Property and Supplies to make a report to the next General Assembly; and making an appropriation.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported as amended, House Bill No. 781, entitled:

An Act providing that publication of reports of judicial and legislative proceedings and of governmental bodies, shall be privileged, subject to certain conditions; and extending the privileges to the publication of certain statements by public officials and requiring proof of abuse of the privilege in an action for defamation.

Mr. AMARANDO, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1106, entitled:

An Act to add clause (1) to section two thousand one hundred two of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by authorizing and making it the duty of the Department of Health to provide limited training in the field of public health work for certain State and municipal employes.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1259, entitled:

An Act to add subsection (f) to Section 326 of the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 533) entitled "An act relating to mental health including mental illness mental defect epilepsy and inebriety and amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto by further providing for certain commitments by petition.

Mr. PRICE, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1311, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 731 of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of account and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," by permitting public inspection of distributors' monthly liquid fuels tax report with certain exceptions.

Mr. READINGER, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1363, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and three of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 415), entitled "An act relating to habeas corpus; conferring jurisdiction upon the judges of the courts of common pleas; prescribing venue; defining procedure in all cases; authorizing service to be made upon persons anywhere in the Commonwealth; providing for the imposition of costs allowing appeals; specifying the appellate court to which appeals may be taken; and repealing inconsistent legislation, including that conferring jurisdiction on courts of quarter sessions," by limiting jurisdiction over juveniles in certain cases.

Mr. MOODY, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 624, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the sixth day of April, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 3) enittled An act relating to certain commercial transactions in or regarding personal property and contracts and other documents concerning them, including sales, commercial paper, bank deposits and collections, documentary letters of credit, bulk transfers, warehouse receipts, bills of lading, other documents of title, investment securities, and secured transactions, including certain sales of accounts, chattel papers, and contract rights; providing for public notice to third parties in certain circumstances; regulating procedure, evidence and damages in certain court actions involving such transactions, contracts or documents ;and to make uniform the law with respect thereto" by adding a sub-section to Section 9-104 thereof, excluding from the application of Article 9 of the Act assignments or other transfers of interests or claims in or under any policies of insurance.

Mr. AUKER, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 659, entitled:

An Act to amend Sections 506 and 509 of the act, approved the sixth day of April, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 69), entitled "An act relating to the rights, obligations and liabilities of landlord and tenant and of parties dealing with them and amending, revising, changing and consolidating the law relating therto," by providing that writ of certiorari shall not be a supersedeas unless bond is filed; and clarifying provisions as to required lapse of time before the issuance of notice of forcible ejectment.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. Prior to a recess being declared, the Chair would inform the Members that immediately upon a recess being declared, there will be a meeting of the Law and Order Committee in the room to the left of the Speaker's rostrum.

The Chair would also request the Members, for the sake of saving time, to immediately go to their caucus rooms so that there will be no long delay in starting the caucuses and so that within the period of an hour we can return to the House.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for one hour. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOLL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in response to the solicitude of the gentleman from Philadelphia for the Philadelphia City Charter, I want to point out that its interpretation and its support are in the hands of its friends.

The public should have no fear of the interpretation of the Charter by the Philadelphia City Solicitor. He is a man of great learning and the highest integrity. I understand that in his opinion he relied upon the Supreme Court decision of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the case of Carrol versus Lennox.

I, therefore, suggest that the case be studied by those who are interested. They will undoubtedly see the basis for the ruling which was made by the Philadelphia City Solicitor.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 466, entitled:

An act fixing the maximum hours of employment for members of the fire and police departments and uniformed officers and men employed as park guards in cities of the first class except in emergency cases.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 880, entitled:

An Act requiring the district attorney of Philadelphia to devote his entire time to his office; prohibiting his engaging in any other business, profession or occupation, rendering him ineligible to continue to hold his office for violation of the provisions of this act and increasing his compensation.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SCHWARTZ offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after "Philadelphia"; "and of each county."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 880, Printer's No. 420, is an equitable bill, and the amendments will help to destroy a very fair piece of legislation. I would ask the Members to vote down this and any other amendments.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, it was not my intention to take the floor at this time, but after my respected colleague from Philadelphia made the remarks he did, I take no hesitancy at all.

I do not think the amendment will destroy this bill in and way, shape or form. What the amendment will do will be to make equal every District Attorney in every one of the 67 counties of the state of Pennsylvania.

I see no reason why my colleague from Philadelphia cannot agree that what is good for the District Attorney of Philadelphia will likewise be good for all the other District Attorneys.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I have been reliably informed by representatives, good citizens from the various counties throughout Pennsylvania, that their District Attorneys are men who devote their full time and all their talents to the important office of District Attorney throughout the other 66 counties.

I understand that they burn the midnight oil when it is necessary. Their compensation does not compare with the substantial annual salary of the District Attorney of Philadelphia. Nevertheless, unstintingly they gave of their time and talents to that important office which is not true in the city of Philadelphia currently.

If the other Members decide, Mr. Speaker, that their respective District Attorneys are not giving a full day's work for an honest day's pay, I am quite certain they would introduce similar legislation. When we debate the bill tomorrow, I assure my distinguished colleague from Philadelphia the facts will be revealed, that the District Attorney of Philadelphia currently is not giving his best to this important position.

Again I reiterate, please vote down the amendments.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I think my colleague from Philadelphia has been slightly misinformed about all these other 66 counties. However, I know from my own experience, being an attorney in Philadelphia, that our current District Attorney has done something that the other District Attorneys that preceded him never did.

I have seen our District Attorney in the court rooms tryng cases. I do not remmember Mr. Maurer, the preceding District Attorney, trying any and I do not remember Mr. Fox trying any. I do not think any of the other lawyers here from Philadelphia remember any District Attorney in the court room actually trying a case. They all practiced law prior to this District Attorney. Just because we happen to get a Democrat elected down there, I do not see why everybody should try to clip his wings.

I would like to ask for a roll call on these amendments.

Mr. TOMKINS. Mr. Speaker, if I understand these amendments, they mean that all District Attorneys in the 67 counties will be compelled to devote their full time to the district attorney's work and would not be allowed to engage in private practice.

Having been a former District Attorney in one of the smaller counties of the state, I want to assure you that if these amendments go through, you would have a great number of counties in the state of Pennsylvania wthout any District Attorney because it would be impossible for them to live if they took that office.

In the smaller class counties they do not have any Assistant District Attorneys, they do not have any detectives. Your District Attorney does the work and handles most of his own investigations and what have you.

I am not arguing the merites of the bill. The merits of the bill will come up on third reading tomorrow, but

I do stand here in defense of the District Attorneys in the other 66 counties of the state in connection with trying to make them subject to the provisions of this bill.

I think it is eminently unfar. I know nothing about the situation in Philadelphia. As I say, that takes in the merits of the bill. But I do say that if you pass these amendments, you will have a great number of counties in the state of Pennsylvania without District Attorneys.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Is a bill before the House on second reading debatable in full?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that the Bill before the House is debatable in full on the question, "Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?" The answer would be, yes.

Mr. READINGER, I had not intended to speak on these amendments, but I find that I am in a position that I must. Much to my dislike, I must oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

As Mr. Tompkins has pointed out, many of the smaller counties have very low paid District Attorneys, and probably will for many years to come. If any elected District Attorney were compelled to serve or spend all of his time in that office, I am afraid you would not be able to get anybody to run for it.

The reason I raise the question about the bill being debatable on second reading is because I wish to refer to the lack of merit that this bill has in connection with my comments on these proposed amendments.

I do not know what your feelings might be about changing the rules in the middle of a game, but it certainly runs counter to my best judgment.

If in the future it should be determined that it is better for Philadelphia with its vast amount of business in the District Attorney's office to have a District Attorney who will devote all of his time to that office, then I think we should pass a law some day providing that any future District Attorney shall know before he is elected that he will have to devote all of his time to that office.

If this bill has not been put in purely to embarrass the Democratic administration in Philadelphia, and probably Richardson Dilworth in particular, then I do not know what purpose it has.

Mr. Schwartz pointed out a few minutes ago that he never remembers any prior District Attorneys, who were Republicans, in court trying cases as the present District Attorney does.

I think these amendments now should be defeated because they are not necessary at all to defeat this bill. I think this bill is going down tomorrow in the manner in which it should.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make it unmistakably clear that this bill only applies to the city of Philadelphia. I am glad Mr. Readinger sees the wisdom of voting to help to defeat these amendments, and I hope all the other Members of the House will vote to defeat these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the Amendments?

They were not agreed to.

MOTION TO LAY BILL ON TABLE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 880, Printer's No. 420, be placed upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, if I am in order I would like to suggest that the motion made by the Minority Leader ——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not in order at this time. A motion to lay upon the table is not debatable. The question is on the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ANDREWS and Mr. READINGER and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill. It is the type of legislation that has bedeviled this Session from its very beginning. Never in my entire legislative history have I known so much venom, so much pure vindictiveness cloaked behind such a smiling front as we have witnessed in connection with the crusade to embarrass, to harass an opposition simply by reason of the fact it happens to have been successful.

If the people of Philadelphia want this kind of bill they should have included it in their Charter. I question the propriety of increasing the emoluments of a District Attorney or any other public officer during the term for which he has been elected.

Every lawyer knows that there is nothing incompatible between the duties of a district attorney and certain phases of civil practice. District Attorneys are not supposed to punch a time clock. This bill smacks of pure political deviltry. It is not based upon any precedent known to any lawyer and I observe with grief, with great grief, that when there is presented to this House a measure involving only a vicious political attack that draws a party line, the majority party is quite capable of drawing the party line.

On a measure wholly without merit, because it is offered by an influential Member of this House whose assistance undoubtedly will be needed in connection with business pending or business that will arise, an embattled majority can close its ranks in hatred against Richardson Dillworth. All of the hatred and all of the bile that has been stored up as a result of the fact that there was the end of a corrupt machine in Philadelphia, that presented a minority that had become a majority and enabled it to go down the line without a single defection.

I do not have any bright, happy thoughts that this bill can be defeated, particularly since there will be a gathering of the hosts in battle tomorrow, the absentees will be sent for and the majority will be present in all its 107-109 glory. It will celebrate its reunion by joining to pass political trash of its particular kind.

I say one of the sources of satisfaction to the minority is that it is always privileged to stand for decent legislation. We don't have to compromise our position. We do not have to hate Republicans just because they are Republicans. We do not have to embarrass Republican administrations because they happen to overthrow a vicious Democratic administration. We are not bound by those ideals and ideas reminiscent of the gutter policies that disgraced Philadelphia for generations. I think this is the kind of bill that should be defeated. On second reading, I will ask for a roll call and ask that the bill does not pass on second reading.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I enjoyed very much the remarks of my Floor Leader. My speech will be very short and to the point.

I know many attorneys on your side of the House. I know that you have men over there who are fair. We have men over here who are just as fair as you are, and I say to you if there is one time we should be fair, this is it. You men should know, you attorneys especially, what is right and what is wrong. You know what is fair and what is not fair. If you are going to continue to be unfair, we are never going to solve the problems of the state. I say to you you should, at this particular time, especially among the attorneys, stand up and be counted on legislation that is fair, and vote against this bill.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I am convinced after the fall of the previous motion to table this bill that Allegheny County as such is not affected, but we happen to have in my county a District Attorney who is a Republican.

I am not personally conversant with his private affairs to the extent that I could say that he would be adversely affected had the previous motion prevailed, but I oppose the bill from the standpoint of principle. I believe that the extension of this type of thinking in the end is going to come back to haunt us. If this is good legislation for Philadelphia County, by the same token it strikes me that it should be good legislation for Allegheny County. I do not follow that reasoning in this particular instance.

I want to point out to you that if it is good for the District Attorney to engage and devote his entire period to the prosecution of the work of his office, by the same reasoning certainly it should be that judges should devote their entire time to their positions. I know as a matter of fact and from personal knowledge, and there has been no complaint as to this activity on the part of our judges, that they have served on boards of arbitration, some of them teach in law schools, some have gone so far as to referee football games, and this in a measure has supplemented their income. I do not believe that the people of Allegheny County have suffered by reason of this activity on their part.

I am reliably informed, and I have heard discussed on the floor of this House that we have a cabinet officer right here in Harrisburg in charge of a Department who does not devote his entire time to his work, nor does he take the pay that goes with the office. There is nothing wrong about that. Apparently the Commonwealth is not suffering because of that condition, because we have seen fit to tolerate it.

In my opinion human capacities vary with the individual. If that District Attorney who would be in Cameron County finds it necessary to go out and engage in some other activity in order that he might serve the electorate; if the District Attorney in my county has the capacity that he can take on some outside work without the people who entrusted him to office over there suffering, I see nothing wrong. But after listening to the discussion I am convinced that the bill is politically inspired, and is what we term punitive legislation. It is definitely not in the public interest, and should be opposed from a standpoint of principle.

In the federal government we have the services of men whom we could not afford to pay, who have accepted public office in order that they might serve. We have any number of individuals serving throughout this Commonwealth on the same basis. We discourage that sort of thing with bills like this.

I want to submit to you that we have a chance in voting for the motion offered by the Floor Leader of the minority party to vote this bill down on second reading. We have a chance here this afternoon to take a stand for principle, and I believe the consciences of the men in this House will impel them to vote for the motion before the House.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, besides everything you have heard, there is a joker in this bill.

The joker is simply this. It provides for an increase in salary for the District Attorney. Now on its face that looks fine, but if you know anything about the Constitution of the state of Pennsylvania you know that the emoluments of a public servant, a public official, whether elected or appointed, cannot be increased while he is in office. I think last session you raised the salaries of County Commissioners while they were in office and the Supreme Court turned it down.

Under our state constitution, Section 13, Article 3, it states as follows:

> No law shall extend the term of any public officer or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment.

So, certainly, we know that part of this bill as introduced must fall.

There is one other point that should be noted. That is that our current District Attorney in Philadelphia has been decent enough that when he has handled private practice, he has refused to take the salary of his office for that particular time. Certainly under circumstances like that, the man should not be chastised for living up to his campaign promises. He campaigned on the basis that he could not devote his full time and attention to the office of District Attorney, because he could not afford to take a cut in his income such as that would entail.

I reiterate the position of some of my colleagues here, that this is a very, very bad bill, and we should defeat it on second reading and not wait until third reading.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, it is obvious that there will be another barrage of attacks upon the merits of this bill on third reading. Frankly, Mr. Speaker, I am very much tempted to discuss this bill at length today, but in the interest of conserving time, and also to carry out the usual procedure of permitting a bill to roll on second reading, I would like to ask a Member from Philadelphia, or the Minority Leader, whether they would be kind enough to accept the previous vote of 97-90, defeating the motion to table this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the Minority Leader at this time permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I repeat my question. Will the Members on the other side of the House accept the roll call vote to defeat the bill or pass the bill on second reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we can not agree to that proposal because there is a very grave difference between a motion to table a bill, and a motion designed to get a record vote on the merits of the bill. Tabling the bill simply delays consideration, because this bill can be taken from the table any time a majority so desires.

The queston at issue now is the merits of the bill, and on the merits of this bill we desire a roll-call vote at this time.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if any other Members on the other side of the House are going to debate this bill further on second reading.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no knowledge of any debate. The gentleman will have to direct his question at an individual.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the remark of the gentleman from Philadelphia, I would say that the question as to whether or not there will be any further debate will depend upon the type of statement the gentleman may make in support of the bill. If they require an answer, an answer will be forthcoming. If they do not require an answer, debate will cease.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. To pass a bill on second reading does it require a constitutional majority?

The SPEAKER. It does not require a constitutional majority to agree to a bill on second reading.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Just a simple majority.

The SPEAKER. Just a simple majority, the gentleman is correct.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Then the roll call is perfectly agreeable to me, for this reason.

It reminds me of the man who was in a trolley car hanging on a strap in front of a rather large woman. The trolley was crowded, and he kicked her feet once or twice. She became very much annoyed and made a few remarks. Finally after her patience was exhausted she said, "Why don't you put your foot where it belongs?" He said, "Lady, don't tempt me, don't tempt me."

That is the way I feel about debating this bill on second reading.

Answering the distinguished Members on the other side of the House, I would prefer that the prolonged debate on final passage of this bill be held tomorrow because there was not a single point raised for which there is not an excellent answer.

I would prefer to hold the prolonged debate tomorrow, and I do wish the Members on the other side of the House would let this bill pass with the previous roll call so that we can pull out the stops, and I assure you, Mr. Speaker, every question will be answered fully, and I hope convincingly to the entire membership of this House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I simply suggest to the House that one of the ways to escape the agonies incident to a prolonged debate tomorrow is to defeat this bill today.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I believe it was Benjamin Franklin who first uttered the words, "Do not put off until tomorrow what you can do today." The gentleman from Philadelphia has made it very plain that he would like very much to have all this debate take place tomorrow or at some other date.

We do not choose to have it happen tomorrow. We probably will have more to do tomorrow than we have time for.

At this time I desire to interrogate the gentleman if I may.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Would the gentleman tell me on what grounds Section 3 of this bill, raising the salary of the District Attorney from $15,000 a year to $18,000 a year can be upheld within the constitution?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I am not a constitutional lawyer nor any kind of an attorney, but if any attorney, no matter how prominent or eminent, can predict or forecast an opinion by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, they are very unusual, and I would like to shake his hand at the end of this Session.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Schwartz has already read, I believe, a section of the Constitution which is applicable to this particular section, but I am not so sure that all the Members were listening at the time he read it and I would like to re-read it for the benefit of the gentleman from Philadelphia. It does not take a lawyer to understand the meaning of the words.

This is Section 13, of Article III of our Constitution, and it reads this way

> No law shall extend the term of any public officer or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment.

I do not think there is a question in the minds of any of us that the District Attorney of Philadelphia is a public officer within the meaning of that Section of the Constitution.

What could happen in the courts, if this bill should pass by any mischance, is that the court could rule out Section 3 as being unconstitutional and uphold all the rest of the bill.

I return again to what I said originally about fair play. A District Attorney runs for office knowing what the law is and what he is required to do and so forth. Then after he has been elected, we perhaps change the law requiring him to devote much more of his time to that office then he ever expected to and at the same salary.

How would we like it if while we are in office we should change the law relating to our own jobs and provide that we should stay here 150 days a year, or some other number of days, way beyond what we ever expected to spend here. It is not only because of a person involved in this particular case that I object to it, but as Mr. Jones of Allegheny said, this bill should be voted down on principle. It is wrong to do what is being attempted here. I for one am glad to see the matter raised on second reading so that we can show our contempt for this kind of legislation before it gets to final passage.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we ask for a roll call on whether the House will agree to the bill on Second Reading. Is not that the proper procedure, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The question before the House at this time, for the information of the gentleman, is, Will the House agree to Section I of the bill? We have not yet reached the parliamentary procedure where the question is, Will the House agree to the bill on second reading? At that time there will be a roll call.

Mr. ANDREWS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TOLL. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOLL. The House did not agree to Section I. Is not a roll call taken on Section I?

The SPEAKER The roll will be called on the question of whether the House will agree to the bill on second reading.

Mr. TOLL. Well, suppose there are additional amendments to be offered to other sections of the bill?

The SPEAKER. We will consider additional amendments as we reach the other sections of the bill. We are now considering only Section 1.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, at this time withdraw his amendment to Section 2 in view of the fact that the amendments to Section 1 were not agreed to?

Mr. Schwartz. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Section?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, withdraw his amendments to Section 3 in view of the fact that the amendments to Section 1 were not agreed to?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TOLL offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 4, page 2, lines 16 and 17 by striking out "imme-" in line 16 all of line 17 and inserting in lieu thereof "upon the expiration of the term of the present incumbent."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this amendment be voted down.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the amendments to this bill. I feel that in all fairness if this bill is other than what its sponsor says, other than a bill of vindictiveness, and to govern the acts of future District Attorneys, this amendment should be passed.

Insofar as the bill is concerned as to change of emoluments, it could not take effect until the term of the next duly elected District Attorney. It seems as though the sponsor of this bill who has been raised in the old school of politics, as I was, does not desire to give any quarter, and has asked no quarter.

I ask you Members to support this amendment so that the effect of the bill, if sincere, will take effect upon the election of a District Attorney who will seek office knowing what the requirements of the office are at that time.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, my learned colleague from Allegheny County took some of the words which I was about to utter with regard to this amendment.

What I really want to say, in the terms of our friend Jim Lovett from Westmoreland, is it fair to affect a man's term when he ran for office, knowing that he was to have freedom to engage in private practice? I submit that this refusal of the sponsor to accept this amendment, smokes out the entire motive, and I ask that we have a roll call on this amendment, and that we have a verification of the roll.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to defend my good friend and colleague, Mr. Hamilton, of Philadelphia. I do not think this bill was inspired by vindictiveness or from political motives. So, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, if I may.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is there any particular reason why the gentleman will not vote in favor of the last amendment offered to this bill?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, the District Attorney in Philadelphia precipitated this situation personally. The people, his friends, had nothing to do with it. The district attorney himself is the one who has decided to violate his pledge to the people, in not devoting his entire time and all his talents to that particular job.

The District Attorney of Philadelphia is the one to do a complete about face, and he should begin giving the taxpayers of Philadelphia everything to which they are entitled and that which he promised during the campaign of 1951. I will have a lot to say about that tomorrow if we discuss this bill on final passage.

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not believe the gentleman answered my question, Mr. Speaker, with respect to why he will not vote for this latter amendment.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman if there is any specific reason why he will not vote for this minor amendment offered to this bill.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I made a very comprehensive answer to that question, Mr. Speaker. I endeavored to make the point unmistakably clear and in my humble opinion, I made it clear. I hope the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, will accept my answer.

Mr. McCORMACK, Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate Mr. Hamilton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, since I am from Philadelphia and I am an attorney and I practice before the court. I have not heard of any complaints with regard to the conduct of the District Attorney or the efficiency of his staff..

Now Mr. Hamilton made the blanket statement that Mr. Dilsworth has not lived up to his campaign promises, and I would like to know in what respect he did not.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, again I would like to emphasize that they are making it very tempting, but the hour is getting late and I hope such interrogation will be held off until tomorrow, when we will have ample time to cover every single word and letter, dot and comma regarding this situation.

Mr. McCORMACK. A further question, Mr. Speaker. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, know whether or not the assistant district attorneys in Philadelphia are able to engage in private practice?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is getting very warm, he is close, and if he will be patient, I will give him documentary proof concerning several of his questions.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman did not answer my interrogation. I have certainly been patient here. I have listened for the better part of this afternoon and I think I might not be here tomorrow. Nevertheless, I do want to get these questions in and get satisfactory answers. So I ask forbearance on the part of Mr. Hamilton to bear with me for a few moments while I finish this. Will the gentleman answer my questions?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I will simply reply by saying that the gentleman did not have to listen to my oratory this afternoon. I would suggest that he postpone any other important business unless it is an emergency, because I know he is going to enjoy it tomorrow and get a lot of answers to his questions.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman refuse to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Evidently the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, refuses to answer any more questions at this time. Is the Chair correct in that opinion?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would never question the opinion of the Chair. I have absolutely nothing to do, tonight—nothing. I can stay until the wee hours of the morning, but I am thinking of my colleagues on both sides of the House. I have no objection to the opinion of the Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, if I had some assurance that this bill was going to be defeated on second reading, I would insist on my questions because I will not be here tomorrow probably. But inasmuch as Mr. Hamilton will not answer my last question, I think rather that he might be misinformed on a few points, and those points are what inspired him to introduce this bill in the first place. I thought perhaps I could enlighten him so that he would see the wisdom of this latter amendment. Inasmuch as he will not answer my question, I merely want to repeat what several Members from my side of the House have said, that it is a bad bill and it is certainly unreasonable to place these restrictions on a District Attorney who ran for office knowing full well that in addition to his work in the District Attorney's office, he could engage in outside activities.

I think these are severe restrictions. They are eminently unfair, and for that reason I ask that if you still like the bill, you vote for these latter amendments which would place restrictions on the succeeding candidates for District Attorney.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to impose on your patience, but there have been remarks made on the floor of this House today that by innuendo and inference suggest that the District Attorney of Philadelphia is guilty either of malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance.

I believe in all fairness he is entitled to the same trial as any other citizen. I do not think he should be tried in absentia. What we are doing here is virtually placing him on trial before the bar of public opinion without his having the right to defend himself, and I believe that that is un-democratic and it is un-American.

I appeal to the patriotism of the Members of this House to lay aside their partisan feelings and to accord the District Attorney of Philadelphia County the same rights any other citizen is entitled to. If he is guilty of a charge, he has the right to face his accusers and to answer these charges. If the gentleman from Philadelphia has the wealth of information that he seems to suggest he has, I say this is not the proper forum to raise those questions, but they should have been raised in the courts of Philadephia and the District Attorney should be called upon to answer the charges.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the discussion so far I presume has been but a brief prologue, the introduction as it were to the script that we are supposed to consider tomorrow. If simply squaring away for this battle takes an hour and a half, I presume the gentleman from Philadelphia in presenting his documentary evidence designed to indict this malefactor from Philadelphia, will require at least two hours. There will be one hour of questioning and certainly an hour and a half of rebuttal, and where, oh where, will the truck bill come in? And where, oh where, will the tax bill come in? I am quite sure legislative reapportionment will take two hours—more or less. And so, there is no time like the present for disposing of this bill. Let the gentleman from Philadelphia shoot his wad, and be damned to them. They stand alone. Let him shatter this monster, that is improperly performing his functions. Let us know the obscene truth about this conspiracy. There is no time like the present if he has a case to present, the House in its wisdom can defeat this bill on recond reading. If it defeats the bill on second reading the gentleman will have been denied his chance to put on his show. So I would suggest if there is a show to put on, he put it on now.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TOLL and Mr. McCORMACK.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. TOLL, WILLIAMS and HERSCH.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. McCORMACK. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Where a verification is necessary, how many Members of the House must verify whether or not a particular Member is present?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, there is no specific number. One Member may challenge the vote, or challenge the statement of a Member that another Member was in the House and voted.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LOPRESTI. I rise to a parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is there any particular manner in which the question of the constitutionality of a bill must be laid before the House?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Cambria, the question of constitutionality can be raised on the question, Will the House agree to the bill on Second Reading?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Must the question of constitutionality be raised in writing?

The SPEAKER. It may be raised either in writing or verbally.

Mr. ANDREWS. For the information of the gentleman from Cambria, I will tell him that it was my intention at the proper time to raise the question of the constitutionality of the bill, prior to the time the question came up, Will the House agree to the bill on second reading.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia,

Mr. Schwartz, withdraw his amendment to the title since his amendments to the sections were not agreed to?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a constitutional point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I raise the question of the unconstitutionality of this bill. That presents a matter to be decided on the basis of principle, and not with any partisan reference. You are creating a precedent when you rule on the constitutionality of a bill.

Mr. Speaker, I raise the question of the unconstitutionality of this bill and ask for a roll call. Of course if there are any Members who feel they desire to debate the question as to whether it is constitutional or unconstitutional, I presume that they are privileged to do so.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct. That question is debatable under the Rules of the House.

The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, raises the constitutional point of order that House Bill 880, Printer's No. 420 is unconstitutional.

The Speaker under Rule 4 is required to submit questions affecting the constitutionality of a bill to the House for decision, which the Chair now does.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the Constitutional point of order?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, twice before this afternoon the particular constitutional provision has been read, and therefore there would be no reason to read it again.

There is no question, I believe, in the mind of any lawyer sitting on this side of the House, nor in the mind of any lawyer sitting on the other side of the House, as to the constitutionality of the Section which attempts to increase the salary of a District Attorney.

I do not believe any one in good conscience who is learned in the law would have any doubt as to the unconstitutionality of that particular Section.

As to whether the entire bill is constitutional or not, I also have great doubts. I think the Supreme Court would be bound to so hold inasmuch as this bill places additional restrictions on the District Attorney which were not present at the time he was elected.

The bill also contains an attempt to increase his salary to compensate him for what he has lost by reason of what we take from him. Therefore the provisions of this bill are inseparable, so that if one provision is unconstitutional the entire bill will be unconstitutional.

I believe all the sections are related to this extent. The bill says to the District Attorney of Philadelphia, you must devote your full time, you must give up any other forms of income, you must give up any forms of private practice and all other ways of earning money. If you do as we have said you must do, we will increase your salary to $18,000.

I believe the entire bill must be read as a whole, that you cannot separate the sections and since we have one section which undoubtedly and unquestionably is unconstitutional, the entire bill is unconstitutional.

I say to all the members of this House, if they recognize the fact that it is unconstitutional, then it becomes their sworn duty to disregard politics. It becomes our sworn duty because each and everyone of us took an oath when we entered the positions we now hold to uphold the Constitution and to live up to it.

Therefore I say it is a matter of conscience with all of us, especially those of us who are lawyers, to recognize the unconstitutionality of this bill. In order to support the oath we took, we must vote against the constitutionality of this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. I simply call the attention of the Members of the House to this fact: you will find in the Pennsylvania Manual a list of the decisions reached by this House which constitute precedents. It would be very unfortunate if we wrote into the structure of the precedents of this House a decision regarding the constitutionality of a bill which would be abhorrent to every judge and every experienced lawyer in this Commonwealth. We are not now dealing with a partisan issue or a Philadelphia issue, we are handing to the future a decision which will constitute a precedent.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I think we could go further than Mr. Lopresti's statement when he said that all the sections of this bill relate to all other sections and therefore if one section fails all sections must fail.

In itself, that was a good argument, but I think if we refer to the Constitution itself, we will find the answer to whether or not the other sections of the bill—forgetting for the moment the increase in salary—are also unconstitutional.

The Constitution says that no law shall extend the term of any public officer or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment. I say to you, Members of this House, if salary and emoluments are one and the same thing, there is no reason for having both words in the Constitution. I, therefore, come to the conclusion that emoluments mean something other than a salary.

That leads me to the further conclusion that one of the emoluments that the present District Attorney of the city of Philadelphia has is the fact that he has the right to engage in private practice, and the moment we diminish that right, we are diminishing his emoluments.

I, therefore, say that the entire bill must be unconstitutional.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, in addition to what the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, said about the various sections being inextricably bound together and so related that if one section fell because it was unconstitutional, they would all fall, I think that for an even stronger reason, the whole bill would be unconstitutional if any particular section was so declared to be by the courts, inasmuch as this bill has no severance clause in it—a severance clause being a clause which says in effect that if the court should declare one section unconstitutional, the remainder of the bill could still be constitutional.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Assuming that the majority votes that the bill is unconstitutional, do we then vote on the bill in spite of the fact that we have so held it to be unconstitutional?

The SPEAKER. If the bill is declared by the Members of this House to be unconstitutional, the bill falls.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ZEITZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ZEITZ. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand from the answer to the preceding speaker that this House may determine the question of the constitutionality of any legislation that is before the House?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct in that assumption.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the issue has been raised as to whether or not if one section of a bill is declared unconstitutional, the whole bill falls.

I would like to call the attention of the Members of the House to the Statutory Construction Act which provides that if one section of any piece of legislation should be declared unconstitutional, it does not vitiate the balance of the bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot resist getting into this constitutional argument because the people back home may think I am not a great constitutional lawyer, and I would not want them to think that.

I would like to suggest that if you men on the majority side vote to uphold the constitutionality of this particular bill, you are probably solving all of your own tax probelms; for if you can vote to uphold the constitutionality of this bill, I see no reason why you should not unanimously, on your side, vote to support the Royer bill imposing a flat tax on your federal income tax, because that bill is just about as constitutional as is this one.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Cameron give that information with respect to the Statutory Construction Act for my edification, or does he believe that a particular segment of this bill is unconstitutional, he being a constitutional lawyer?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, that was for the information and benefit of the Members of the entire House.

Mr. McCORMACK. Another question, Mr. Speaker. Does the gentleman from Cameron believe that any particular section of this bill is unconstitutional?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I know that I sat in this House for the last four sessions, and we have passed judges' salary raises which the courts said were constitutional, and they were paid the following month.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, am I to assume then that the gentleman from Cameron does not think that any section of this bill is unconstitutional?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I say the bill is what the courts say it is.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he listened to the statement I made about diminishing the emoluments of the office as well as the salary.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he thinks the fact that the District Attorney would be prohibited from engaging in private practice would diminish his emoluments in office.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in my opinion, no, because that is not an emolument of the District Attorney's office.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Well, what would the gentleman consider the emoluments of the District Attorney's office to be, other than the salary?

Mr. TOMPKINS. All those things which are dervived from the office itself and not anything else.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. What other things would the gentleman call the emoluments, specifically?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, he is allowed office expense; he is allowed stenographic services and matters of that kind which constitute emoluments of the office—supplies and what have you.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I would like to ask the gentleman whether he is familiar with the attempt in the previous Session to increase the salaries of the County Commissioners and the opinion rendered by the Supreme Court after that attempt by this House?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That specific case, I am not.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The gentleman seemed to be familiar with the case of the judges, and I thought I would bring the other case to his attention.

I would like to ask the gentleman a further question. Is it not true that it is up to the House at this particular moment to decide the constitutionality of his bill and not for the courts at some later date? Is that not the question before us at this moment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The question before the House is on the constitutionality of the bill. The courts are not bound by any decision we make here. The question is whether or not in our opinion we think it is constitutional. We might think it is constitutional, and the courts say "No." We might think it not constitutional, and the courts say "Yes." We have passed much legislation in this house that I have seen declared unconstitutional by the courts later on.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The gentleman seems to be fairly conversant with constitutional questions and constitutional law. He has so expressed himself, especially in speaking of the Construction Act. I would like to ask the gentleman whether in his opinion this bill and all the sections of this bill are constitutional, a "Yes" or "No" answer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would say, yes.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ZEITZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ZEITZ. Mr. Speaker, is there any way that this House could summon, for the purpose of determining the constitutionality of this bill, the Attorney General to the Floor of the House for an opinion on the constitutionality of this legislation?

The SPEAKER. The answer is, no. The Attorney General is not the advisor to this House, but the advisor to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ZEITZ. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I request the privilege of addressing a question to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the decision in the so-called Scranton case?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am not, no sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Then it would hardly be fair to address the question to the gentleman if he is not familiar with the decision. I thought perhaps if I suggested it to you, it would contain the possible answer to our problem here this afternoon. I think it covers the particular question raised.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the House to another section of the Constitution which may affect this bill.

In the first place, let me inform you that this bill is directed against the District Attorney of Philadelphia and not against the District Attorneys of cities of the first class, so that in that respect this seems to apply specifically to one individual and violates the constitution by reason of being special legislation.

In the second place, let me call your attention to Section 7 of Article III of the Constitution, which you will find on page 36 of your manual, which provides that the,

> General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law authorizing the creation, extension, or impairing of liens:
> Regulating the affairs of counties . . .
> Changing the names of persons or places:

And down in the middle it says,

> Creating offices, or prescribing the powers and duties of officers in counties, cities, boroughs, townships, election or school districts.

If you will look at Section I of this bill, you will see how far this bill has gone in prescribing the powers and duties of the District Attorney of Philadelphia, even though it should have said cities of the first class.

"The District Attorney shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office." Up until now the Members of the House have debated as to whether he is entitled to engage in other professional activities, but the language of the amendment to Section 1 of this bill is more sweeping than that. The sponsor has said that he shall not directly or indirectly engage in any other business, profession, or occupation in any capacity. In other words, the District Attorney of Philadelphia cannot only not practice law on the outside, he cannot directly or indirectly do anything else.

I contend that Section 1 of this bill, aside from the unconstitutionality of Section 3, is unconstitutional because it violates Article III, Section 7 of the Constitution.

Mr. WILBUR H.HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I am an ordinary layman. I had no idea that the eminent lawyers who are Members of this House were going to delve so deeply into the constitutionality of this bill. However, an honest difference of opinion is healthful and constructive.

The gentleman who just spoke, Mr. Toll from Philadelphia, is familiar with the Home Rule City Charter. Since the adoption of the Home Rule City Charter it is no longer necessary in the title of any act to refer to the cities and counties of the first class. The City of Philadelphia is sufficient. I was advised on that question by a very distinguished constitutional lawyer, the same as I received advice on the entire content of this bill. But who am I to differ with the opinions of men who are so learned in the law and can refer to text book after text book, the Manual and every other kind of legal document?

There was a recent case before the Supreme Court, argued here in Harrisburg, pertaining to a very important matter in which the city of Philadelphia was involved. The most outstanding lawyers thought the bill was unconstitutional. The Supreme Court decided it was constitutional, much to the regret of many citizens in the city of Philadelphia.

I presume this bill is in the same category. The only way we will know whether or not it is unconstitutional is to pass it. And if the Senate passes it and His Excellency, the Governor, signs it, I have no doubt that those who are vitally interested in the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia and also the individual will test the constitutionality of this bill. I hope the Members of this House will vote that it is constitutional.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate further the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Cameron aware of the constitutional provision with respect to ex post facto laws?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, in Section 2 of this bill it provides that the District Attorney shall no longer continue to hold office if he violates this bill. I would desire to ask the gentleman from Cameron whether or not this is a penal provision.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, what has that to do with ex post facto?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, answer my question.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman asked me about ex post facto, and so far as it's being ex post facto is concerned, no.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the second question is not in relation to my first question. Is that a penal provision?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, it is not written as such. It merely provides what shall happen to the man if he should violate the provisions of the bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is it a penal provision?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would say no, not in the sense of being, as I understand it, a penal provision.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, where a man is elected to office after which a law is passed which would say that if he violated the law he would no longer hold the elected office, I think that is penal. And if it is penal, then I think in my humble opinion it violates the ex post facto provision of the Constitution, and it is unconstitutional. It is denial of due process.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would look upon that provision as being a disqualification from further right to hold office, not a penal provision.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Are we voting on the constitutionality of the bill? If I am correct, I believe that is right and not the amendment. The amendment did pass, did it not, the amendment to the fourth section?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, we are now voting on the constitutional point of order that the bill is unconstitutional. The amendment to the fourth section was defeated.

Mr. AUKER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the Constitutional point of order?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ANDREWS and Mr. TOLL.

A verification of the roll was requested by Mr. ROSEN, Mr. HARRIS and Mr. GLICK.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WEIDNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is my desire to call up House Bill 1140, Printer's No. 354, to which I want to present several correctional and non-controversial amendments.

However, due to the fact that other Members want to present amendments to this bill. but which are not prepared at this time, and out of all fairness to everybody concerned, it has been agreed that House Bill 1140 be passed on second reading today as amended, and allow other amendments to be presented on third reading tomorrow.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand we will be permitted to offer amendments to this bill on third reading?

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands from the statement of the gentleman from Berks that that is correct.

Mr. MORAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

BILL ON SECOND READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. WEIDNER.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 1140, entitled:

An Act to fix the number of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State and to apportion the State into representative districts as provided by the Constitution

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WEIDNER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 19, line 19, by striking out "Hampfield" and inserting in lieu thereof "Hempfield."

Amend Sec. 1, page 23, line 8, by inserting after "Mount Carbon" "New Philadelphia."

Amend Sec. 1, page 26, line 7, by striking out "Cross Road" and inserting in lieu thereof "Cross Roads".

Mr. POLEN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 24, line 10, by striking out "Amwell."

Amend Sec. 1, page 24, line 13, by striking out "Peters".

Mr. VAUGHAN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 7, line 17, by striking out the word "and" where it appears the first time.

Amend Sec. 1, page 7, lines 17, 18 and 19, by striking out "and the town-" in line 17, all of lines 18 and 19.

Amend Sec. 1, page 8, line 1, by striking out "The boroughs of"

Amend Sec. 1, page 8, line 5, by inserting after the word "of" the following: "Penn, Plum, Patton, Wilkins."

Amend Sec. 1, page 8, line 6, by striking out the word "eighteenth" and inserting in lieu thereof: "seventeenth."

Amend Sec. 1, page 8, line 6, by striking out the word "two" and inserting in lieu thereof: "four."

Amend Sec. 1, page 8, line 15, by striking out the word "nineteenth" and inserting in lieu thereof: "eighteenth."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second, third and fourth sections inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS ON CALENDAR PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will pass over all of the remaining bills on today's calendar. The Chair hears none, and the bills are passed over.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

CITIES—COUNTIES FIRST, SECOND and SECOND CLASS A—Mr. Ewing, Chairman, Room 521, Wednesday, July 8, at 11:30 a. m. DST.

EDUCATION—Mr. Helm, Chairman, Room 324, Wednesday, July 8, at 10:30 a. m. DST.

ELECTIONS and APPORTIONMENT—Mr. Weidner, Chairman, Room 329, Wednesday, July 8, at 10:30 a. m. DST.

MOTOR VEHICLES—Mr. Guthrie, Chairman, Room 522, Wednesday, July 8, at 10:00 a. m. DST.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS—Mr. Kratz, Chairman, Room 521, Wednesday, July 8, at 9:00 a. m. DST.

PUBLIC HEALTH and SANITATION—Mr. Frost, Chairman, Room 329, Wednesday, July 8, at 11:00 a. m. DST.

WELFARE—Mr. Haudenshield, Chairman, Room 330, Wednesday, July 8, at 11:00 a. m. DST.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, if I heard correctly Mr. Speaker, there are two Committee meetings at the same time, and I know that there are a number of Members on both Committees, that is Municipal Corporations and Motor Vehicles, both scheduled for 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning. I was just wondering if there is something that could be done about that. It has happened before.

Mr. KENT. The Committee on Municipal Corporations has changed the time of its Committee meeting from 10:00 o'clock a. m. to 9:00 a. m.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I noticed that there were a lot of other meetings at the same time on that list, two or three of them at the same time.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, that is true and there have been practically every week, different meetings at the same time. It is practically an impossibility to schedule as many meetings as there are scheduled for tomorrow and as have been scheduled in past weeks, all at different times.

We try to keep them at different times, as nearly as possible, but as I say, it is very difficult.

If the gentleman objects I will try to make a further effort.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not object to the statement of the gentleman that it is almost impossible when you are having so many meetings in one day, but I will not agree with him that that has been the case during this Session of the Legislature. We have had days when there were no meetings at all.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. VARALLO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, July 8, 1953 at 11:00 a. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6:05 p. m. EST) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1953. 140th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1953. No. 61.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, July 8, 1953.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PHILIP SENFT, Pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Everett, offered the following prayer:

Our God of the ages, who in Christ proclaimed that the first law of life was that he who loves his life in service to His will shall find life, dedicate anew this Senate to Thy service.

From the revealed Scriptures we learn that little distinction is made between the lawgiver and the minister of the souls of men. They alike gain their prerogatives from the intention to learn, believe and do divine bidding. Then, let this body be willing to be not only the balance wheel of government, but the power head as well.

In Christ, Governor of all men, we pray, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. WOLFE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, many years ago Mark Twain became famous because he made the remark that Everybody talks about the weather and no one does anything about it. For many, many years we have talked a great deal about speeding and speeders. Although we cannot say that no one has done anything about it, we have not done too much about it.

Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Mahany, Senator McMenamin, Senator Pechan and myself, I am about to introduce a piece of legislation that is probably the first bill of its kind to be presented to any legislative body in the United States. This bill has to do with speeding on our public roads.

Mr. President, not too long ago, Senator Pechan and I introduced a bill calling upon the automobile manufacturers to take heed or we would try to get legislation through to control the excessive power of the present day automobiles. Since that time, I have had many conversations with my colleagues in the Senate on both sides, and have taken up with the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Safety Committee of the Commonwealth, the proposition of putting upon the automobiles of Pennsylvania a mechanical device. The aim of this mechanical device is to control the speed of an automobile driven by a violator of the Highway Code. Under the present Highway Code, if a person is apprehended for exceeding the speed limit, he or she automatically loses the driving privilege for a period of anywhere from three months to a year.

Mr. President, all of the Members of the Senate realize what a great hardship this law has caused on the part of those who earn a livelihood with the use of their driving privileges. Many of us have been called upon to appeal to the Highway Safety Board for a restricted license, in order that wage earners or breadwinners would be able to drive their automobiles and trucks for the purpose of earning a living. When I have had to ask for these special privileges, I have always felt that I was not doing a justice to the rest of the citizens of the Commonwealth whose lives are jeopardized by reckless drivers.

Therefore, Mr. President, we have conceived a plan whereby the Pennsylvania Highway Safety Council, the Pennsylvania State Police and the Department of Revenue will be able to enforce the provisions of this act, which are simply this. When a person is apprehended for driving at an excessive speed, they may take the person's license from him, or they may allow him to have placed upon his carburetor a mechanical device which will be locked by the State Police at a specific speed limit for a period of time to be designated by the Safety Council, thereby taking from the road the menace of a reckless drivers.

Mr. President, many persons are apprehended for driving beyond the speed limit who do not intend to be reckless drivers. I say that it is difficult to drive in a modern day car at the set speed limit when you have before you a wide expanse of road and little or no traffice before or behind you. The automobile of today is a vehicle of great power. It can be a vehicle of great convenience, but it has also developed into a vehicle of great danger. It has killed more people than all of the wars of these United States put together. There is more injury and more damage caused by these speeding automobiles than all of the shells that have ever been developed in the minds of the munitions makers.

Therefore, Mr. President, with a sincere hope that the committee will give this bill an early and rapid consideration, I present to the Chair this far-reaching legislation and hope that we will be able to pass it at an early date.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. DENT, MAHANY, PECHAN and McMENAMIN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill 769, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by prescribing additional enforcement and penal provisions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Messrs. HOLLAND, TAYLOR and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 770, entitled:

An Act charging the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission with the responsibility of policing the roads under its control and management; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and the Pennsylvania State Police.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. TOOLE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. TOOLE, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 478, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twelfth day of April, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 90), entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto; regulating and restricting the manufacture, purchase, sale, possession, consumption, importation, transportation, furnishing, holding in bond, holding in storage, traffic in and use of alcohol liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein; defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the establishment and operation of State Liquor stores, for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships, for the abatment of certain nuisances and, in certain cases, for search and seizure without warrant; prescribing penalties and forfeitures; providing for local option, and repealing existing laws," by requiring a service charge to be collected on bottled wine purchased by the board.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LEADER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I am introducing this resolution because I have detected a growing apprehension and uneasiness among people from all walks of life in Pennsylvania that the financial policies being followed by the present administration in Washington might very well turn the Democratic campaign charge of an "Eisenhower depression" into a Republican reality.

Mr. President, one of the cornerstones of the Administration policy which is slowly emerging in Washington is the so-called "sound dollar" and "hard money" policy. The last time we had this high interest rate, hard money policy, was under the direction of former Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew Mellon. Our present Treasury Secretary, Mr. Humphrey, is being hailed throughout the Nation's press and periodicals in the same glowing terms which this same press once heaped on Mr. Mellon. Many of us remember, however, that the aftermath of Mellon was mass unemployment.

Just how does this so-called "hard money" policy affect the ordinary citizen, the farmer, businessman, veteran, laborer and merchant living in the cities, towns and rural areas of Pennsylvania?

To begin with, Mr. President, all of us are being hit very directly as taxpayers. The increased interest on government bonds already raised by the government is costing the taxpayers an additional $135,000,000, and the contemplated increase in interest rates on bonds to be issued this year will cost the taxpayers an additional half-billion dollars annually.

Mr. President, who gains from this hike in interest rates on government bonds? Mostly banks, insurance companies and large corporations, who are the principal holders of such securities. For every one per cent the Treasury Department raises interest rates, the banks stand to gain $600,000,000 a year. The small banks will suffer, however, since they do not have the capital to buy the higher yielding bonds, because the government bond market has been allowed to drop ten points, and smaller banks cannot afford to take a loss on these bonds.

Mr. President, it is not, however, only in higher yields on government bonds that the banks benefit from the Treasury's new policies. Following the lead of the Treasury, banks throughout the Nation have raised their interest rates to borrowers. This has set off a whole chain reaction throughout the economy, ending up with the ordinary citizen at the end of the line, the consumer. Here are some of the results.

Business concerns have had to pay higher costs for expansion programs. For example, the Detroit Edison Company recently offered a bond issue at three and three-quarter per cent interest, the highest rate on an AA utility since 1935, but could not sell it. Throughout the State, utilities are facing the prospect of paying higher interest rates for bonds. Immediately thereafter, of course, they will apply to the PUC for a rate increase, based on higher costs. The consumer will pay it on his gas, light, water and other utility bills.

The farmer is another major victim of the new credit policies. Farmers are being forced to pay higher interest rates for money they customarily borrow to start and market crops. Even the rates on price support loans to farmers have been raised three and a half to four per cent, which puts the farmer, already being squeezed between declining prices and rising costs, at one-half per cent further below parity. In addition, the Farm Credit Administration has warned that it will soon raise its rates on loans for buying farm lands.

Mr. President, another group of big losers in the "big deal" financial States, counties, cities and smaller municipalities, which have had to postpone vitally needed school, road, sewer and other improvement programs because of the mounting costs of meeting bond issues.

Following out the policy of favoring the banks and big interests at the expense of the little man, the Administration has also hiked mortgage interest rates on FHA and GI mortgages.

Caught in the same squeeze, Mr. President, the "Big Three" auto finance companies have increased their interest rates one-half per cent, raising the financing charges on the purchase of a car by nine per cent. The far-reaching effects of this can be appreciated when you realize that at present sixty-five per cent of all auto and major household appliances are purchased on installment credit.

Mr. President, let me assure you that the growing concern with these policies is not merely carping criticism on the part of disgruntled Democrats. The national magazine, Business Week, has declared: "Events in the money market seemed to us to be saying pretty plainly that we may be overdoing this tight money business. We are glad to know the brakes work, but don't want to go through the windshield." J. A. Livingston, well-known economic analyst for the Philadelphia Bulletin and other newspapers reports that, "What bothers Detroit is tight money." "This is strong medicine," one economist for the auto industry declared. "These boys may be bringing on a depression."

Mr. President, several weeks ago, faced with the prospect of borrowing some nine billion dollars against tax collections not due until next March. the Administration suddenly reversed its field, and lowered reserve requirements for banks, thus freeing the banks to purchase additional amounts of government securities. However, for every dollar of government securities held in reserve, banks can increase their borrowing capacity to private borrowers by six times the amount of reserves, so that we witness the bewildering spectacle of the government ostensibly fighting inflation with a hard money policy on one hand, while with the other it further feeds the fires of inflation. The net result is not to cut down the amount of borrowing from banks, the announced objective of the Treasury policy, but merely to increase the interest rate which farmers, businessmen, merchants and workers must pay.

As all of you know, a giant United States Steel plant is now being readied for full production at Morrisville in Bucks County. To house the working force which will be required to keep this plant in operation, Mr. William J. Levitt is erecting a vast housing development called Levittown.

Mr. Levitt announced several weeks ago that whereas he would be able to finish 10,000 homes by the end of this year on schedule, he was making a drastic fifty per cent slash in his new housing starts in 1954, from 6,000 planned starts to 3,000. The world renown builder declared that this drastic reduction would be required unless the Administration reversed its "hard money" policy, which has dried up any funds available to him to continue his building program. Further, Mr. Levitt predicted that unless the situation changes, "the construction industry will reach depression levels next year."

Mr. President, the storm signals are up. Let us hope and pray that our National and State economy is not wrecked on the same shoals into which the faltering hand of Republican leadership led us a quarter of a century ago.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO UNDERTAKE AN INVESTIGATION OF THE FISCAL POLICIES OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION

Mr. LEADER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate, July 8, 1953.

Whereas, the so-called "hard money" policy of the national Administration has in fact brought about a "hardening of the arteries" of business and commercial credit, FHA-insured housing loans, veterans housing loans, price support loans to farmers, Farm Credit Administration loans for the purchase of farm land, automobile and appliance financing, and

Whereas States, counties, cities and school districts are finding it increasingly difficult to finance new schools, roads, sewers, bridges and other civic improvements because of the increased interest charges and the contraction of the bond market, and

Whereas, the resultant upward spiraling of interest rates, the sinking of the government bond market and the drying up of the source of capital increases the threat of a recession or depression, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania (the House of Representatives concurring, memorializes the Congress of the United States to have the appropriate bodies of the Senate and House undertake a complete investigation and review of the fiscal policies upon which the administration has embarked in order to determine whether these policies are detrimental to the economic health of the Nation and should be reversed, and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Vice-President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Majority and Minority Leaders of both Branches of Congress, Members of the Pennsylvania Congressional Delegation, and to the Secretary of Treasury of the United States.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (William L. Yeakel) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has requested the present occupant of the Chair to preside during his absence.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God our Father, who didst send Thy Son to be the Saviour of all men and the Prince of Peace: look, we pray Thee, in mercy upon the peoples of the world and prosper all counsels which make for righteousness and peace. Forgive what Thou hast seen in us of selfishness and pride, remove far from us the tempers which provoke the spirit of strife; and grant us such measure of the gentleness and patience of Thy Son, that we may live peaceably with all men and be, by Thy blessing, the makers of peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, July 7, 1953?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, July 7, 1953 be postponed until the Journal is in print.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker. There appears a story on the front page of the Patriot News this morning which I think needs clarification. It states, > Representative Albert W. Johnson, (R-McKean), Republican Floor Leader in the House of Representatives, yesterday accused newspapers of being a little too much concerned with what is going on in the Legislature.

> Shortly afterward, the Republican caucus slapped a gag on Johnson and gave House Speaker Charles C. Smith, (R-Philadelphia), the job of being the official press spokesman for the caucus.
> Representative Edwin W. Tompkins, (R-Cameron), reportedly made the caucus motion that Smith be the only Member authorized to speak to newspapermen about the caucus action.
> It was adopted, tightening "the security regulations" of the political group by prohibiting all other elected representatives from the GOP side to discuss party caucus affairs in the Assembly with reporters.

If the members of the Press, after they heard this supposed rumor, had contacted me, they would not have the use the word "reportedly" in this article. I would have told them that I did make such a motion.

I further would have told them that the motion was not a gag upon Mr. Johnson, but it was merely an authority for Mr. Smith to speak on certain matters which came before the caucus yesterday. It seems as though the rule itself had been very seriously violated by this particular leak which got out of caucus itself.

Hereafter if the Press hears reports about anything I am supposed to have done, I think I am perfectly capable to speak for myself, instead of having it reported as being "reportedly said," or that Tompkins is "supposed to have done." I am perfectly willing to discuss matters with the Press at any time.

Furthermore I wish to state that Mr. Johnson has had a very good relation with the Press during the course of this Legislature. It was not intended as any slap at Mr. Johnson, nor was it intended as any slap at the Press. What I was trying to do was give one person out of that caucus authority to speak for the caucus on matters which came before the caucus yesterday only.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. KORNICK. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, on June 30th the House voted on a resolution proposing an amendment to Section 1 Article IX of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania exempting income taxes on persons and corporations from the requirement of uniformity.

In the roll call, as recorded on the vote on this amendment, I am recorded as having voted "nay".

Mr. Speaker, I voted "aye" and I am rising on my question of personal privilege in order that my vote may be correctly recorded in the Journal of the House.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. MURRAY, THOMAS, JENKINS and MORAN. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 73.

In the House of Representatives, July 7, 1953.

Whereas, The Township of Penn, located in the County of Allegheny and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is a progressive, civic-conscious, and growing municipality; and

Whereas, Its progression is reflected by an influx of new residents annually; and

Whereas, Its civic pride is motivated by its founding and supporting a weekly newspaper, known as "The Penn Progress"; and

Whereas, "The Penn Progress" is published by Mr. Len C. Anderson; and

Whereas, Mr. Edward L. Dardanell is editor and general manager; and

Whereas, Its news and editorials are devoted to a better informed citizenry and the betterment of Penn Township; therefore be it

Resolved (If the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania congratulate Mr. Len C. Anderson, Publisher and Edward L. Dardanell, Editor and General Manager, of "The Penn Progress" for their splendid efforts towards a better and more progressive Township of Penn; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to Len C. Anderson, Publisher of "The Penn Progress" of Penn Township.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HOCKER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Military Affairs to meet during the session of the House.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. BULLEN, CONNELLY, LIPPINCOTT, KROMER, RAGOT, MAHAN, DOWN, GEORGE E. JONES, FLEISCHMAN, BUCHANAN, ASHTON, STEVENSON, GLEASON, WHALLEY, NAUGLE, VAN SANT, FERSTER, PRICE, BARKDOLL and Mrs. MARKLEY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 7, 1953.

This might not have happened during the legislative session had not the Commonwealth required more revenue. And now that it has happened, our fellow member from Burnt Cabins, Fulton County, will also require more revenue.

For many years his shining legalistic armor withstood Cupid's piercing shots. He had begun to consider himself quite impregnable, and boasted of his bachelor freedom, and gloried in his membership in that small group of legislative unwed.

But now there is one less bachelor in the House. Miss Elizabeth Morton Mellott of McConnellsburg had what it took to subdue this arrogant swain. On Friday last, the third of July, she became Mrs. Merrill W. Kerlin.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives welcome Mrs. Kerlin to the friendly fellowship of legislative wives, congratulate Mr. Kerlin on his rare good fortune that in spite of himself he has at last been blessed with a charming and loving wife, and wish them both a full enjoyment of the privileges, perogatives and happiness of their newly assumed status.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented by the Chief Clerk to Hon. and Mrs. Merrill W. Kerlin as a token of our good wishes and esteem.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES.

The House resumed the consideration on final paasage of House Bill No. 894, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 316 of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364) entitled "An act relating to business corporations defining and providing for the organization merger consolidation reorganization winding up and dissolution of such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and shareholders prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas and certain State departments commissions and officers authorizing certain State departments boards commissions or officers to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations" by authorizing a corporation by action of its board of directors to grant pensions allowances and stock options to its officers and other employees under certain circumstances and validating pensions allowances and stock options heretofore granted

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 316 of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364) entitled "An act relating to business corporations defining and providing for the organization merger consolidation reorganizaiton winding up and dissolution of such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and shareholders prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas and certain State departments commissions and officers authorizing certain State departments boards commissions or officers to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 316 (a) Pensions and Allowances Every business corporations may by action of its board of directors grant allowances or pensions [out of the earnings of the corporation] to its directors officers [or] and employes and the officers and employes of a wholly-owned subsidiary corporation or any of them for faithful and long-continued service who have in such service become old infirm or disabled After the death of any such officer or employe either while in the service of the corporation or of a wholly-owned subsidiary or after retirement allowances may be granted to his or her dependents Provided that such allowances shall be reasonable in amount and paid only for a limited time And provided further that any such allowance unless part of an employe benefit plan or employment contract in effect at the time of retirement or death of the officer director or employe shall not exceed in total the amount of the compensation paid to him or her during the twelve months preceding retirement or death

(b) Stock Options Subject to the preemptive rights if any of the shareholders to subscribe to new issues of capital stock every business corporation may pursuant to action of its board of directors grant options to purchase shares of its capital stock to its officers and employes and the officers and employes of a wholly-owned subsidiary corporation or any of them as an incentive to service or continued service with the corporation or such subsidiary corporation or for such other consideratin or purpose and upon such terms as its directors including directors who may benefit by their action shall deem advantageous to the corporation In the case of options granted to persons who are officers or directors of the corporation or of a wholly-owned subsidiary corporation at the time of the directors' action such options either shall first be specifically approved by the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon voted at a duly constitued meeting or shall be authorized by and consistent with a plan theretofore approved by such a vote of the shareholders

Section 2 This act shall be effective immediately upon final enactment and any pensions allowances and stock options within its purview heretofore granted or paid are hereby validated

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill was debated at quite some length the other day and I do not wish to add a great deal thereto.

However, I would like to reassert my previous statements saying that this bill has nothing to do with any special interest. It is a lawyer's bill simply to clarify the law relating to corporations and the granting of pensions, allowances and stock options.

The bill has been backed and came to me as a departmental bill from the Department of State. It is also backed by the Bar Association.

I hope everyone will vote for it who can.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—3

Light,	Metz,	Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1401, as follows:

An Act authorizing corporations to grant stock options pensions and allowances under certain circumstances and validating stock options pensions and allowances heretofore granted

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Stock Options Every corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth may pusuant to action of its board of directors grant options to purchase shares of its capital stock to its officers and employes and the officers and employes of a wholly-owned subsidiary corporation or any of them as an incentive to service or continued service with the corporation or such subsidiary corporation or for such other consideration or purpose and upon such terms as its directors including directors who may benefit by their action shall deem advantageous to the corporation In the case of options granted to persons who are officers or directors of the corporation or of a wholly-owned subsidiary corporation at the time of the directors' action such option either shall first be specifically approved by the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon voted and consistent with a plan theretofore approved by such at a duly constituted meeting or shall be authorized by a vote of the shareholders The provisions of this section shall not alter or amend the provisions of existing law with respect to the preemptive rights of shareholders to subscribe to new issues of capital stock

Section 2 Pensions and Allowances All corporations organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania including those corporations organized not for profit may grant allowances or pensions to officers directors or employes for faithful and long continued services and after the death of any such officer director or employe either while in the service of the corporation or after retirement pensions or allowances may be granted or continued to his or her dependents Provided That such allowances to his or her dependents shall be reasonable in amount and paid only for a limited time and Provided further that any such allowance unless part of an employe benefit plan or employment contract in effect at the time of retirement or death of the officer director or employe shall not exceed in total the amount of the compensation paid to him or her during the twelve months preceding retirement or death

Section 3 Validation of Prior Options Pensions and Allowances Any such stock options allowances or pensions heretofore so granted or paid are hereby validated

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say in connection with this particular bill that the same considerations are applicable as were to the last bill. Acordingly I would suggest that the Chair take the same vote if that is agreeable.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I would like to have by way of explanation, the essential difference between this bill and the one we have just voted on. I am not arguing against the bill; I would just like to know the reason for the two bills.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1401, which we are now considering, is a general bill, applying to all types of corporations. The preceding bill 894 applied only to business corporations.

The reason for the two bills was that the Department of State in drafting the bills apparently felt that they would like to have all the laws applying to business corporations in the business corporation law.

I think the gentleman is familiar with the way these things are printed. You get township codes, and school codes and so forth, and they wanted all laws applying to business corporations in their booklet on business corporation laws.

House Bill 1401 is included therefore as a general bill. It applies not only to business corporation provisions, but it also applies to other types of corporations which are not included in the business corporation laws.

More specifically those would include the banks, the insurance companies, the public utilities and perhaps most particularly the vast field of non-profit corporations, such as the Universities, hospitals, and that sort of institution.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of the bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, do I understand in Section 3, that the word "so" following the word "heretofore" means options, allowances or pensions granted in acordance with this bill?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Will the gentleman repeat his question, I do not have the bill handy?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, Section 3, provides validation of prior options, pensions and allowances and any stock options allowances or pensions heretofore so granted or paid are hereby validated. Do I understand that the word "so" refers to those which are granted in accordance with the provisions of this bill?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would say that is correct. In other words if they had been granted in accordance with the provisions of that bill, they would be all right.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1216, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by abolishing the Fort Washington Park Commission and transferring its powers and duties to the Department of Forests and Waters

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill was brought back on the calendar the other day and gave rise to a rather lengthly discussion.

I do not want to go through it all again, but I would like to repeat that this little park which we are fighting about is with us simply a matter of principle. The park has suffered from dual control ever since its inception. It is theoretically a state park, yet it is run by the Fairmount Park Commission of Philadelphia. The only difficulty with that is that it is not physically connected with the Philadelphia park. It is many miles away from it, and the parcels comprising the Montgomery County park are themselves not contiguous with one another. It is just a lot of scattered pieces of land up in Montgomery County.

I talked to the Secretary of Forests and Waters about this matter because he was the one who gave this bill to us for introduction, and he said he felt over the years, without having any particular, special appropriations for it, that he could make something out of it were it placed solely under his control and authority.

In that connection several of my colleagues spoke to me about another bill that is in the House now to transfer the management of this park along with a number of other historical parks to the Pennsylvania Historical Museum Commission. That bill is still in Committee, and I have no particular quarrel with the idea behind that bill. I have not thought much about it; it may be perfectly all right. The point is we do not like the control it is under now, because our Fort Washington Park amounts to absolutely nothing.

In conclusion, some of you may wonder how Fort Washington Park happened to develop its peculiar management set-up—why a park in the middle of our county should be placed under the control of the Fairmount Park Commission of Philadelphia. I do not want to go too far back in history. Merely to say that the reason for it was that a powerful political figure in Philadelphia at one time had a home in Montgomery County and he thought it would be a nice idea to extend Fairmount Park out to the neighborhood of his home. That is why the park was developed in that way. Of course, the idea was too grandiose in its conception ever to have amounted to anything. No money was appropriated to fulfill the idea, so we are left with these scattered parcels of real estate which we very much would like to see put together as a good park.

Something has just come up. I wonder if the Speaker would pass this over temporarily?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1216, Printer's No. 326,

was passed over at the request of Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES.

The House resumed the consideration of final passage of House Bill No. 649, as follows:

An Act to amend subsection (g) of Section 3 of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 1898) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties providing for a State Board of Funeral Directors in the Department of Health and repealing other laws" by providing that persons with fifteen or more years of experience as apprentices shall pass an examination based on practical experience only

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection (g) of Section 3 of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 1898) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties providing for a State Board of Funeral Directors in the Department of Health and repealing other laws" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 Application for License Qualifications of Applicants

* * * * *

(g) Any person applying for examination and licensure before the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-three may offer in lieu of the foregoing educational requirements fifteen or more years' experience as an apprentice to a licensed undertaker or funeral director and such person until he shall have taken and passed [the] an examination based on practical experience only shall be considered a resident trainee

Any person having the qualifications prescribed by subsection (b) of this section registered as a student apprentice under the provisions of existing law or enrolled as a student in a school of embalming prior to the effective date of this act and who has continuously thereafter served as a student apprentice or continued his studies in a school of embalming or either shall be entitled to take the examination for license to practice as a funeral director after he has had practical experience in the business or profession of funeral directing for two years continuously as a resident trainee and has completely embalmed at least twenty-five (25) bodies

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I did not talk on House Bill 649 when it was on the calendar the other day, but today I feel it is my duty to bring to the Members of this House a situation that is pathetic, a situation and a condition that is unfortunate for the people who are interested in this bill. I want to bring to the attention of the Members of the House why this bill concerns them.

Mr. Speaker, I will bring you the facts that exist, where the rights of these people have been denied and all who are concerned.

These people have been looked upon as incompetent and unscrupulous. I will point out their experience, their ability, their training and skill in the professions of embalming and funeral managerial experience and why they come to the Legislature for consideration, that you should hear their story.

I will also show why in 1931 the Act was invalidated. For the same reason, Act 522, the existing law, is being encroached upon by these same individuals.

It will soon be a matter for the Joint State Government Commission to investigate the action of the Board and to study the working and the functioning of the Board.

House Bill 649 amends sub-section (g) of Section 3 approved January 14, 1952, known as the "Grandfather Clause" which reads as follows:

Any person applying for examination and licensure before the first day of January 1953 may offer in lieu of the foregoing educational requirements, 15 or more years' experience as an apprentice to a licensed Funeral Director and such person until he shall have taken and passed an examination based on practical experience only shall be considered a resident trainee.

Since the enactment of Act 522 on May 25 of this year, this will be the third examination for applicants for Funeral Directors' licenses, and those who have filed under the 15-year clause, or the grandfather clause, have never been called.

They were expected to be given examinations held in Pittsburgh on May 25. This has been postponed until the Fall. Just recently they have set up a date which shall be now the 17th day of August. These people are wondering if the Grandfather Clause is a joker in the Act 522. The Board has made no mention of such an examination to the applicants. They would not have known, had it not been for the schools and embalming colleges informing them that there was going to be such an examination; otherwise they would not have known anything of it.

It was rumored that the board was going to give this group a traineee's license or certificate; they are now considered as trainees if they filed before the first day of January, 1953. They are expecting a license to practice as Funeral Directors.

There are widows throughout the state that will also come under the 15-year plan. The State Legislature of Maryland passed a law in 1947 to take care of those who were in the same category as Section 3 Subsection (g) of Act 22. They were granted a license without an examination.

House Bill 649 asks for an examination based on practical experience only. Some of these individuals have from 15 to 30 years of practical training in embalming and managerial experience.

These people expect you to act as their spokesmen in the General Assembly to give them a chance to maintain their livelihood, and to continue to raise their families by the only work they have trained for and know of. When we think in political terms, they are also our constituents, as well as those who are members of the various organizations or associations that seek to pressure the Legislature for laws to take care of them.

The Board of Chiropractors took care of this situation and they have no more of this kind of legislation before them. Why don't the Board of Funeral Directors do likewise?

I will give you the real reason these bills are drawn:

Back in 1930 there were two Undertakers' Assistants Associations of men and women. One was white; the other was colored. The colored association gave a banquet for their employers, who were members of Undertaker's Associations, local, state and national. Now it is called Funeral Directors' Association. They were told at this affair how they wanted to work with them to keep up the standards of the profession and they praised the Assistants' Association to the highest.

The white Association had sponsored a bill here in the House called the Embalmers' bill. Then the two associations became united and I was made the Secretary. We had over 500 members throughout the state.

The late President of the Funeral Directors' Association for Pennsylvania called a meeting and issued an order to their members to dismiss any employee that belonged to the Assistance Association, and that they were unscrupulous and seek to lower the profession. This put fear into our members so they did not appear in person any more, but communicated otherwise. I know in one instance where the employer picked his man up by the seat of his pants to throw him out of the door of this establishment. The employee had to turn his letter back to the association to prove that he was not with this Association anymore, and he worked in this office long after that employer was made to quit by the other partner in business, because of irregularities in office.

These people are skilled in their profession, and recognized as such by the Directors they work for and the clientele they service.

Had the members of this Assembly taken the right thought years ago when these embalmers bills were up, and passed them, these individuals would have been licensed and protected and the issue settled once and for all.

Yes, you have received all kinds of communications from Funeral Homes and the Funeral Directors Association, telling you how bad these bills are, and these people don't know the health rules and so forth. You have not received any communications from this group. If they did send any form of communication to you, letting you know the advantages of these bills to remain in their jobs and be protected, the Lobbyists or the Representative of the Funeral Directors' Association would have their employers contacted to discharge all that communicated with the Members of this House! So they have no one to tell you their story or troubles. I was requested, the same as the other sponsors of these Bills, to draft such legislation for them that the Members might think of their livelihood and family, in order to keep them from becoming relief recipients because of the Board's action to disqualify them, with the help of the F.D.A. and other pressure groups. I will reiterate that these people with their families and friends are your constituents the same as the Funeral Directors or the Funeral Directors' Association.

Some of you have been told that this is a Philadelphia bill. For the information of the Members of the Assembly, I will read into the record where these applicants are from that have filed with the board before the dead line January 1, 1953, under the grandfather clause or the 15 year plan, which I now hold in my hand.

The Senators made this a 15 year plan in 1951. The bill originally was 20 years when it passed the House. The reason they changed it to read 15 years instead of 20 years, is that they were interested in these people.

Mr. Speaker, where else could these people go? They come here to the General Assembly to be given an opportunity; the same place the members of the Board must come; the same place the associations must come; the same place all of the Department officials must come and the same place that His Excellency, the Governor, must come for consideration.

Some of the women are widows, operating their husband's estates in this plan. They ask your help also.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of this Assembly for the support of this bill for the forgotten men and women of this profession who have given their service to an important and a worthy cause, who now ask to be protected.

I now offer for the record a list of places where these applicants come from. You will find them, Mr. Speaker and Members, from your counties, various areas or townships in your own counties. You may look them up and talk with them and you will find the information that I have given will be given to you. They are not in a position to come here and buttonhole you and I to tell you the advantages of this bill because they have had fear instilled into them for fear they would lose their job.

I ask the Members of the House to remember these people. This is the only alternative they have. If this bill goes down, they are completely wiped out of existence.

I ask the Members to protect them.

Mr. WOOD IN THE CHAIR

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support this bill. I will be very brief because I believe it has plenty of merit. In the 1951 session of the Legislature, we passed a bill known as Act 522, which would grant men and women who had the experience to qualify to become funeral directors. I am reliably informed that about 200 have availed themselves of that opportunity. They did apply before the dead line. They had the examination ahead.

Now I think in the interest of people, the men and women, who did not have the value of early education to pass the educational requirements and have had as many years of experience, should receive some consideration.

I say in defense of this bill, under the terms of Act 522, known as the grandfather's clause, any of these applicants who have applied before the deadline, if they cannot qualify under the experience rating they should have, then the Funeral Directors' Association has the right to reject them. But if they can qualify under an experience rating I think they should have that opportunity.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. The Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' Association is against the bill and the Allegheny County Funeral Directors Association is also against the bill.

I feel that under the Act of 1951, Act 522, these men were given the opportunity, and if I am correct they will be given a chance to apply and take examinations for their licenses at the end of this year, at Philadelphia.

The speaker before me has mentioned that a number of men who had been in this profession 30, 20 or probably 15 years, to me it seems that if they have not made up their minds in 30, 15 or 20 years, it is certainly getting quite late in life to make up their minds to become funeral directors.

There are numerous men that were taken in and given a good job by an undertaker and just standing around in an undertaking establishment, could probably qualify to become a funeral director.

I also want to state, that a number of schools arose after the second World War, embalming schools. I have reference to one in Pittsburgh; they took in G. I.'s. They paid for their training. They learned the trade and they are qualified to pass state examinations.

Now we have created a hardship by making these boys go to school. These fellows and other fellows applying under this Act, would get in free.

We feel that Act 522 was sufficient and that we should vote this bill down. We voted for Act 522, passed it. I feel that we have a good piece of legislation and I do not think we should tear that legislation apart.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FILO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

GRANVILLE E. JONES. The gentleman is the Superintendent of the City Morgue of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, is that right?

Mr. FILO. That is correct.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Does the gentleman recall in 1951 when this House was in Session, the same Act 522 was in progress, the Funeral Directors were meeting and holding an examination in Pittsburg, sometime in May? Does the gentleman also recall that he asked the House to be excused for that week because of that examination?

Mr. FILO. I do not recall that, but I may have.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. If the gentleman will look at the records I think he will find his statement there.

Mr. FILO. That could be true.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Does the gentleman also recall on May 25th of this year he still was in that capacity as the Superintendent of the Morgue?

Mr. FILO. That is true.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. I think if I were to raise the question to the gentleman how was it he was here in Harrisburg he said "The Board can get along without me," is that true? They can get along without you?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I have nothing to do whatever with the State Board. The only reason that I probably would have wanted to be back home is the fact that there are quite a number of things that you have to help out with, facilities and so forth. There are probably about two or three hundred men at the time taking examinations. I certainly felt that maybe I could probably assist in some way or in some manner be of some assistance to the State Board.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Could the gentleman recall how many applicants were taking examinations May 25 of this year?

Mr. FILO. I believe it was less than two hundred, I am not sure.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. I see. Then you say there were quite a number in 1951.

Mr. FILO. In 1951 there were probably about 200 or 300.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. The gentleman felt as though he could render them some service in 1951?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I do not think this is pertinent to the bill that we are discussing.

Mr. Speaker, may I tell the gentleman, that I have nothing to do with the Funeral Directors' Association. I am not a member of the association. I have nothing to do with the State Board, that is the Funeral Directors' Examining Board.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I raised the issue simply because this is the gentleman who made that statement in 1951, and I raised an issue with him myself back in 1951 covering the same situation which the same bill deals with, applicants who have come before the board for examination. He was interested then and he seems to be interested now. I would like to know his position as to why he would like to have the bill defeated in respect to his statement about these men who have 10, 15, 20 years, for the information of the gentleman and the Members of this House, that is if they have fear instilled in these people.

I know the names of some establishments where the applicants have filed, and the moment it had reached their employers, they were ready to be dismissed. There had been an impediment for a number of years, not only this. Those individuals had been gypped even if they wanted to go to schools or colleges; they were made to do anywhere from eight to ten, twelve and fourteen hours per day; they certainly were not in a position to put in any school hours.

That has impeded their progress. No one is able to have the finances to go to school, where the tuition is some $800 to $1,000. That had been the impediment of those individuals from then up until now.

I still ask the Members of this House, please remember these individuals. They want to live. They have helped to establish many of these homes and they deserve a right to stand before the board for practical examination.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman raised the question as to why I should be interested in this legislation. He is interested in the same legislation on the opposite side.

I am interested in this legislation because of the fact that in my district, I have been asked to vote against this bill and I do hope the Members of this House will support my action.

Mr. GUSS. Mr. Speaker, the passage of House Bill No. 649 would be a grave injustice to the funeral profession. We are constantly striving to raise the standards and are increasing the educational requirements along all lines.

This bill is just the same as giving someone a license to practice medicine or be a lawyer just because he or she has worked in that kind of an office.

As a funeral director, my Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' Association is opposed to the passage of Bill 649. This would automatically give 210 persons the privilege to take an examination without college preparation, just fifteen years experience.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. I want to reply to Mr. Guss; I want to answer his statement.

The Board has the prerogative to pass whatever they well may. These individuals feel, though how much qualified they may be, that the board can flunk every one of the 210 on that list. I am not sure how many there are. They can subject them to a rigid examination. Some of them are in a position to pass. They have a college background, but there are others who have had a long point of service with the qualification on service. The board can automatically flunk them. They may just as well stay home; there is no need for them to file because the board will give them such a rigid examination that it would be a waste of time and money.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, in further defense of this bill.

I am not interested, and I do not believe that any of the Members of the House are interested in lowering the standards of the undertaking profession, but I do believe that under our free enterprise system which we talk so much about, these people should qualify under Act 522. This in my opinion is a further directive that the Funeral Directors' Association should give these people an examination strictly on their merits and ability from the experience angle only. I do believe that any of us who have read this bill have no intention of lowering the standards of the undertaking profession, but we do believe that it will be not harmful to the people of Pennsylvania, if these people could qualify on their experience ability. It certainly would not hurt the people of the Commonwealth and I think it should be supported.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman stated that the State Board would make it rought on a lot of these men who were taking their examinations. I take exception to that statement. I happen to be a Member on the Democratic side, I know that the State Funeral Board is composed of Republican members, and I have found that they have been doing a wonderful job, a just job, because when they have examinations they do not sort out whether they are Democratic or Republican.

I think they do a just job, and I think his statements are incorrect.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
